REED

In the past thirty years...

Goals have been reached
Guns have fired
Records have been broken
Buildings have fallen
Stories have been told Legends were born
Money has been lost
Walls have fallen
Fashions have changed
People lost their jobs
Friends have been forged
Cures have been discovered
Tears have been cried
Dreams have become realities
Thing became endangered
Cases have been won
First steps have been taken
Miracles have happened
Home runs were hit
Laws have been made
Rockets were launched
Ships have sank
Innocence has been proven
Places have flooded
Treaties were negotiated
Wars have been fought
Barriers have been broken
Laughs have echoed
People have scarred

The world has changed.

35 MPH, $9.99, 06/03/04, 12 pounds, 2:15 PM, 88 Calories, 1-800-123-4567 and 89434: Just a few examples of number in our everyday lives. Everywhere we look, we're surrounded by numbers... whether it be dates, signs, weights or whatever- numbers are a fact of our lives. Nowhere is it more evident than on our birthdays. Sometimes, we focus more on a number, like the magical 16, the legal 18 or a gambling 21, rather than the celebration. Throughout this book, look for the inclusion of these statistics and numbers. In our experience as students, teachers, administrators or human being we need to really take a step back and look at the other side... after all-

30th Anniversary

Time flies by when you're having fun! For many in the community and at the school, it seems like time has flown by since the Winter of 1974 when Reed first opened. Throughout the book you will see several features on those who went here, those who helped establish the school and what all has happened since the doors opened. On our anniversary, it is important to look at the events that have shaped this community and the way that the school itself has shaped the area. Now is a good time to reflect in the accomplishments of our 30 years, and make a few more for the 2003-2004 year. So, flip the pages- make it a celebration, we only have one...

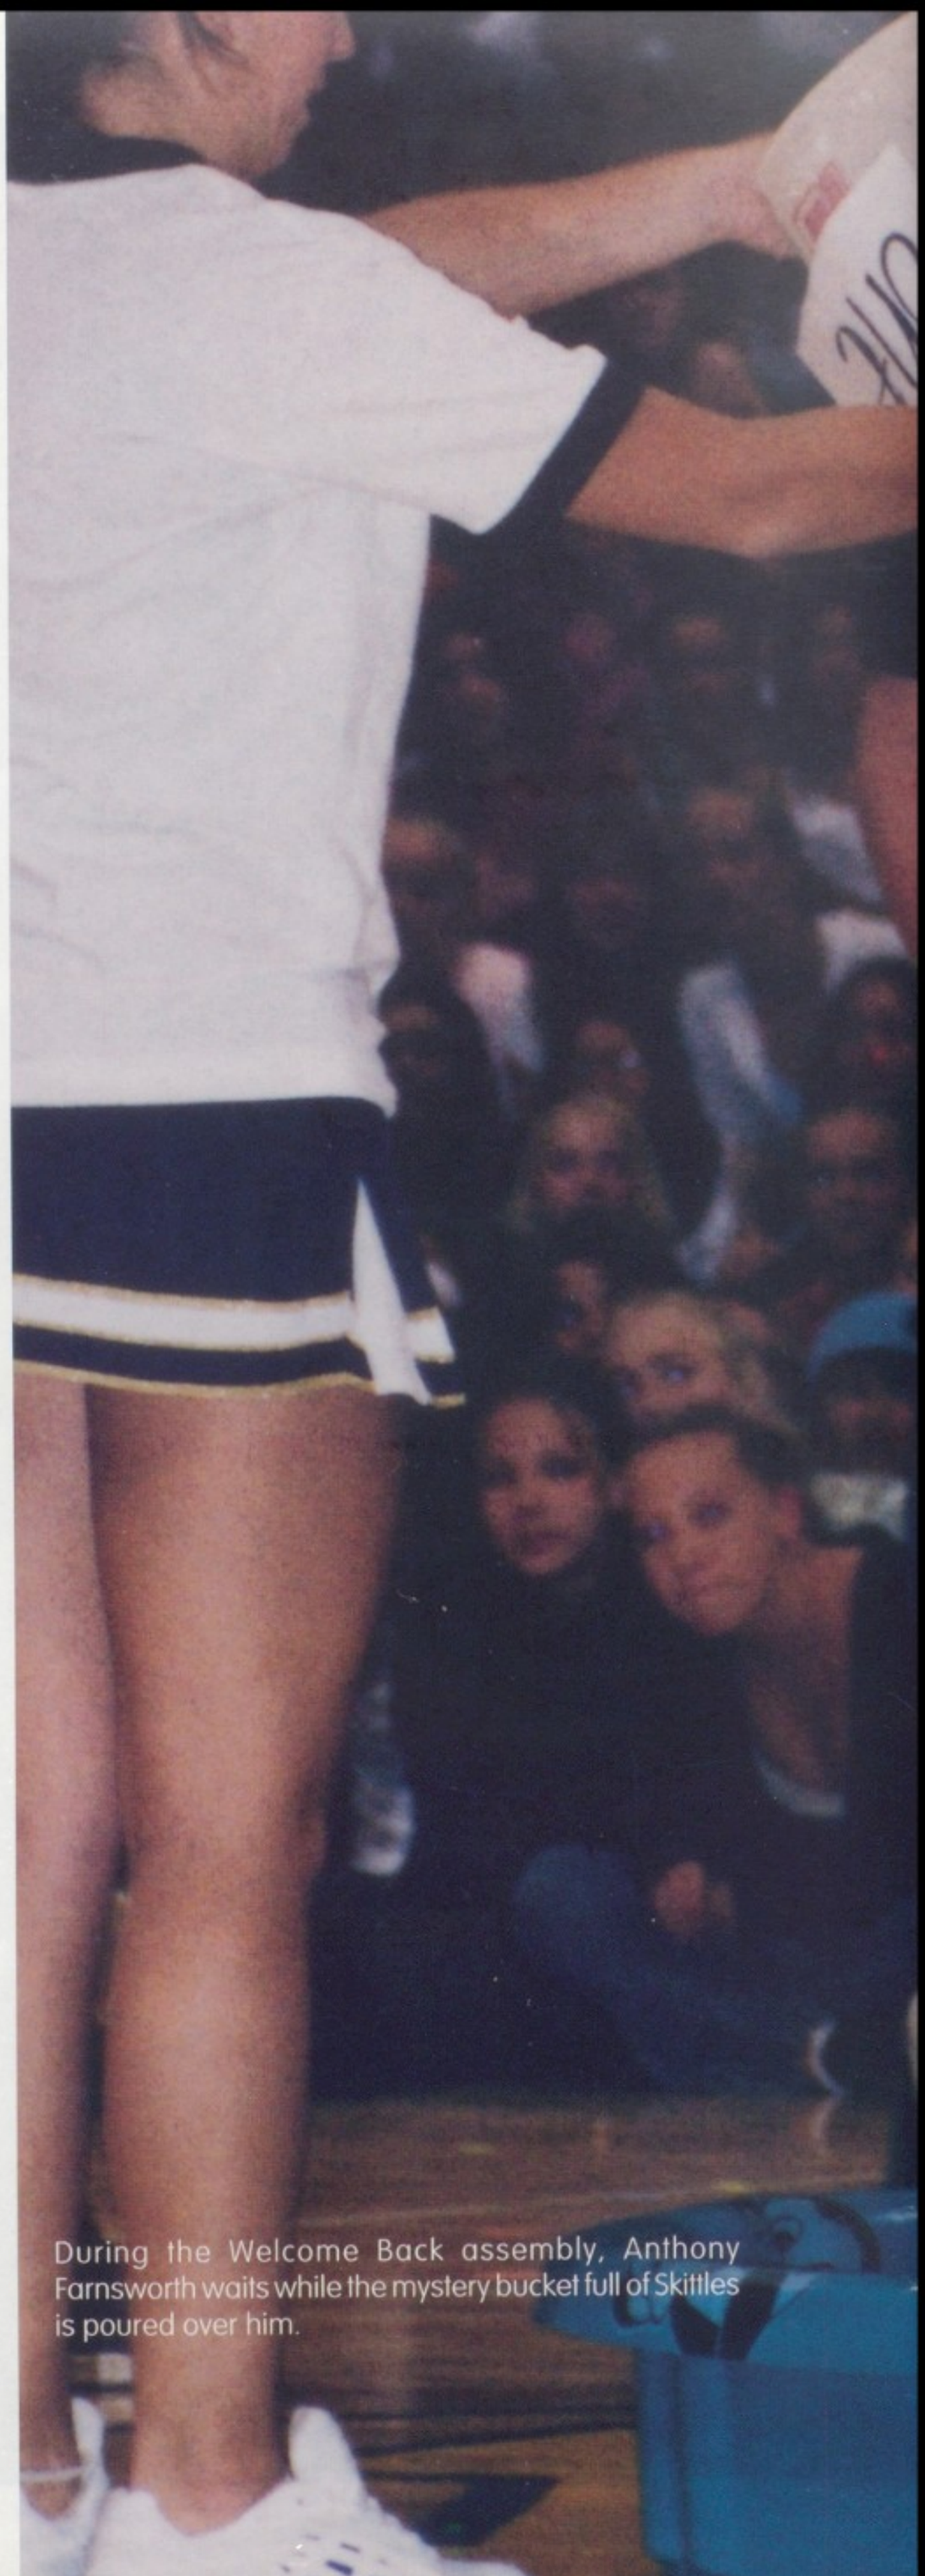
Daily Life

It's Just

Everyday, we're faced with the challenges that life brings us. Whether it be the drama from our friends or a needed grade on a biology test, everyday shows us what we must overcome. While we walk through the hallways, all anyone can do is think about how many days until the summer is here, or how many days it is until we're able to leave here forever. As young adults, we've learned a lot from our days in this school and even more from the community. It will be difficult to forget our days in these halls, and even harder to forget the lessons we've learned. This section is dedicated to the daily lives of the people at Reed., through clubs, homecoming or general classes.



During the Welcome Back assembly, Anthony Farnsworth waits while the mystery bucket full of Skittles is poured over him.

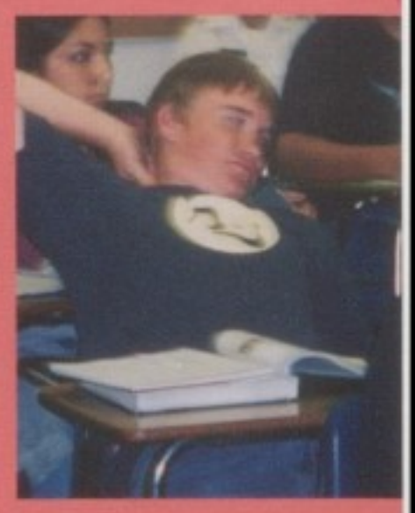
Coring out the cores

Getting back to basics ...

Core classes are defined as math, history, science, and English. When one enters high school, they may find it overwhelming to need to take four years of English, three years of sciences, maths and history as well as many other various credits in between (such as P.E. and health). Typically, the sophomore and junior years are the most difficult, with a full class load of hard academics. However, for most students- senior year is the reward. Many seniors only find themselves here for four or five classes a day, a luxury not available to underclassmen. All in all, we all have to go through the classes, in the end of our four years here, we find ourselves full of useless knowledge to better our futures.

A tale of two students

When it comes to comes to core classes, Elizabeth Janca is a star. She works hard to get good grades and she's always eager to learn. "I think that classes are always funnest when you have great teachers," Janca said.

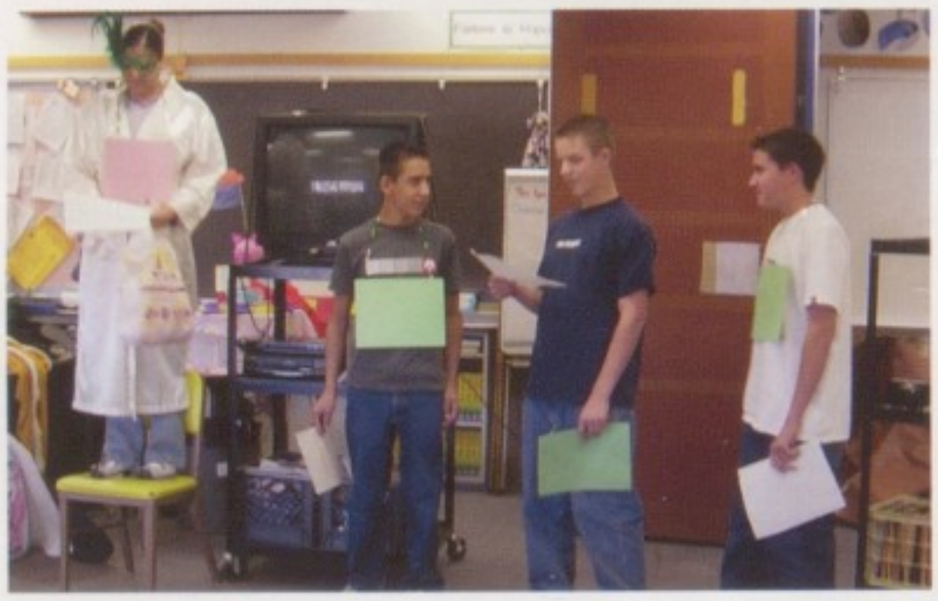


Being at school at 8:00 am every day, and being ready to learn is a tough job for all students and Derek Butler is no exception. "It's too early in the morning... I don't wake up untill lunch." Some students solve this problem by loading up on the sugary substances known as candy.

"By performing the text, it was easier to understand," Shannon Thorpe (seen above) said. Also pictured: Kati Sledge, Mary Conkey, Emily Thomas, Christina Crane,

In World Cultures, students are acting out scenes from the Old Testement. This helps the students to relate to not only the story itself, but to the characters with in the story. Students are given the oppurtunity to understand what the characters went through in the story, their thoughts, feelings, and emotions become part of what the student sees.

Shannon Wroblewski, Katijo Mattews, Jace Glover, Katelyn Gustafson, Bill Chan, and Jane Mariliuch



"We were reading it aloud to get a better sense of what was going on at that time period." said Rachel Gonzalez pictured with Derek Engerbretson, Marvin Thorsen, Kyle Smith

Just a couple choices

Did you know that there are 27 different English classes, 12 different math classes, 13 different science classes and 11 different history classes for students to take. "It's nice to have such a variety. You don't have to take just the same old classes," said Kim Stanhouse.

One ...two...skip a few...

Going to school has always been something of a chore for some students. They roll out of bed in the morning, rush to school only to discover that they did the wrong homework and struggle the rest of the day. Most students cant wait for that blissful year when all they have to is four classes. As underclassmen well know, there is nothing more frustrating than having to watch the seniors and the juniors get out at lunch."I can't wait till the year when I get to go home after lunch," said JessieGordan

Playing by the numbers

25 Classes

On an average, if you spend 17 years in school, including four years of college, 25 of your classes will be core classes. "It doesnt seem like we spend that much time in core classes."

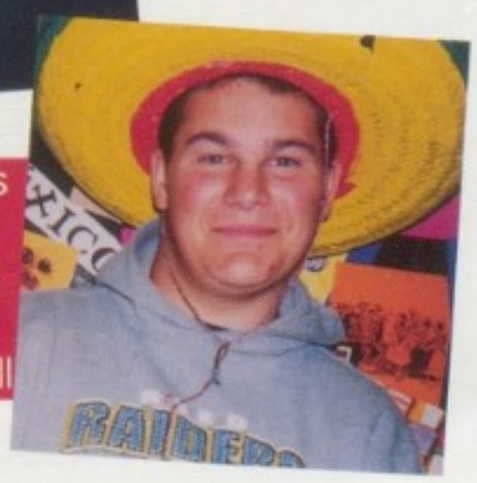
-Melissa Weis

"My favortie class is history because we get to work in groups and do projects."

-Kayla O'Rear

"If my friends are in my classes then it makes my classes more interesting."

-Derick Butler



"I like the classes that Iget to do fun projects and activities in."

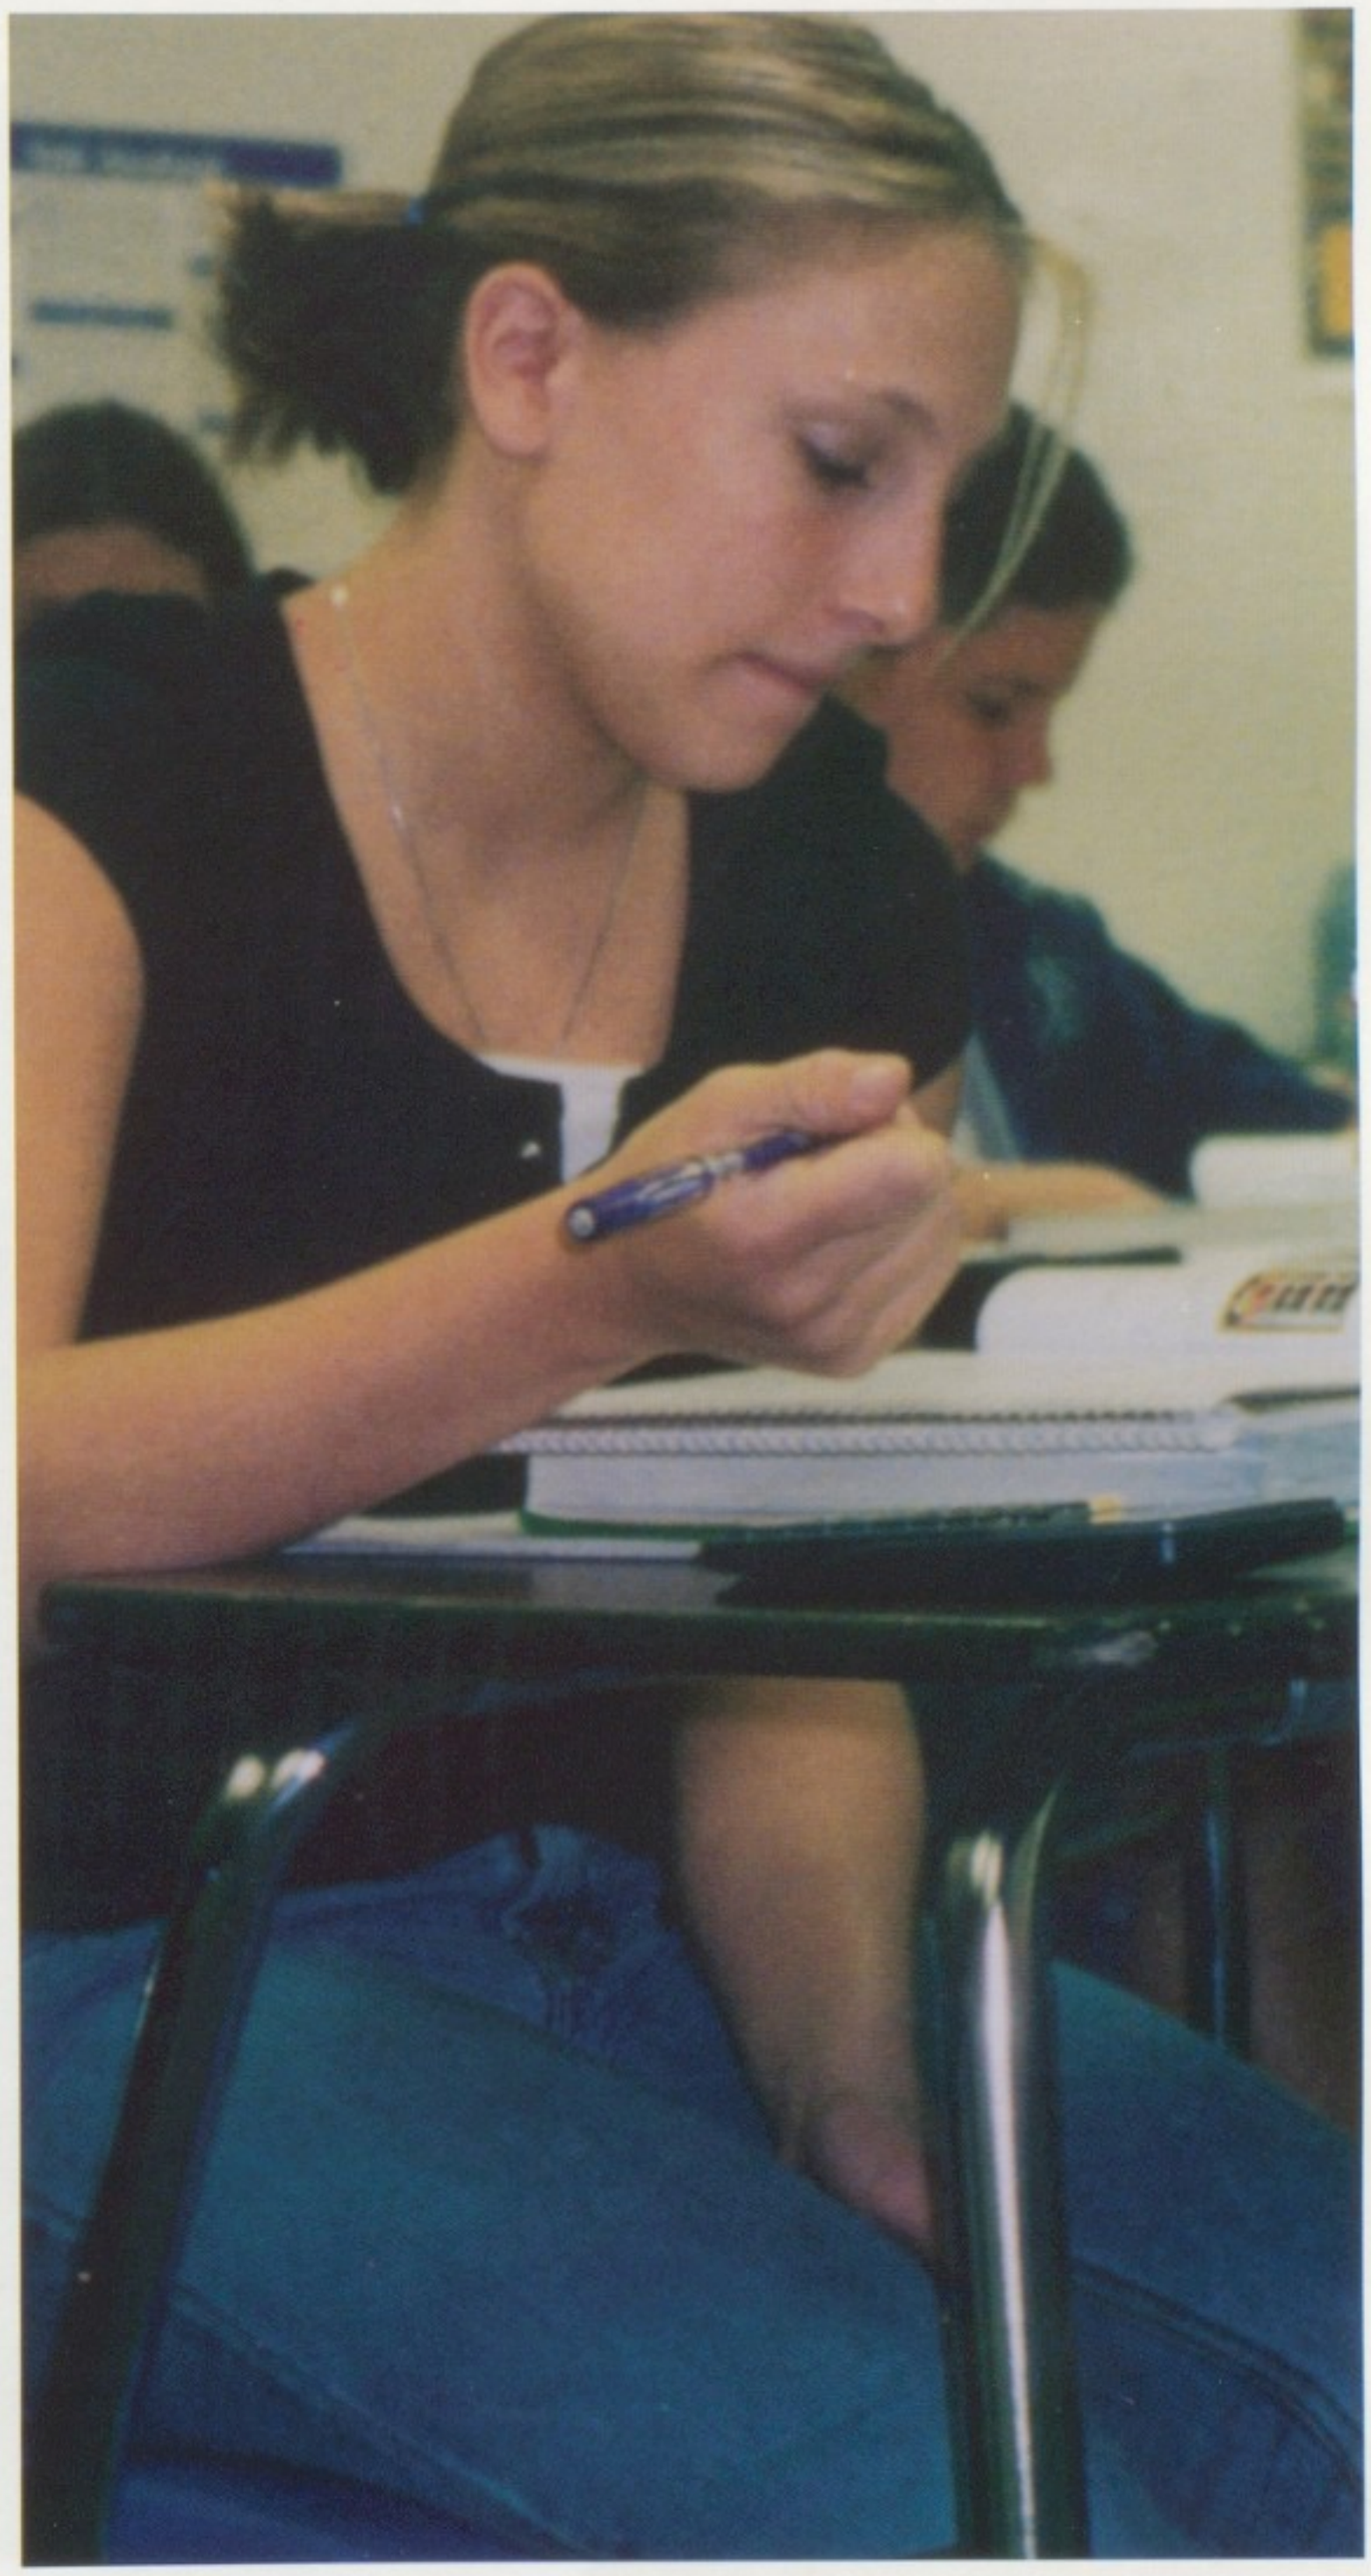
-Jon Mitchell

"I like english because we get to read interesting books and then do projects for them."

-Leslie Tallent

"I like history because my teacher makes everything come alive with his stories."

-Kati Jo Mathews

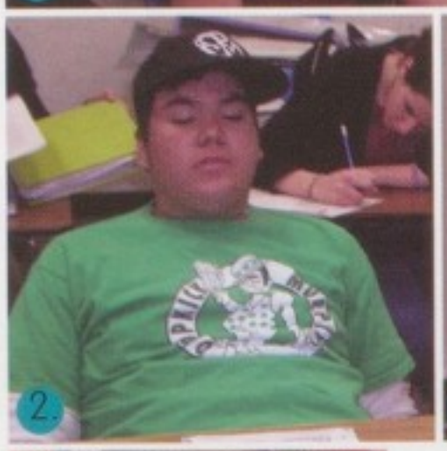


Kati Jo Mathews is focusing on working out problems in her geometry. She enjoys this class because they get to do fun projects they get to go to the computer lab. She likes classes that she gets to have fun in, but the most impotant thing to her is being able to concentrate and do good in all her core classes.

Communication Nation

A chance to learn a new language.

There are many different reasons why to join in a language class. Whether it be Spanish, Japanese, or French. All of these classes take stamina and a certain passion for the language. the people who persue these classes, and get as far as 9-10 deserve all the credit that they earned. The languages can be applied in many areas. You can use these languages as perks in job interviews, as a way to converse in a foreign country or countless other ways. These pages go out to all of the people that are in a language class.



1.) Domanoe Imus and Stacy Johnson talk to eachother in French.
2.) Alex Ortiz takes a quick nap as his french teacher hands back quizzes.
3.)Jeni Casteneda Makes sure she has all her books before the end of class.
4.) Crystal Wall gets a head start on her homework.

Above:
The spanish 3-4 class eagerly awaits the delivery of a new lesson by their teacher. Each student studies the language and some even plan to travel to the country their language originates from to try out their lerned skills.

A Quiz?!

Mortified? Lachelle Adams has her mouth open in horror as she looks at a quiz as her teacher, Mrs. Kruger handed back. This year, our French program has had an uplifting addition with Mrs. Kruger. A France native, Mrs. Kruger teaches students vocabulary and culture that is applicable to the real world.

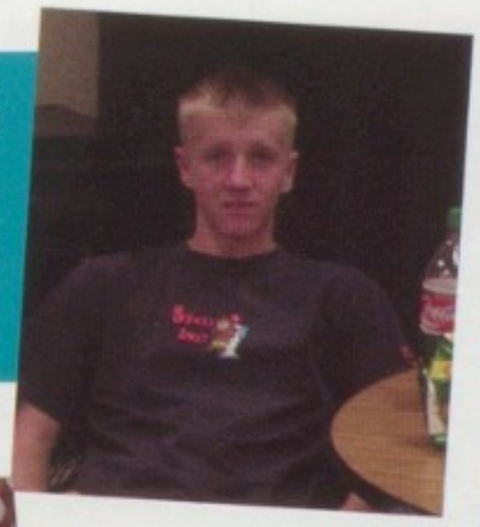
4- Summer Holloway

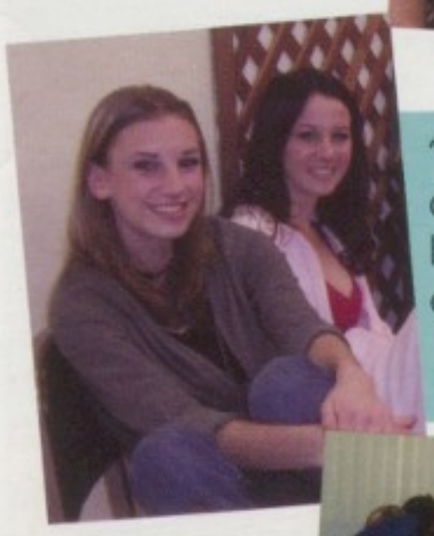
"I think Spanish is useful, because it can be used in many carreers."
-Katie Bevilacqua

"I like watching shows in different languages."
-Tammy Nguyen

It's bird, it's a plane... no... it's Spanish teachers? Over the summer, Ryan Smith and Ana Medina had the chance to test their flying skills on the Ultimate Rush at the Reno Hilton.



"I like my Spanish class, because we are always laughing."
-Bryan Olson



"Spanish gives me an opportunity to learn about another culture."
-Mandi Gunderson

"Spanish gives me more opportunities to communicate with foreign people."

Aiding your future

Student aides to the resaue...

With so much going on at school, students, grades, copies, teachers sometimes need a little help. Student aides help keep the classes in order and teachers happy. When aiding in the office, students do jobs that the office employees don't have time for. Students will make copies, run passes, answer phones, and take messages. Classes are increasing in size and the teachers sometimes have trouble giving all students the attention they need and deserve. Student peers and aides help to solve this problem by dividing up some of the work for teachers and administrators. Peer tutors are in the classes to help the students with questions on homework, class work, and projects. Where would the school be without the peer tutors and student aides? Well, we would have a lot more stressed out teachers that is for sure. Overall our student aides help everyone.

Top 3 teachers to aide for

Our teachers here sometimes need a little help. That is what our aides are for. Some teachers are easier to aide for than others, here are the top three teachers students want to aide for.

Number One

"I have an aid for all periods except one."
- Ryan Smith

Number Two

"It is away for kids to interact with there fellow students by helping the with there school work."
-Leianne Whitley

Number Three

"I like having student aides because it helps me get things done faster."
-Karen Beasley

Everyone needs help sometimes . Teachers are no exception, and-that is where student aides come in.

John Mitchell

"I became an aide for Mr. Smith because he is one of my favorite teachers."

Deanna Carroll

"I chose to work with the people in the office because they are all so nice!"

Mitch Whalen

"I choose to be in Credit Union for the experience of being a teller. And I also heard that it was a fun class to be in."

Josh Fye

"I likebeing an aid for auto because it's easy."

Jesssica Hemmingsen

Leanna Stephens

Matthew Wright

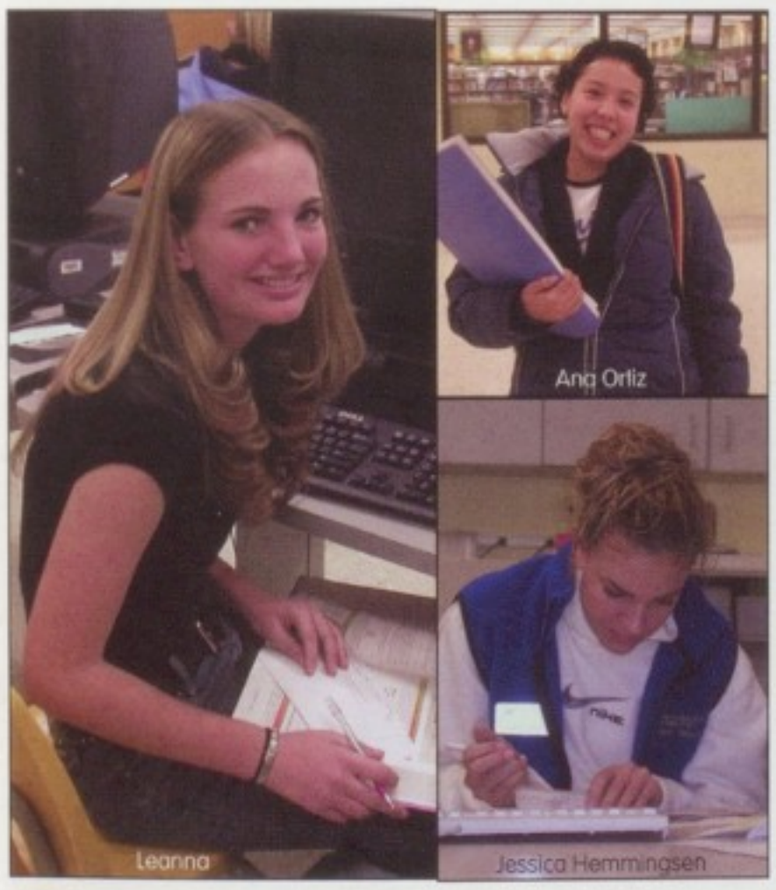
Computer typing is a necessary skill for your future, that's why you need a semester of it to graduate. Here are some kids typing and learning computer literacy for their graduation requirement.s

Fun with aiding.

Aids have fun. There is no doubt about it, and how could they not? They get to hang out with some of their favorite teachers and not have to worry about turning in homework.

"I'm an aide for Mrs. Whitley because she's a nice teacher and last year she asked me to help her."
- Ashley Hefner

"I like it when we get to have free time on the computers.."
-Colby Fountain

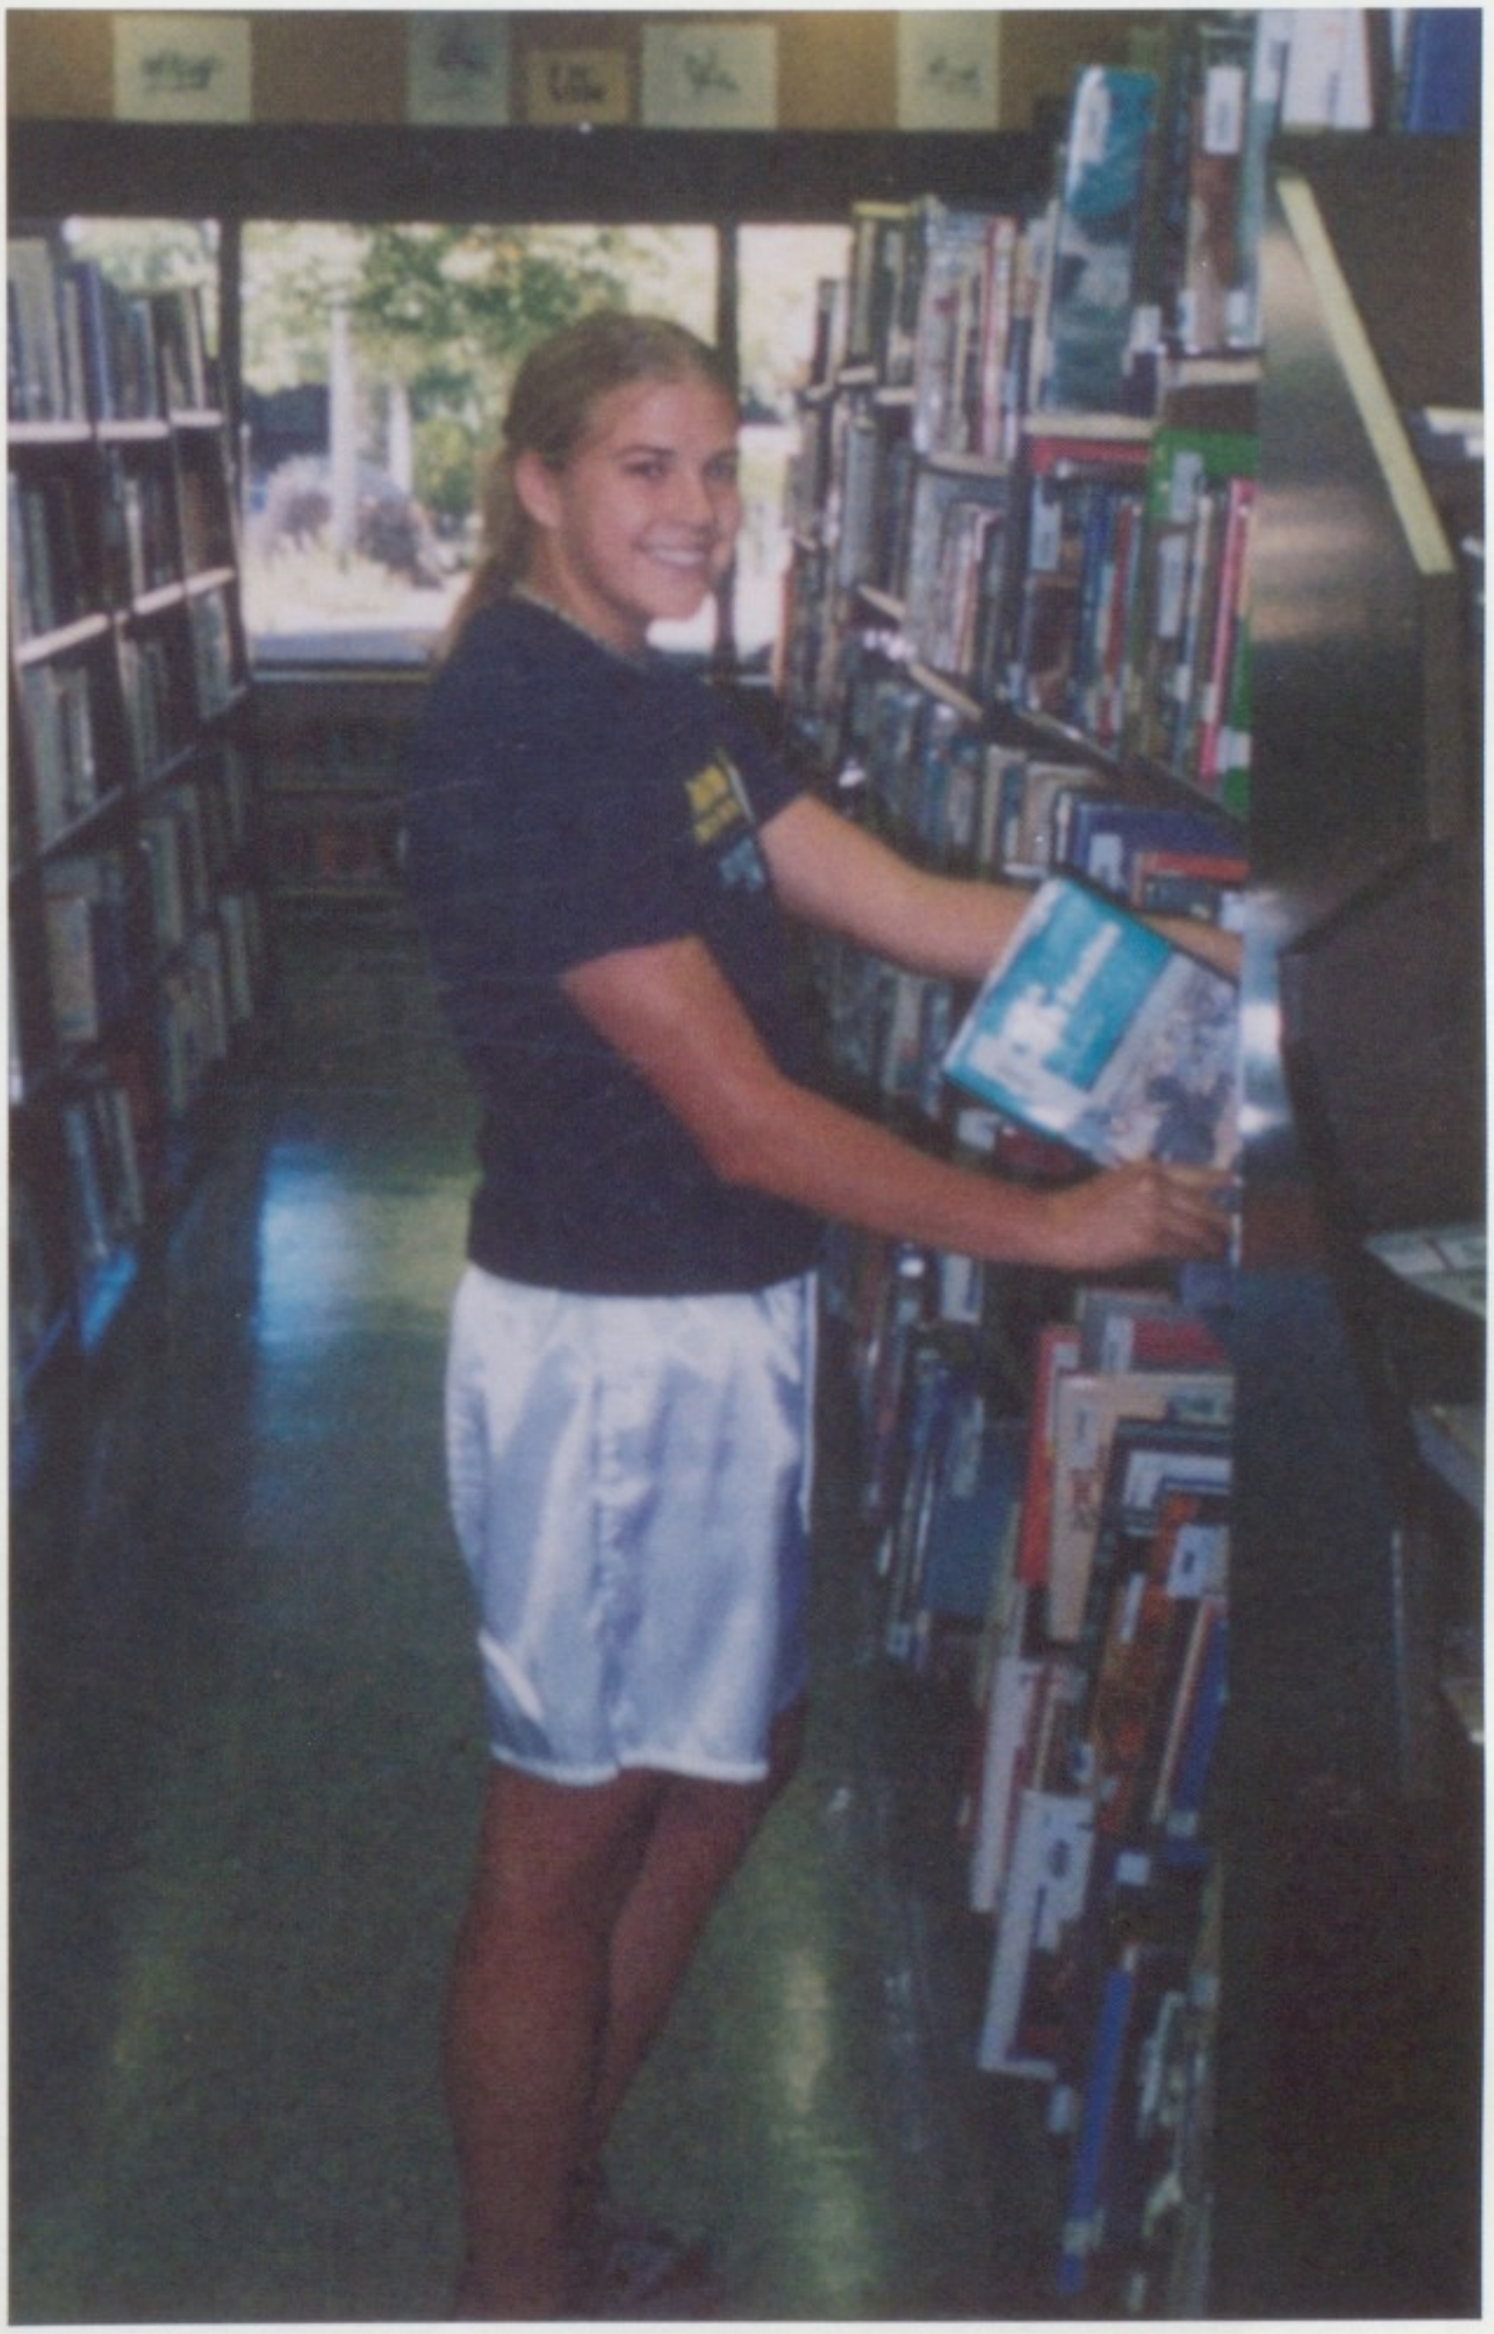


Leanna

Ang Orliz

Jessica Hemmingsen

Variety is key, there are many types of aides that students can be. They can be an aid for a teacher, office, counselors, or even the library. Teachers like to have aides because the aids can help with some jobs that are more time consuming than they are hard. To be and aid you have to be ready to do everything and anything the teachers ask you to. Aiding is not an easy job, and just because you don't do academics, doesnt mean that you are not working hard for your grade.



Shh, we are trying to aid in here. Being a library aid is one of the less known aiding jobs, but is no less fun that any of the others. Hamlet, Moby Dick, and Dr. Suess, what do they all have in common? Trisha Gibbons puts them and other books on the shelves of the library every third period. Although being a library aid is not one of the more common aiding jobs, it is one of the more exhauting, from stacking books to running passes Trisha Gibbons does it all.

Exercise is a good thing

Sweat, B.O., and tight muscles...

The good habits that physical education brings to the future leaders of the country, is one of the many reasons it is required for a high school diploma. Being in P.E. helps students obtain the skills for school sports and a healthy life. Many students don't find the need to be in P.E., but when they do participate they feel more refreshed and focused for the rest of their classes that day. The wide variety of P.E. classes available for credits make students more willing to participate in class activities. The classes range from swimming to weight lifting. Exercising creates a happy environment because exercising causes the release of endorphins that cause people to be in better moods than when they started.

Most people don't realize that there is an aquatics PE class at Alf Sorenson's Sparks Recreation Center.1- Quincey Sweeney slices through the water during her warm-up set. 2- Kasey Pomerleau is doing a flipturn at the end of the pool and trying to pass Lauren Daley on the next lap. 3- Brian Imus is a general swimmer that is learning all of the strokes to perfection and getting ready for swim season. 4-Mandy McIntyre, Megan Braunworth, Megan Fitzgerald pose for a picture before having to get in the chilli water

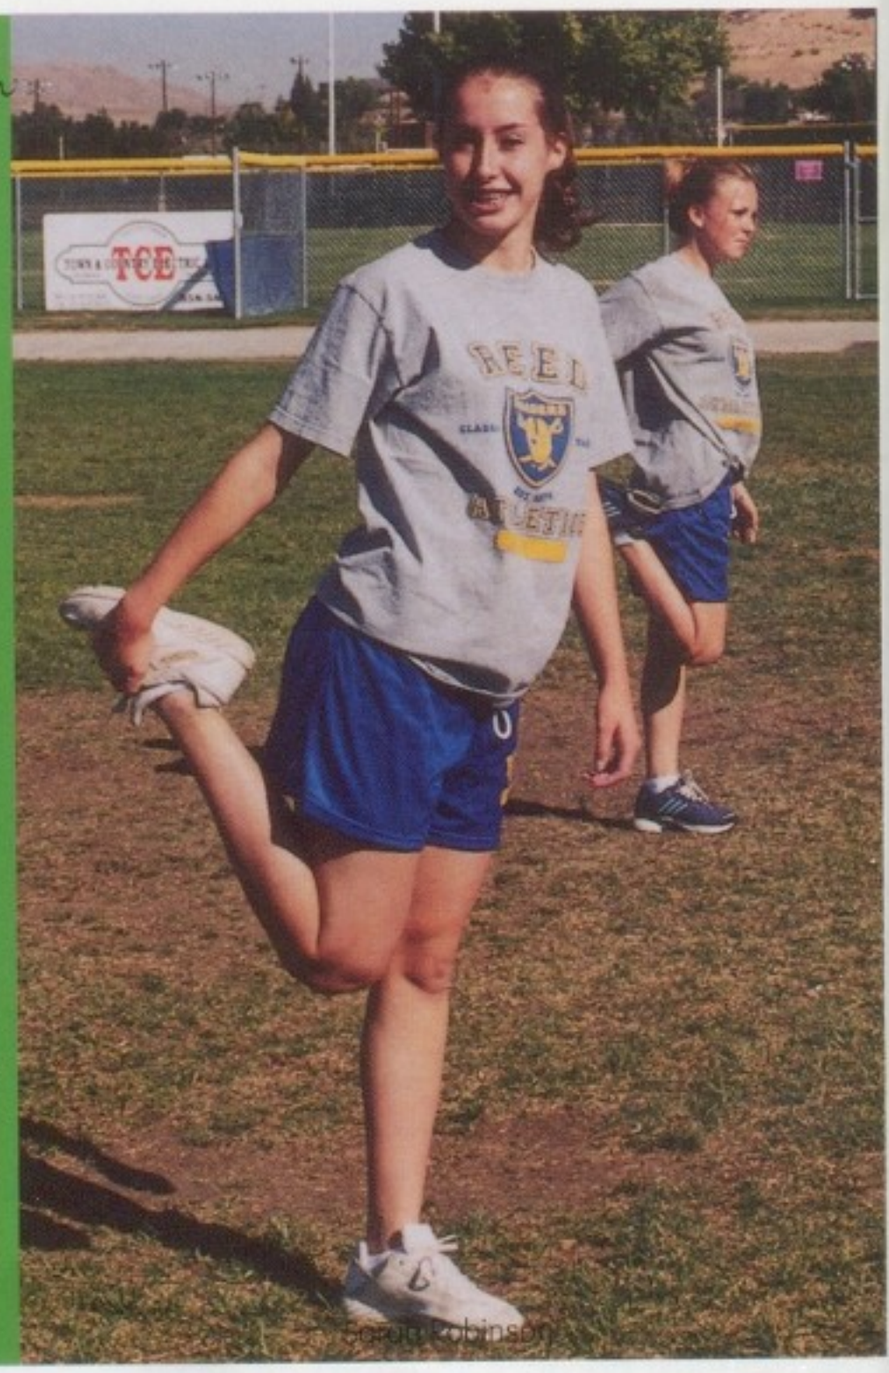
One, Two Three, Switch

Sarah Robinson and the rest of here class were getting stretched before they began their run around the track. In P.E. you get tested for your speed and ability to do athletics. P.E. is a participation class that gets young adults in the habit of working out and leaning their capabilities in sports. P.E. is a great class that keeps students in shape and is helping the world's obesity problems by teaching healthy habits at a young age. SArah Robinson, like most freshman, is taking 9th grade P.E. There are many other P.E classes like weight lifting, power walking, and power jam.



Sarah Robinson

Lauren Daley, Kasey Pomerleau

Sarah Blue

Anthony Baloza, Ben Ollie

Francisco Lemus

Got ya... Kasey Pomerleau got really involved in the Friday-fun game in Aquatics P.E. when she finally tagged Lauren Daley. Soccer is always fun on a warm day. These students play hard and have a great time in their PE class.

The preperation of P.E.

These students were asked about future plans that have to do with the skills they're learning in P.E.

"I can't wait till swimteam starts in the spring."
-Alison Conkey

"I like freestyle because you can impove in many ways."
- Kasey Pomerleau

"I hate our daily runs around the track."
-Brittany Matteoni

"I fly like a seagull during the daily run."
-Brent Mace

"P.E. is an oxymoron."

David Coyner

"I'm Open..." David Coyner was one of the best and most involved player during soccer week in his P.E. class. Students learn rules and participate in many different sports. "I like football, soccer, and other sports that we get to learn," David Coyner said when asked what his favorite sport in P.E. was.

Breakfast Club...

Do you really know what it takes?

"That class is an easy A." Usually, when people think of the Yearbook class, they think of how easy it is. Think again! Many people don't understand how much time, and hard work these students put in. Throughout the year, each student will have put in a of five hundred extra out of class hours. At least twice a month the class meets on a Saturday afternoon or Friday night. "This is my first year. It has been more stressful then I could ever imagine." says Alyson Good. Most of the students in yearbook take honors classes, and, or, participate in extra curricular activities. These students really know how to manage their time, and schedules. Their hard work pays off in the end, and they will always have something to show for it...the yearbook!

Striking a pose to waste some film on the staffers is always a good idea..."We always get the best side from the people who actually take the pictures." Said Nicki Joslyn. 1. Kevin Picollo lounging around on a work day. 2. Big smiles from Kassy Taylor. 3. Still friends on the job is Jennifer Mercer and Allison Good. 4. Nikki Joslyn strikes a pose for the camera.

What is your favorite number and why?

Erik Prudden

"My favorite number is 13 because it is nifty."

Lauren Daley

"My favorite number is seven because it's my lucky number and because everything good ends with the number seven."

Sarah Wilson

"My favorite number is 11 because it cool to be number one two times."

Nicole Follette

"My favorite number is 11 because I was born on May 11th and because it's been my soccer number since I was five."

Jodie Garrison, Mrs. Beasley, Sarah DiPrinzio

The tools of ignorance... Yearbook tools love to give the staffers a hastle. The computers (above) shut down at the perfect times, its as though they have a mind of their own, always thinking of the most inconvient time to turn off. The camera and cropper are a staffers best friends. Whenever something goes wrong while using one of these the only person to blame is the operator.

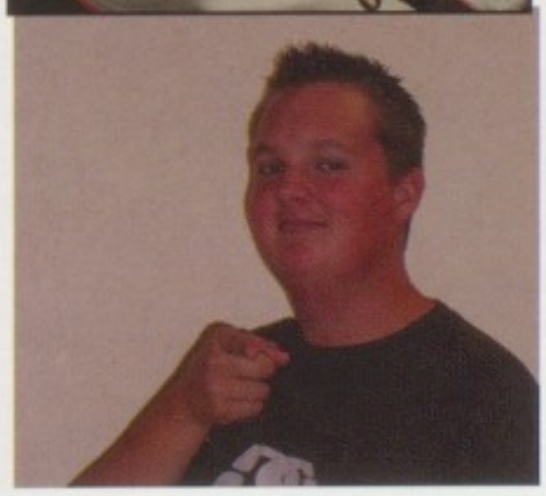
"I love Kentucky, and yearbook...everyday I do!"
-Michael Smith

"I want to go to the beach, it's so close, yet so far."
-Shaylie Bernier

"Don't touch my bush!'
-Kim Stanhouse



Got fun? This class sure does! Even though this class requires a lot of hard work, there is always time to have fun. You can always count on someone to make you smile. Whether it's Erik Prudden taking pictures with his camera phone, of his unexpected pranks, Shaylie Bernier making a funny face, Tyler Dehnam dressing up in Michael Smith's jacket, or Kim Stanhouse protecting her beloved bush, there's always a class full of smiles and laughter. "Everyone should always smile, no one should frown!" says Tyler Dehnam. "The funniest moment in yearbook would have to be, going to the bathroom in the dark on a Saturday work-day."said Mike Anderson.

Learning life Skills.

Metals, woods, and auto class

Metals, auto, and woods. Three classes that encompass creating, repairing and constructing. The maxim of all of these classes is to prepare students with knowledge that will better enable them for "the real world." When metals class comes to mind, you think of orange and amber sparks flying about the room. Woods class reminds you of nostrils filled with sawdust. Auto reminds you of the many pieces of an engine and how they work. The excitement and pride obtained from making an engine that you built run, driving the last nail into your woods project, or putting the last touches on your metals project can make your day great. All of these classes are unique in their own way and are enjoyed by many.

Metals

Metals is a class with many fun attributes. Wether it's operating a piece of equiptment or watching a red hot piece of metal, there is always something excited to do or observe.

"You can make some really cool stuff."
-Nick Perthel

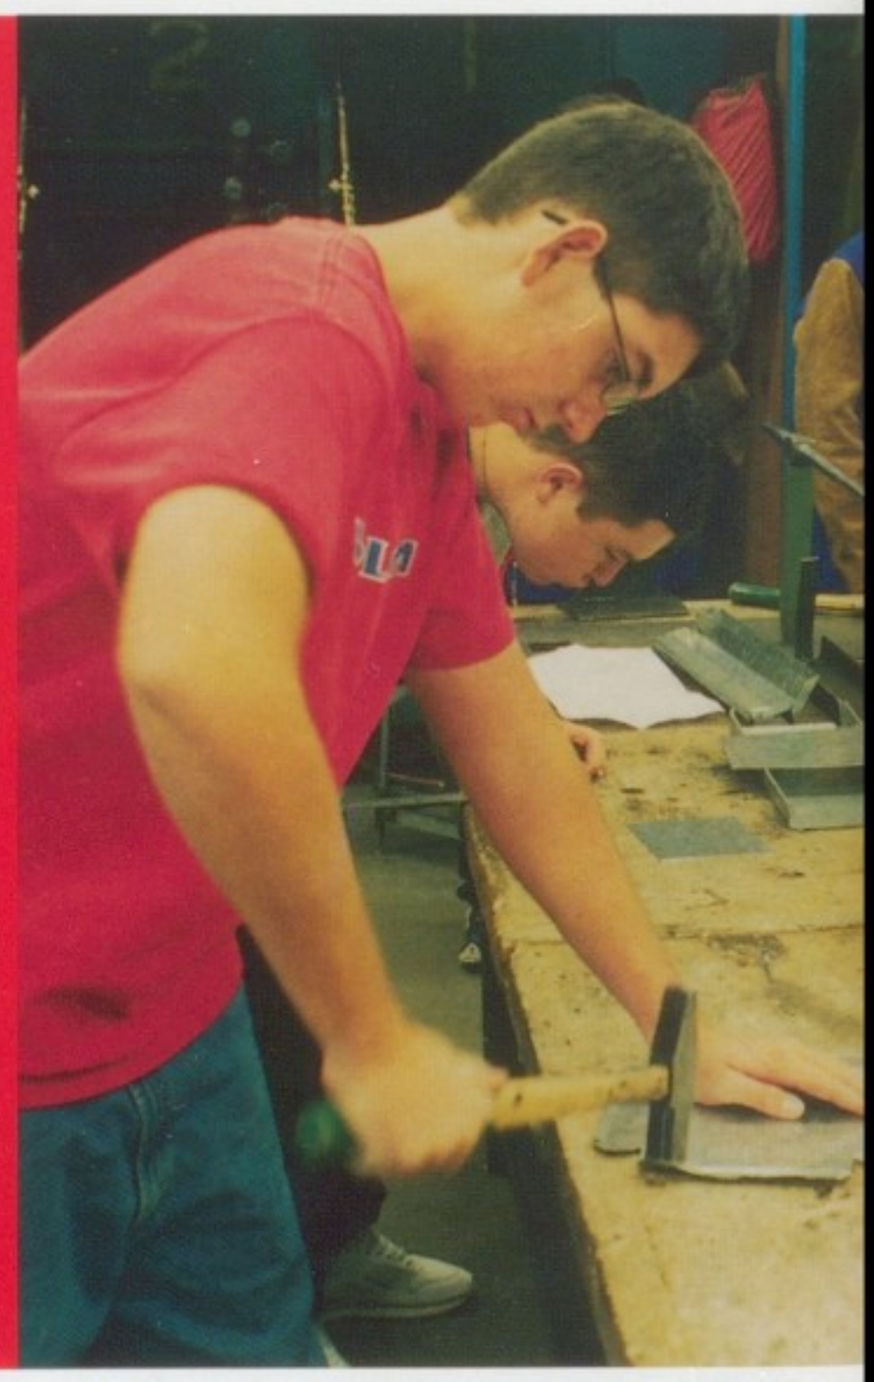
"I love burning metal, welding, cutting and forging metal."
-Tony Torres

"You get to burn stuff."
-Tommy Schriber

Metals is a class where you get to create things by cutting metal into shapes, welding and doing various other tasks. There are always a lot of bright orange sparks flying around the room. Kenny Fye, pictured above, works on a project for the class. "I enjoy metals, because there s always something to do, and it isn't just bookwork," Fye says.

"I love working in this class with all the guys." said Robbi Mickel. It is this camaraderie that is noticed when you are in this class. It appears to be a lot of work although students don't seem to mind because they get to use all sorts of interesting tools for the purpose of creating something that they can be proud of.

Robbi Mickel , pictured at right, hammers out a piece of metal fora tool box he i making. "I love working in the class with all the guys.," Mickel said.



"I like using my creativity to make cool items and work with my friends."
-Jarod Wright

Also Pictured: Anthony Hannefin, Toby Marble

Dirt under the nails? Students in auto often find themselves cleaning their nails after class to get the grime off. The students are learning skills that can prove usefull in their later years. "it's fun to put stuff back together. My favorite part is working on an engine." said Garrett silva. Also pictured: Dimetrio Sanchez

"I chose auto because I wanted to learn more about engines."
-Jeremy Ghiglieri

"Auto is fun because you get to learn how to fix engines."
-Joshua Kerr

"I like this class because you get to mess around with engines."
-Josh Corona

Got a splinter? Students in woods often find themselves picking at their fingers getting small particles of wood out. "I likewoods, because it lets me use power tools," said Sean Neely.

ROTC is there no matter what

A call to arms

Homecoming, assemblies, games, special events. All of these things have a special organazation in common. ROTC. ROTC helps bring patriotism to the school. They carry our nation's, as well as our state's flag into events and help to lead the school in a respectful manner while our national anthem is being played. That isn't all that ROTC does though. They have competitions, where they compete against other schools for titles. They train in gun flinging, flag twirling, marching, you name it and they have most likely trained for it. Often times you can walk outside the school by the tennis courts and see the ROTC students training. It isn't all marching though, you have to pay close attention to what your instructor says because if you don't it could result in having to "give 'em twenty"...push ups that is.

Top 3 Drills

ROTC trainees learn everything from how to march to how to carry their gun to how to do push ups. So what are their top three drills they learned?

Color Guard

"I like the color guard the best."
-Jimmy Thibault

Armed Drill Team

"I really like the armed drill team."
-John Goodrich

Rifle Team

"I like the rifle team."
-Candi Noel

Company halt! ROTC stops to tell us their favorite and least favorite parts about ROTC.

Sam Pedrick

"I like it because it teaches you to respect people for who they are."

Jennifer Noel

"The PT is not hard enough."

Tyler Idland

"I like the specialty teams and armed drill teams."

Amy Thibault

"Sometimes ROTC is taken too seriously."

Stand at attention

Whenever we have an assembly there is always a team of cadetes that carry out the nation and state flag. It is one of the highest honors to carry the flag. The color guard takes the flags out with an extreme degree of dignity an poise.

Pain is temporary. Pride is forever.

"Rough tough, can't get enough. Twisted steal, sex appeal..." as goes the Navy saying.

The opportunity of a lifetime... students from ROTC special teams had the opportunity to meet the Seceratery of Defense Donald Rumsfeld at a luncheon.

ROTC students are trained to better themselves and their community but that doesnt mean that they don't know how to have a good time. Once a year there is a giant dance held for the ROTC member, it is sort of like a prom for them. Military Ball is held once a year in late November. There is dancing, punch, food, and even a queen. "I didn't expect to win- it was very exciting." said Candice Noel, the military ball queen.

There is no try in ROTC, you do. Students learn their lessons the hard way, if they don't do it right- they do push ups. You have to be dedicated and self motivated to make it through some of the traning. ROTC is not for the weak minded. "The price of greatness is responsibiltiy," said Winston Churchill. There is no other organazation at our school that works so hard at being responsible when it comes to their jobs.

To form one perfect union, our union

Six Establishments

Check this out! A government class with competition! We the People is a competitive team that combines public speaking with national issues. The team goes up against other teams in the district, state and even the nation. The six establishments are simply six groups that focus on a certain topic; for instance, Unit Four breaks down issues concerning minorities, women, and other civil rights groups. By relating current issues back to the constitution and applying the issues to everyday life and society, each unit answers a series of question and then undergoes cross-examination by a group of judges. Sound pretty intense? Yea- kinda. But every member exercises the balance between fun and hard work. It's not hard to tell that they're an energetic bunch!

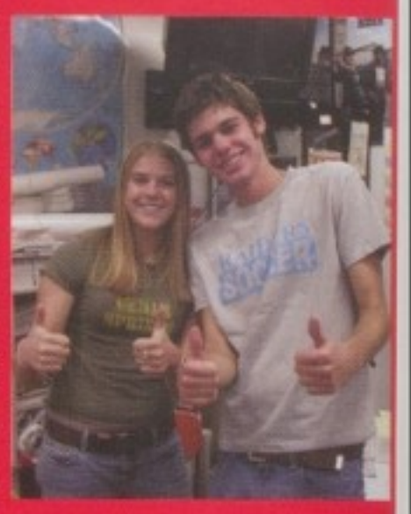
Alia Moore

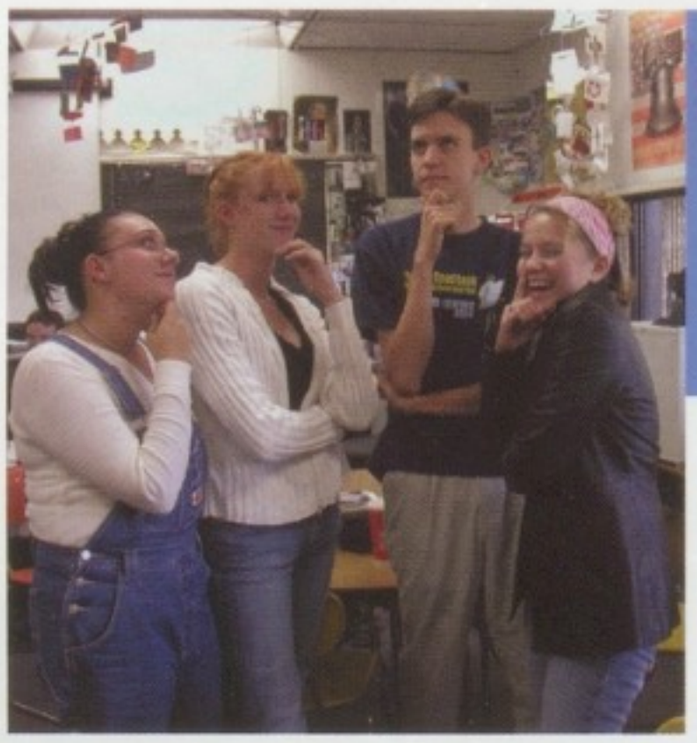
"Bird! =P" Alia Moore participates in a group discussion, one of her favorite parts of the class. An active member of Unit Four, Moore contributed grounded opinions, logical reasoning, and incredible writing and wording skills to the team. Despite any reasoning for joining the class, Moore entered We the People "knowing [she] had strong opinions and liked to argue them." Getting into intelligent debates and not feeling ill before talking in front of a group of people were Moore's motivations in class, and of course the knowledge. She said, "100% of the kids in WTP know about our government and political system; unfortunately that can't be said for the rest of society- there's a lot of ignorance we'll need to deal with."

Steve Hedrick



Cool! Steve Hedrick with Trisha Gibbons represent Unit Two. "Scuba" Steve is definitely recognized in We the People for his vast knowledge and history trivia accompanied by his passion for politics. Balancing numerous activities such as Academic Olympics, FBLA, and Varsity Soccer, Hedrick, similar to most of the class, had the obstacle of time to consider when signing up for WTP. But, of course, he always had time to discuss his favorite issues such as Gun Control. He continued to actively enlighten the class with his ideas from the beginning. Entertaining but intriguing Hedrick said, "From being in this class I learned a great deal of being more open to different ideas, and also about the fundamental principles that the government was based on. This class is a blast and we all have a great time, especially when Mr. Towell busts out or sings us a song."

CHEESE! Cassie Shaft, Sonia Mercado, Anna Mosher, and Whitney Grimes make up a sweet and lovely Unit One.



Deep in thought? Not even close. Unit Three members Shayla Ogg, Sarah DiPrinzio, Mike Harvey and Kim Stanhouse jump to a semi-charming pose. "This class has allowed me to diversify my views on people; before I took this class, I didn't know the strengths of many of my classmates. Now I know how talented they are!" said Kim Stanhouse of the horizon-broadening class.

The amazing (the best!) Unit Four: Alia Moore, Nhan Diep, Mikey Zaidi, Kim Evans, Shawnicé Kraeber and Nick Nealon. Our last words? BIRD!

Stress is a killer! But not for these clowns- They're just doing what they like most, having fun! Crazy Unit Six members Sarah Wilson, Burton Smith, Mark Lorentzen, Jen Onyeagbako, Susan Paterson, and Brad Fitch.

Intimidating and Individual: An Intellectual Crew

"No likes, ums or ahs- We are better than that!" The WTP team, enduring criticism and tests, learned how to be open-minded and still stand for something different- individuality. Never without good conversation and personal views, the team succeeded.

Five for Five

"This class is the creme de la creme- It combines my two favorite things, government and public speaking!"
-"Brendan Richardson

"We the people is a very rigorous class and is really preparing me for future tasks and understanding things.
-"Shannon Williams

When all else fails, look to a friend... or two!

Of course with any organized group all sorts of situations will occur, from dramatic and bitter to random and hilarious. The point is getting over it; in We the People everyone's friends!

"Friends make the time fun and the memories last. After all of us sharing hard times, I felt [Unit 6] was all on the same level."

Susan Paterson

"No matter what there's always some one you can talk and relate to [in We the People]"

Burton Smith

How does this class help you? "Politics and government are like walking in the dark, WTP turns on some streetlights!"
-Nhan Diep

Funny times? "Sonia and my Something about Mary moment was pretty funny... But I guess you wouldn't get that! You had to be there!"
-Anna Mosher

Hopeful outcome? "I took this class so I could have a further understanding of our government to become a participant citizen! Unit 2- People Power!"
-Trisha Gibbons

We're Jammin! Art and Ceramics

subheadline leads in however, fill this

Art and ceramics aren't only about just the technique or skill, it's about how creative and expressive one can be. Art shows you how to pull out every detail in the picture you are trying to create. Showing all the shades and lights. Ceramics shows how someone can create something out of nothing. Throwing creative pots and placing them toghether with their other work, making true art. Then trying to pick the right glazes to finish it off. "Ceramics is fun because I get to make cool things," said Kevin Berry. "I like art because I never really have to do anything in Norton's class," said Jeon Ziegler. " "Wooly is the greatest ceranics teacher ever. He is so laid back and helps us when we need it," said Katy Monihan.

There are many different ways to make a pots. You can try throwing on the wheel or making a pich pot and showing his creativity.

Seamstress 2 Waitress

Well, not really... They want much more!

Where some may say fine arts with music and song, others may say industrial arts with metal and wood; however, these students would disagree with both- they have an art of their own. An art considered to be a little closer to home, perhaps, these two classes teach students skills which many teens shy away from: sewing and cooking. Students can attend the classes to learn terms and techniques that are useful for anyone who plans on living on their own, and anyone who wants to consider them as careers. Of course there are more complications: some may learn business skills, fashion design, chef creativity and more. These take something more than just a little guidance; it takes talent, interest, and a little determination...

Top 3 Reasons to Try It

Many people, when asked about sewing, cooking, and other at home activities, would just say "It's not my style," or "I can't do it." But, these three can (and will) give you three reasons why you should try it!

Be Creative and Original

"Sewing is definitely useful because I have learned to make just about anything I want, like pajamas, dresses, pillows and purses. Since I'm short it's nice to be able to hem pants that are way too long!" -Ashley Field

Nutritious Eating

"Everyone should learn because you have to know how to eat nutritiously. By learning you can do it yourself!"
-Kathy Fullenwider

FOOD!

"The best reason is, if you don't have lunch money then you can eat what you made that day in foods!"
-Shelby Sargeant

Every stich counts... Sonia Mercado finishes up her project with involved concentration and skill. She enrolled in the class to learn more about clothing design so that she could make her own prom dress! "It's a great class because I have a lot of freedom to work on what I want and design is how I want it designed. Now I can make unique clothes and know that no one else will have exactly what I do!" explained Mercado.

Into it?

Like we said, it takes something a little extra to sign up for a class that requires skill (or the unskilled). In fashion, students enjoy designing their own patterns, coordinaating their own colors and working as team workers and as entreprenuers (Cruella de Vil perhaps?). In foods, they experiment with different cultures, create their own style of cooking, and practice safe techniques that could help them one day to get a job, own a restaurant, or even premiere their own TV show (who wants to be an Emeril?). Senior sweetie Nicki Johnson quoted, "I took this class to learn how to cook before I go to college. Now I won't starve!"

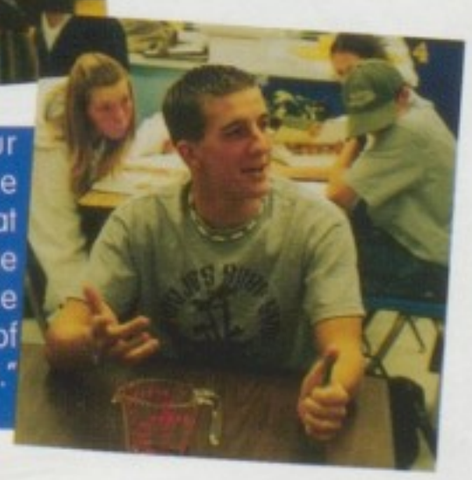
Ditomasso agreed "Our kitchen has a lot of fun together. We work like a team to get things done... When we're working that is."

FOOD!!! Senior Jeff Bentley with excellent instructor Mrs. Fullenwider show off the never-empty-always-tasty-looking refridgerator stocked with healthful yet mouth watering snacks that students can purchase at convenient times. Fullenwider stresses the importance of nutrition in her classes and explains that if you learn how to cook for yourself "it's cheap!"

"I have fun because kids don't make fun of me as much in foods. I have fun because I like to eat!! Once I ate the whole casserole by MYSELF for one dollar!!!"
-Jessica Burk

"Culinary arts is so fun- we get to cook every day and eat what we cook. Grandma Fullenwider makes us laugh so it's even better."
-Kyle Barrazza



"You cook with your friends but more importantly you get to eat what you cook. One time Ashley opened the cupboard and the tub of flour spilled all over her."
-Brian Sullivan

It takes all four.

Soprano, Alto, Tenor and Bass

When one listens to a song, one can normally depict between the four different sections of a choir. The sopranos shrill extremely high notes, while the basses dip below the staff to bellow the deepest sounds. The altos harmonize with the sopranos, singing in moderation, while the tenors assist the basses, singing as high as altos or as low as basses. At Reed High, three choirs exist that require all four. There is the Concert Choir, Women's Choir, and Intermezzo. The Women's Choir is the only choir that doesn't have male roles, however, the girl's talent suffices for the lack of testosterone. All three choirs are extremely excellent, performing in numerous concerts and the praised Spring Musical. The Choral department at Reed High is very proud of their four parts.

Leanna Stephans

"One word to sum up Intermezzo would be 'challenging'. You think that Intermezzo would be easy, but it's really a lot of hard work. Yet, it's fun at the same time!"

Burton Smith

"Intermezzo is an experience you'll never forget, because it's full of fun memories."

Larissa Freund

"Art is the basis of all creativity, and that includes music. Choir is awesome and everyone should join!"

Mark Lorentzen

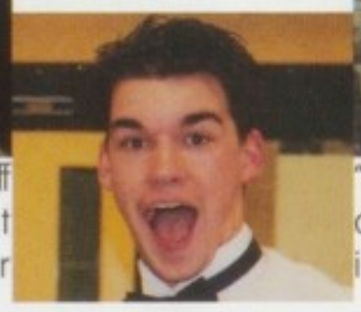
"Music is the universal language. It can convey the greatest emotions to an audience where plain words would be unfeeling."

"Intermezzo is the only thing I will truely miss when I graduate." -Jen Edmonds

"It is fun and exciting to see all the new songs we get to perform." -Maegan Tolley

"In choir you get to pull off amazing shows that people admire." -Skylar Nance

"Choir is a great way to be in theater, which I love, and it's a great way to make friends." -Nick Nealon



"I met the greatest friends doing the greatest things in choir." -Heather Foxwell

"Mr. Lorentzen is the nicest person ever and he makes the class fun." -Ashley Massey

Pam Robinson, Jaquie Allen, Dalia Gerdel, Ashley Wasson, Jaquie Davis share a group photo. "It's an incredable experience because you make a lot of good friends and learn a lot about different people that you wouldn't know otherwise," said Gerdel

Senior Nhan Diep, pictured above, stated that "the best thing about intermezzo was the performance experience." Nich O'Neil and Nina Bosneag (left), show that perfoming is a very important part of choir. O'Neil said, "Choir is like a family, and it's such a carefree atmosphere that you can act like yourself and not try to hide." Both also commented on the valour of their teacher, Mr. Lorentzen. "He's one of the most inspirational teachers I've ever had," said Diep.

Pictured to the right are good friends Sarah Sprinkle and Amanda Sydnham. Both joined Intermezzo because the grew up watching it. Sydenham watched her sister perform in the group and it inspired her to do the same. Both agree that it is a great program and the Lorentzens are great teachers. Pictured left is Andy Mebust performing at the Dessert Night Concert. "I've had a lot of fun and met a lot of new people," Mebust said. He hopes to continue the program through out the rest of his high school career.

Bernier said. Anne Lorentzen, a freshman, loves choir as well. "It's a blast," she said. "I can't imagine school without it!" Kimberly Marchant and Tawney Smith.

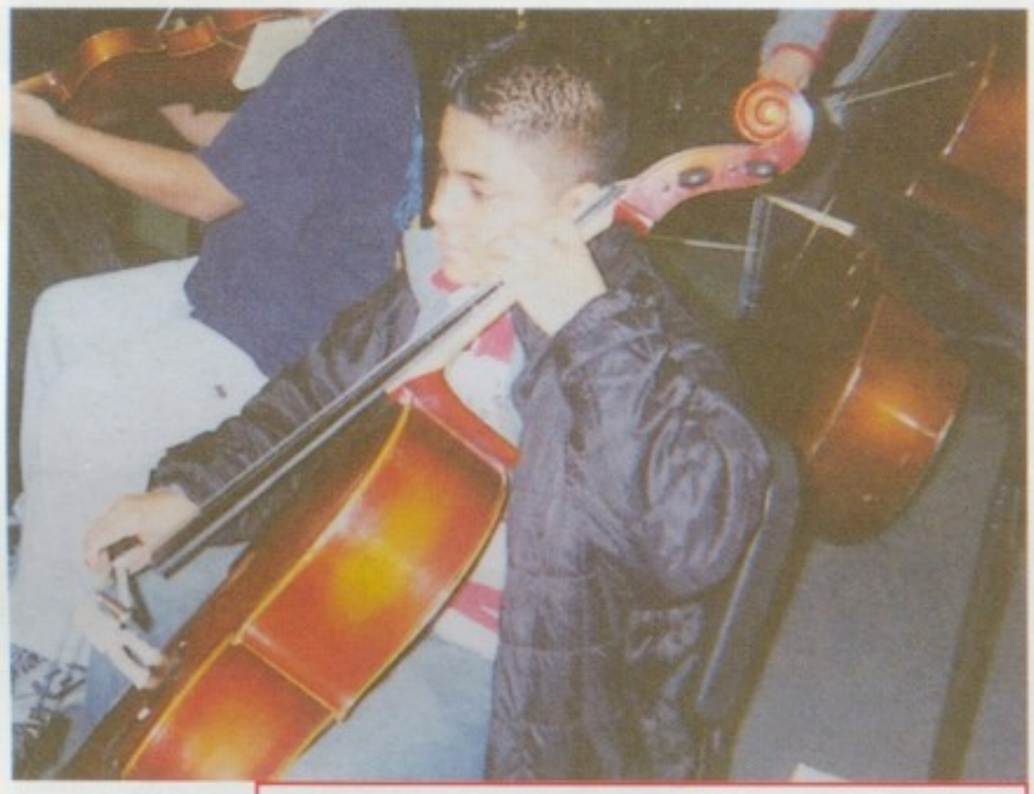
To the far left, Mr. Lorentzen plays his piano while singing along with the choir. Susan Paterson smiles for the camera. "You work so hard on a piece, that to hear the applause at the end of a performance you feel like your hard work paid off," Paterson said.

Strung out!

Strings Class: Music to our ears

Orchestra/Strings is a class that requires a great knowledge of music, talent and dedication. It also involves perfect synchronization to perform a song properly, but surprisingly enough, the students pull it off gracefully. The classroom looks very varied. There is a conductor in the front of the room, meanwhile scattered amongst the room is a wide variety of stringed instruments that have very different sounds and sizes. Some of the instruments are small, such as a violin, and others are almost twice as big as some of the players, such as the cello. Each one has their own special sound that completes the piece of music being performed . From all of the low notes to high notes, one thing is for certain; this class is filled with great music and a lot of fun.

1. Taking a little break while another section tries their best. 2. Waiting for your time to play is an intricate part of playing the string instruments. 3. Intense concentration is needed to play any kind of instrument whether it's brass or strings. Meranda studies her music closer hoping to make the band sound better altogether.



Carlos Hernandes plays the cello supplying the lower tones to the classes musical selection. Being able to press down on the right string to produce the right note is a very tricky thing. You also have to worry about pressing to hard on the bow and playing to loud for where they are in the music.

Solo time

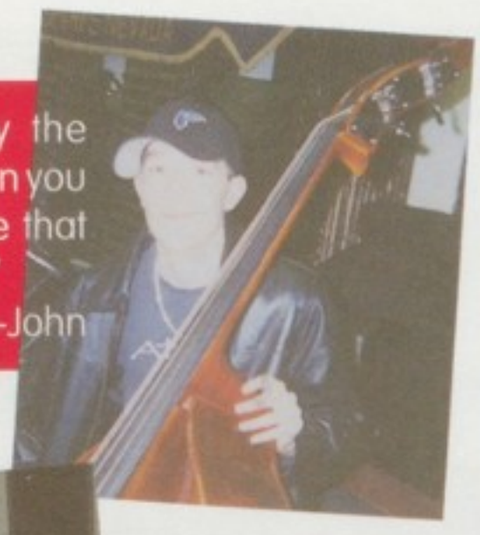
Solos are the hardest part to master that playing as a group. During a solo a person is totally exposed. There is no other sound to cover up any kind of mistake that a person makes. It takes a lot of nerve to take on such a severe task. Its always good to have a friend to help you . As shown in the picture to the right.

All the kids in any strings class have alot of skill and should get the recognition that they need, and deserive.

Playing by the numbers

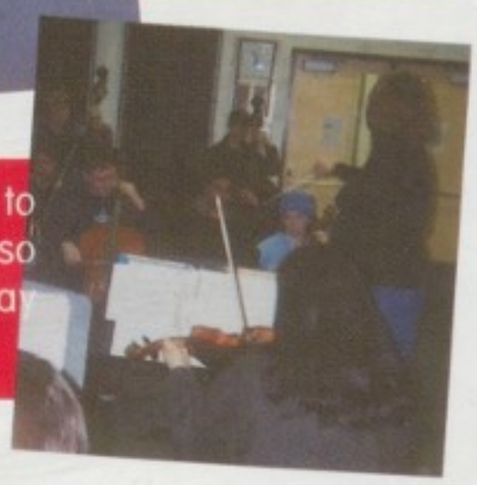
1000 times

Ann Peterson waves her arms well over 1000 times a day trying to keep the students in time and together.



"I get to supply the bass. It's fun when you can feel the note that you are playing."
-John

Bows Up! The class begins to rehearse one of their songs.



Pay attention to the conducter so you can stay together.

Practice makes perfect is a saying that has stuck with people since the beginning of time. If a preson practices for only ten minutes a day every day a person would be able to do anything that they want to do. it shows as these people practice to make the best sound that they can and to inprove their class.

1 and a 2 and a 3!

Reed High Marching Band excels in numbers.

Playing a musical instrument requires a lot of numbers. One must count beats, count measures, count notes, and count time! Counting inables one to keep up with rapid measures of flying notes and fingers. The marching band, however, must master the art of counting, not only to perfect their music, but they also to keep their feet in sync with time. In order to keep their feet up to beat, the marching band practices marching in place. This monotonous drill pushes the students to march with ridgid posture and sharp movements, enabling them to concentrate on the counting and not their dragging feet. By the end of the season, the counting and the drilling pays off in an elaborate display of perfection.

1) Bradi Florez, AJ Corbridge, Gary Ortega, Jake Arnold, Jeff Shelfo, Bryant Sparks, Kevin Wilfon, Evelyn Miller, Tracy Trojan 2) Kevin Salls, Teri Zen 3) Brandon Rumsey, Eddie Cabarloc, Derrick Atkinson 4) Kevin Wilfon, Kevin Eckes, Jeff Shelfo, AJ Corbridge, Jake Arnold

Marissa Levan, Bryant Sparks, and Chris Jensen provide the bass line for the marching band with their massive susaphones.

Thomas Mansfeild and MJ Fisher concentrate on their musicduring rehersal. The trombone section requires extensive practice so that they don't run into other band members with their elongated instruments. Not only are they concerned with their music but also with the welfare of their band mates!

Strike a pose. Tenor players CJ Gent and Kevin Wilfon strut their stuff. Both agree that the drum line is the best part of the band. "We kick butt!!" stated Gent.

The band plays loud and energetic music in the stands of a home football game.

Did you know?

Did you know that the marching band begins practicing during the summer? They go through and extensive two week training or "band camp" before school starts that encompases all training. That includes drill, music, and marching tecnique.

Frech Horn players Carly Holmes, Lana Zenz and Adam Tuttle rehearse their parts out on the practice feild in the West parking lot. "I like working hard on a show and than performing it. My favorite part is the performances!" stated Zenz.

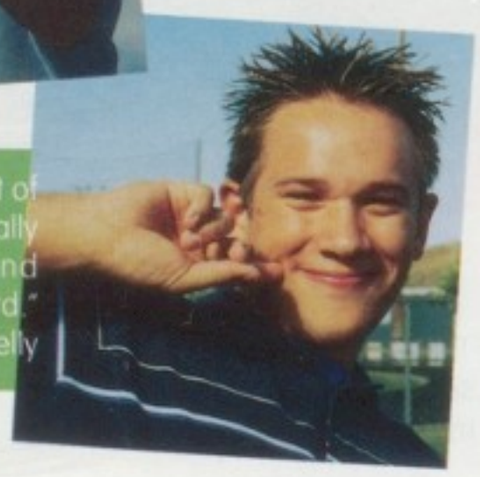
During practise, Doctor McKenzie jokes around making Drum Major Gary Ortega smile. "This year was crazy! The best times were just kickin' it with band mates during practices and competitions," Ortega said.

Clarinet players Sarah Nelson, Megan Ekstrand, Jennifer Bosneag, Aaron Wilson, Nick Bartch rehurse. When asked about her involvement with band Jennifer Bosneag said, "I needed something to take up my time and I enjoy it." Jennifer Mercer agrees. "I joined band because I had fun in Middle school band and I liked the trips we went on." All agree that band is fun, even if it is hard work.

Mike Anderson, a junior, plays his snare drum. "I like the snare drum because it's something to do and it's fun!" To explain the purpose of the blue cowboy hat Mike states, "I was just being stupid. We were doing the drill down and I was just being stupid. Plus, it's a cool tradition."

"The band did a really good job at coming together and playing as a group even without an instructor."
Drum Major Bri DePoli

"It was a totally different experience being Drum Major, but it's great when your friends follow your lead when it comes down to the hardest times. I love band!"
Drum Major Gary Ortega



"This year was a lot of stupendous fun. I really like chicken and keeping it real. Word."
- Cameron Kelly

My Three Angels

The villans are there for a night

A hot Christmas day on a French island has these three villans working for the local shop owner. Students in the drama department had the joy of performing this tale of criminals who save the business and the family of Felix Duocotel and Emilie Duocotel. In the process of saving the shop, the villans also save the heart of the owners' daughter, Marie Louise Duocotel. When asked about the experience, Kelley Evans (Emilie) said, "I went to the production not really knowing any of the members of the cast or crew, and came out with many new friendships. Everyone was so awesome and I couldn't have asked for more." All around, the play did not have the turn-out they hoped for, but it was still an excellent production.

(A special thank you to Camera Magic Photography for releasing all photos on this page for production in our book)

The 3 Muskateers

On or off the stage- odds are, you'll see these three amazing actors together. Mark Lorentzen, Nick Nealon and Nhan Diep have been acting and hanging out together since freshmen year, making an inseparable trio that will be remembered in our theatre departmernts for years to come.

Mark Lorentzen

"They're awesome guys to work with. We have similar interests."

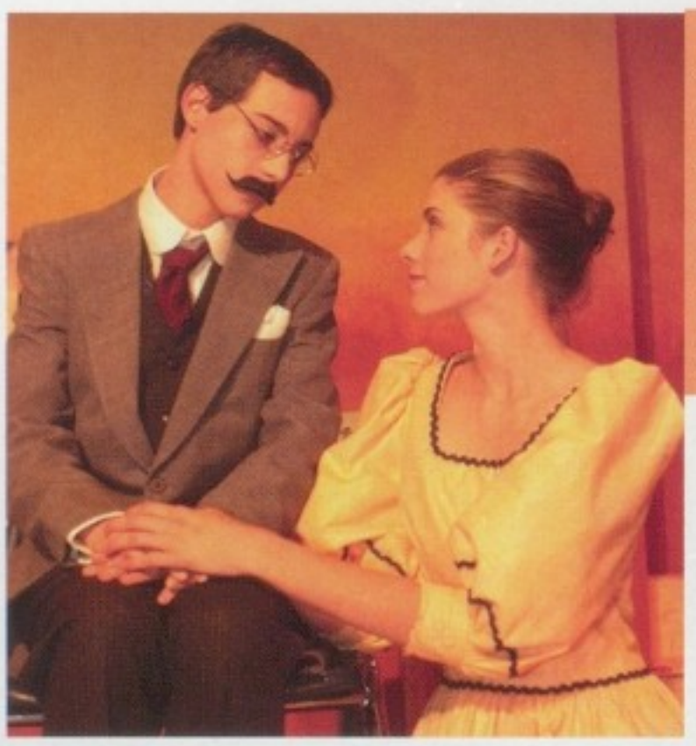
Nick Nealon

"You guys totally rock and it's because of you that I was able to become who I am."

Nhan Diep

"I've known Nick since elementary school; I met Mark freshmen year here at Reed. We became close friends through Intermezzo, all the productions, and a ton of other activities."

Taking a quick glance... Nhan Diep looks in the door to see if their plan to kill the evil uncle (Henri Trochard) worked.



A moment made for the camera... Blain Johnston (Felix) and Kelley Evans act out a scene where Johnston assures Evans that everything will be okay with their little shop."(The best experience was) the cast-- It is my first year, they have taught me so much! They are all such wonderful actors and people. I am truly going to miss them all when they leave," said Johnston.

Despite the numerous other parts, many would probably agree that the three criminals in this play steal the show, with their humor, rage and sensitivity.

Did you know?

The Reed Drama department is one of the most prestigious in the area. Every year, students perform a fall play and a spring musical with some of the most talented young people in the Great Basin. "The people at this school are better than I thought they were." said Laura Gardner, aka Madame Parole

A talent worth note

Brad Fitch has been involved with the drama and choir programs for four years, and has established himself as one of the most versatile actors at our school. He has been many characters in a variety of drama department productions and choir productions.

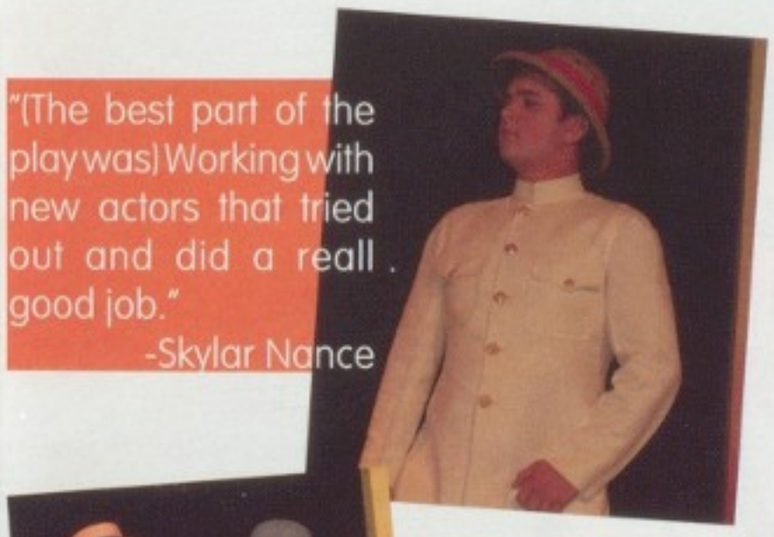
"It's way fun to become someone else, plus its fun."

-Brad Fitch

"I've known Brad for a long time and especially in the past few years I have seen his talent grow and become more diverse."

-Sarah DiPrinzio

Some peoplearen't quite the acting type, but love to be involved- so they join crew. Crew does everything from making the sets to making sure the performance goes well every night. Some, such as Laura Gardner (pictured above) choose to do both crew and act. "Getting to know everyone so well is my best memory," Gardner said. "I love calling the ques, running the show and seeing the audience react," said Keilani Radcliffe (pictured left), the student director of the play.

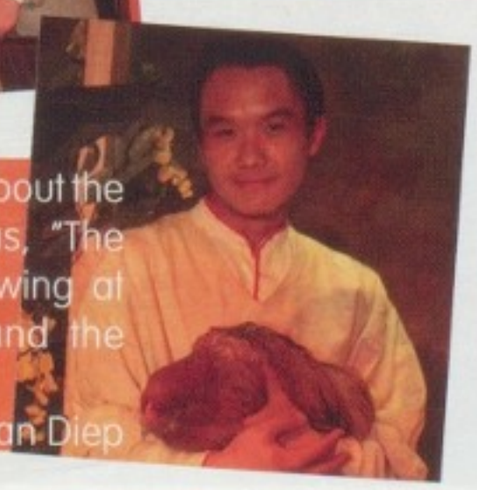


"(The best part of the play was) Working with new actors that tried out and did a reall . good job."

-Skylar Nance

[The best experience was] "The people, the director and the memories I got"

-Brad Fitch (pictured with Andy Mebust)



The worst part about the live chicken was, "The occassional clawing at the abdomin and the smell."

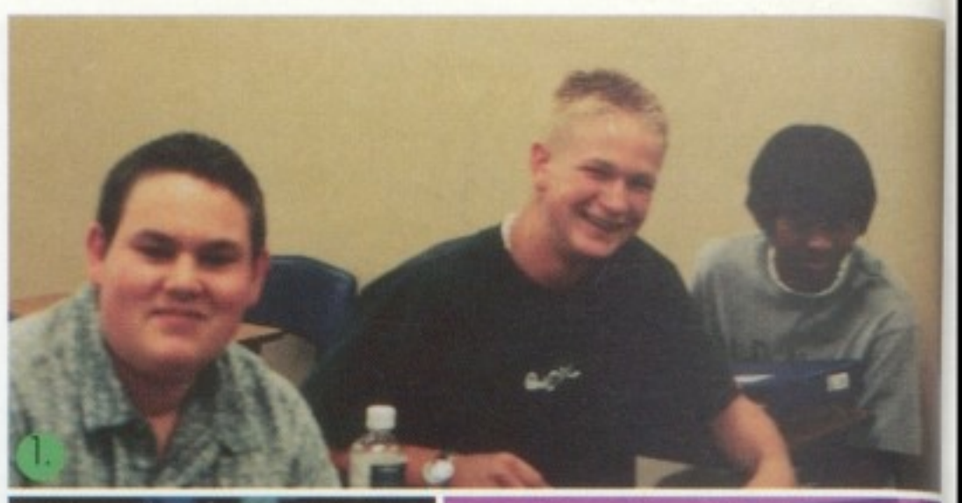
-Nhan Diep

Holding on for dear life, Dalia Gerdel clings onto Andy Mebust as the long lost "lovers" reunite after quite some time. Much of the play had to do with the puppy-love of Gerdel (Marie Louise Duocotel) with Mebust (Paul Trochard).

Without Reed

You can't spell Leadership...

Student involvement, and student unity is what the students in Student Council bring to our school. Student council organizes many activities to help unite students. When these activities are held, it's a time for students to make new friends, and show their school spirit. In order to make these events happen the students in Student Council spend many extra hours at school. Student Council meets at our school on Sundays, to make decorations for assemblies, homecoming, dances, or homecoming event. "The time and dedication each student council member puts in isn't for thanks or gratitude... its to see everyone else's enjoyment!" said Nicki Joslyn. After each event has been put on, there are no words to explain how each Student Council member feels.



The many faces of Studen Council. You can always coun on someone's smiling face t cheer you up. The people i Student Council always try t have a positive attitude! 1.Tyle Jensen, Bret Gard, Andrev Platon 2. Jeff Panko, Ale Sherbondy, Morgan Mulvenon Kyle Labarry, and Chaunce McLaughin 3.Allison Lang Maegen Tolley, and Kim Evan 4. Shelly Spencer

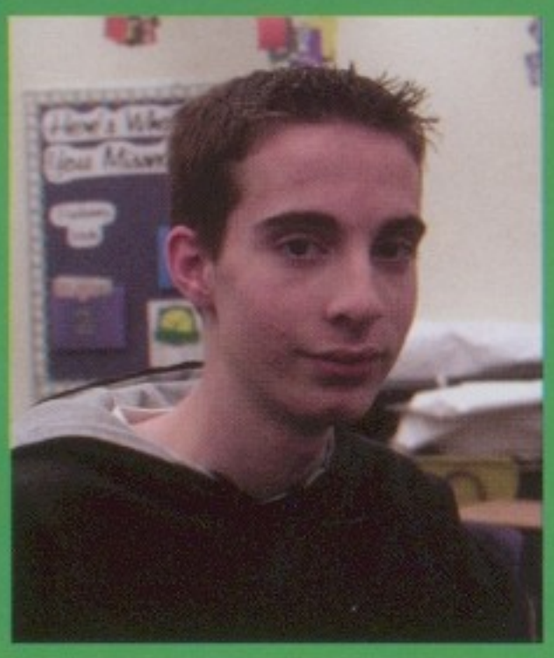
What qualities do you think a leader should possess?

Alex Sherbondy

"I think a leader should have the ability to compromise and solve conflict. They should have the ability to take control of a bad situation. They should also have confidence in themself."

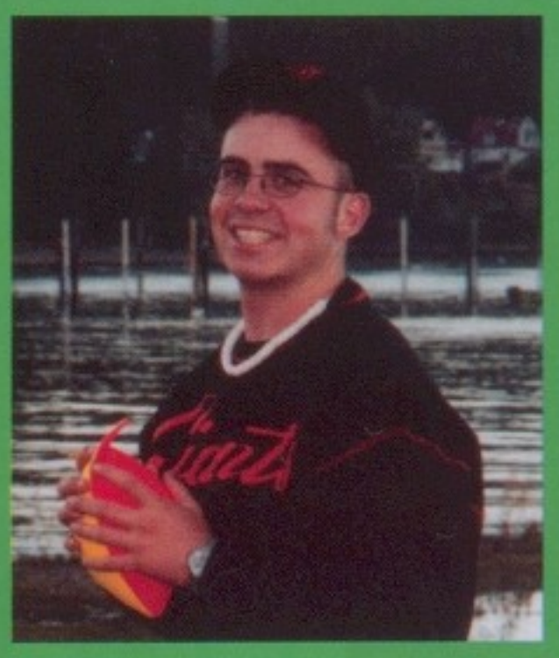
Wendy Tran

"A leader should take on responsibilities, have dedication, a love to strive, be creative (in their own way), and know how to make others feel special."



BrendonRichardson

"I think a leader should be honest, have integrity, and be hard working. You must have good social skills, be well organized, and be a good public speaker."



Jeff Panko

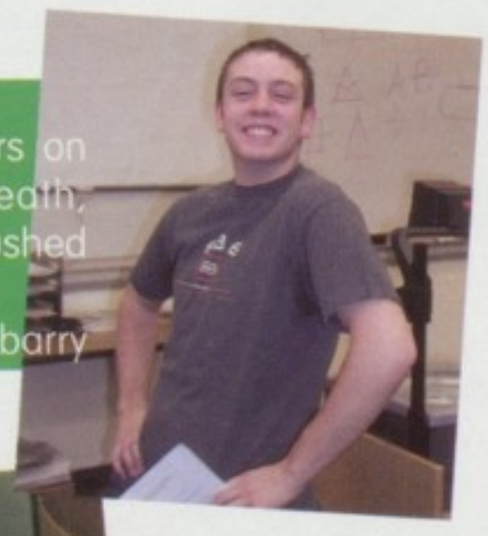
"Trust, trust is the one thing a leader must have. Trust in yourself, trust in others and trust in your resources. You can either be a leader by example or a loud leader!"

So, many events but so little time. Nicole Follette, Sarah Diprinzio, Kelsey Heslington, Brittany Davidson, and Lindsey Clewell work hard to ensure that all of the events are fully covered!

Number one leaders!

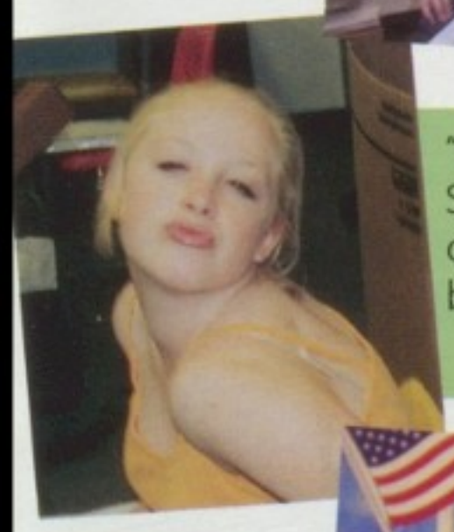
"Mrs. Fleiner and Mrs. Young are number one leaders because, they are always going the extra mile in making our school a better place. If you ever need a helping hand or some advice, they are always there for you! You can always depend on their positive attitiudes"

-Nicole Follette



"I spent six hours on my special wreath, and they just crushed it in the closet!"

-Kyle Labarry



"If I could sum up Student Council in one word it would be, unexplainable!"

-Sarah Wilson

"I like being on student council because it's fun meeting new people."

Clubs join now

there is so many one is for you

Clubs are the number one way to meet people. There are so many clubs that at least one is right for you. Club drive was a time to look at all of the different opportunities. Rock climbing, bowling, newspaper, spanish, english, french, and ski club are just some of the many that a student can enjoy here.All of these clubs do activities that occur out side of the school. Many clubs have trips that our out of Nevada some will also venture outside of the United States. These clubs are a great chance for us to broaden our horizons and expeience new people and new friendships. Plus, as an added bonus, you can put them on your college resumé for the chance to gain more money in scholarships.

Reasons to join a club

10. To be in clubs with your friends
9. The club that you signed up for is a hobby of yours.
8. To do something constructive.
7. To meet new people.
6. Do someting positive.
5. Contribute to your own town.
4. Improve your own way of life.
3. To keep you off the streets.
2. To gain a scholorship.
1. FUN,FUN,FUN and more FUN

People trying to find the club that is right for them . You have to start somewhere

So many clubs, so many choices. Which one is right for you? There are over 30 different clubs at Reed.

Left- Write on the spot! For the Newspaper and Writer's Critique Forum, Christy Briggs, Jon Mitchell and Lauren Lathrop all try diligently to get students to sign up for their clubs. Right- Maegan Tolley and Jessica Echevarria sign up to indulge in culture through the Spanish Club.

Students in NHS go to Jerry Whitehead Elementary School for a day to help out the community. This is just one great opportunity available through NHS to help the community.

Above: Mark Bridgewater tries to sell some kids to sign up for the ski club. Many different people with many different skill levels join in to have fun when going to many diffeent mountains.

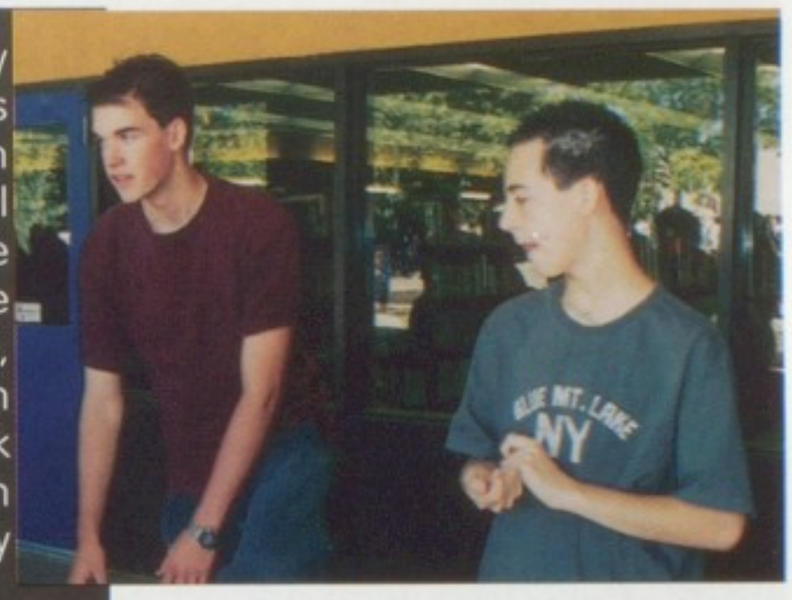
The nack for acting... Every year, the drama club needs several members to help run their two annual productions. There are various positions for these students to help out with, including crew or some even enjoy acting. Pictured: Nick Nealon and Blaine Johnston trying to get people to try Drama Guild out.



promoting the clubs

Grade: Sophomore
Preaching to the crowds...During the club drive, Andie Jones preaches her message to sign up for any club and get studenst involved. "I think that being involved helps kids feel like they're here for something more than just school." Jones said.

Grade: Seniors
Nick Sarlo and Shawnicé Kraeber pose for a picture. Both are trying to get people to join F.B.L.A (Future buisness leaders of America.) This club prepares students for the buisness world through training coarces of computers acounting and management.

Grade: Junior
Taylor Anderson shows off his skills as he prepares the stage for a show in the theater."It makes me feel good to see the final product of my hard work." stated Anderson.

A chance to meet new people and travel... Japanese Club gives students just that opportunity. The club intorduce people to the various aspects of Japanese culture, and as a bonus, goes to San Fransisco in the spring to enhance their cultural experiences. Although the club is slow to start in the fall, it is definitely worth while to stay in until the spring for this great opportunity to see some Japanese culture in San Fransisco.

A huge crowd of kids stand at one of the tables. What is the draw? the chance to join key club. Key club is one of the most involved clubs that you can be in. The key club does its best to reach ou tto the community, and try to give a little back. "I found out how great key club was from one of my older friends who did it before." remarked Kevin Salls, as he waits to sign up for the club. Pictured: ?, ?, ? and ?

they're all future leaders

What do these three clubs have in common?

National Honor Society, Future Business Leaders of America and Speech and Debate. When it comes to these clubs, there is no question- these are the future leaders of America. In all three clubs, students get the chance to work with the community, learn valuable business skills and have a great time while doing it. Many students would also agree that these clubs are nice because they're not too time-intensive, yet the reward is immense. In fact, many of the students who are involved in these clubs are involved in two of them or more. The schedules work with each other and so, it makes it easy for students like Wendy Wang, Nico Valencia, Shawnicé Kraeber or Aaron Gibson to do all three.

To accomplish this, once a month, they visit Jerry Whitehead to read to younger students.

three clubs, three ideas

GT Externship, Flag team & BSU sound off...

Black Student Union, also known as BSU has become quite a popular club to join. Over the last few years, the once unknown club in the school has become one that all the kids want to join. It doesnt mater the color of your skin, that isn't what this club is about, this club is about learning about the heritage of African Americans and their influence in today's culture. Speaking of culture, one of the hottest programs at school today, is GT Externship, now do not let the name scare you away. The program is actually fun-it allows for high school students to work in proffesions that they are interested in, and gain credit while doing it. Doing it is exactly the mind set of the flag team. There is no stopping these ladies. Every year, heir preformances astound the students at assemblies as well as games.

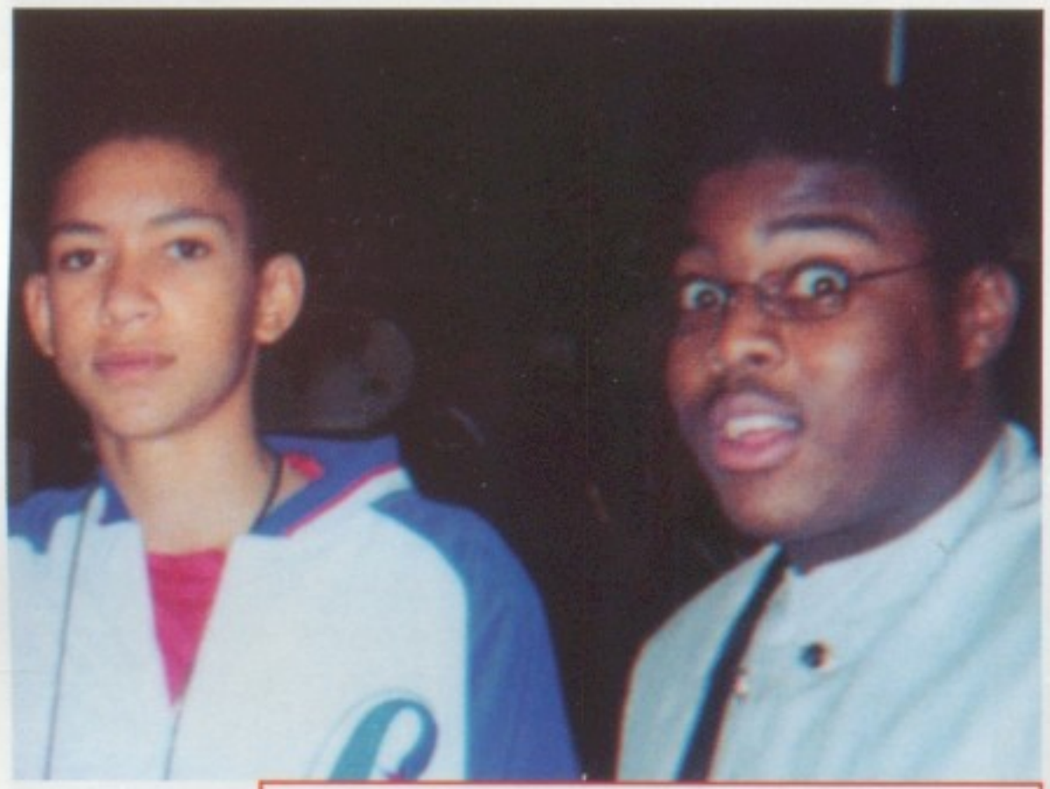
Twisting, twirling, tossing. Three unrelated words? Of course not they all start with "t" but that isnt all, these are just a few of the things the flag team does. Over the years their stunts have become more impressive, and every year more students join the team. 1-3- Flag team performs at the holiday assembly. 4- One of the most difficult challeneges of the team is outdoor performances. The wind and the temperature can make for some difficult aerial tricks.



The main focus in BSU is getting involved within the community. BSU was involved with Eveyln Mount this year and her quest to feed the less fourtunate. They have programs that run during Black Heritage month, which is in February. They are going to have skits, guest speakers, dances, as well as other entertainment. "I joined because I wanted to help out the club. I wanted to be involved in the Black Student Union," said Micheal Smith. Pictured above: Shakka Kanu and Artis Johnson.

Steppin It Up

BSU, is still one of the most popular clubs in the school. From a time when it was not accepted to now when everyone wants to join BSU has stuck with its members since the begining. The BSU steppers have stepped out into their own, preforming at many assemblies as well as entertaining students in the hallways. The steppers have delivered the most inspiring and uplitting steps. No matter your gender, size, or color, BSU accepts all students and allows them to further their understanding. Pictured: Kristin Smith and Felicia Brooks.

All smiles as BSU members got to know one another better.

Meeting in meetings

Clubs are a great way to meet new friends. No matter the club, the people in it have the same intrests as you and are willing to work hard to better themselves.

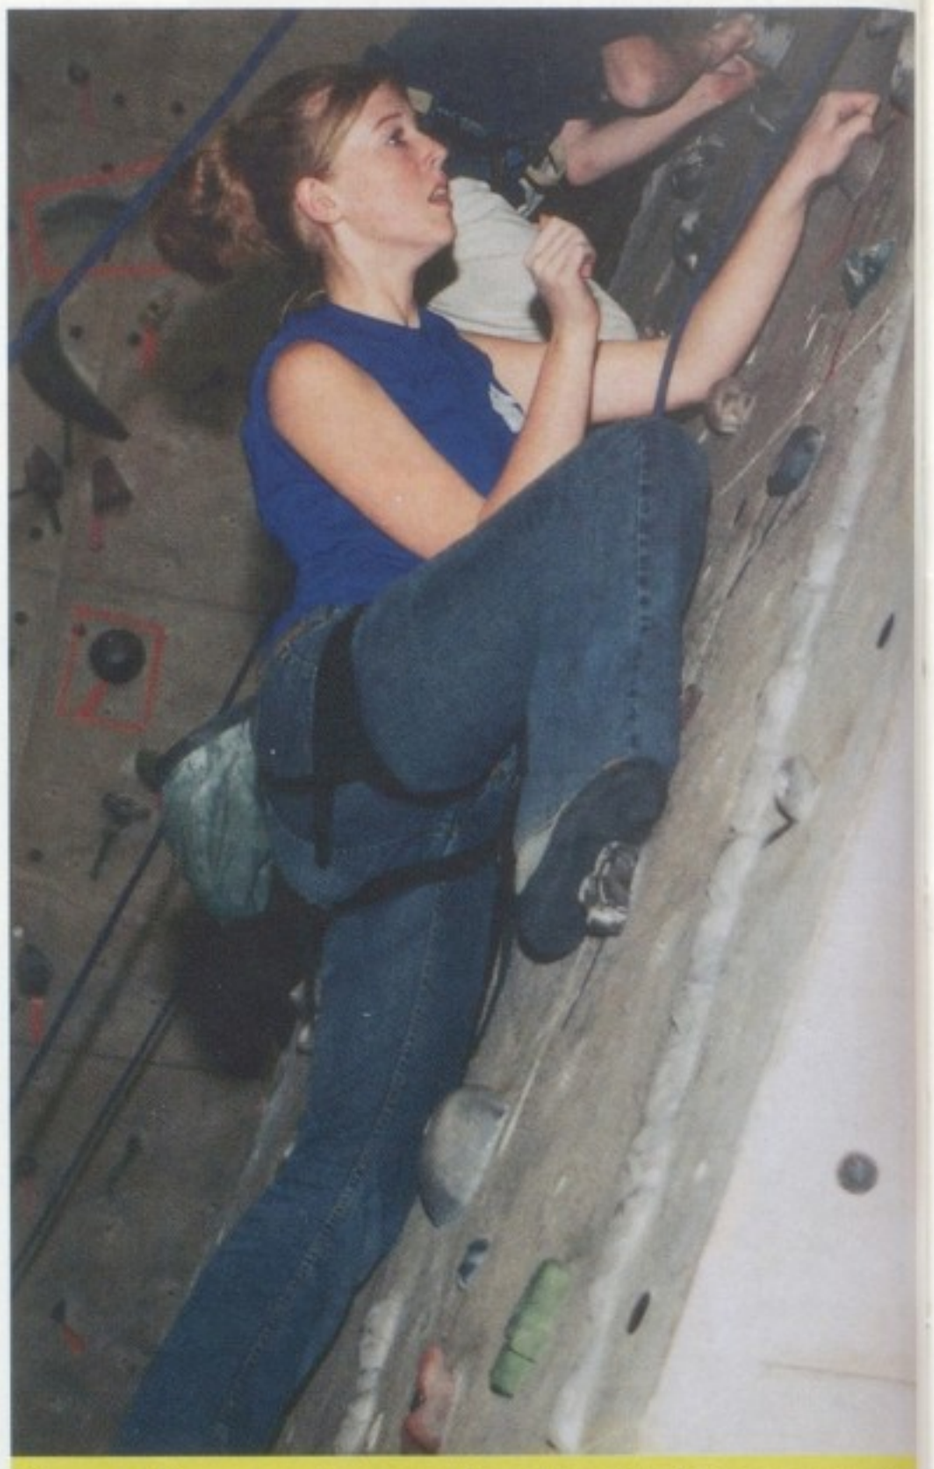
Karla Hernandez works hard for her grade in GT Externship. The high school junior works up at Univeristy of Nevada, Reno in the medical department. Hernandez is working towards one of the world's greatest causes. She is working to discover a cure for cancer. Although when you would see her passing in the halls you wouldnt pick her out of a crowd, Karla works hard to make all those around her proud.

The GT Externship program has been around for many years. While it is less of a club than others, it still posses the same qualities. Students have the ability to go out into the community and learn about jobs that they are interested in. For instance, if you wanted to become a vetrenarian, through the program, you would work in a vet's office and learn the "ropes". Not only would you be gaining valuable work expeirience that would help you get into your field of work, you would also be gaining high school credit. These students work hard for the credits that they earn, and dont let anything get in the way of their dreams. From left to right: Daniel Stephans, Hannah Ho, Karla Hernandez, Daisy Izquierdo, Ryan Westwood, Alia Moore, and Nicole Johnson. "I love working there. I work in an elementary school, in the music department and I love it. The only thing is, we have to attend these meetings, and if we miss one then we have to write like a two page report, but other than that I love the program. It is a lot of fun," said Nicole Johnson.

Just keeping active.

Bowling and rock climbing club.

Being a part of extra curricular is what make us all a great team. It keeps us out of trouble. It also lets us find our talents and interests that we might have not known we have. Rock climbing is an endurance and excellerating club. Not only do you have new challenges daily but you also get to meet people with you some interests. Bowling is an entertaining, yet very satisfying club. Not only did you meet new people but you have the chance to be apart of a team. The most important about these clubs are that anybody can do them, and they get kids involved in something that is somewhat physical. Despite many skeptics ideas, these bowlers would agree with the fact that bowling is a physical sport.



Shanon Thrap works extra hard to stay balaced on the rock wall. Consintrating on which rock will be next.

When not striking down pins Jeff Panko and Jennifer Lau hang out during bowling club.

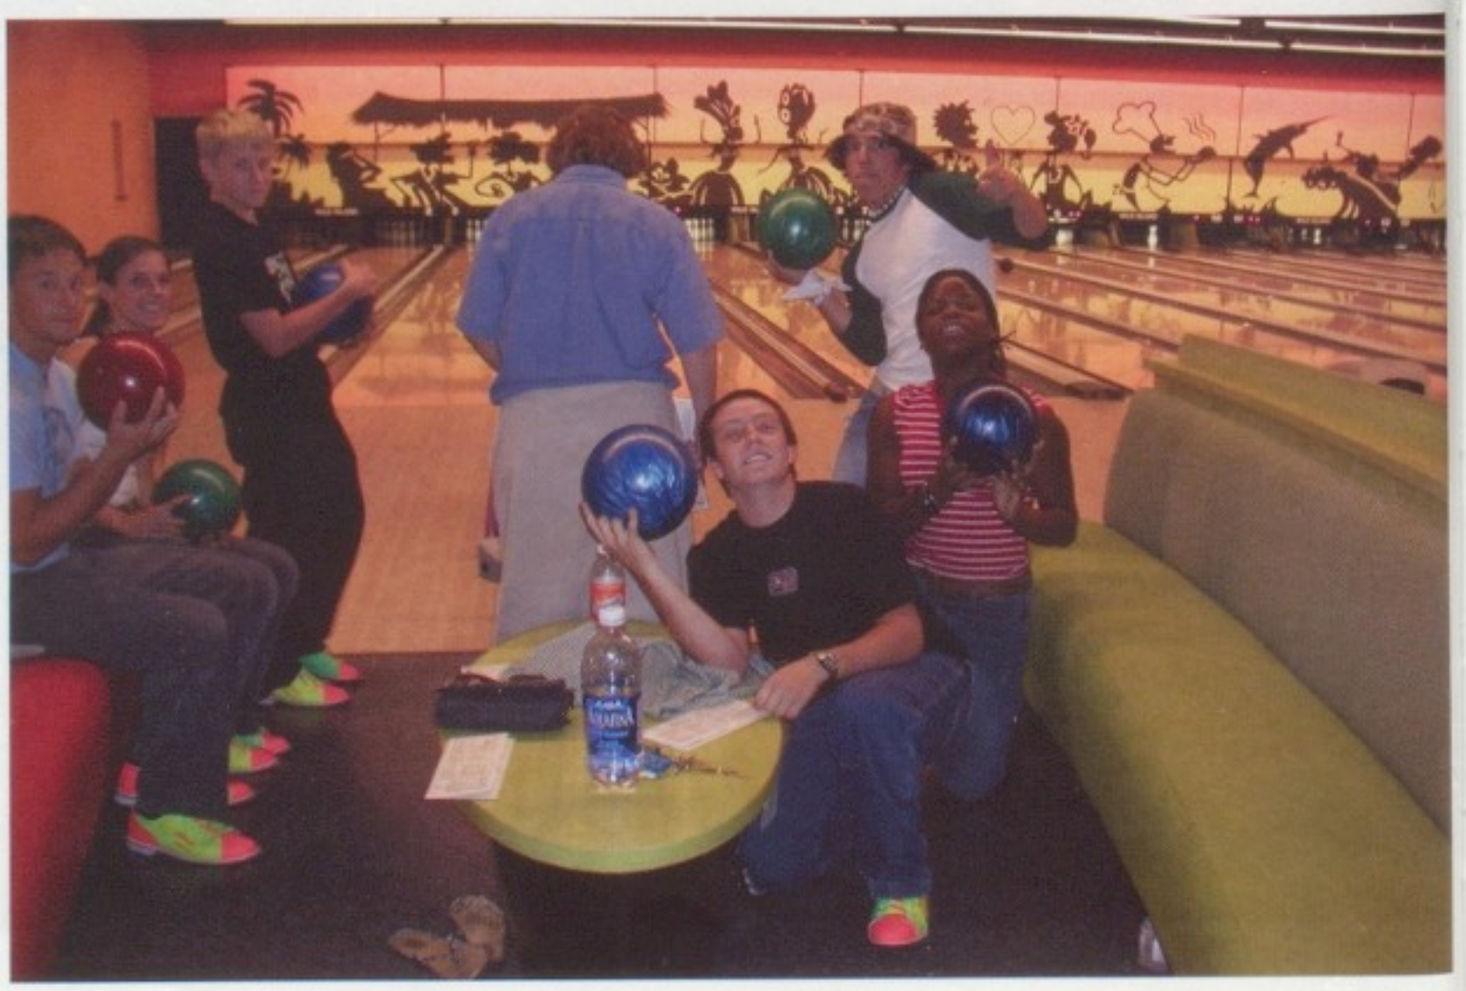
Preparing to scale the wall Erin Watkins goes for it.

Pictured right Lana Zenz uses all of her upper body strenght to force herself to the very top of the rock wall.



Not Just an extra-curricular

The people that are in bowling and rock climbing with all of the praticing and dedication its not just a club to be a part of it's a team.

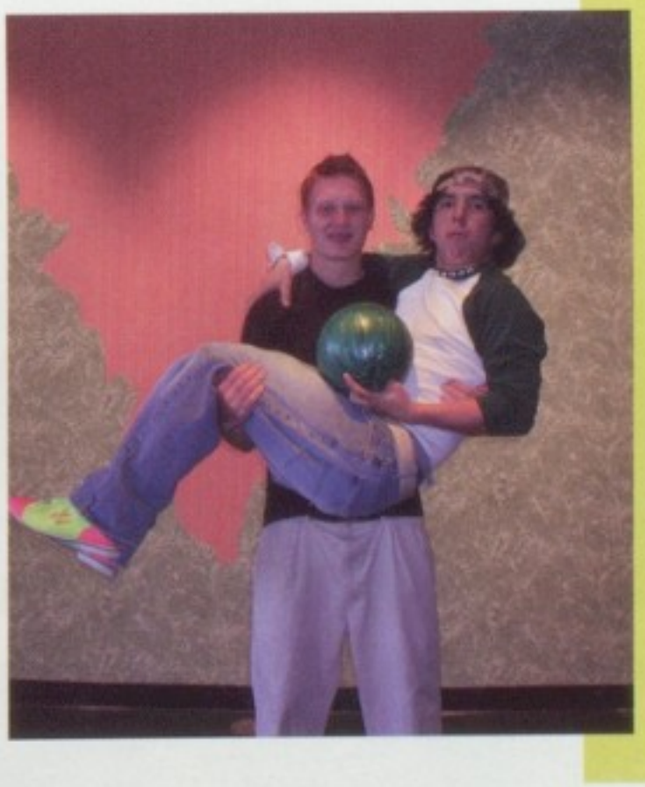
Wow, isn't that the coolest bowling ball you have ever seen. David Evans sports his tubular skull bowling ball. It weighs about 16 pounds and it also shows his comical personality. That is what bowling is about being able to be yourself and have fun all at the same time.



When Adam Chagnon and Steve Simons aren't showing off there mad bowling skills, there enjoying their time together. One of the coolest things about bowling is it doesn't matter if you have a 60 average or a 180 average you still have an awesone time. Also if you join the club you could move on from just bowling against eachother to bowling against school which is really because you are able to shows your school spirit.

Rock climbing is extremly difficult. First of all because it is over coming one of mans greatest fears, heights. Which is rated secound on the top 10 biggest fear list. It also takes alot of endurance and upper body strenght. Which is amazing because most of the people in the club are girls. It is not just climbing up a wall it takes immense concentration. You have to preplan the moves you are going to make and make sure you can go all the way. Rock climbing club prepares you for other rugged and other physical activities. Pictured Danielle Chilson.

As the years roll on...

A school is born on a dusty Sparks lot

In the year 1974, on a vacant lot in the outskirts of Sparks, Nevada, a new high school was born. This high school was built to accomidate the ever growing population of students that flooded the campus of Sparks High School; the only available high school for student to attend to at the time. This new high school was named after the honorable Judge Edward C. Reed, and was donned the mascot of the Raider. This school's colors became blue and gold and the students expressed their pride for Reed High School by wearing those colors as the Raiders would soon become a dominant force against the other, longer established schools.

He was the king of rock and roll and the father of the ever famous "pelvic shake." Elvis "the king" Presley dominated pop music in the 1950s and 1960s. He released more than 40 albums and captured young girls hearts nation wide. It wasn't until his untimely death of a drug overdose, that he became a legend. Elvis memorabilia became priceless, and to many, the King still lives on to this day.

Grace Kelly was delicate actress on screen. She won Oscars, Emmys, and the hearts of many. Yet the one heart she caught that would change the rest of her life, would be the heart of Prince Rainier Grimaldi III of Monaco. Prince Rainier wed Grace Kelly in an elaborate ceremony, dubbing her Princess Grace Kelly Grimaldi of Monaco. After her marriage, Grace was unable to appear on the silver screen, but that didn't stop her from being in the public eye. She was renouned as the Princess of Monaco, and became a royality icon. However, all fairy tail must end, and sadly not all end happily ever after. Princess Grace Kelly Grimaldi was tragically killed in a fatal car accident in the hills of her beloved country of Monaco. Those who loved her, on or off screen, still mourn from her unexpected death. -1982

If one is sick or in pain, one tends to reach for the bottle of pain relieving pills in the medicine cabinet of the bathroom. Yet,if one suspected that those tiny little red and yellow pills would kill you, suffering through the temporary pain would seem much more apeasing. In the mid-eighties, there were numerous random deaths all relating to a tiny acedmeniphine called Tylenol. It seems unlikely now, but those few innocent bottles of helpful pills were tainted with a deadly poison called Cyanide. Those who absent mindedly took the pills for a measly persisting pain, were suddenly found dead. This silent killerbecame a world wide panic and Tylenol sales dropped drastically. The person responsible for the taintings was never found and Tylenol sales tentatively began to pick back up. -1983

The extra- terrestrial has always fasinated mankind. That fasination became a reality with a little wrinkled alien by the name of "E.T." Director and producer Steven Speilberg wanted to touch man and he did with a little glowing finger and the word "ouch!" The soul of music normally derives from ones personal experiences. Reggae, however, rose up from the souls of many in the slumps of Kingston, Jamaica, and the one man who protrayed reggae the best, was Bob Marley. Bob Marley sang out to the counter-culture of the era, expressing his songs in basic moral messages. He was the charismaic star of reggae. Marley's tragic and painful death of cancer, added to the pain and depth of his music.

Cab- bage patch dolls were homey and plain, yet the toy industry and Untied States population adored them. These spongy dolls were born out of a cabbage, aptly named Cabbage Patch Kids, and were adorned with loveable and fashionable clothing. Both sexes of doll had the same button nose, identical dimples, and yarn hair, which inabled the owner to style it as they pleased. These simple dolls broke the mold of the doll industry through not only their appearance, but by a guaranteed-unique "adoption papers."

The vision contines as the school flourishes.

Reed High School. The name sent shivers down other's spines. This was the high school of passion, competition and glory. This was the high school with a name that meant "undefeated." Reed exploded into the school district with such energy and force that other schools were knocked of their feet. Reed excelled in football, basketball, baseball, golf, soccer, swimming, choir, drama, band and various other activities. This was Reed's time to shine! Of course an enthusiastic staff and blue and gold painted student body pushed Reed to its fame. School spirit was deemed mandatory and the school exploded it with such force that the halls rang from their constant cheering. These cheers derived from the joy of being excellent.

The seven crew member space ship lit up in flames as it ascended into the cool peacefulness of outer space. What was the cause of the sudden explosion? A booster rocket gasket made of a rubbery substance had froze in the chill of the early morning, snapped, and ultamitly failed the rest of the aircraft. By early afternoon the video tape of the "Challenger's" tragic and disasterous ending was played continually on all participating channels.

The Berlin Wall was the major difference between the free world and the world of communism. With its collapse in 1989, the world became a better place. The Berlin Wall was erected after World War II by the Soviet Union because they owned the Eastern part of Germany and wanted to keep it seperated from the Western part, owned by the allies. The production of this wall, eluded to the Cold War and ended with it's downfall. The Berlin Wall became an icon of hate and communism. Back when it first was built, the Berlin Wall not only seperated the two conflicting sides, but it also disconnected the supply source into Western Germany. Travelers were strictly scruntinized as well as any vehicles the passed the boarder. Any persons who attempted to cross from the east were shot at. The wall became an object of fear, but as the years progressed, the wall became a sight for graffiti. Finally, with the end of a communist Eastern Germany the wall was torn down, reuiniting Germany for the first time since WWII.

Madonna Ciccone. This was a name that no body knew in the early eighties. It wasn't until this loud, crash, chameleon of a teenager broke out in song, that every one began to notice her. Self- acclaimed "boy-toy," Madonna first entered the world of fame to become a dancer, but she showed her true colors when dancing to the beat of her own drum. Madonna has always been the one to be different, and this attitude showed in her numerous eye-popping music videos. Madonna continues to be a legend in pop music. Even in modern times, she is able to still shock the crowds. At the 2003 MTV Music Awards, Ms. Madonna lip locked teen pop sensation Brittany Spears, and sent the entire world in awe. Madonna, we still uphold you!

Two thousand and a new millenium

Through thick and thin Reed has been able to stay true to its colors by maintaining its sense of tradition and respect. There wasn't a time when Reed couldnt look back upon the year and be proud of the events that occured within its walls. Though times may have gotten hard for the world over the last few years, Reed stayed true to itself and managed to come out on top of their game. They won state titles, were role models to the schools, as well as role models to those in the community that encompassed it. As the times changed, so did Reed. There were new teachers that came as old ones went, there were students that graduated, while new freshman filtered in, and of course the once not known school became a school that was help in high respect in the community.

It was a peaceful morning on September 11, 2001. Traffic was bustling, children were off to school and the world was in its chaotic state of happiness. Who knew that in only a few seconds our American history would be changed drastically. Two passenger planes carring men from a middle eastern terrorist group called the "Taliban" were set for distruction. The first plane pierced the North tower of The World Trade Center in New York City. Panic swept the nation. It was too sereal. Who would want to strike out against America? The eyes of an entire nation watched as the North tower was consumed in smoke. Unknowingly a second plane attacked, this time striking the South tower. Citizens became distraught and phone lines were clogged with people contacting loved ones. Slowly and silently the two towers burned on, until the South tower colasped and was soon followed by the North. The world grew silent to watch those two great giants fall to their knees. As the ash swept through New York City, covering everything in a dismal grey blanket, America picked herself up. Through teary eyes and the patriotic slpash of instant miniature flags and bumper stickers, we will always remember September 11.

Two more planes attacked that day. One hit the Pentagon, insinerating one of its sections. The other plane missed its target and crashed outside Philidelphia, Pennsilvania. The media contained full coverage of the attacks all day and well into the night. Airports shut down and the sky was clear of passage for numerous hours. Everyone feared more attacks, but none followed.

When students go to school they presume that they are in a safe learning environment. That was the case until two mistreated high school boys set out on a killing rampage in Columbine High School in Columbine , Colorado. Dresses in black trench coats they forcefully attacked the school with guns, killing many including themselves. This act of rebellion inspired many misunderstood teenagers to follow in their footstep and numerous school killing eluded. The nation lived in fear until the fad wore out, but the nightmare still lingers in the halls of unsuspecting highschools.

Life is always so easy for stars. They live in huge houses, drive glamourous cars, and hold up to the ideal of perfection. Everything seems to go their way...until they get cought. OJ Simpson was a famous football player and movie star, however, behind his fame, he is an average man, who happened to commit murder. OJ Simpson was brought to trial for allegedly killing his wife Nicole Brown. The trial proceded for several months, and included baffeling evidence and confusing testimonials. Through it all OJ was deemed innocent and the California courts let him walk free.

She was a vision of lovliness and grace. The serenity of her presence calmed everyone from royality to the common man. She was dignified, respected, and adored. Princess Diana of Wales, wife of Prince Carles and mother to Prince William and Harry, was a vision of holiness to the rest of the world. Her tragic death caused many to mourn. Princess Diana was killed in a fatal car accident that involved the photo obessions of the Paparazzi. Her frail body was rushed to the hospital and she died a few hours later. Her memorial service was broad casted on national television, and was attened by the common, royal and famous.
1997

A husband should be loyal to his wife, and a president should be loyal to his country. This, however, was not the case for our 42nd President. President Bill Clinton disturbed the nation with his dishonesty and sexual relations. The President was caught in an affair with a young White House intern by the name of Monica Lewinski. The Senate voted to impeach the President, but the House of Representatives kept him in office until the new elections. His act of selfishness caused the nation to disrespect and humiliate him through t-shirts, cards, radio, and television.

Boy and Girl bands become all the rage in the late ninties. Such bands as N'SYNC, Backstreet Boys, 98 Degrees, Hanson and Spice Girls are a few to mention.

What's cool:
Tommy Hilfiger's fashions cross cultures.
Xena is the ost watched series in the '90's.
Buffy the Vampire Slayer takes overin the late '90's.
Titanic sails it's way into our hearts and the Academy Awards.
Pop brother group "Hanson" is a raging fad as well as the ever popular British girl band "Spice Girls."
Abercrombie and Fitch grabs the attention of the teenage fashion world.
The individual style of wearing what you feel like became very popular.

What's My Age Again?

These teachers void the school then, and now!

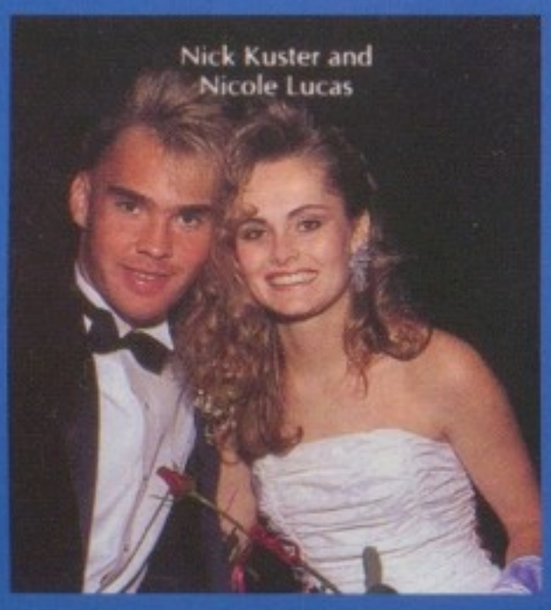
Then and now? Then and how? Then and WOW! Then they were just like us- teen Raiders. Now they are back and keeping us in line as teachers and staff members. How do they do keep WOW-ing us? It's easy- they, too, experienced cliques, coaches, classes, styles (but fluffy hair with big bangs instead of iron straight and highlighted), sports, and music (but Hackbusch liked Bel Biv Devoe- "you don't know about the Devoe"). In fact, most of these return-Raiders experienced so much they felt that being a teacher would enable them to enlighten us with our own experiences. Curious to see how much they truly adore Reed, we asked teachers if they are enjoying their time as influences. "I love it!" said Mrs. Shelley Bryant.

A tale of two ex-students

Stephanie Schopper, class of 1987, was a member of the French club and National Honors Society, captain of the Drill Team, and among the Top Twenty academic achievers in her class during her senior year. Featured in her yearbook several times, Schopper, now Mrs. Egami- and English teacher, recalls the memory of her senior year: "The spirit was great and there was a lot of comradery my senior year, and it was a place special enough that I came back to teach."

Holly Young, class of 1988, graduated from Reed in the top twenty of her class. An extremely involved student, she was a member of the Infinity Literary Magazine, a competitor in the Academic Olympics, and a teammate on the Bowling Club- in which she won a $250 scholarship. Young also competed on the golf team and achieved 8th place at the State level with teammates such as Megan Schreiker also representing Reed in the top ten. Lovely Ms. Young has clearly proven herself as a dedicated student- and teacher!

Noteworthy Highlights of their Senior Year
From Outstanding Raiders to Outstanding Staffers

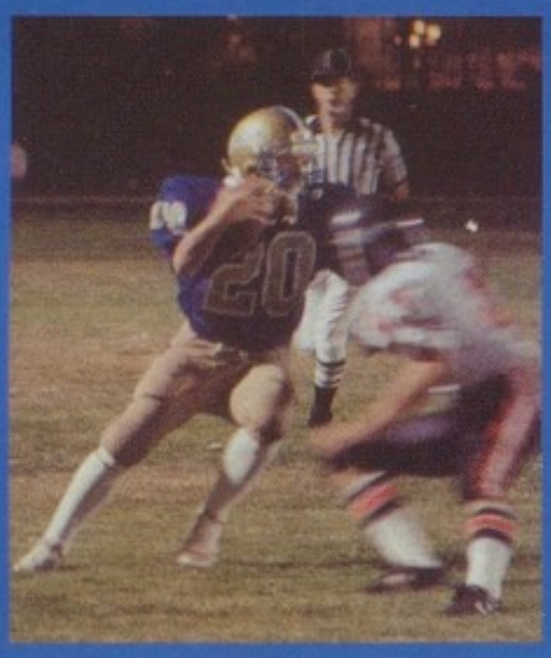


Nick Kuster

A night to remember... Mr. Nick Kuster pictured with Nicole Lucas on the Homecoming Royalty pages in the 1989 Galleon Yearbook. Kuster was, and still is, undoubtedly a memorable Raider.

Michelle Bryant

Michelle Solomon, class of 1986, describes her days as a cheerleader, softball player, and the recipient of the "Biggest Flirt." Mrs. Bryant said, "There's still a lot of the same cliques- the popular and the atheletes- but now they seem to mix more."



David Snearly

Graduating in the class of 1986, Mr. David Snearly enjoyed playing football with others such as Mr. Kevin Carroll. Also a Senior Prom Candidate, Snearly was clearly known for many school events, including his contribution in the zone tournament.

Kris Hackbusch

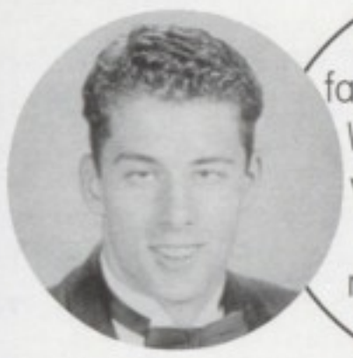
Mr. Kris Hackbusch recalls his homecoming nomination and spills: "On my senior homecoming they blindfolded me and told me to rate a cheerleader's kiss- I rated all the kisses 10's of course- however when I took the blindfold off- it was my mom!!!"

Known a little? That's and understatement for Susan Gearhart and Jason Saville! Pictured: Gearhart, President of the Spanish club, and Saville, a Homecoming Escor, and again in their senior pictures.

Teachers Pets?

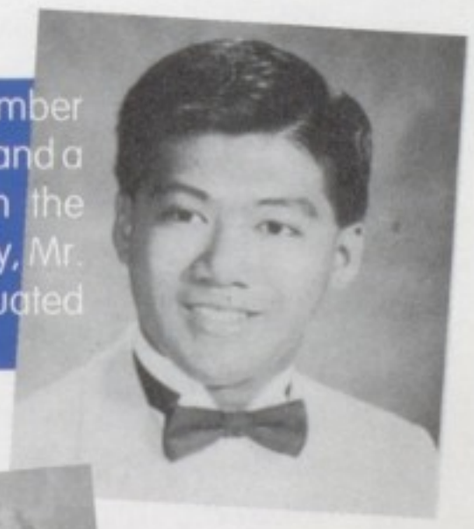
Biology teacher/track coach Mr. Kevin Carroll and Administrator/basketball coach Mr. Kris Hackbusch may qualify:

Carroll played in the zone football game and achieved a spot in the senior top twenty in: 1986



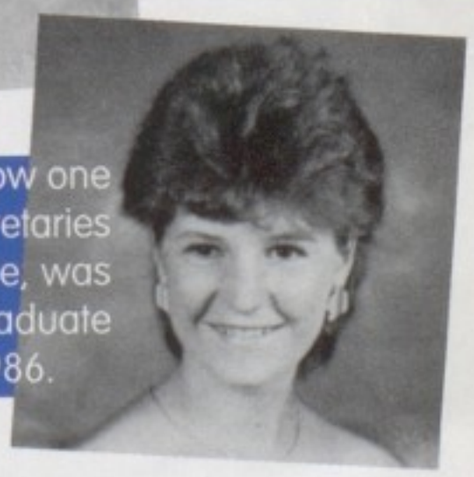
Hackbusch's favorite class was World Culture's with Ms. Ginny Young (the mother of Holly and Cathy)

Swing and a sniff? Danielle Packer remembers gag lines such as these in her 1992 Senior Yearbook. Packer (now Mrs. Danielle Fleiner) was also spotted several times in the yearbook as a Senior Prom Candidate and a yearbook staffer as well as an active Raider fan at the football games with a bunch of friends.



An enthused member of the chess club and a representative in the senior Top Twenty, Mr. Kaho Chan graduated in 1991.

Jennifer Petersen (now Power Walker Mrs. Oppio) walked with the class of 1989 across the graduate stage.



Mrs. Hughes, now one of the school secretaries in the main office, was an honorable graduate in the class of 1986.

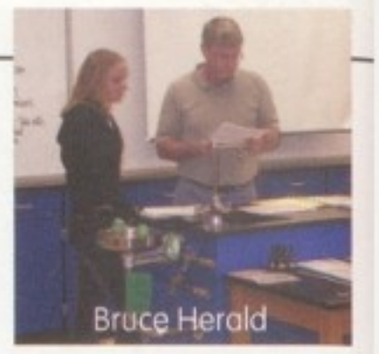
Faculty That practically lives here...

Have you ever had the notion that some teachers sleep at school? With these teachers you may be closer to the truth than you thought. These teachers have been dedicated to this school and to its students for over 15 years. It's their hard work and school spirit that has kept our school alive these past 30 years. They've watched their students grow from freshman to mature young adults. They've gone through years of change in styles and moments in history They've shared happiness and sorrows with the Raider family, ranging from graduations to unforunate deaths.Throughout all of these changes these wonderful teachers have been here to help students learn and celebrate success. We truly treasure the time and extra effort that each of these individuals put into helping us become the most successful students and adults we can be.

Bruce Herald demonstrates the tough love of science everyday in class.



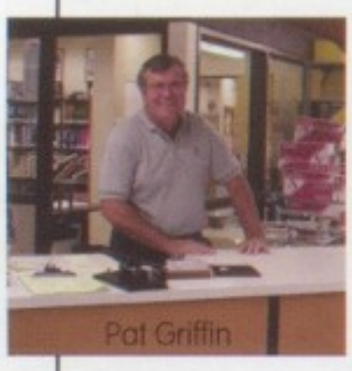
Bruce Herald

Smiling as usual, Liz Knott is one of the most optimistic teachers in the school and has been teaching here for 26 years. She became a usual sight in the halls and school functions. When When Knott was asked why she chooses to keep coming back to the same room 103 every semester, she said,"The amazing energy, dedication, and friendliness of Reed's faculty," was the reason.

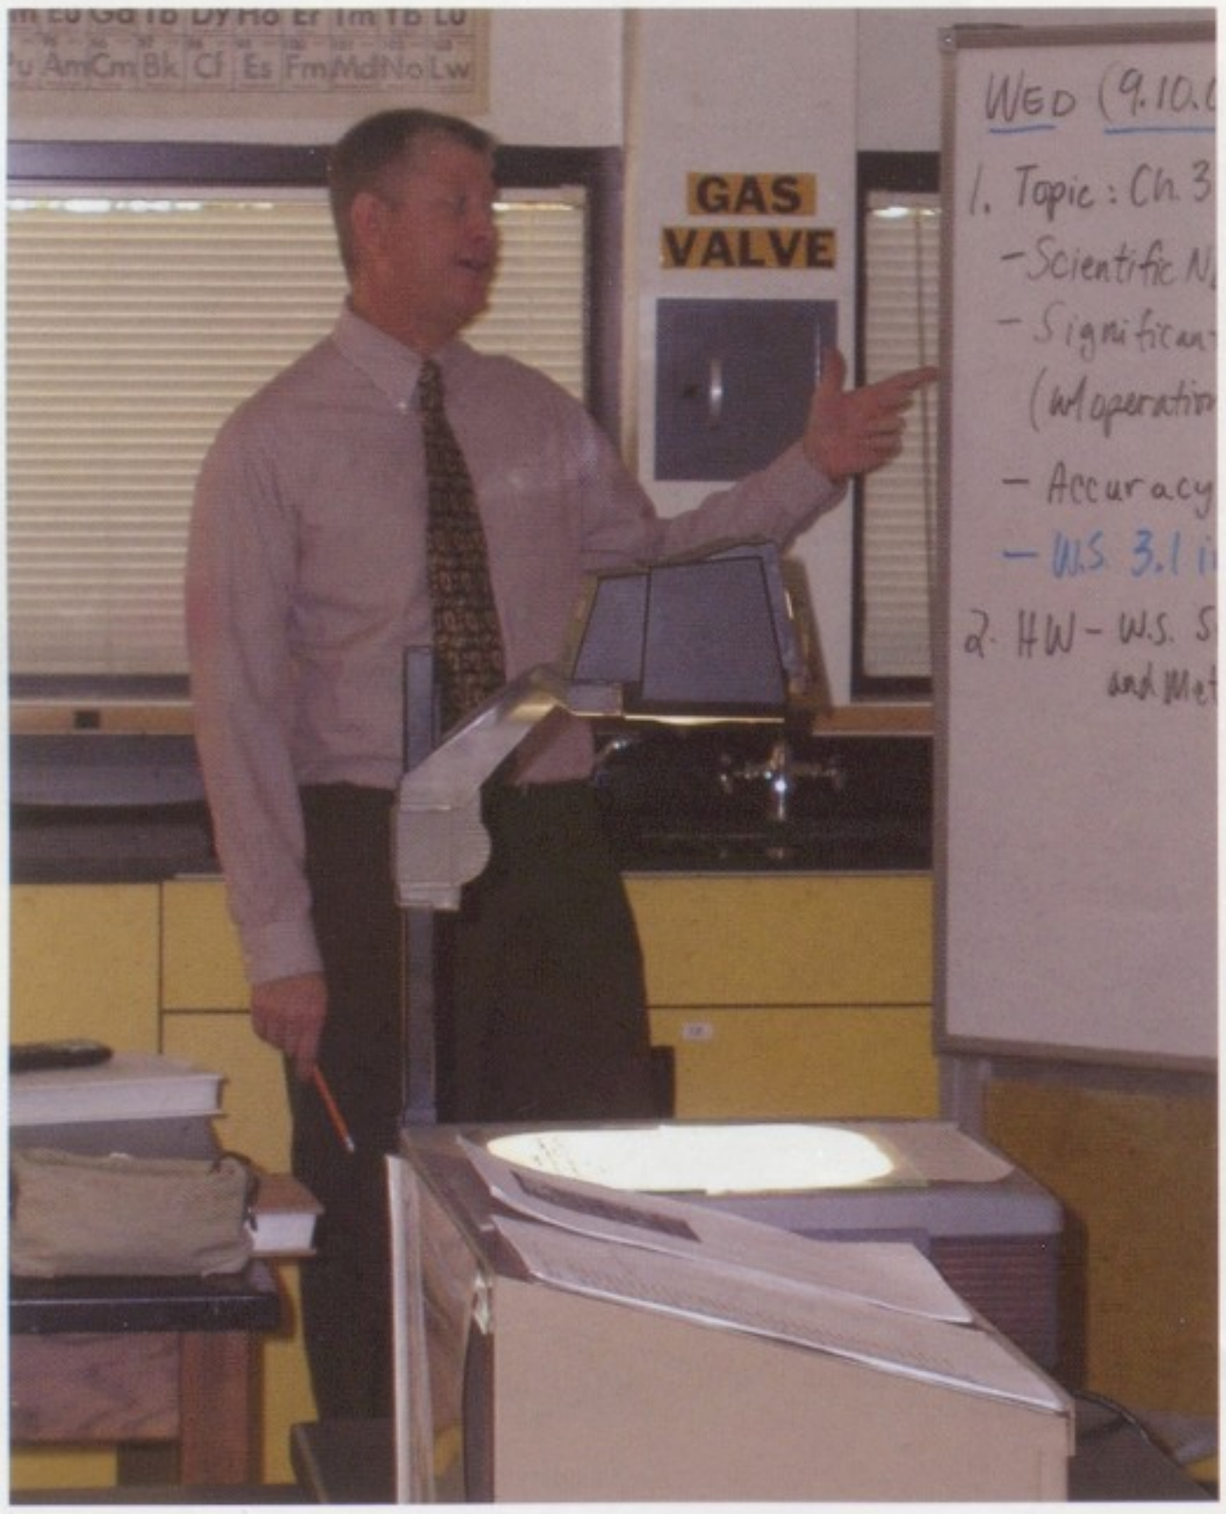
Jamie Felton

"I can ask Pat Griffin almost any question and recieve an immediate, accurate answer."

-Liz Knott



Pat Griffin



Jeff Schwiesow's method of teaching may not always be what is considered normal, he is always reaching out to his students, trying eveything he can to teach them some tough material. Physics is one of the toughtest science classes that students can take, physics is the study of science which deals with matter, energy, motion, and force. Students in physics have to learn many different formulas, once those simple fourmulas are learned, they add upon them in order to create monsterous formulas. Physics teacher's have to have new and inventive ways of teaching your students the tough material. Schweisow does many labs. One, a bridge lab, in which the students build a bridge, using only toothpick and wood glue, that with stands a certain amount of weight. Though this particular lab only pertains to physics, Schweisow uses other labs for his chemistry students. All of his students, both former and future have to look forward to when they come to class is his rapping skills. "He rapped about molecules floating freely daily and nightly-its the only part I remember. It was cool, it was funny. "Mitch Whalen said about Schweisow's lecture.

"There are many good memories- dancing in the first faculty play and the humor of team teaching."
-Judy Holt

Judy Holt

Judy Holt is another amazing teacher that invests her time in her students and helps with clubs like Academic Olympics.

Sue Mullen

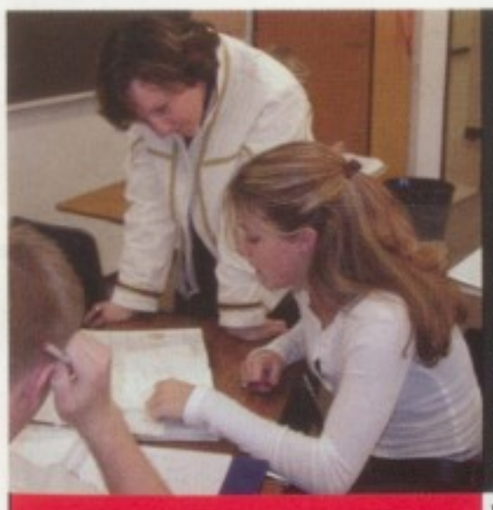
Teachers like Sue Mullen will be remembered by their students long after graduation.

Standing by the poster of Albert Einstein, his mentor, George Pierovich is also a mentor to his students that come into his class. For some of Mr. Pieovich's students, his novanet class is what lets them graduate on time and early. Novanet is a class in which you earn credits by contracts and computer work.

Formerly retired math teacher Ralphe Bothe helps Erik Rountree with his geometry homework. Mr. Bothe is a wonderful teacher that many students have had at one time or another. Mr. Bothe was so dedicated to the school that he came back to work after retiring two years ago. For many students Mr Bothe has been their insperation to succeed in life.

Fashion show 101, Rene Crepaldi helps her clothing students make everything from pajamas to prom dresses. Ms. Crepaldi has taught wearable art to students wanting to learn color schemes and how to sew. Many students that have started sewing in Ms. Crepaldi's class have stuck with sewing for many years after.

"[I] lost 1/2 of my shorts when playing flag football with my class," John Phenix said when asked about his most embarrising memory. Most students would've wanted to be in PE class that day. Many students hate having to go to PE but physical education doesn't only introduce different athletics but also puts students into the habit of exercise.

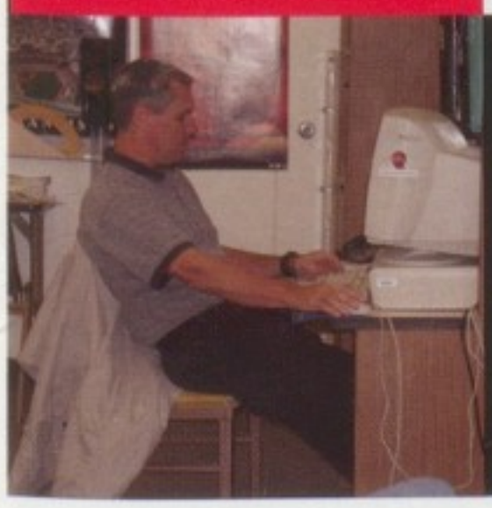


Helping her students understand trig idenities, Ms. Karek helps Kaitlyn Brown figure out a difficult problem. Ms. Kareck enjoys spending her time with her students and getting to go to Ivy League Colleges in the summer to study for free.

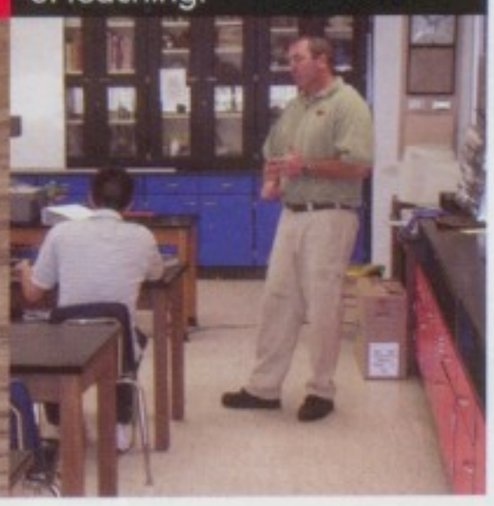
When Cathy Young was asked why she chose to teach here year after year she responded, "I love teaching and sharing my passion wih students. The job is never the same and I can be creative! This building is like a second home to me."

Teachers like Valerie Mastellotto make the students come to school ever if they feel worn out. Mastellotto teaches basic computer skills that will help students succeed in the future business world.

With all of the good memories there are bad memories. Mark Bridgewater said, "When a student, Mike Lizarous, killed himself over his girlfriend and [his girlfriend] put a rose on his desk in my class. No student would sit in his chair for the rest of the year," was his worst memory in all the years of teaching.



Paul Gray is not only a great teacher, but a respected coach. He spends time helping his daytime students and then comes back to school to help his basketball players improve on the court.



Old kids on the block

Memories about Big Blue

Students can't wait to get out and away from this school. They count the days until they see the light at the end of the tunnel. Yet, somewhere along the line. You miss Reed. You miss the hallways where your boyfriend first kissed you. You miss the lab room where you and your best friend almost set the room on fire. You miss the good times and the bad, and that is where these students fit in. They are all around us, people in the community that we all live in. They are our neighbors, our teachers, our friends, aunts and uncles. They are all past students from Reed High School. Though most of them don't know one another, they all share something, they are all connected in one way. This high school that we all attend day in and day out has united these people.

Change is inevitable. Students change, faculty changes, the classes, and even the lunch menu changes. What doesn't change however are the lessons learned in high school. From watching someone walk after being paralyzed, to going to proms be them in the courtyard or in a hotel to what teachers are teaching, even who you see everyday in high school, and in life. Though they only lasted a moment, the memories that happen in high school stay with us for a life time.

It's all in the family. In the household of the Nowicki's, going to Reed is a family tradition. Mitch Nowicki, a graduate from 1980 was in the first class that graduated from Reed that went all four years. His wife, Karen Braunstein also attended the school until she graduated in 1983, Karen's brother was yet another graduate from the school. But that wasn't enough for the Nowicki's, they wanted more. Karen and Mitch's two sons have also attended Reed. Chris was a graduate in 2003 and his little brother Sean, will graduate in 2006. There are perks to going to a school of which your parents or siblings have attended. They can tell you what teachers to avoid, what teachers to try and get and what to expect from those teachers. Things are forever changing-teachers included. Flipping through old yearbooks, and new, Mitch and Karen reminisced about all of the teachers that had left a lasting impression on them. David Nolte, Haggimiester, Burgerello, and Al Babb were only a few of the mentioned teachers and coaches.

Fun, friends and good times. Graduation is a time where students four years of all the times in high school come to an end in a timely and memorable way. "My most memorable moment was when we walked down the aisle at graduation. Our class president/ football player, who had been in a wheel chair for two years, walked down the asile." said Mitch Nowicki of his high school graduation in 1978.

"I enjoyed the football games, and the school events the most. I miss hanging out in the hallways and the atmosphere of Reed. I miss a lot of my teachers, I enjoyed them all. If I could, I would go back and do my senior year over again. The biggest thing that I enjoyed though, was being homecoming king." said DeSean Horne, DeSean has never fully left Reed, he has sung at assemblies since leaving Reed in 1999.

Never look back. Christopher Nowicki was one of four Nowickis that attended Reed. Every experience he had, was his own. From being on the basketball team for three years, to becoming the trainer's apprentice, to goofing off during senior pictures and becoming the first male to wear a drape, to his final hoorah at graduation, Chris made sure that he had fun with every part of high school life.

Shake your groove thing! Proms are one of the most remembered moments in most high schoolers lives. Now a days, proms are held at hotels, convention centers, even lakes. But it wasn't always this way. "I remember when junior prom was in the courtyard. That is something that I will always remember. It was fun. Things sure have changed." said Karen Braunstein, a graduate from Reed in 1983.

Current students have had brothers or sister that once went to Reed. "When I was a freshman, he was a junior. It was fun going to school with him , everybody knew me because of him. He is very smart and maybe, hopefully, one day I will be like him." said Tyler Denham of his brother Justin, a graduate 2003.

Megan Follette, who graduated in 1999, has her little baby sister here at school now. " Sometimes I will see teachers that Megan had, and they will call me Megan or say, 'Hi Megan' to me in the hall." said Nicole.

"I went to school with my sister my freshman year, and it was weird because she was someone I never expected to see at school." said Mike Anderson of his sister Jennifer Anderson who graduated in 2002.

"I was called "Little Heslington" when Mandy went here. It was really kinda weird because for the two years she was here, I would see her like all the time." said Kelsey Heslington of her sister, Mandy, who graduated in 2002.

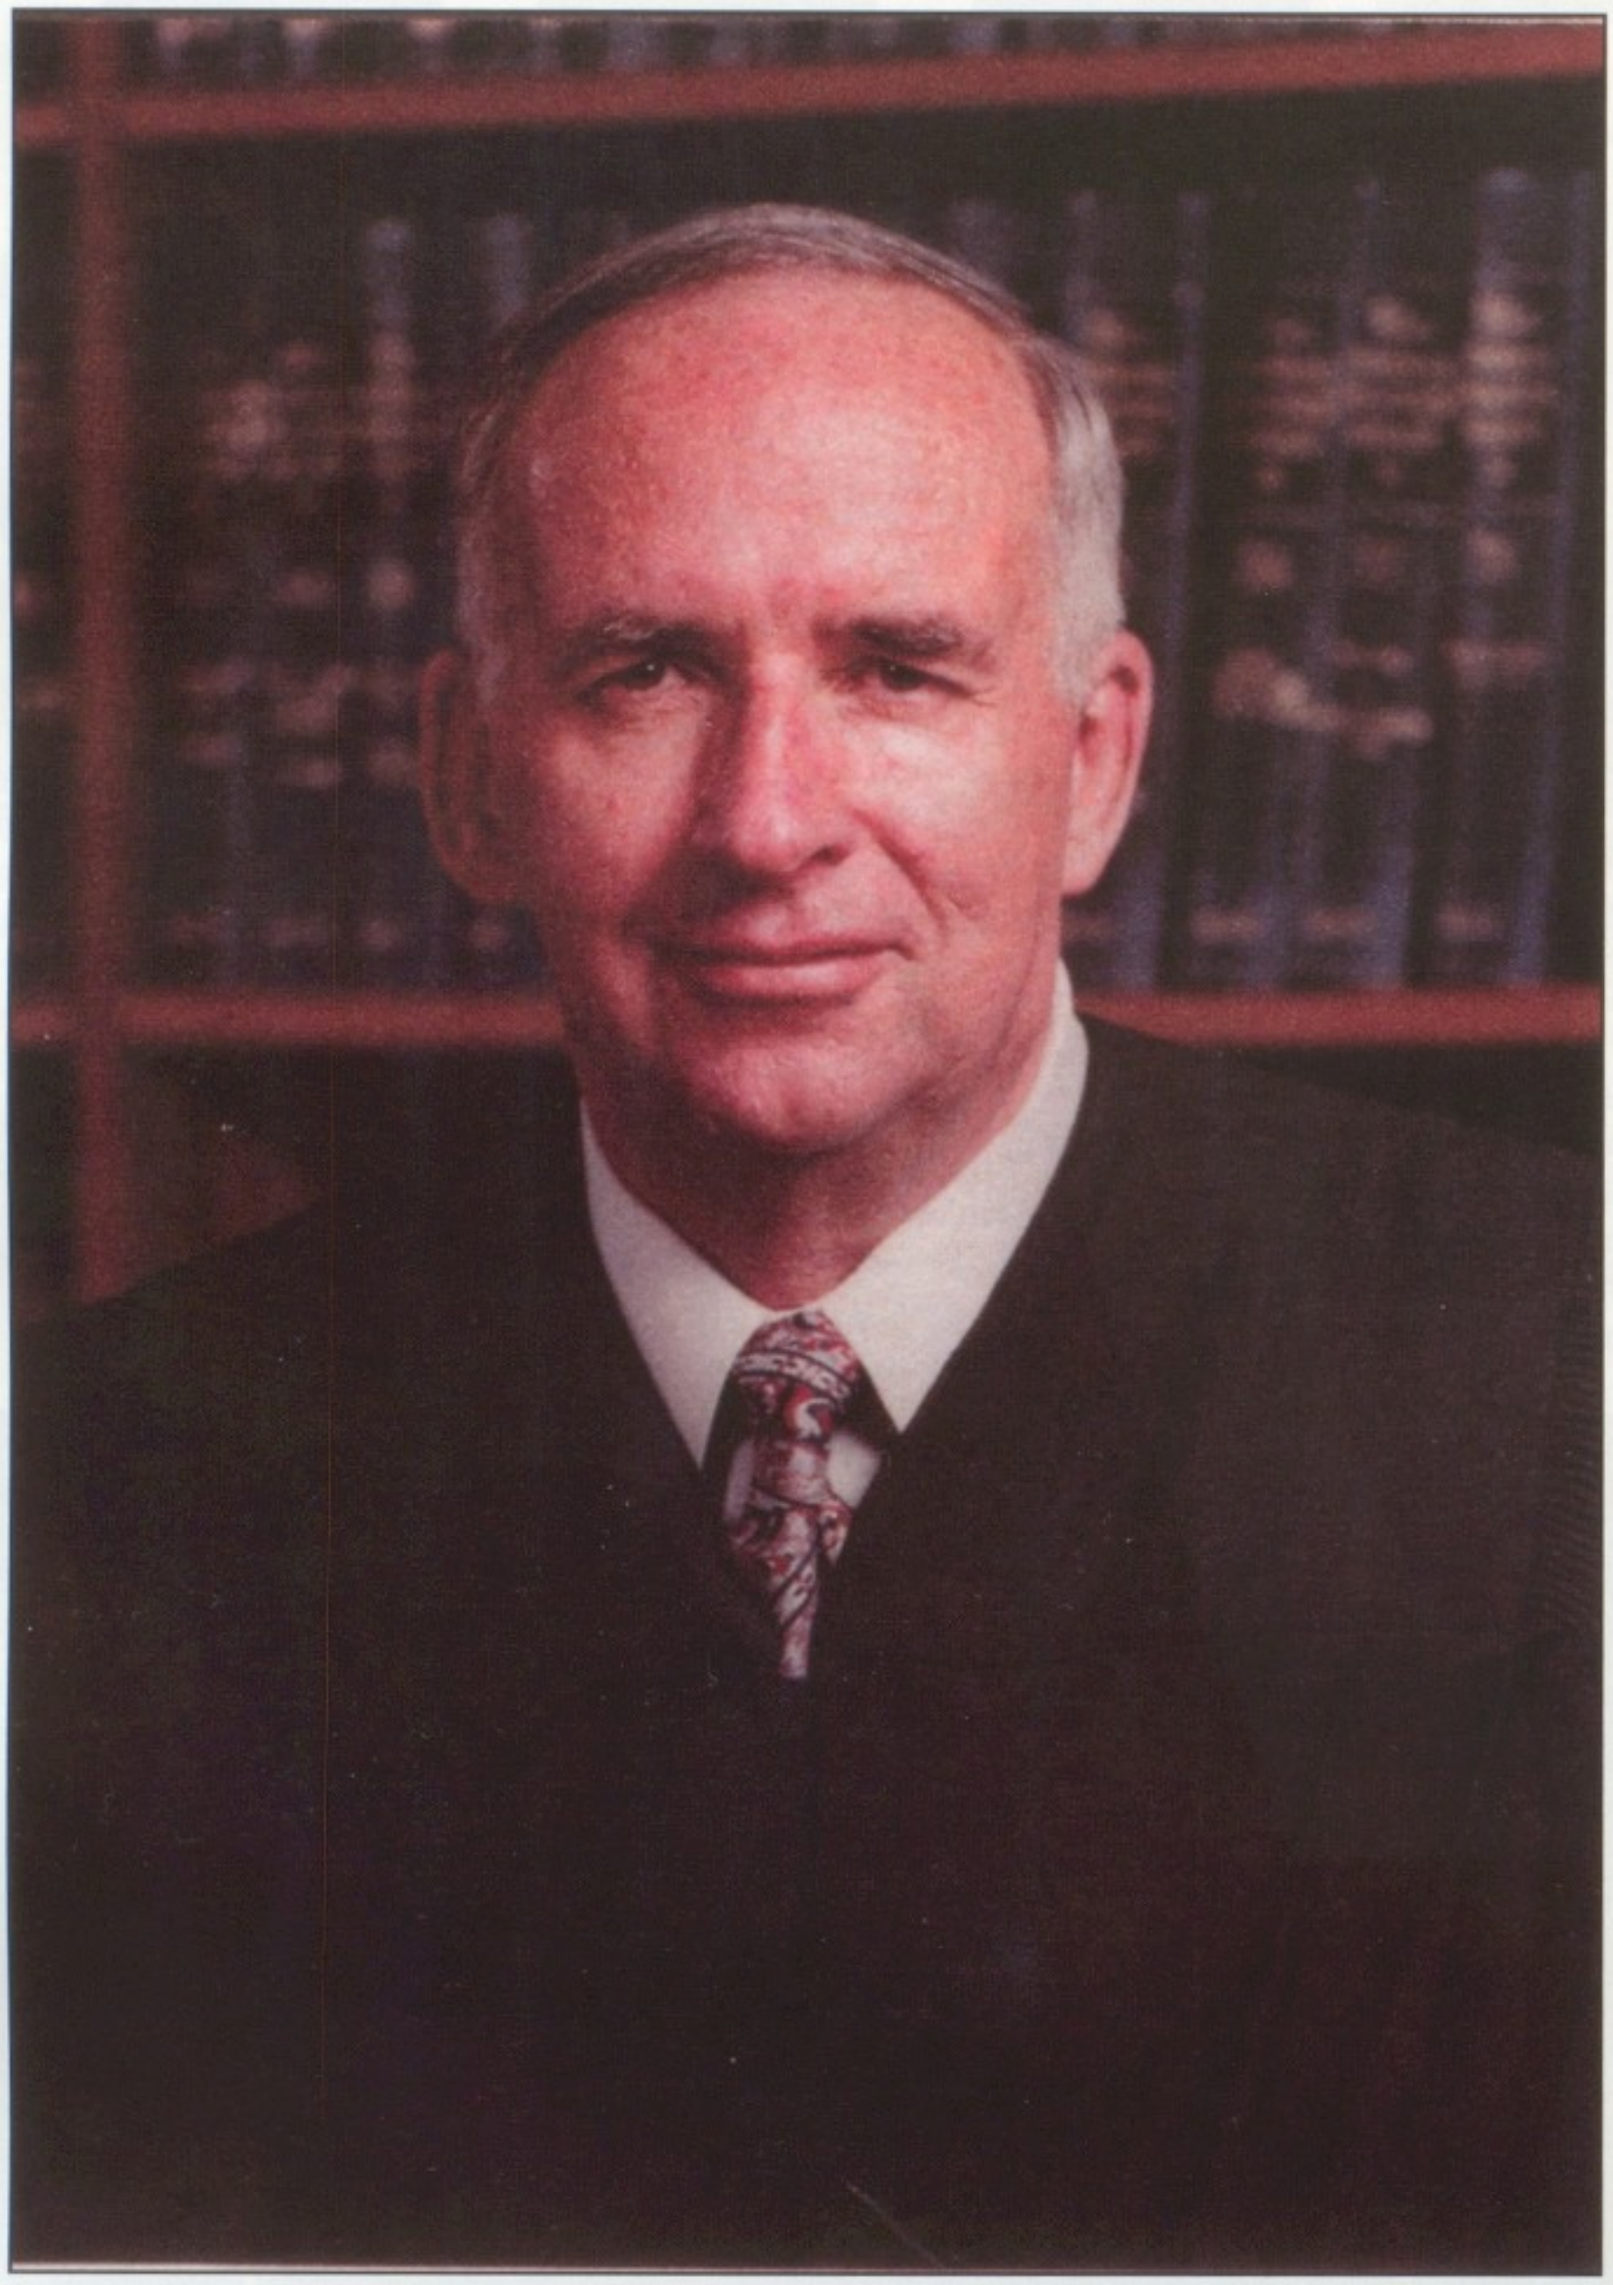
Founding Father: Edward C Reed



Proms, socials, homecomings, and football games; none of these memories would have been made with out the help of one man:Judge Edward C. Reed. The school holds a special place in many people's hearts. For most from the nostaliga of high school comes a sort of wistful look over their face. With Judge Reed it is the same thing, only he has never attended the high school that was named after him. Throughout the past thirty years, Judge Reed has been one of the most important "alumni" at all of our homecoming events and many of our other sporting events. He has the honor of crowning every homecoming queen and king that we elect every year. "It's really amazing that our namesake is still able to make all of our important events. A lot of schools don't have the opportunity to see the person that was the inspiration for their school. I think a lot of students don't realize how rare it is that he's still so active with our student body," said Karen Beasley, a new teacher at Reed.

" When I was crowned Fall Homecoming Queen, Judge Reed was the one who crowned me. I felt priveleged to have the parton of this school honor me in such a way. It's really cool that after alll this years he still participates."

-Sarah Wilson

"Thank you for providing us with this wonderful school. Judge Reed is the ultimate leader."

-Brendon Richardson

Seeds of Change

Throughout the thirty years of Reed's existance there have been many students that have walked the halls. The walls have absorbed many of the conversations that echoed through the years. Although the students, and fashions, may have changed the loyalness of the school and its dedication to all of its students is forever devoted to their successes.

Although the student body has greatly expanded, the school has had few additions over the years. As the doors first opened, the school's maximum capacity was approximately 1,500. To-date, we have 2,316 students enrolled in class. The mobiles are partly attributed to this growth; however, the teacher's willingness to change has accomidated this growth.

Dress For the Times

Homecoming dress up days...

So many people showed how much they care about their school by dressing up as a chef,a cowboy, and a rockstar. Homecoming is a time to unite the school, and dress up days show our support for the teams playing during the week. To the right- Dexter Woods, a senior, dresses up as much as he possibly can, decked out in blue and gold face paint. In previous years, many students weren't quite as excited about homecoming as Woods is, but this year has had a surge of spirit with several people roaming the hallways in their blue and gold paint and homemade spirit suits. With a variety of days students had to choose from, everyone found themselves in a homecoming spirit, whether it be with an apron on Food Network Day, rock star clothes on VH1 Day, a cowboy hat for CMT Day,sports appearal for ESPN or blue and gold for Raider TV Day.

Raider's Television

Rtv takes over Homecoming week!

Homecoming is always a huge week. There are games, an assembly, a dance, dress up days, and of course the crowning of the homecoming queen. This year, the fall theme was "RTV" which was also known as Raider Television... Fill the field, Singled Out, and the RTV assembly, were some of the events that were a hit this year. Students filled the stands at the football field on Tuesday night to watch the Girl's varsity soccer team. On Wednesday night, students filled the backstage of the theater to compete for a date with two bachelors and two bachelorettes. There was no exeption for Friday night. Students, past, present, and future packed the stands once again to watch their Raiders, "Grill the Grizzles".

Top 3 Singled Out Couples

Homecoming week was filled with many happy moments. Some people's happiest moments were when they appeared on a dating game show, "Singled Out." Students competed against each other for a date. Here is a list of Singled Out's top 3 couples.

Number One

"It was nerve racking at first, but in the end it was a pleasant surprise."

-Charlie Moses

Number Two

"It was a great experience! Andrea Kuiken and I had a lot of fun!"

-Jamie Gunzel

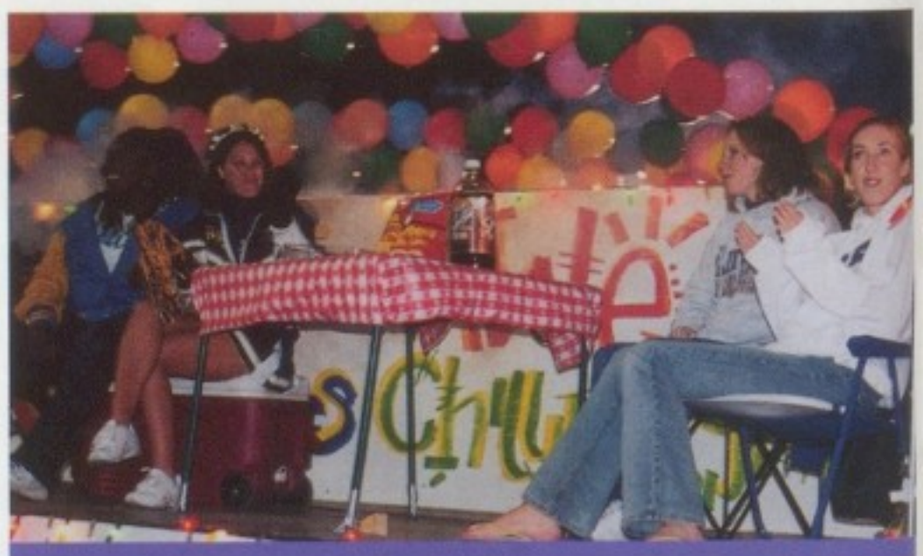
Number Three

"It was tight! We had a lot of fun!"

-Gary Ortega

Last, but not least. The freshman came in last, but their float was no less than any of the others. Balloons, bears, blue and gold decorated the float.

Float decorating is an important tradition of the fall homecoming. This year, part of tha t tradition was brought back to life when the floats returned to their rightful place, on top of flat bed trucks. For the last few years, the floats have not been allowed to be on the trucks, but this year, on the thirty year anniversary, the trucks were walked around the track once more.



Juniors worked hard on the float that tied for second place.

What do a field goal post, a bear, and a fire have in common? All those things were combined to make the sophomore float. The sophomores' hard work payed off- they and the juniors tied for second place.

Who's Got Spirit?

Sweat, tears, and happiness described the many emotions that filled seniors, over the week. The week started with hall decorating, and ended with float decorating. With all their hard work and dedication the class of 2004 won all class compititions.

Seniors

On your mark, get set, decorate! Hall decorating is a homecoming event in which classes compete in. All of the halls were decorated from top, to bottom. Students from every class worked for two hours to complete their halls, and all did a wonderful job. The seniors won first, juniors second, freshman third, and sophomores fourth.

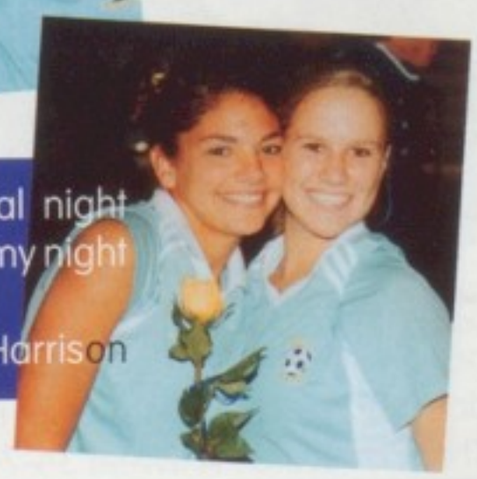
Mitch Whalen, Jeff Panko, Zach Jones

Freezing. That was the word that was most often used on the chilly night in October, when students tried to fill the stands, while watching the girl's varsity soccer team. Though it may have been freezing cold, that didn't stop Mitch Whalen, Jeff Panko, and Zach Jones from coming out and having a good time. "That is just another example of Zach being himself."
- said Mitch Whalen.

Ana Medina, Mark Towell, Kellie Kareck, Holly Esposito, Leianne Whitley, A.J. Flock, Cindy McDaniels, Mike Gent, Holly Young, Drew McGregor, Kevin Carrol, Jason Saville, Lynn Mentzor, Jeanne Curst, Karen Beasley, Bryan Fusko, Jason Stewert, Kyle Bridgewater, Alex Sherbondy, Ryan Lammle, Sean Sims, Kevin Picollo

" I had fun spending time with friends watching the girls kick some butt!"
-Kim Evans

"My last homecoming soccer gamewas fun! The stands were filled with fans!
-Tia Bartek



"It was a special night because it was my night to shine!"
-Emily Harrison

Cheers from the stands were about all you could hear on October 13, homecoming night. From their loud comments on the game, to the way they cheered on the cheerleaders, to the cowbells that rang in everyones ears-oh and dont forget the "D-fence sign", and mega phones that rang comments, the crowd was its loudest "It was sad, and all I can think of were my two friends, Zach Jones and Mitch Whalen, running down the track. I am sad it was our last one, I mean I am ready to get out of school but I want to go to more homecomings.They arefun," reminised senior Shayla Ogg The week was filled with lots of good times, from float decorating to hall decorating, and everything in between- everyone had something they enjoyed from the week's events. "I had fun at the game. The best part was the streakers I have to say. Float decorating was frusterating, it took a while, and I was mad we didn't win first place. We (the sophomores) should have won first-I think our float was better than the seniors'." said Dominic DiPrinzio.

As in us Raiders as we Grilled the

No Zeros- Just Heros

The best yet! An incredible night is the only way to describe the Fall homecoming. Amazing spirit, insanely loud fans, an intense victory, and an unforgettable halftime sums up the brisk Friday night in October as we the Raiders took down the Galena Grizzlies in an exciting battle. Any fan could have enjoyed that victory, along with great snacks, hot chocolate, and friends. And of course any fan could have enjoyed a very enthused band, talented dancers and cheerleaders, and the flag team. And ultimately, any fan would have enjoyed an event all seniors awaited-the crowning of the Fall Homecoming Queen. Oh- and did I mention that all the fans enjoyed a surprise visit? It was by a very courageous (or should I say BARE-ing) duo that goes unmentioned...

Top 3 Events of Game Night

While some may think that homecoming is only important to seniors, any one could have a great time at this major school event, and these three seniors will tell you the top three events that every Raider should check out.

The Excitement

Every year there is always an atmosphere of excitement both before and after the game. Pictured at left is one of our lovely cheerleaders Toni Mocabee focused on the intensity of the game.

We've got Spirit!

"The best was seeing how spirited our school became; it was awesome to see how well our football team did. We haven't had that much spirit in a long time!" -Kirsten Corbridge

The Surprises!

"Something unexpected always happens, from winning to streaking! Well, they were in Speedos but stil... It was hilarious!"

-Shawnicé Kraeber

Of course the spirit of the fans wouldn't be complete without the spirited and friendly marching band who kept our field alive.

Those that went to the game (or even the first fifteen minutes of it) know that one of the star players was junior Ryan Lammle (pictured at left first focused and then fired up). Ryan Lammle ran the ball for a total of 137 yards and 3 touchdowns. "Winning? We knew we could win this year. We knew we had the team but nobody gave us the chance after the first two games." said Lammle.

Keeping the Grizzlies grounded, the varsity team shows how much they can handle- much more than Galena.

At left a traditional but personal huddle to encourage each player, to keep the team close, and to get them ready for the adrenaline-pumped game in which they are about to begin.

Gritting the Grizzlies in a Great Game

At first glance a challenge, Galena brought to the field quick offense and tough defense. Still, Reed kept the competition down with incredible energy, intelligent plays and an intimidating love for the game. The final score? A sweet 34-7!

What we're made of! Four great examples of what exactly Raiders strive for: from left: Breanna Tavener, Brandy Tambereaux; an awesome effort by #59; Alex Sherbondy; Carly Whalen.

Winning seniors showed their pride with their restrained bear, posters, and real trees!

The Juniors kept up with their big bear barbeque complimented by cute girls and chips.

Sophomores brought their very own teddy chef with a paper field and plenty of players to do the grilling.

Freshman fried their grizzles with their bonfire-bear-ka-bob. Yum!

"It was an awesome feeling to get dressed up and be in front of a crowd that big, a memory I will never forget."
-Tia Bartek

"Homecoming was something I always to be a part of as a little girl- I felt like Cinderella! I was so surprised to make top 5- I had to ask my friends because I didn't believe it!" -Whitney Grimes

Reed; Raiders take Galena down. Pictured at left is this year's Fall Homecoming Queen Sarah Wilson. An all around good day, it was also Ms. Wilson's 18th birthday.

Show some spirit!

Winter Homecoming week dress up days

Homecoming week... What is there to say? Each day people all over the school show their raider pride by dressing up as the 'theme of the day.' Dress up days are not only for every raider to show their school spirit, but for the students to support their school. Each year more and more students join in and dress up along with their peers. The once thought wild and extreme outfits are now taken to an even more extreme level... From going through the decades to tornado Tuesday, each student 'struts their stuff' throughout the decorated hallways. As the week passes more and more students decorate their bodies with almost anything they can find throughout their house... From body paint to wild accessories the students are outta control!

Monday- Snow Day; Tuesday- Tornado Tuesday; Wednesday- Storming through the decades; Thursday- Class colors; Friday- Blue & Gold. 1- Students from the class We The People. 2- Spirited students at our homecoming game. 3-Kami Dixon, Maggie Henry, Megan Leigh & Jane Mariluch 4- Jodie Garrison, Sarah Wilson, Shannon Williams & Kyle Labarry

Five Day Forecast

Taking Fallon by storm...

Taking Fallon by storm was the forecast for the week of winter homecoming. Although high school has its snow days, raging wind, huge clouds, and pouring rain, sooner or later the sun breaks through the clouds to reveal a sunny day. This fun filled week of exciting events inspired our best homecoming ever. Many students had fun participating in activities during school, and after school. From our first Mr. Raider, to Jamming the Gym at Spanish Springs. Our students created a whirlwind of cheering, and fun for our athletes. By participating in these activities, it helped unite our school. Many friendships and memories were formed over this homecoming. This weeks forecast raised the standards for upcoming homecomings and events.

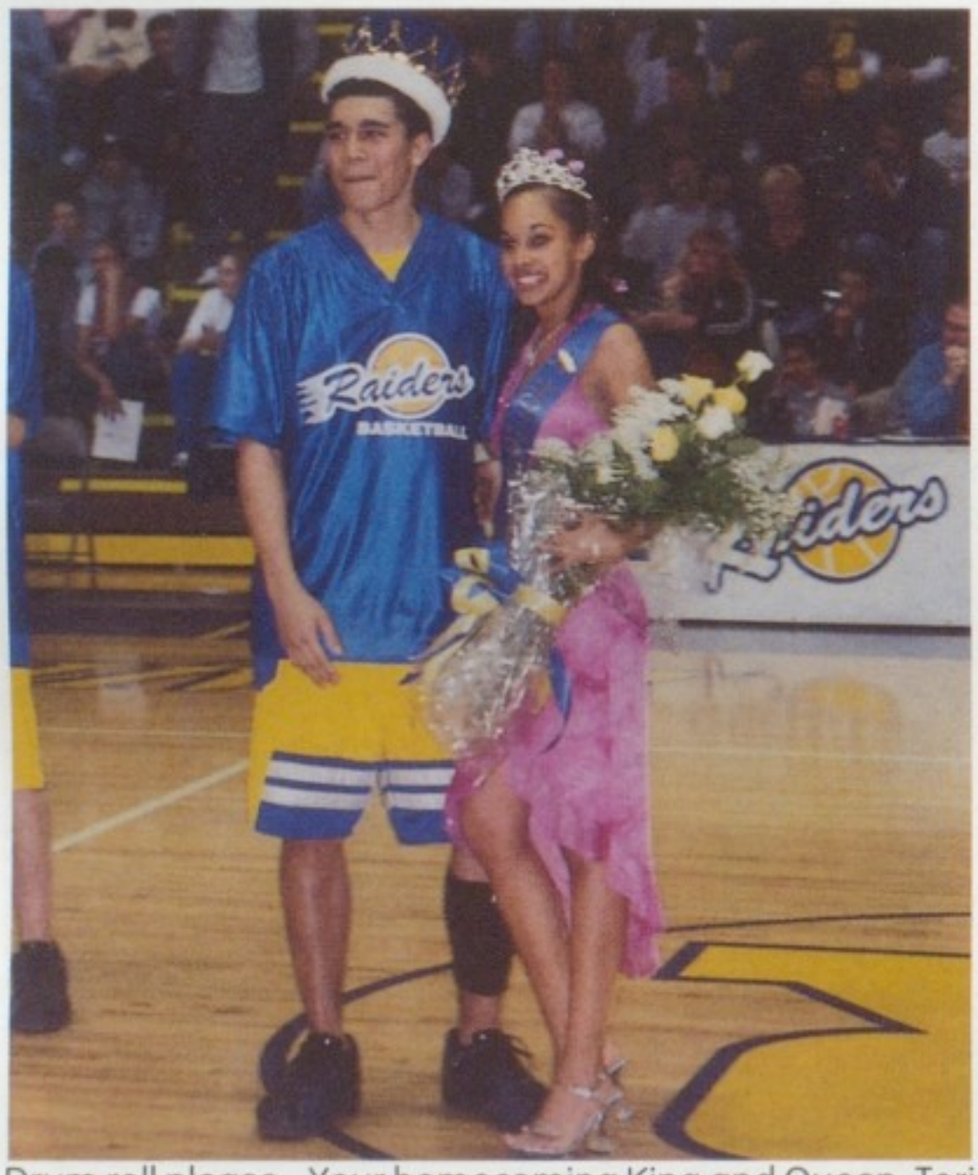
Winter Homecoming

Who are the candidates?

All of the kids who were the homecoming candidates were all very talented people. Some were in band, others were also on the varsity basketball Team. Most were also in leadership. All of the kids deserved to be candidates. Robert Vega and Tori Sims became Homecoming King and Queen.

Of coarse that night was not just about the homecoming King and Queen. It is also about the entertainment from the varsity boys basketball game and from the Pep Band. Both of them provided excellent entertainment as the boys went on to destroy the Fallon Greenwave (81-53). Good job to all of the other canidates, and congratulations to Tori Sims and Robert Vega.



Drum roll please...Your homecoming King and Queen. Tori Sims and Robert Vega are your 2004 Winter Homecoming King and Queen. Both looked surprised as they walk towards each other and pose for the picture that you see to your left.

A quick rebound and a smart pass down the court sets up Kevin Berry (junior) for the dunk. Unfortunatly the Fallon Greenwave player fouls Berry as he goes in for the dunk. The boys played an excellent game, taking the team to victory, and improving the schools moral and respect.

Just A Game

Throughout our lives, we're taught that while playing sports- remember, it's just a game. Although we strive for excellence, such as entering the play-offs for football tied for first in the league, or keeping up with the tradition of an excellent softball team, it's the journey we take as people in between the games, tournaments and practices that really matters. These next 40 pages of the book are dedicated to those hard working coaches, athletes and everyone else who has made our athletic programs some of the best in Northern Nevada. As you flip the pages, remember all of the joys, upsets and the personal growth you've experienced here. Remember-

It's just a game.

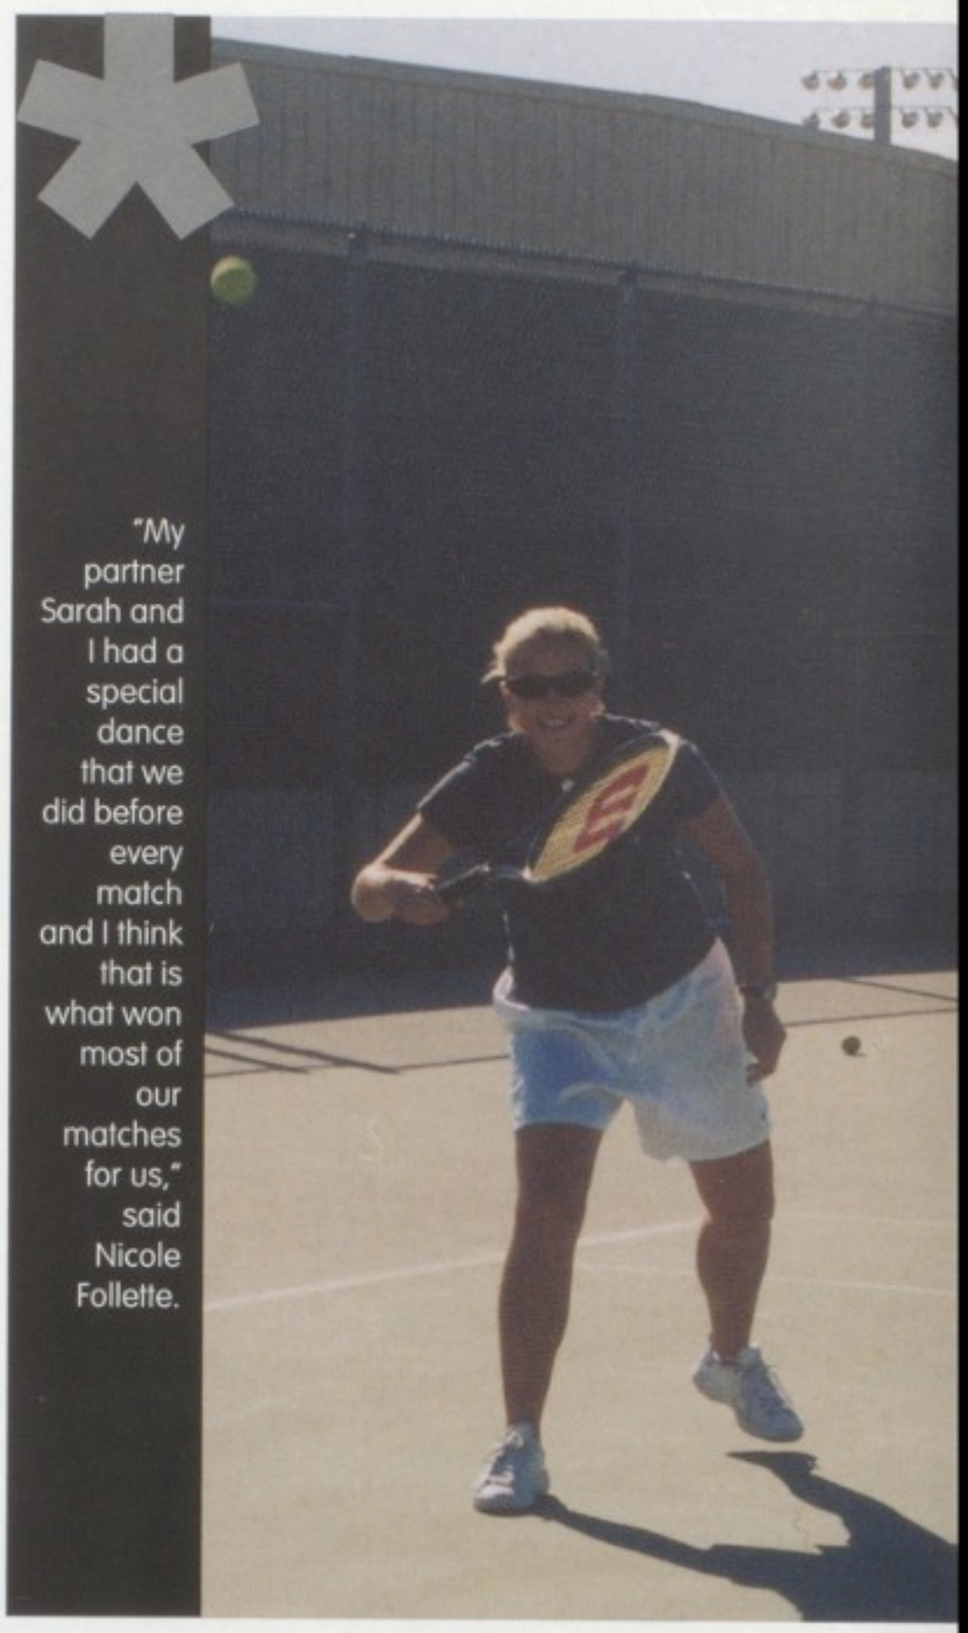
Sports Sports Sports

The Man's Sport?

Who says that girls can't play tennis?

Tennis, the old rich-mans sport... This year the girls tennis team was one of the best. They had an outstanding season and many of the girls had a breakthrough year. One of the highlights of the season was how well the girls played as a team. It may not seem like it but, tennis is definatley a team sport because in each individual match points are awarded to the winner. To practice for this, everyone helps each other by challanging themselves and by giving team support to everyone who sets foot on the court. "The girls are really supportive and we all helped each other learn even though we had a young and fairly inexperienced team," said Sarah DiPrinzio.



"My partner Sarah and I had a special dance that we did before every match and I think that is what won most of our matches for us," said Nicole Follette.

Girls Tennis

girls go 7 - 5 on a relativly good season

"The season went a lot better than I expected. This is one of the funnest coaching experiences that I have ever had because the girls were a lot of fun to be around," said Coach Pheonix.

Pointing out the basics... Coach Pheonix discusses with Shayla Ogg and Allison Lang the way to best help out their game. To excel at the game, often the girls would play each other to learn better technique.

Take five everyone! The tennis team sits against one of the trailers at a home match. Although the game is an individual and pair effort, the team stays united throughout the season to keep morale up. "We have bonded together, which is a really cool thing for my senior year." said Shawnicé Kraeber, a member of the team for three years.

Keep your eye on the ball!

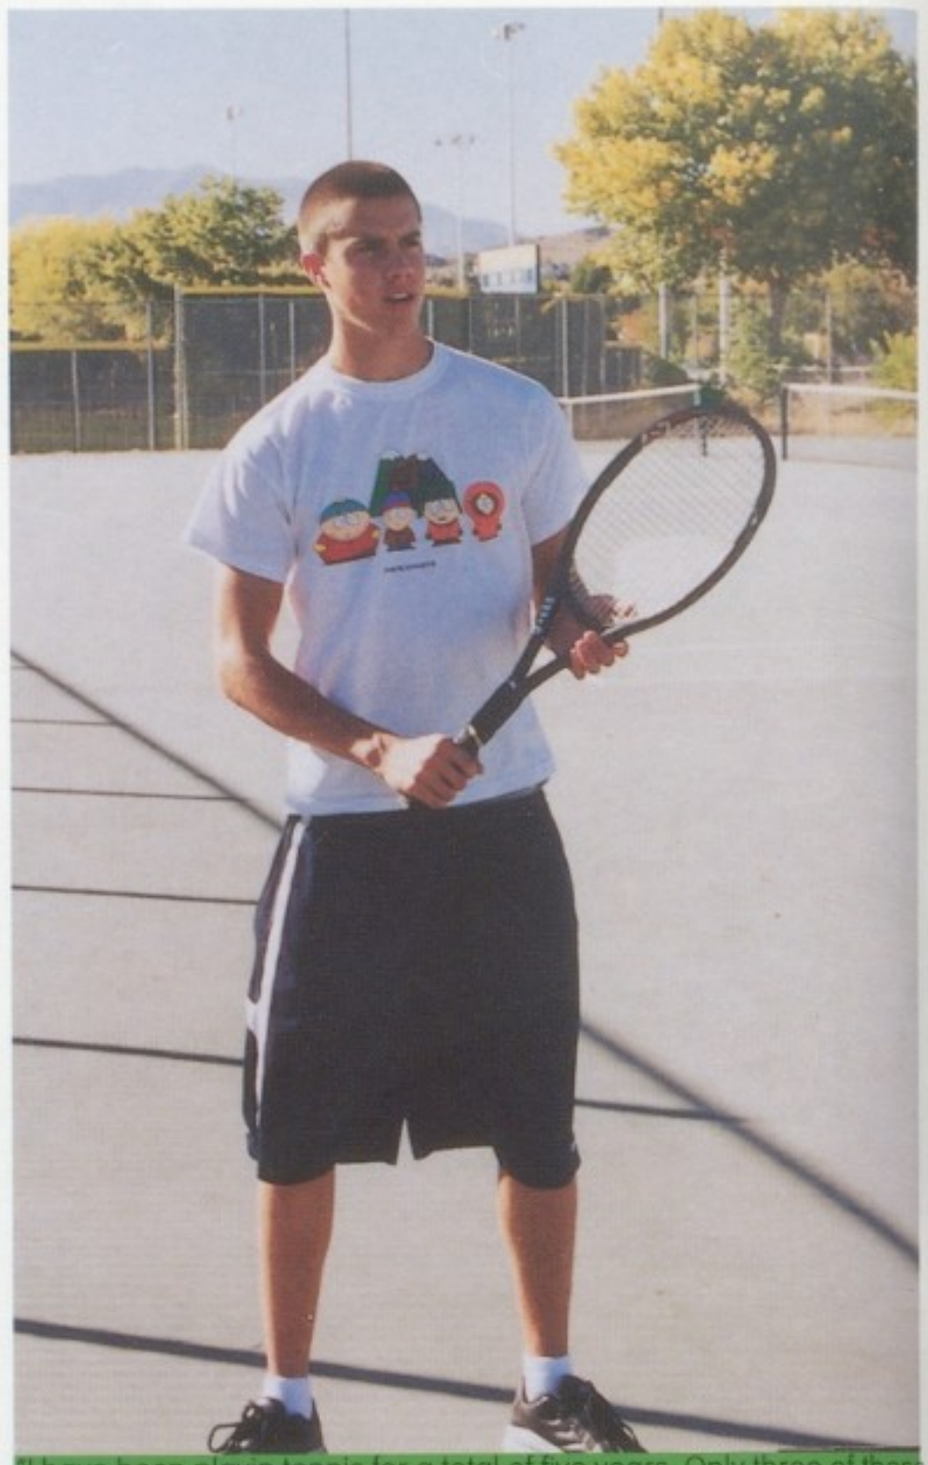
Bo's tennis sound off on the courts

What a racquet!

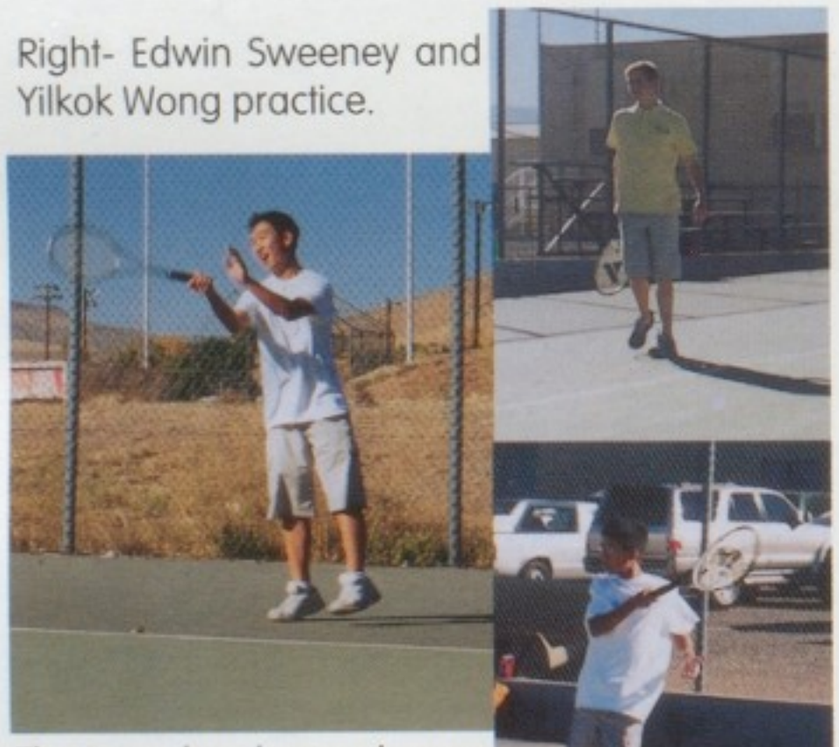
In tennis it isn't just a number. Every point counts. You could win or lose a watch by a half of a point. Through every win and every loss who is there though? You're number one fans, your teammates. They are there to help you focus, to cheer you on, and to cheer you up. Boy's tennis team is no exception. On the courts during practice you can often find them joking around with one another, hitting balls towards their partners, seeing who can run across the court the fasatest, even wressling on the ground. Teammates are never number to one another. They are people, people of whjom you see in the hall, class, or on the court. they are people who understand what you are gong thro ugh in the sport, your wins and your losses.



"I have been playin tennis for a total of five years. Only three of those have been with Reed." said Peter Smith. Smith only had positive things to say about tennis, "My favorite part of playing tennis is everything, because it is all fun.' said Peter.

All weather competition. Cold, wind, rain and shine, you name it, the team has played in it all. They are ready for anything the other teams throw at them, they practice everyday for two hours a day. Drills, run laps, and serve hundreds of tennis ball-and don't forget all the returns to each serve.

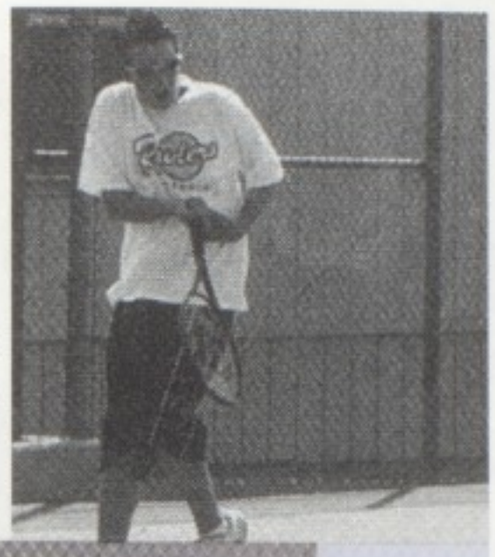
Right- Edwin Sweeney and Yilkok Wong practice.



The team has learned many valuable lessons during the season. "I learned to just have fun and never quit." said Brian Son (Pictured above)

Coah Arranghi, Ryan Hill, Peter Smith, Brandon Chmelovksy, Brian Son, Dan Barraza, Ryan Hill, Steve Smith, Edwin Sweeney, Yilok Wong, Daniel Vivos, Tyler Winters

Back in the early stages... Brandon Chmelovsky back in his freshman year with tennis.



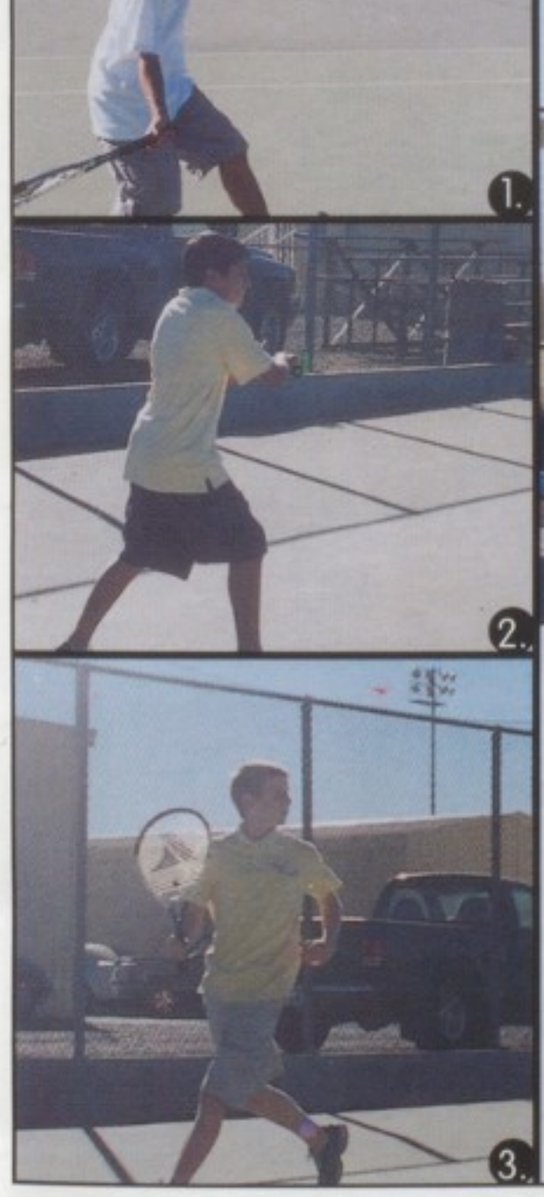
"To have a chance to compete while hanging out with fun people." -Peter Smith

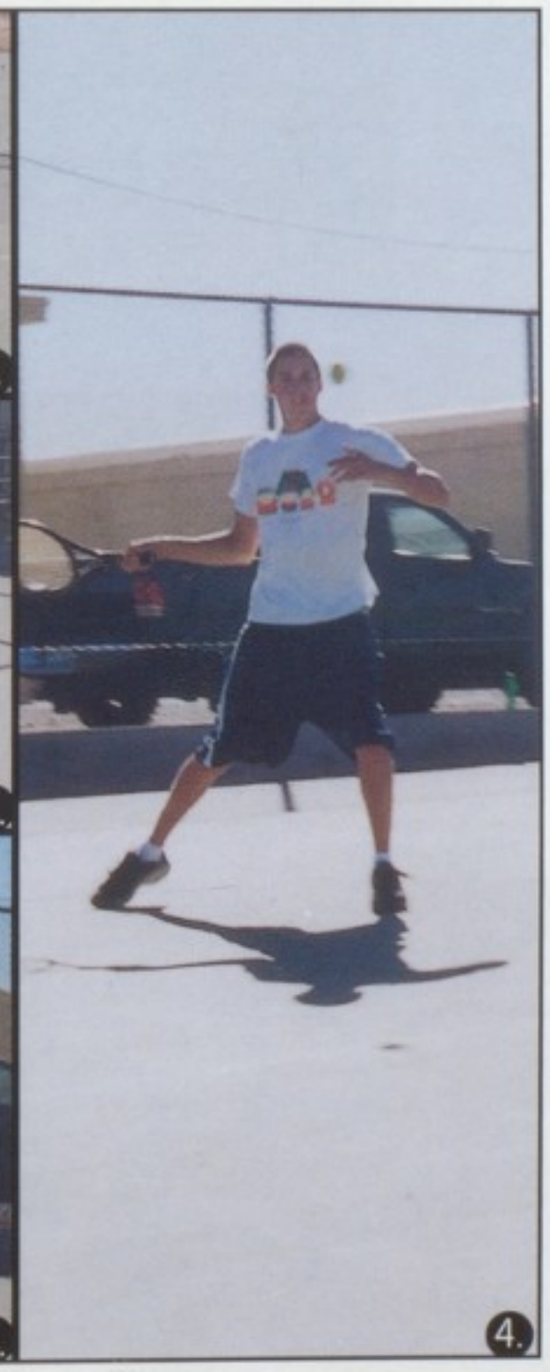
Jason Hanson studies his ball for defects.

"My favorite part of the game is hitting people." -Brandon Chmelovsky

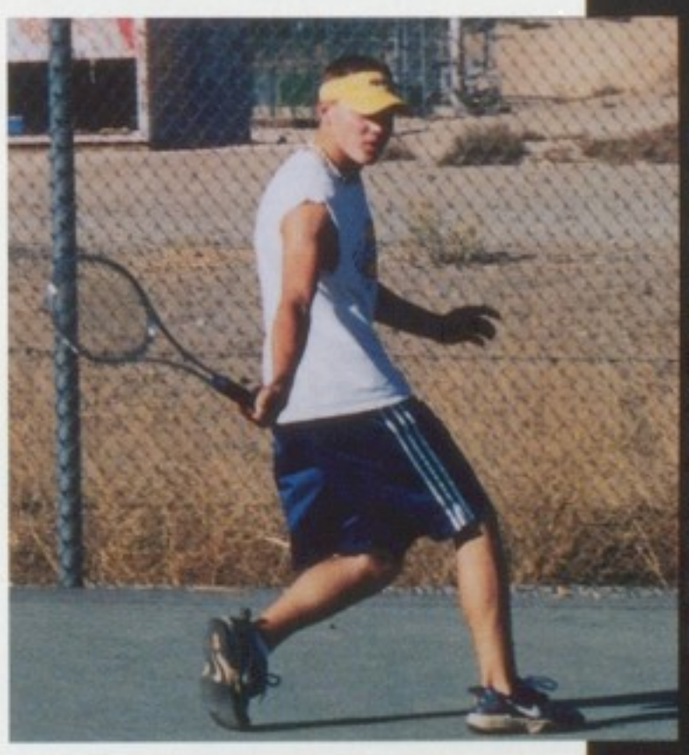
Getting in the mental game... Jason Hanson prepares for a match.

Uh oh! Here comes trouble, and his name is Ryan Hill. Ryan has been playing on the tennis team for three years now, and every year improves more and more. He and his partner, Brandon Chmelovsky work hard to be the number one doubles team. They work together to achieve their goal of going to zone.



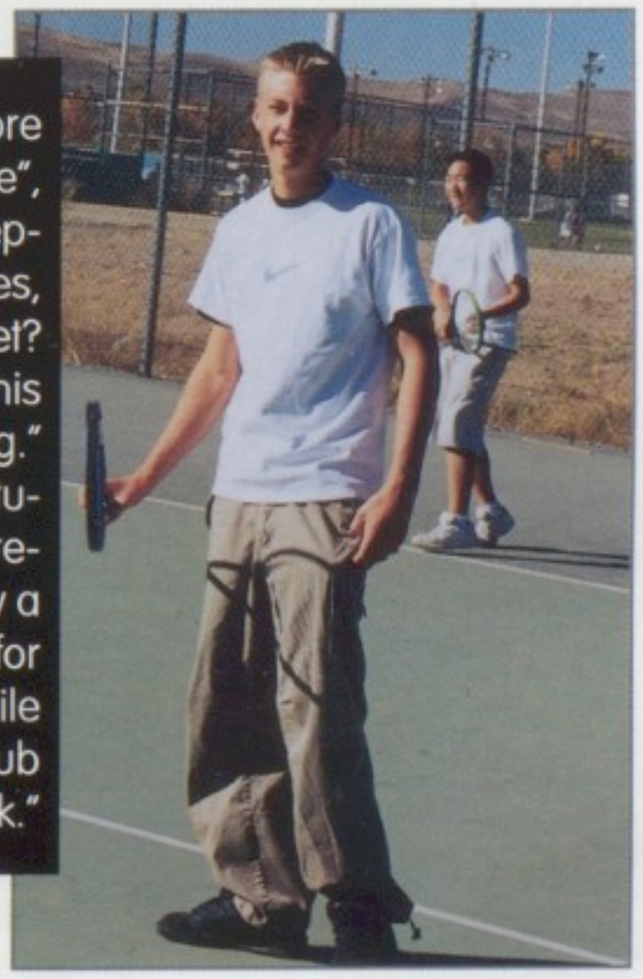


1- Practice makes perfect. Rallies are a way for tennis teams to help perfect themselves, sometimes they can be too boring. Yilok Wonmg worksto get a rally going. 2. Working on mastering the game... Daniel Vivos gets ready for the big game. 3- Many people would believe that tennis isn't an active sport, but the players would disagree. Pictured: Edwin Sweeney. 4- Hit it with force! The faster the ball goes, the harder it is to catch... Peter Smith works toget his velocity up.



Something old? He needs something new. "I have worn the same pair of shoes since the begining of tennis," said Brandon of his worn and torn sneakers, "hopefully they will last until the end of zone." The Ryan and Brandon duo worked hard to win themselves a spot on the team that went to zone. Looks like Brandon's superstition of shoes has paid off.

Did you know that in tennis the score always starts out as "Love Love", which means zero to zero? " Keeping score isn't easy in tennis. It goes, love, 15, 30, 40 point. Confused yet? I learned how to keep score this year. This is my first year playing." said Nameles. How about team rituals. Some teams have a weir d pregame rituals, sometimes it is only a few teammates. "I lick the ball for good luck." said Steve Smith, while teammate Tyler Winters said, "I rub the ball in my arm pit for good luck."



Swing...but no miss

Hitting it on target: Consistancy is key

You raise a club above your head, you can't hear the world around you, all noises are drowned out by the thoughts pouring through your conscience. Is this a scene to a horror movie? Nope. It is just another hole with the girl's golf team. The team pulled off an awesome season due to their excellent concentration and tons of practice, the girl's made it to state in Vegas. Yet, for the girl's, winning wasn't everything. There was more to the season than the scores the girl's were receiving-they were making friends, and memories that would last a life time. From checking out each other's tan lines, to eating dinner with one another, to hanging out outside of practice and school, the girls found the team that hangs together, plays together.

Part of playing golf is waiting. Kendall Lujan waits for the ball her teammate has just putted to be gentely tapped into the hole.

All sports teams have one thing in common. They all dream of making it to state. This year, girl's golf made that dream a complete reality. The girls headed off to Vegas for three full days to play a sport they all love.

All smiles. Kendall Lujan, Sarah Boyle and Kendra Vauk were just three of ten smiling girls as the team headed off to Vegas for the state tournament. The team had the ultimate bonding expierience when they flew to Vegas.

Occupational hazard? In golf? Well, if you would like to call farmer's tans occupational hazards, then yes. The team shows off their lines after a hard day's work at state in Las Vegas

Now: Kendra Vauk practices her swing for the tournament. Practice makes perfect-Vauk is dedicated to making herself the best she can be.

Then: Christine Mayer in 1987 was part of the girl's golf team that became second in the state. The today has almost doubled the size of the 1987 team.

One of a kind team

Ever wondered why golfers yell "four"? Golfers yell "four" to warn others about an out of control ball...because people definetly don't want to get hit.

A little practice never heard anyone. Sarah Boyle, Kendall Vauk and Heather Darby go out on thier own time to practice their drives.

Girl's night out. The team works hard for all that they have achieved, but all their work doesn't go unnoticed. The girl's know when it is time to work, time to play, and time to party. they love to go out and eat, go over to one another's houses, and just goof around on the green-that is when they aren't practicing on it.

Three people, three different reasons for playing...

Sarah Boyle

Grade: Senior

"I joined golf because my sister had played on the team-and my dad is a golf pro." said Sarah Boyle. Sarah has been playing on the team since she was a freshman, "My dad is a golf pro, so I have been playing since I was like 3 or 4 years old."

Mary Sprinkel

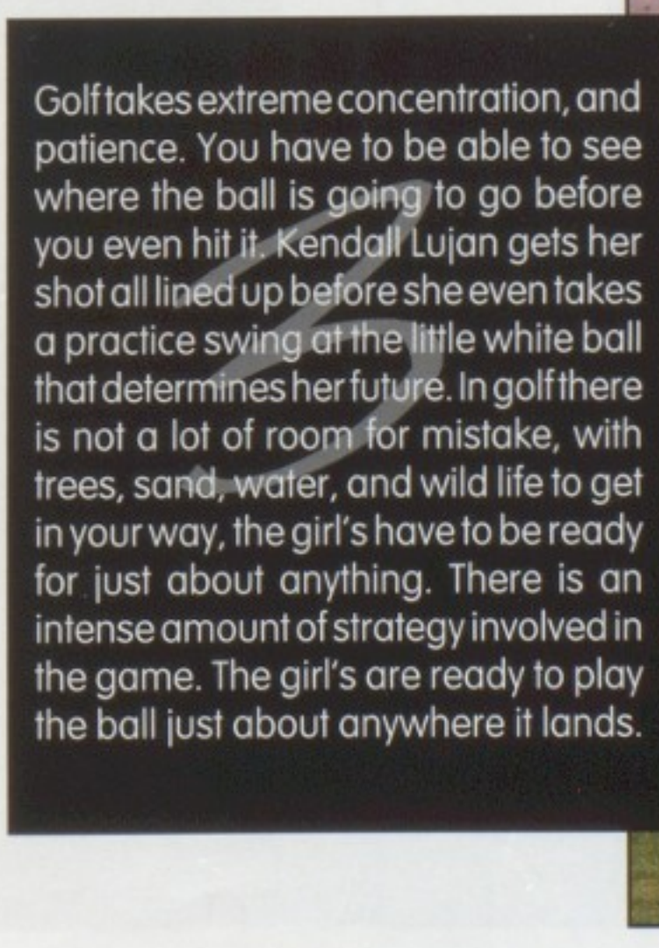
Grade: Freshman

"I decided to play golf because I love to play, but I don't get to play very often. I figured that playing with a team would help me to get better and play more. I have played since I was about eight years onld-never seriously though-last year was the first year that I actually played seriously. When I get ready for a tournament, I concentrate on what Ihave to do to play well. Of course I get nervous, but I try to just have fun and do my best. Focus!"

Shannon Carroll

Grade: Sophomore

"I decided to play golf because I like golf, and there are a lot of cool girls on the team. My dad has been taking me to golf for a long time. My best game is my short game."



Take a seat. Those were the exact thoughts of Kendall Lujan and Heather Darby as they sat down on a lamp post as they waited for their ride. The girl's have been good friends since Heather joined the team her freshman year. Kendall as the mor experienced of the two, she had already been on the team for a year already, took Heather under her wing. There is so much that each girl brings to the team, but the girl's don't hoard their knowledge, they share it with one another-making the team that much better.

Golf takes extreme concentration, and patience. You have to be able to see where the ball is going to go before you even hit it. Kendall Lujan gets her shot all lined up before she even takes a practice swing at the little white ball that determines her future. In golf there is not a lot of room for mistake, with trees, sand, water, and wild life to get in your way, the girl's have to be ready for just about anything. There is an intense amount of strategy involved in the game. The girl's are ready to play the ball just about anywhere it lands.

So girls can't play sports?

Girls JV soccer is all about teamwork

Girls JV soccer finished with a breathtaking season. Ending up with a record of 11-0-1, they definitely put forth a lot of effort which led to talent and skills shining through in the end. Overcoming many obstacles every team must face, the ladies still pushed forward. Everyday the girls gathered at the field for practice after school for two and a half hard-working hours. From running mountains, doing 'doggies' and leaving the drama off of the field, the girls pulled through and showed their love for soccer. Unlike every other sport soccer requires undivided effort and a 'true' love for the game. Girls soccer requires just as much effort and athleticism as any other sport played by guys... So in the end you must ask yourself... Who said girls can't play sports?

Lecture 101

Coach Joy Williams gives the Lady Raiders insight on what needs to be done!

Megan Koester

"I play soccer because it's my escape from 'high-school drama', and it's a fun way to do so!"

Friends Forever

"It always makes it better having a best friend on a team." Said Marisa Peri. "Ya, It makes losing better too because you have someone to laugh about it with!" Madsen added in.

Lindsay Bernal

"No matter what happends we always made the best of things and had fun!"

To the left Kate McCall goes for the goal, but Christine Hendrick attempts to take Kate's chance away. "My favorite memory was when we played Elko and beat them!" Said Chelsey White.

A picture can say a thousand words right? Well despite the fact the girls practice by challenging one another... They stay friends no matter what comes into play! "The best part about being on a team, is the team itself... I made a lot of good friends, and developed some life-long relationships!" Said Krista Reigle pictured left along with teammate Marisa Peri. Pictured right Krista Reigle and Laura Thomas practice their skills for upcoming games.

Being a part of a team allows constant support and helpful motivation. Pictured left Girls JV Soccer team pep up in a huddle to prepare themselves for a game. "No matter what happend... We always had fun," said Lindsay Bernal. "Ya, I had the best time with all of the girls on the team, and all of the memories we made i will never forget!" Jaclyn Durant added in.

Being a part of a team isn't always fun and games, despite the fun memories made. It takes skills and endurance... especially when it comes to soccer. "I love soccer because of it's constant rush, and all of the great times that came along with the rush!" Said Lindsey Oexle.

Pictured above Megan Koester takes the ball away from a Demonte forward. Right Kate McCall (#12) goes to throw the ball into the game to allow the team to take it to the goal. Kick'n it to Zone off in the end.

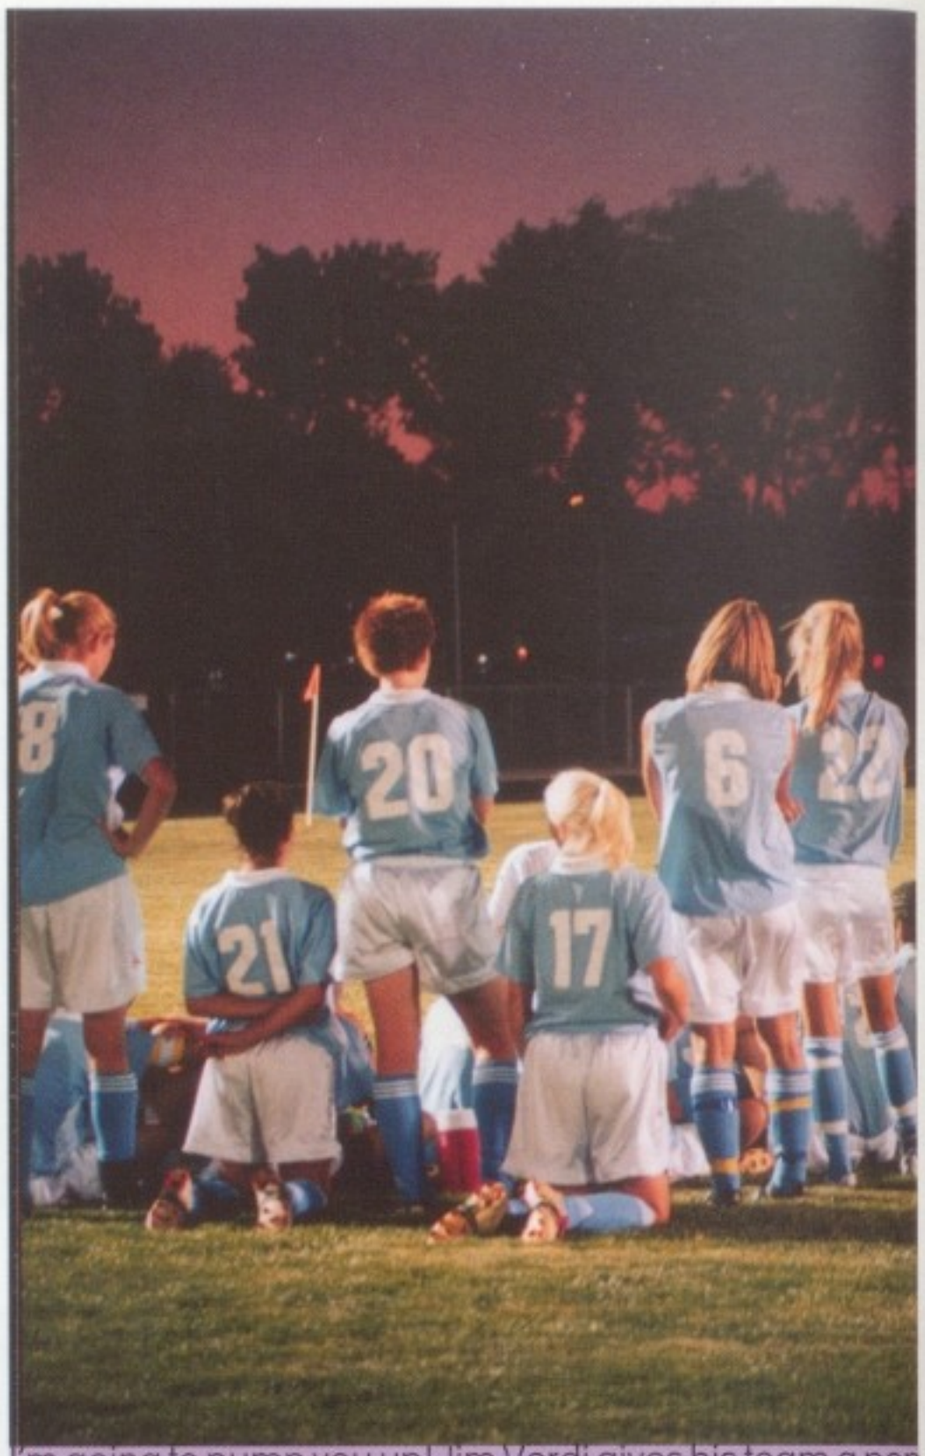
Hard work paid

Whose house? Reed's house! The girls season kicked off and they went 11-1-2 for the season. After all of the team's hard work the girls made it to zone. They took the title for third place in the zone playoffs. "We played hard, but unfortunately it didn't get us where we needed to be," said Ashley Henderson. All of the girls had an awesome season. On the team's off-season many of the girls play for local club teams. While playing on these club teams, the girls travel all over the United States to play some of the top teams in the Nation. They also compete against each other's teams. The girls train hard all year to bring a successful season back to our school, and a place in the top five. This year eight of the team's starters will be leaving to go to college. Their presence on the field will be missed. Their positions will be hard to fill, but the new team next year will be just as good. The juniors on the team are great athletes and look forward to leading the team to many victories next season.



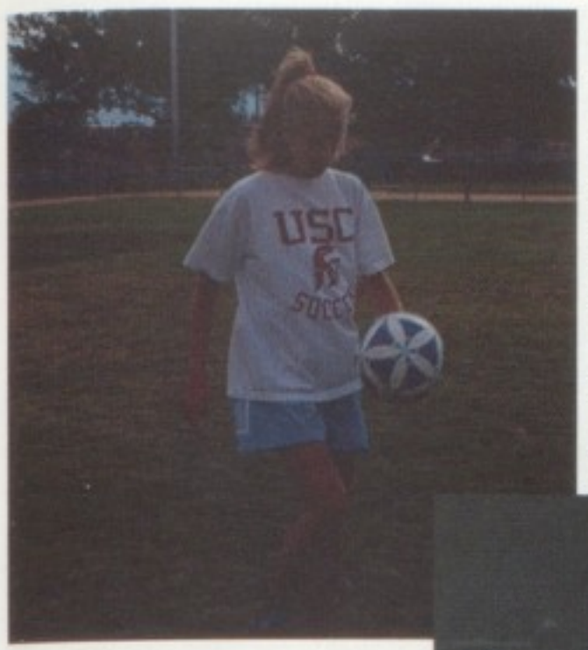
I'm going to pump you up! Jim Verdi gives his team a pep talk at half time. The girls listen and talk about what they have to do. The team is always fired up at second half!

Hard work? These girls spend a total of twelve hours each week working on their technique. Ashley Henderson, Amy Speakman, Erika Moen, and Emily Harrison are working hard to help push their team into a spot at zone.

Friends on and off the field. Erika Moen and Bethany Michaels have both played soccer together for the past years.

Smile! It isn't that often that you will see Tia Bartek and Trisha Gibbons smiling at their games.

Jim Verdi, Ashley Henderson, Emilyann Harrison, Kelsey Bridgewater, Janay Stevens, Tia Bartek, Emmie Moses, Trisha Gibbons, Ashlie Brown, Asia Taber, Jessica Pitts, Aubrey Schaffer, Erika Moen, Kami Dixon, tarah Wiltsie, Amy Speakman, Tara Bowser, Bethany Michaels, Whitney Fountain, Jenni Apodaca, Claire Hoops.



Juggling the ball helps Jessica Pitts with her technique. "Juggling," what soccer players call it is when you bounce the ball consecutively on your feet, thighs, or head. Jessica says, "she can juggle on her feet 300 times."

Whenever anyone talks about Trisha Gibbons she is always spoken of as a key player. Trisha has played on varsity for all of her four years. Starting out as a freshman, she looked up to her upper classmen, teammates. She ended her career with her teammates looking up to her.

Number One Fan

Team cheerleader, and biggest fan Julie Anne Harrison is always at every game. You can always hear her cheering on her daughter Emily Harrison. At the beginning of the season Emily broke her collar bone. By the end of the season Emily overcame the odds and finished out her senior year as a starter.

Is it the end? For many of these Seniors it is the end to their soccer careers, but for some their dreams are to play soccer in college. The seniors Amy Speakman, Jessica Pitts, Jenni Apodaca, Tia Bartek, Emily Harrison, Trisha Gibbons, and Clair Hoops brought a lot of heart, and talent to the soccer team and program.

Goal Keeper Jenni Apodaca practices her skills. She works hard on her technique, just like her teammates. Jenni has to be just as versitile out on the field , as she is guarding her team's goal.

Nice kick! Ashlie Brown practices her shooting technique. Ashlie's shooting practice came in handy this year, because she assisted, and scored many goals for her team.

First team pick for Washoe County School District and defender of the year, Trisha Gibbons dribbles the ball during a team practice. Trisha works hard to show opposing teams why she is a first pick.

Friends forever. When starting out playing soccer, Jessica Pitts and Tia Bartek were always competing against each other, on their AYSO teams. Now, nine years later the girls have learned how to compete together on the same team. After all those years of competing against each other they can finally call each other a teammate. Their friendship has grown over the years and is now stronger then ever, from playing on Varsity for all four years together.

Stepping it up... Amy Speakman puts in the extra effort to mensure that her soccer team will be successful in their season. Although scoring is important to soccer, the defense can often make or break a good game. "The desire to play the best that I can," said Speakman, when asked about why she continues to play. Many of the girls find themselves out on the field day after day, cold or hot because they just want to be the best.

Developing Basics

JV Soccer stresses the importance of

Soccer is a sport that requires a great deal of agility and dedication. These boys spend all their afternoons practicing to perfection. They go through a lot of vigorous and tough exercises to prepare themselves for an actual game. The practices consist of running miles, doing "mountains," and enduring tough criticism from their coach. The boys exhibited a tremendous amount of talent this season proving themselves to the school. Whether they were kicking goals, blocking balls or charging down the field, they always persevered and overcame any obstacle that came in their way. They came through this year with a great season and proved their dedication. This year was exceptional in all aspects for the team as they came together as a team.

Top 10 Memories

10. "My most memorable moment this year was bouncing the ball off the cross bar."
-Dallas Kester

9. "when I got to start."
-Brett Metter

8. "Running hills was the best moment ever!"
-Mitchell Moen

7. "Moving up to Varsity."
-Seth Geiger

6. "When I scored the first goal of the season against McQueen."
-Micah Bowser

5. "We the opposite team hit the ball into the goal and it hit my head and went out. Then we won."
-Jerad Pergrande

4. "Beating Elko 6-0 when they came to play us."
-Nick Diebel

3. "We on a run we caught a snake and carried it back to the field. The coach totally freaked.."
-Donald Otto

2. "The best part was the Elko trip. We had a great time."
-Tyssen Rogers

"Soccer is a game that invovles a lot of physical and mental strength," says Andrew Platon. "There are so many reasons I play, but mainly it'sr for the girls." The boys must be in top condition because it not easy to run continuously and know what to anticipate next. The players must be able to rely on their team mates to help make a winning game and season.

This year the boys had a great season. They came out on the top. Dedication and practice make a good team but another important factor is the coaching. The coach leads his team to victory by inspiring them and motivating them to do their best. These boys did and showed us their potential.

Soccer is the most played sport worldwide. Some many people love the game. Some like it because it's aggressive, other because it shows who they are. " It's the sport I like the most and I've always been good at it, "says Nicholas Diebel. There are just so many reasons soccer is played but the main one is mostly just for the love of the game.

Why We Choose To Play

"The reason I like soccer is because it's challenging by having the pefect defensive and offensive setup every time. Another is the aggressiviness and the adrenline. It's a way to have fun!"
-Tyssen Rogers

"Soccer makes me stronger and faster and every year I play I get better and better. It also helps me stay in shape for other sports. it's also great because every year I learn something new."
-Jerad Pergande

"I've been playing soccer since I was little, it just comes naturallly to me. Sooccer is my favorite sport of all times."

Being on a team involves a lot of commitment. Athletes most keep up their grades and be willing to travel to other areas to compete. They also most dedicate a lot of their time to practice and conditioning. An athlete's hard work and commitment always pays off in the big game. " In the game it gets aggressive and we get to take people out," said Christopher Scanlan. The players but know what's going on at all times and most importantly play as a team.

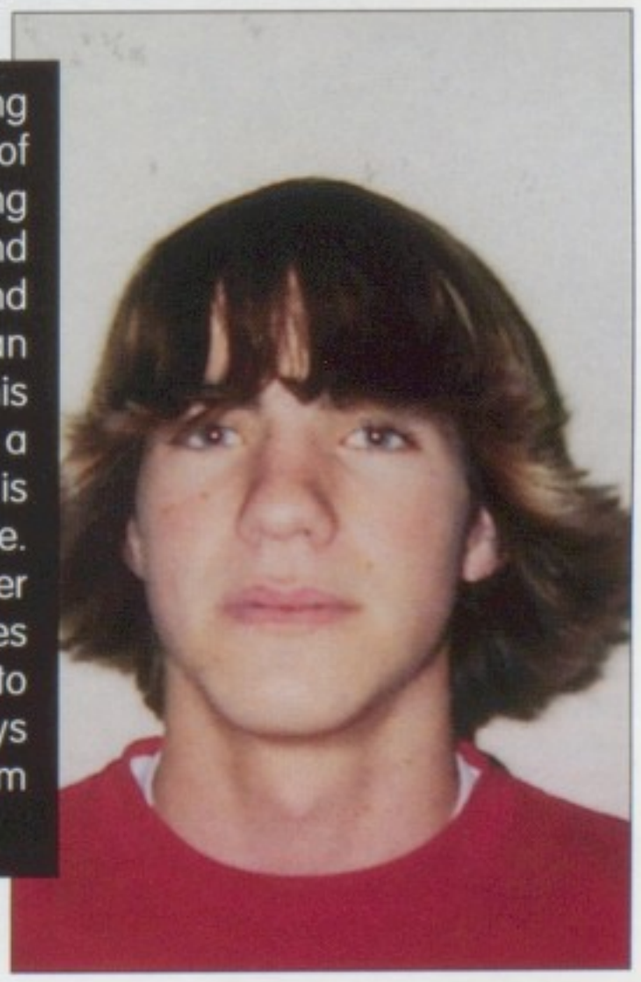
Not only is soccer a time consuming sport but it also involves a lot of endurance. The boys must be willing to under go hard conditioning and play as a team Their teamwork and dedication help them to have an amazing year and great team. "This year I think we did pretty well as a team," says Larin Moss. Teamwork is the most important part of the game. The boys must depend on each other to know what they're doing at all times and to anticipate what's going to happen next. This year the boys showed their ability to play as a team and to win.



Kickin It With The Boys

2003-2004 Boys Varsity Soccer

This years Boys Varsity soccer season was a season full of great victories and memories that will be remembered by these players for a life time. The season was a sucess that brought Reed all the way to the play offs. The team over came a great deal of difficult practices, from running the mountains to running all around sparks, plus countless drills all to have the stamina and vigor needed to run, kick and block the ball and keep up in the game. The players gained more than ball handling skills and experience, but friendships that you see as the players walk through the halls. These young men are some of the finest athletes to ever come out of Reed and their hard work is something the whole school can be proud of.

Why The season was good!

This When asked why this season was so good, Justin Dendary said "because our team started working together which will make us a lot stronger next year". What we can all learn from this is that the team unified to become one dispite any differences they may have had.

When asked why he thought this year's varisty soccer season was so good, Jeff Weagel had this to say. "The best thing about this season the the experience we gained as a team". This year the team came together to obtain the final skills necessary to achieve excellence on the field. The team's players can all agree that this year was important for team bonding.

GOAL!!!

This year's soccer season was a great victory for our school. Players we're excited about it from the begining. Josh Fye was excited about this season. "Being a senior made this soccer season cool. My best memory of the season was getting my first yellow card! [It] was great because I improved a lot on all of my ball handling skills."
The season was full of great memories for all the players. Lorin Moss said "My best part of this soccer season was seeing Scuba Steve score the winning goal against spanish springs. Yeah! S-C-U-B-A!" This year's season was obviously fun for all of the players.

"My favorite part of the soccer season this year was watching the JV team play"
-Jeff Heron

Players often have to change from offense to defense and are able to take a quick break, as shown at left.

"This year was a good season because we all got a great deal of experience."
-Matt King

Shown at left is a player who just blocked the ball from going out of bounds. He saved the team from a penalty!

Run, Kick and Block.

Score!

"The best part of this year's season for me, was all the fun all of us had as a team."

-Nico Valencia

Serve It UP!

2003 Frosh/JV Volleyball

Freshman volleyball had an exciting year filled with spikes and setups. It was an excellent first year for all of the young athletes, that contained plenty of new knowledgefor them to soak in and use on the court. The girls proved what they can accomplish if they put their minds together and work as one. Over the course of the season, the girls began to work together like a well oiled machine. The girl's teamwork was evident as they win most of their games. The vast majority of the plays in their games relied majorly on teamwork. One player would help with an assist, while another player would drive the ball over the net for a point. This is symbolic to how these young ladies came together to make a great team, and more importantly, great friends.

Katie Herzberg gets ready to spike serve the ball.

The techniques learned in practice help the girls reinforce their skills and help teamwork on and off the court.

Forming friendships makes the experience even better.

"I love volleyball, it's so much fun and I love working together with my teammates"

-Angelina Cardona

"My team is pretty good. I like building new friendships and strengthening the bond between me and my teammates."

-Rachael Morris

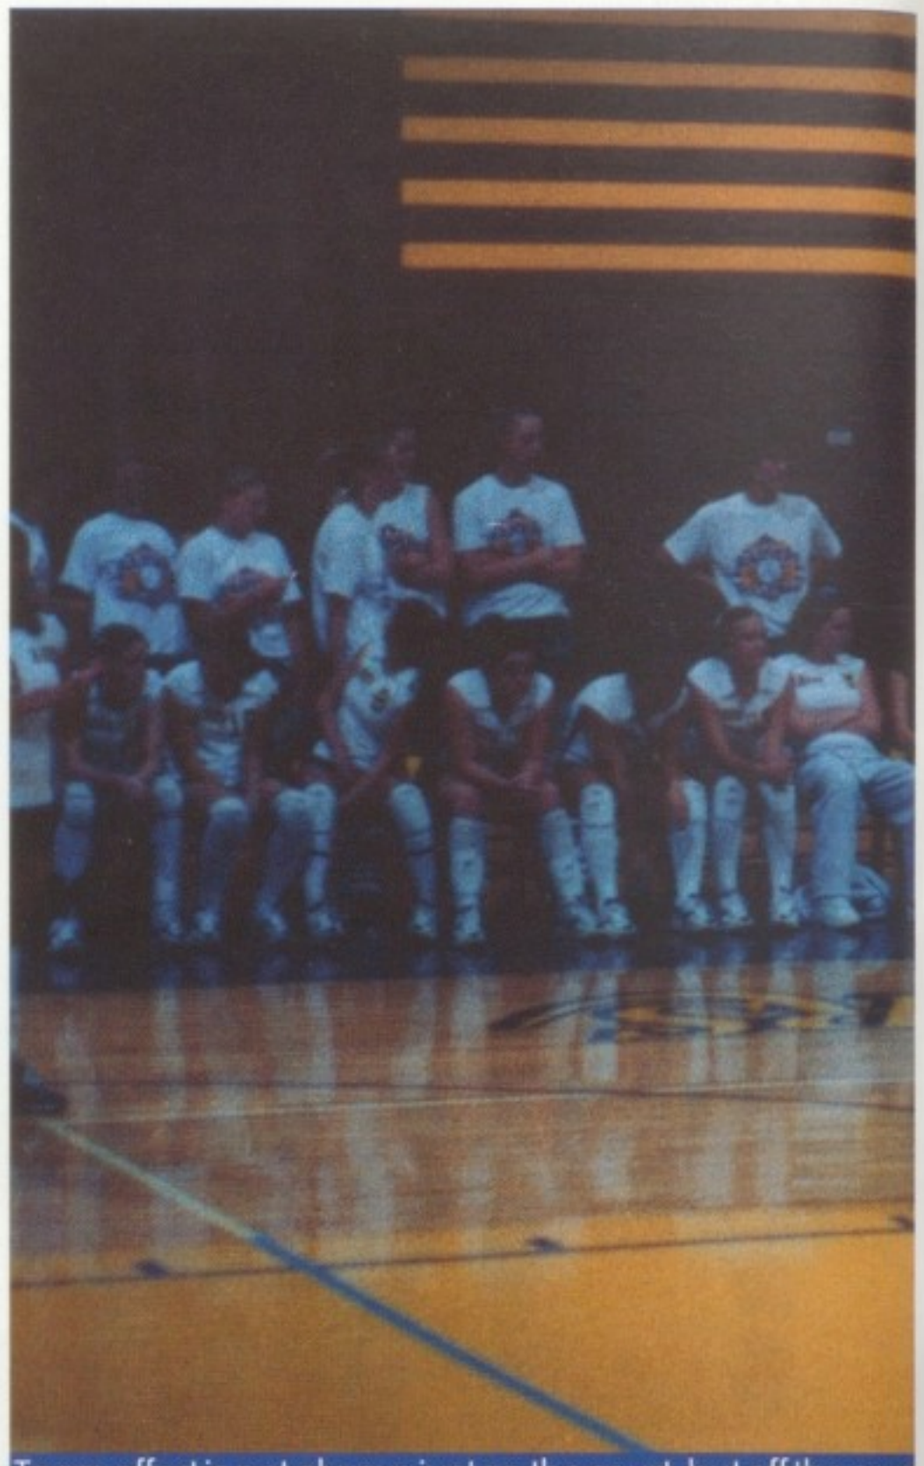
Volleyball made its first appearance to the world in 1895, when a man by the name of William G. Morgan created a game for his classes at the YMCA. Morgan wanted to create a game that would combine basketball, baseball, and tennis all in one. He also wanted the game to be less physically demanding than basketball. When Morgan first created this game it was called Mintonette, but was later changed to volleyball by an observer who was watching Morgans demonstration of the game , and suggested the new name. Today Volleyball has transformed into one of the biggest international sports. Teams from all around the world and country come together to compete in this game of quick reflexes, powerful hits and skillful maneuvers.



Team effort is not always just on the court, but off the cour as well. In this picture the varsity players watch and provide support the freshmen team.

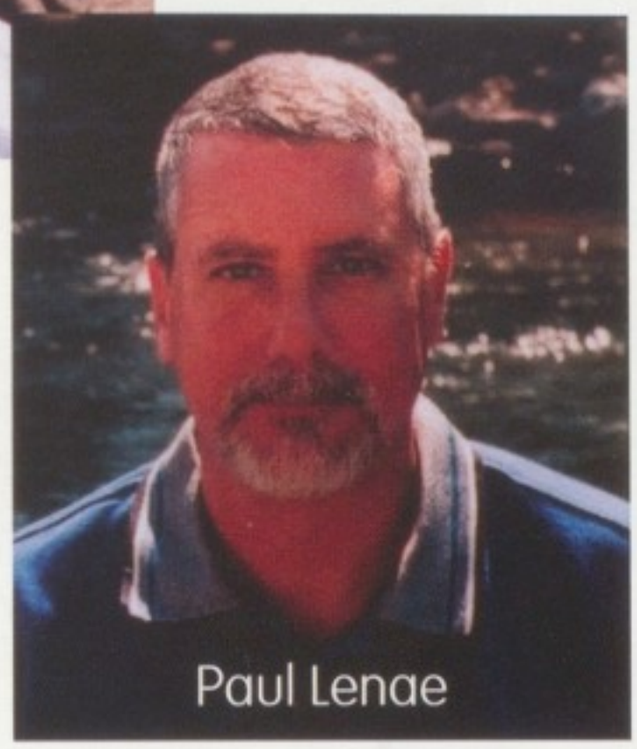
Coaches: Charlie Dyer, Paul Lenae.

"I was realy nervous on my first day. I looked at how all the other girls played and I was amazed. I like playing volleyball and it is something I could see myself doing in college."
- Jessica Hooft



Paul Lenae

Most people do not relate team success with coaching. In fact it is the coaches knoweldge and skills that are passed down to the girls on the team. Most girls on the team decribe coach Lenae as a great coach who knows a lot about volley ball.

Pictured to the left is Katie Hogue. She is decribed by some of her team mates as a powerful hitter; however, she is not the only Hogue on the tea, her sister Lindsey is on the team as well. Pictured to the right is Brittany Hall whom is said to be a crutial part of the team.

There is more to volleyball than hitting and spiking a ball. Volleyball players have to be at the top of their game. Quck refexes and swift movements are just some skills that these players need to be victorious. As shown in the picture to the right players do laps to make sure that they are in top condition for their games.

Drills are an imperative part of practice. The girls must practice to get it just right especially in a game as fast moving as volleyball. The coaches drill the girls constantly to make sure that they are ready for their games. The girls must be ready to handle any situation and must always be ready for anything. In this picture Lindsey Hogue demonstrates to the rest of the team what it means to be at the net and ready. They must be able to react to any situation and the must be able to do it fast.

In volley ball it is important for the players to be able to hit hard . They must be able to spike the ball hard enough so that the other players can not return it. This can not always be an easy task. These girls must always rely on their teammates to set them up quickly and correctly. Trust is important because they have to work together to get it just right.. Communication is imperative because they must all be aware of what one another is doing so that they know has the volleyball and where it is going at all times

Sack, Tackle and Drop.

Nothing compares to the drop

Football. The point is to score more than the other team. That's just a general idea, but it's so much more. Football is about competition, being better. Being the best. Here we play for fun, but there is always that feeling that we need two be better. We need to be the best. Football players are just like everyone else. They are students trying to do well in class and excelling at football. They have to keep up their grades just as much as the rest of the student popultaion. But they show their school spirit a little differently then everyone else, they show it out on the football field. They give it all they have and they work together in order to achieve their goal of being the best. Whether it's in the classroom or on the field these players strive to be #1. A true American sport.

Jerel Clark, Chris Citra, Nathan Tremain, Quin Hooper get ready to flip the coin against the other team.

Staying hydrated

Frank Maufredonia Jr. stays hydrated to help him perform in the game.

As a team the freshman football players strive to show everyone what they are made of. Cameron Lacy getting a drink. Sonny Grewal scores a touchdown. Colton Lawson blocks another player. Matt Moerdick takes a rest after a play.

Brett Gard tries to block the opposing team. Though football is mostly a contact sport, many participants would agree that it is a mental game.

The players have to always pay attention because if they don't then they could get into trouble.

Kyle McHenry is running it in for a first down

Nate Weeden is inspired by Coach Howren, Coach Burg, and Coach Coombs to teach him how to become a great football player. "I'm waiting" thinks Matt Cooper as he awaits a pass. Tackling is an important skill in football no matter what level you are. It helps when you're offense and defense. As the opponent swamps Nate Weeden he has to think fast as to where to pass the ball.

Tackling is a very important part of football because it helps keep their opponents from scoring.

The players are in the official huddle getting some advice from the coach. Teamates help each other out. Here are some players tackling to help the team to victory.

Even in the summer the players practice hard for the upcoming season. Ulysses Marshall has been playing for six years because it is the love of his life.

Legal Violence

King of contact sports....

Friday nights there is only one place to be, and that's at the football field. It's the best part of starting school. Players practice everyday and this year it really paid off. We were in a triple tie for first place up until the playoff games. Not only was it the best season for the last ten years it was also a awesome way for the senior football players to leave the field. Most players would agree that they were sad the season was over and wished they were still playing. Football isn't just about the violence, it's about the lifelong friendships between the players, it's the feeling of having the chance of winning against teams like Elko and McQueen, and it's the joy from the crowd felt by the players on the feild during a game.

Best Practice

"My favorite practice was when Ilayed out Tyler Gray," said Britt Hastings

Memorable Win

"Our best victory was against Elko because it was the season turnaround," said Patrick Freeman

Dedication

Brandon Edgington's drive to play even when he was sick labels him one of the most dedicated players.

Senior Memories of the year...

Tyler Gray

Grade: Senior

Story: It's not just a game. Future strong safety players will have some large cleats to fill when they step onto the field. Tyler Gray wasn't only a great player this year but also for the three years prior. "My best memory of the year was laying out Jeff Baker on a punt return," Gray said.

Josh Young

Grade: Senior

Story: There is always that game that everyone remembers. Josh Young said the game to remember this year was, "when we beat Elko for the first time in seven years. Even though I was hurt I could see the team stop playing as individuals and came together as a team."

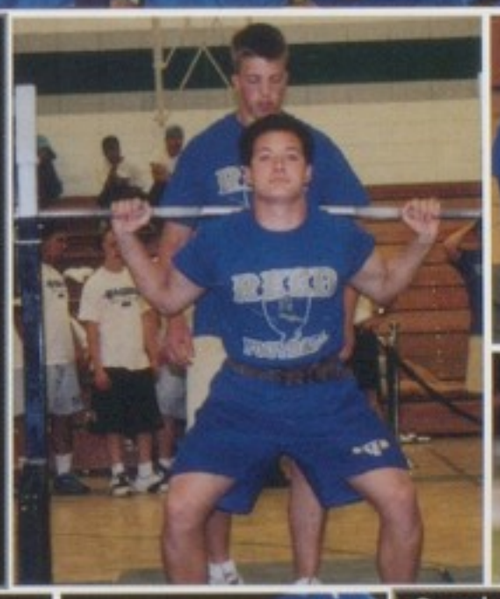
Ryan Abraham

Grade: Senior

Story: Learning from alumni players, Ryan Abraham descusses the game with the previous player, Jeff Stump. Abraham has played football all four years of high school as tight end. Thoughout the season Abraham has defined his best memory as, "laying out Bill Walsh two times."

Kevin Picollo warming up before the game against South Tahoe. AJ Flock, Zach Stromberg,, and Cody Engebretson are seen together frequently on and off the field.

John Feeney participated in the summer weight lifting compitition. He is being spotted by Ryan Abraham and Bill Walsh. in the two photos. Sean Sims, #4, prepares to run into opposing teams after the punt.



Coach Combs tells the next play to the defense players. Chris Partridge gets on the headset for a short period of time to receive messages from the coaches in the box that can see the plays being preformed by the opposing team better. After knowing this the coaches on the field are able to prepare a better defense.

Cross country doesnt mean that you actually have to cross the country

Need directions?

Being in cross country doesnt mean that you actually have to cross the country-although it may sometimes feel like you have. Cross country is a sport in which you test something other than your body-you test you mind. Now, dont take this the wrong way, cross country runners still have to have the body to run the miles they run. They train everyday, and run miles on end, but along with the physical type of training comes the mental training. Runners have to be able to withstand long days of running in order to win meets, they have to train their minds to be able to withstand the exhaustion the body endures. To be on the team you have to be able to run miles against a clock. Unlike track, there are no cheers coming from the stand, because you are miles away from the nearest fan, it is only you, your mind, and the ground beneath you.

Warm Up

Warming up is extremely important to all runner, especially cross country though since they have to run so far. Pictured -Brynna Nichols

Mile One

The first mile is always the easiest, the runners can breathe and they are full of enegery. Pictured -Bryce Barker

Mile Two

By mile two, most runners are begining to feel the effects of their journey-the trick is to keep your mind on your task at hand. Pictured -Natasha Daniels

Finish Line

The finish line is the envy of every runners eye. As soon as they soon the finish line they kow that their jounry has come to an end. Pictured -Brittany Spangler and Aubery Hadley

Throughout the year Charlie Moses has put all of his effort out to be and excellent distance runner. Which is exactly what it takes to be a cross country runner.

Then:

Remember back in the days. Well you should, this is where it all started for Charlie Moses. Most importantly he stuck with it all four years.

Running in circles, I think not.

Strecthing is very important to runners. Did you know that most of them spend just as much time stretching as they do running, sometimes even more. Brittany Spangler, Jessica Burk, Kellie Brown and Chauncey McLaughlin

Cross country runners run about three miles every race. Chauncey McLaughlin is running to here milemark and can you believe that she still has a smile on her face.

Brittany Spangler had one of her best seasons this year. Who knows if it is just because of her last or because this year she worked and trained her hardest.

As a team it very important to have friends, and to be friends with everyone. It doesn't matter if you win the race, it just matters that you finished. Priceless moments like these, we definitly owe to our friends. That is why cross country had such a great year. Pictured Brynna Nichol and Susan Paterson.

Ready...Set...Play

As sports evolved, so did equipment

Sports equipment! The many tools athletes use to carry out their everyday hustle, sweat, blood and tears. Athletes use their athletic amor to either protect them or enhance their ability to be succesful. A football player will where shoulder pads to take on the Railroaders of Sparks High. Basketball players use the basketball to go and score the winning shot in overtime to win a close game. All these events and more lead to wonderful moments for the athletes, but it all starts with the equipment. The articles used or needed for a specific purpose. Providing what is needed to take care of the athletes and take care of the opposing teams that go against the Raiders. Though talent is everything when it comes to the athlete, sports would not be what they are without the equipment that has become so famous.

With the enhancement of technology the swimsuit was designed for a swimmer to be faster in water. The suit gives a tremendous advantage for the athlete. With the water being colder, the suit be two sizes smaller,the goggles clinching to your face and the caps cutting off your circulaton. It may seem that it could be uncomfortable, but the athletes enjoy the competion and the excitement of the sport. The athletes even have their say in what they think about their equipment. "It looks better than it feels," said Jodie Garrison, swim team athlete.

The eqipment room is where it starts. Sneakers, air pumps, balls, rackets, protective masks, flags, and catchers mits. The lists goes on and on. Equipment goes way back. Basketballs use to have laces. The athletes would use the laces to direct the way in which the ball would go in the basket. Many people may not take into consideration as to what all kinds of equipment are used for, but hey are all useful items as to what sport it pertains to. Every person has played with a special kind of sport equipment. Equipment can be handy like a pair of football pads, or maybe even potective swimming goggles to keep chlorine out of your eyes. No matter what, people use all kinds of sports equipment can be handy. "I love the football particularly, a great piece of equipment i would use. I love carrying it ad throwing it." Explains Artis Johnson. Participaing in football, basketball, and track this athlete knows the equipment used for handy situation. As a dedication to sports equipment many athletes are appreciative of all the equipment used for each and every sport.

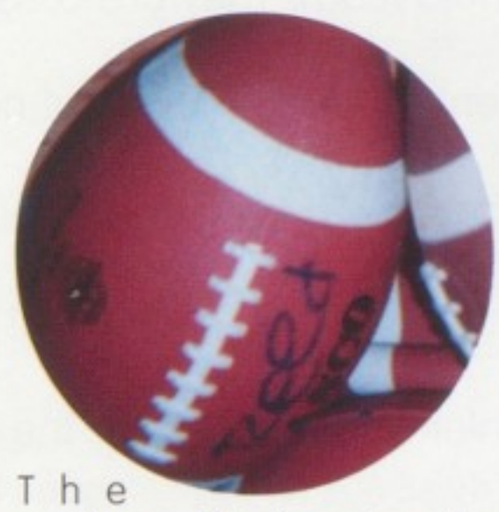
Volley ball the wonderful sport that is all about the competiton of who can jump the highest to spike the ball, and challenge the opponent at who's the best. The ball itself is designed for the wrist action needed to hit the ball. Though volleyball is one of the less spectator sport, the white ball has bounced its way into American's hearts over the last few years.

Everyone knowns what a basketball is...when we were all little it was one of the few balls we were aloud to play with on the playground. A rather useful piece of equipment is a basket. Which can be used to carry other types of eqipment, like golf balls, and other small materials. The basket is a handy piece of equipment. Always capable for lots of eqipment.

Soc- cer balls are used for one of the most athletic sports to play. The ball can go high in the air, and shoot across the field quickly. With it's tremendous speed and velocity; it's desigened to be the perfect ball for this particular sport. Even the athltes enjoy themselves with the particular soccer ball. The black and white checkered ball is now known throughout the world.



The equipment that makes the desicision of who's going to win the game. People always refer to the catch, the throw, the toss, even the carry. Yes the football. The quipment of legends that have touched the so called "rock". "It's my favorite piece of equipment, and it goes along with my favorite sport. I use to carry one around the house when I was little." said Michael Smith

The tennis ball. The ball everyone uses as an useful item. A n object to use for walkers, driveways, Chew toys and wall games such as Butts-Up, and also the famous game itself. Tennis the sport of many.

"I love the sound it makes when the ball hits the glove- then you know you did something right," said Jodie Garrison. As a tournament softball player wh enjoys playing the exciting sport.

One of the most relaxing sports, golf all begins with the tiny object that is hit in the game. As the first rubber ball invented; the golf ball is always a great part of equipment for a relaxing sport.

The great Wiffleball or Pickleball is a great piece of equipment for such games as pingball and other games involving nets.

Coaching Memories

The Brains of the Game.

Coaches are the heart of any sport. They are the driving force that makes the calls and establishes unity through out the whole team. They are constantly promoting self improvement for every individual no matter how much talent you have or lack. It is these people who we owe for all of the victories and hardships that mold some of our schools finest athletes. Coaches drive the athletes to achieve great things on the field, court or where ever the sport may take place. Coaches are the people who make sure every athlete is in shape for the game and ready to win another game for Reed. One more great attribute coaches have is how much they care not only for the game, but for the people who play them.

No one has dedicated more hard work this fall than Coach Ernie Howren. As head football coach, Howren led the rough riding football team to six and four regular seson with one loss in a play-off game. Coach Howren new that he was going to put in a hard earned effort this season by grabbing some of the most talented coaches. He worked night and day putting in full time to make his boys better. "Never settle" is the famous quote by the "Big Guy". Howren also dedicated hi time to having a better knowledge of the game. by studying films and certain schemes to outsmart his opponents. "ill tell ya what, nothing makes me happier than being here with these kids every year". The football program has truly developed into one of the best in the past few years. He truly has been an inspiration among the players in the school, being a head football coach and also athletic weights trainer. He puts in all he's got. Creative, intellectual,and pun are least of words to describe Coach Ernie Howren.

Ms. Williams, coaches girls soccer. She givs her job 100%, letting her soccer girls know that she is proud of them. Coah Williams explained how what she thought being rewarded as coach meant to her. "It's rewarding to see kids realize and reach their goals". I'm sure she knows she done her job to see that.

Mr. Coach Givani is also a famous girls basketball coach. The coach beieves in hard work, dedication, and responsibility. " my favorite part about coaching is the experince of working with kids and watching them grow". Givani quotes. " Ther e couldn't be a better job.

Coach Lenae, girls volleyball coach is dedicated in being the brains of the game. " I thought with the adversity our kids went through a this year, with putting three people and playing out of position; I thought our team excelled and did a great job playing with adverse condition". Coach Lenae proves that you must crawl before you can walk to be one of the best.

Coach Sean Han(head freshman football coach) is all about leadership and confidence. In his first year of coaching he proved he could be successful with a group of kids.that needed a new learning experince with the change of middle school to high school, and also the change from pop warner football to the bine bruising of high school football.

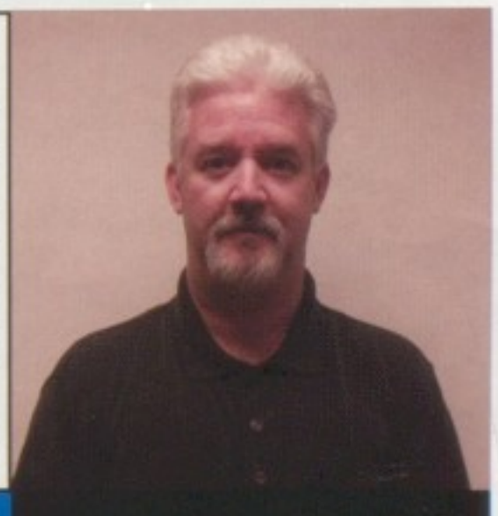
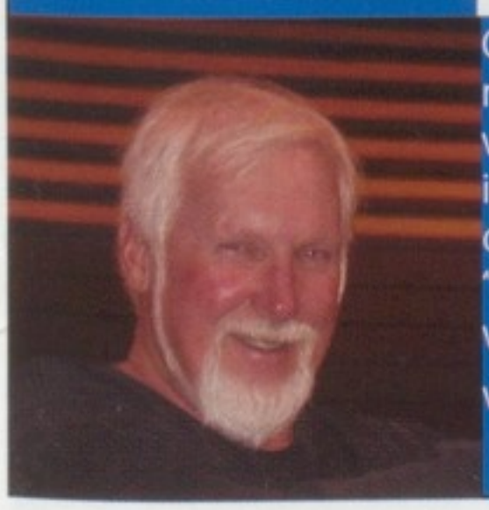
"Competion at and being involved with the kids."Is what Coach Staggs (pictured right) thinks is his favorite thing about coaching. He's a girls basketball coach. " competion is key and these kids".



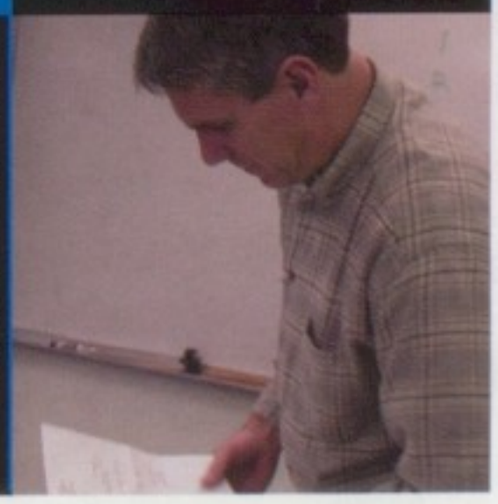
Coach Charlie Dyee (pictured below) is a girls volleyball coach. He really knows his tatics about the game as to which he loves to coach.

Coach Bart Vandamme (pictured left), who also is a soccer coach that loves the game and what it has done for the learnig experince of the kids and the advantage he's had learning about them



Coach Fitzpatrick (pictured right) of the girls golf team, where he is dedicated to making the team successfull. "It's all fundamentals," said "Fitz". "Working on the little things is what counts, crawl before you walk."

Paul Gray (pictured right) is the head coach of the boys' Varsity basketball team. He contributes long hours every season to make the team better. " Let's just say he has the brains for the game," exclaimed Tyler Denham.



Dancin' in the streets

Dance and cheer have a lot in common

The freshman cheerleaders and the dance team all work very hard. They both spent four days cheering and dancing at a camp in Davis, California. This was an experience that neither could ever forget. They bonded and learned how to work as team. The dance team feels that teamwork and having faith in one another helps them to look their best. The cheerleaders encourage eachother in order to build a better and stronger team. Both know the importance of friendship and cooperation and how it can make or beak a team. They respect eachothers individual abilities and talent, while knowing that they all hold powerful, but very different roles in their teams. The dance and freshman cheerleading teams are all proud to support and show spirit for our school.

Dance Team: Kimberly Marchant, Niki Podner, Mary Gallagher, Anna Mosher, Jackie Pardini, Jena Carico, Sarah Snyder, Kesiena Onosigho

When united these girls succeed together. They dance as one beat and one rhythm. All must have an exact count or their whole performance is off. Team effort really defines this sport. If one is not there then it is obvious in the teams performance. All girls must be aware of what the others are doing or else they will not succede.

Dancing is a skill and talent that takes many hours of practice to achieve perfection. Many people can dance, but these dacers can dance extremely well. They practice two times a week. Dancin is not something that can be learned overnight and some would even go as far as saying that you are born with the talent.

DANCE THE NIGHT AWAY

Kimberly Marchant

Kimberly Marchant is a truely unique dancer. She has been dancing for about eight years now and is currently doing jazz and ballet. She has been on the dance team for th last three years. Kim says that being on the team has taught her a lot. She enjoys practicing with the other girls on the team, and explains that even though there are personality conflicts on the team, in the end they all are friends.

Mary Gallagher

Mary Gallagher is an extremely talented dacer who is full o f rythmic beats and a willingness to dance. even out of practice she can be found dancing. She is exremely talented and has a lot to offer to the team. She is a dedicated person who brings a lot of enthusiasm and energy to the team. Mary definately defines the word dancer and what ist is like to hold a beats

Anna Mosher is a talented dancer with a lot to offer to the team. She demonstrates that s positive attitude and a willingness to work with others is the key to success. She practices hard to make sure that she is at the top of her game.

There are many different styles of dancing. These girls perform all differents styles of dancing. Many of these girls have been dancing for years and have developed their own styles of dancing. These girls offer various types of dancing to the team and help to make this team interesting and fun. Together they blend in many dancing styles from other cultures that make this teama one of a kind. The girls make working together as one look easy.

Performing can be a little nerve racking, but this team shows just how eassy it is to dance together. They alll must come together and follow one beat. They must all depend on one another to get it down or else their whole rythm is thrown off. Often they go beyond just the regular after school practice, and practice on their own time. For some of the girls it is their hope to become a professional dancer. Dancing to them is not just going to a dance or a club, but rather an art form that will take them to places they want to go .

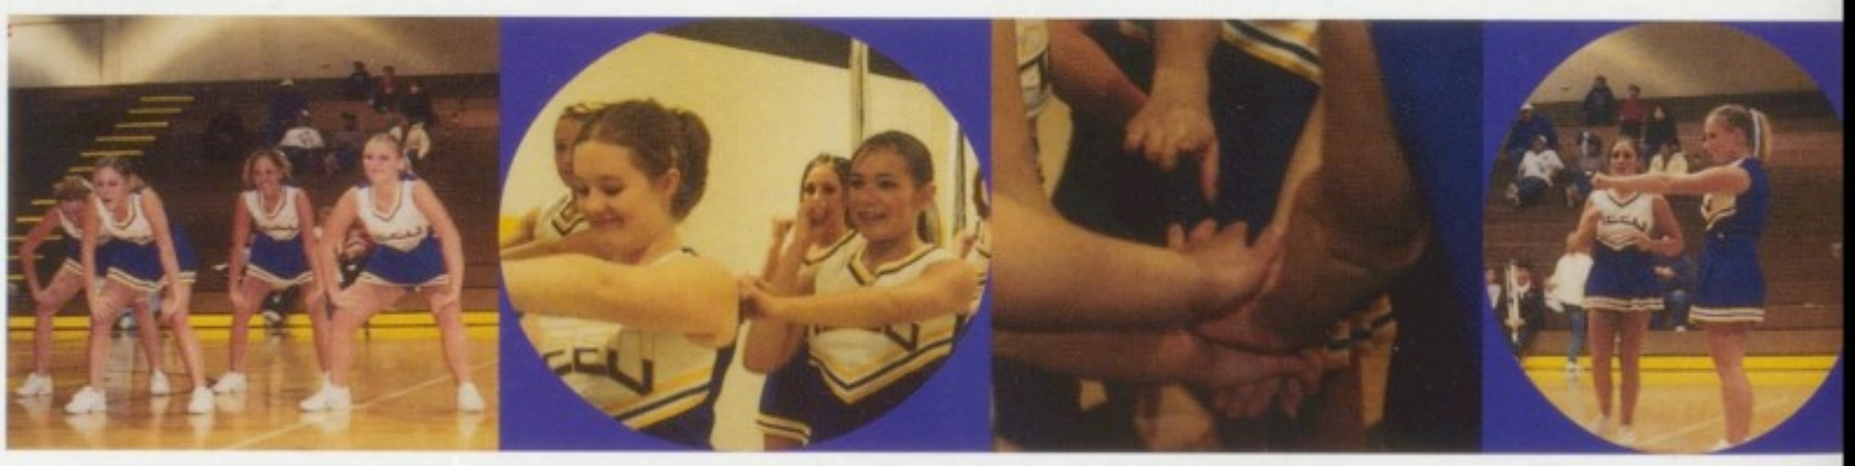
Pump, pump, pump it into gear...

Cheerleading is a very hard sport contrary to what others may think. The squad has to practice sharp moves and remember what order they go in. When competing it is necessary to have good, hard, strong stunts to show what they've got. In order to have high jumps, they must have strong legs. This takes hours of rigorous training and conditioning. As cheerleaders they have to have loud voices. That's were all the spirit is. The squad can't forget all the new friends and fun this interesting sport has brought. These girls are out there to show spirit, have a ton of fun, and hang out with possibly there closest friends or a new friend that has made life fun!

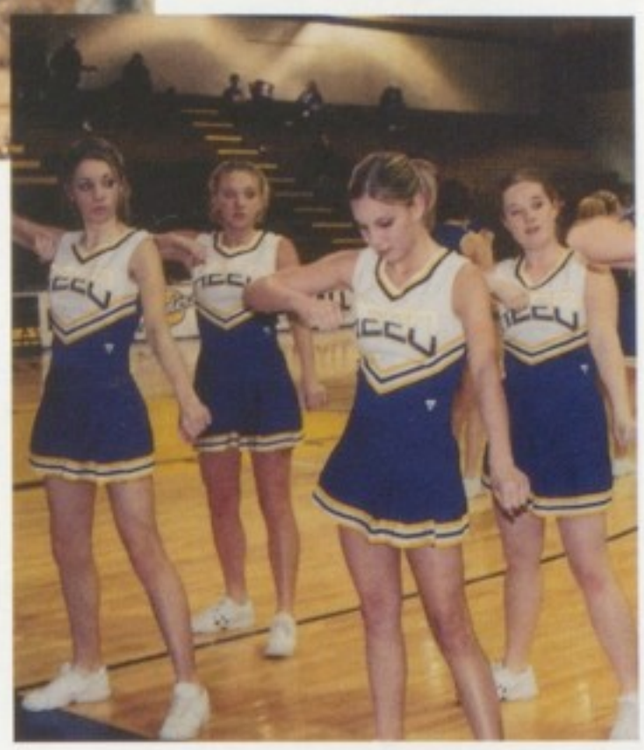
The girls wait for their chance to sho what they've got!

Cheerleaders practice hard on their excellent stunts, so when they show what they have, it's better than the best! Practice makes the cheerleaders what the are. Spirit is all in the group. Stunts, dances, cheers, they do it all.



JV Cheer squad: Emily Fairchild, Ashley Escovedo, Cristal Richardson, Cassie Hamand, Kayla Bushee, Jessica Lehmann, Danielle Curtis, Marriah Barkley, Nichole Joslyn, Kassy Taylor, Tara Thompson, Krystle Madina

Emily Fairchild has a happy face even when she's not out performing. This shows the personality of a true cheerleeder; happy, perky, and a great althlete! She's always there to cheer on her team.



They always check their feet posistion and hand movements to make sure they are up to shape. They need to be perfect when the time comes to show what they have for the team. They keep everyone perked up and excited about the game.

Five

It takes five of the usually twelve cheerleaders to make the stunt safe and fun to watch. They have a flyer and another cheerleader to catch her when she falls back down. Stunts make the spectators excited to see what is in store for them in the following quarters.

Here the cheerleaders keep the crowd cheering for the team. Cheerleaders have that ability to make everyone around them pepped up and happy to be there. Their smiles go around and make every else smile along with them. Being a cheerleader everyone goes to you for a good time.

Cheerleaders cheer but they also dance. There is nothing they can't do! From cheering the team on to dancing the night away they do both good. The girls love to pose and this cute team picture shows how cute they are! The girls work so hard on the stunts that you really can't compare them to anything else. They keep our school spirit up and keep us at the game. Marriah Barkley gets ready to jump and she puts a lot of determination into the sport she loves.

Marriah Barkley and Kassy Taylor are friends because of cheerleading. They came from two different middle schools and at first didn't like each other, but one trip to Marriah's house fixed that. They ate rice and talked and soon found out that they made a great pair as cheerleading friends. They spend all their time together, whether it's cheering or just hanging out, they always have fun being together.

Now that's what I call spirit. Spirit day is a favorite home coming tradition for the whole school, but especially for the cheerleaders. As Nicki Joslyn shows her school spirit by painting herself from head to toe! She even has her hair in her class graduation year (2006). You can spot her from the top of the bleachers. At the school assembly for home coming the cheerleaders sure do show their school spirit even without the paint!

Go, Fight, Win...

We've got spirit, so lets hear it...

Cheerleaders are the people there at every game dedicated to cheering our school's athletes to victory. They show a great amount of school spirit every chance they get and encourage crowds at games to cheer along with them. The energy from the crowd and cheerleaders are felt by the players and pushes them to strive for a win. Cheerleaders do a lot of extreme stunts that require a great deal of choreography and dedication. The flyers have to trust the bases to catch one them after being tossed several feet in the air. Cheerleaders stick by their team whether they are winning or losing because Cheerleaders are completely dedicated to the school. It is their encouragement that is one of the many driving forces to strive for excellence during the last seconds of a game.

Go Speed Racers!

Tearing up the slopes...

Heart, technique, commitment, and being able to ski through some of the harshest weather conditions, are some of the key ingredients to being a great ski team member. The team always practices hard, and will leave you in the dust if you can't keep up with them. They are dedicated in making themselves better skiers. Everyone on the team has skied for many years, and always keeps improving. Not only is skiing a technical sport but it is also fun. Anything can happen on the mountain. It's an intense sport leaving the skiers sore, and stiff the day after a hard race. The team's encouragement towards each other always helps bring them closer together.

Putting on their gear Kelly Brown, R.J Haffke, Michele Hoefer, Adam Tuttle, Derek Cleveland canbefound before practices, and races putting on their gear. By wearing their gear it keeps them safe incase they catch their edge and tumble down the hill.

Mr. Peterson shows the students on his team how to ski like a pro! Skiing for many years has helped him in developing his coaching techniques.

Sharp turns, speed, and heart always shows in Ian Binks's skiing. He always practices hard, but still has fun.

Kaitlyn Brown uses her speed to race down the mountain. When you watch her ski, her technique is always noticed. Her speed and technique has qualified her in a position to race against the best in the state. As this is her last year on the team, she will be incredibly missed.

Team captains Kellie Brown R.J. Haffke, and Kaitlyn Brown, ride up on the ski lift together. They have been on the ski team for all of their four years in high school. They are proud to be the leaders of their team, and always give encouragement to their teammates. From their encouragement they help push their team to victories.

Derek Cleveland narrowly escapes through the gates with a perfect angle at the up coming gate. Darek has been a skier for the team for the last two years. He has become recognized by the schools of northern Nevada and his coaches as a potential state qualifier as a sophomore. Darek had a good season as a freshman, but hopefully this could be his best season. Under the coaching of Mr. Anderson and the great leadership of the seniors Derek will be one of the better skiers to come through Reed.

The perfect turn. Miranda Gledhill makes a sharp turn around the gates. She focuses on her technique. Her heart and determination helps her during her races. She dedicates her weekends to practicing.

Kaitlyn Brown stops to pose for the camera, before hitting the slopes. She has been on the ski team for four years, and is one of the team's captains. She has also been a State qualifier, representing her team for two years.

In the dust. Adam Tuttle leaves his opponents in the dust. His powerful starts from the starting block always help him at the end of his race. Not only is he competing against his own personal time, he is competing against other school's times. His competitive drive always helps him finish with an incredible time. Only being a sophomore Adam has many years to improve his time. His dedication to the sport makes him improve every race.

Just coasting. Ali Conkey takes a break from an intense practice to have some fun. Although skiing can be stressful on the body, it still in an exhilarating sport.

As last years national champions The Rifle Team is reloading for another wonderful year. Competing against teams and battalions from throughout the state and the nation. Shooting is a very strenuous sport, with only three different positions to shoot in. Off hand which is standing, kneeling position, and prone which is the laying position. Being in shape is also a key ingredient to shooting well, so the team prepares by doing muscle building and cardio exercises. But not just ROTC cadets have the opportunity to be on the rifle team it is open to other people throughout the school as well.

Top 10 Memories

10. " The tingling feeling in your feet after the kneeling position."
-Tyler Idland

Girls JV and Frosh Basketball

Girls JV and Frosh basketball is a very competitive and agressive thing to watch. These young ladies exhibit a great deal of talent and love for the game as they put up with all of the challenges that will come along with being on the team. During practice they endure hard running drills up and down the court, do push-ups to the point of exhaustion, and also execute a number of shooting and passing drills. During the games, the team always comes with their game faces on and dominate the other team with all of their hard work and talent. This year both frosh and JV showed a great deal of friendship and teamwork that is sure to pay off for them for the years to come.

Take it to the hoop

Varsity Basketball knows how to

The great ending to a great season; Girls varsity basketball ended the season with a action-packed game at Lawlor in the Nevada State semi-finals. The team has been through many ups and downs. From practicing intensly, to winning important games, this team knows the importance of staying together. With a very young team, the girls have a very good shot of staying powerful for the next several years and being a dominant force in Northern Nevada Basketball. "You can't have nothing without something," said Kelsey Wallace, one of the seniors on the team, and this team sure does know about giving it something. Overall, the team did well and though they didn't win state, they did win a great experience along the way.

For Fun

One reason to play- to have fun!

Competition

Third reason to play- to keep the tradition of competition up.

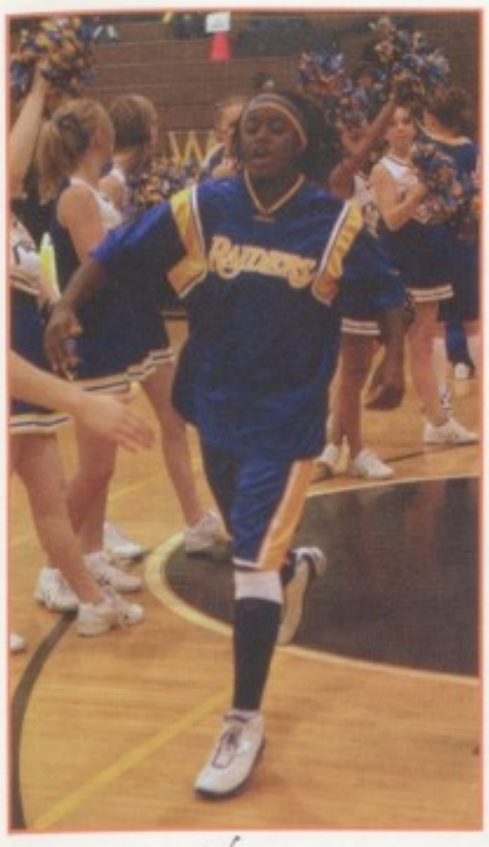
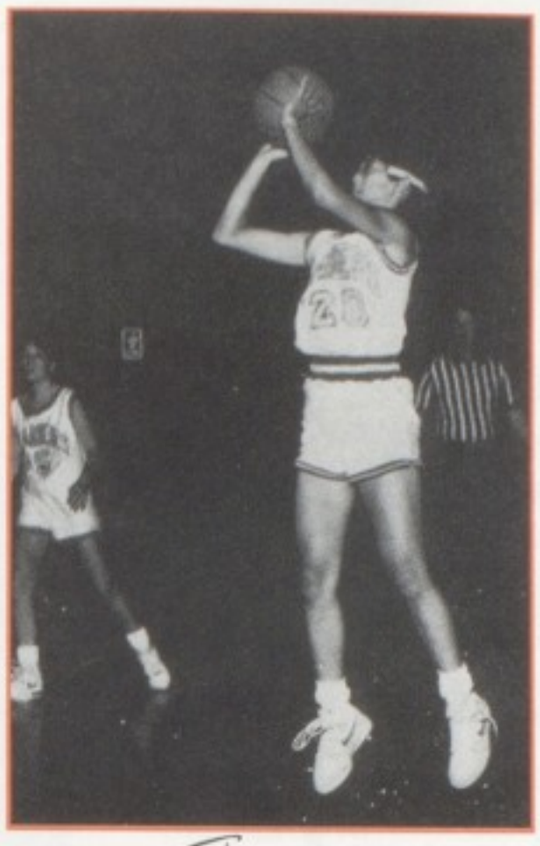
Below: Erica Maldonado gets set up to take the shot. "My most memorable moment was going to San Diego with the best team ever."

Above: Maria Moore keeps the ball under control... "On my free time, I play basketball and go to the movies," said Moore.



Now:

Girls basketball is just as important as the boys; especially in a season like both of our teams have had.



Then:

Girls basketball got very little publicity in the 1970's when Reed first opened.

Brittany Moore hits a three pointer! Moore's skills as a shooter have been much valued throughout the season, especially in the very close playoff games at Spanish Springs and the state semi-final game at Lawlor.

Tip off! Sara Johnson keeps the Raiders on the attack with her great jump skill.

Ready for battle... Hannah Bellows gets in position for the game. "In my free time, I like to play basketball and talk on the phone," said Bellows.

Coaching is a major key... Richard Shaw has been coaching for the past ten years, and this year was one of the best. "I fufilled my dream by taking a team to state," Shaw said. He's seen here, giving a few words of encouragement to Raveon Harrowa and the rest of the team.

Raveon Harrowa reaches up for the rebound. Hannah Bellows keeps off the Galena offense.

Ashley Keefer passes to a teammate who is lined up for the shot. "Life is short, so go all out," said Keffer. Brittany Moore blocks the opposition.

Keeping up the offense and the defense... Hannah Bellows and Maria Moore hold up both ends of the game.

It's How You Play!

It's not if you win or lose...

Hard work, dedication, and motivation... These are the key components to a successful basketball team. The boys strive for perfection in every aspect of the game, if not achieved the fact that they give it a 110% makes all of the difference. The hours and sweat put into practicing and playing takes a lot of endurance and commitment. The boys practice many hours a day running drill after drill to perfect the skills they need to be the team they have become. Team work is a major aspect in the game of basketball. The shots would not be made and the points would not be scored without the passing and team effort . The boys must be willing to work together and pull together as one to create a well done season

A key component in basketball is of course the defense. Pictured left, after rebounding the ball, Gene Harry (JV) takes the ball back down to the Raiders side of the court. As well as above Gene Harry(JV) calls the formation, while taking the ball down the court, to his other attentative teammates. When it comes to basketball... The sport also involves unspoken communication. That of which involves practice to accomplish such a thought.

Watching the ball after a free throw.

Kevin Rasellini says, "My goal for this year is to go undefeated in our league."

Bryce trying to get by the opponent.

Horsin' around! While they think no one is looking, we caught these freshman boys messing around at practice. "It's nice to have a group of friends who you play basktball with," said Kevin Rasellini.

Of course the main component in basketball is making and being able to take the shots. The boys JV team did just that. They got to their positions; theyfulfilled their duties; and 'the last man standing' takes the shot. Pictured left a JV team member, Cameron Sexton, is counted on to make a shot, after being fouled, to tie up the game against Spanish Springs.

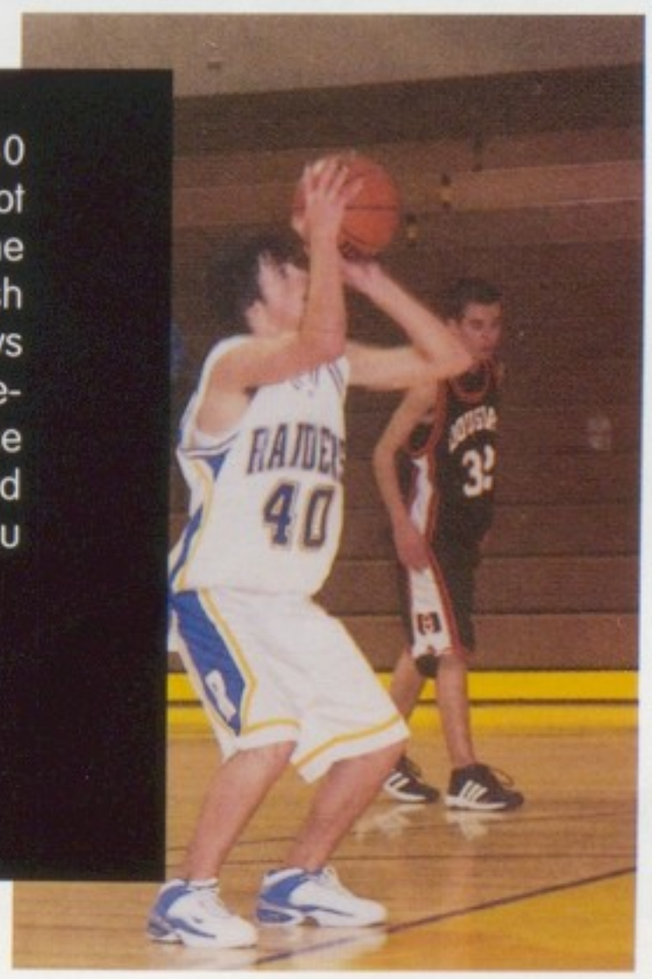
Who's open, who's open. That is what number 20 Robbie Huerga (fresman) is thinking as he looks around for someone that he could pass the ball to.

Basketball takes quick thinking, and smart moves at that... Pictured right Artis Johnson(JV) is doing just that. He scans through his teammates and selects the one who obtains the most oppotunities.

Shane Sobrio (freshman) is passing the ball to another teamate during practice. Shane's favorite game from the season was when they played fallon because he scored 14 points.



Josh Swenski number 40 (freshman) gets ready to shoot for another point to help the team win. After a foul Josh makes a point! Free- throws are one of the most nerve-racking moments, because everybody's waching you and your team is depending on you to score. -

It's Not Just A Game

For some it's a way of life...

To these elite athletes the saying "it's just a game" is a complete lie. The boys on the varsity basketball team think that basketball is a game that you strive to win . Some of them will go on to play in college, while others just want to be involved in the school during their high school years. Unlike previous years there is a family like environment on and off the court. Transfer, Garret Reid said, " I came to this team because we play together." Team work is essential to any sport. The basketball team has worked hard together during practice and games creating a complete trust between the players. Dedication from the players is apparent in how much the seniors have improved since their first games as freshmen.

In-bounding

Brad Petersen throws the ball back in-bounds after it goes foul.

Lay-up

Garret Reid, #23, scored two points in the tough game against Lowry High School.

Jump Shot

Sean Sims shoots at the top of he key for a three pointer and everyone waits for the outcome.

Warm-up

Kevin Berry participates in the vital warm up before game time.

Justin Dendary, to the right, shoots for a two-pointer. Alex Greenblat, bottom, passes to a teammate.

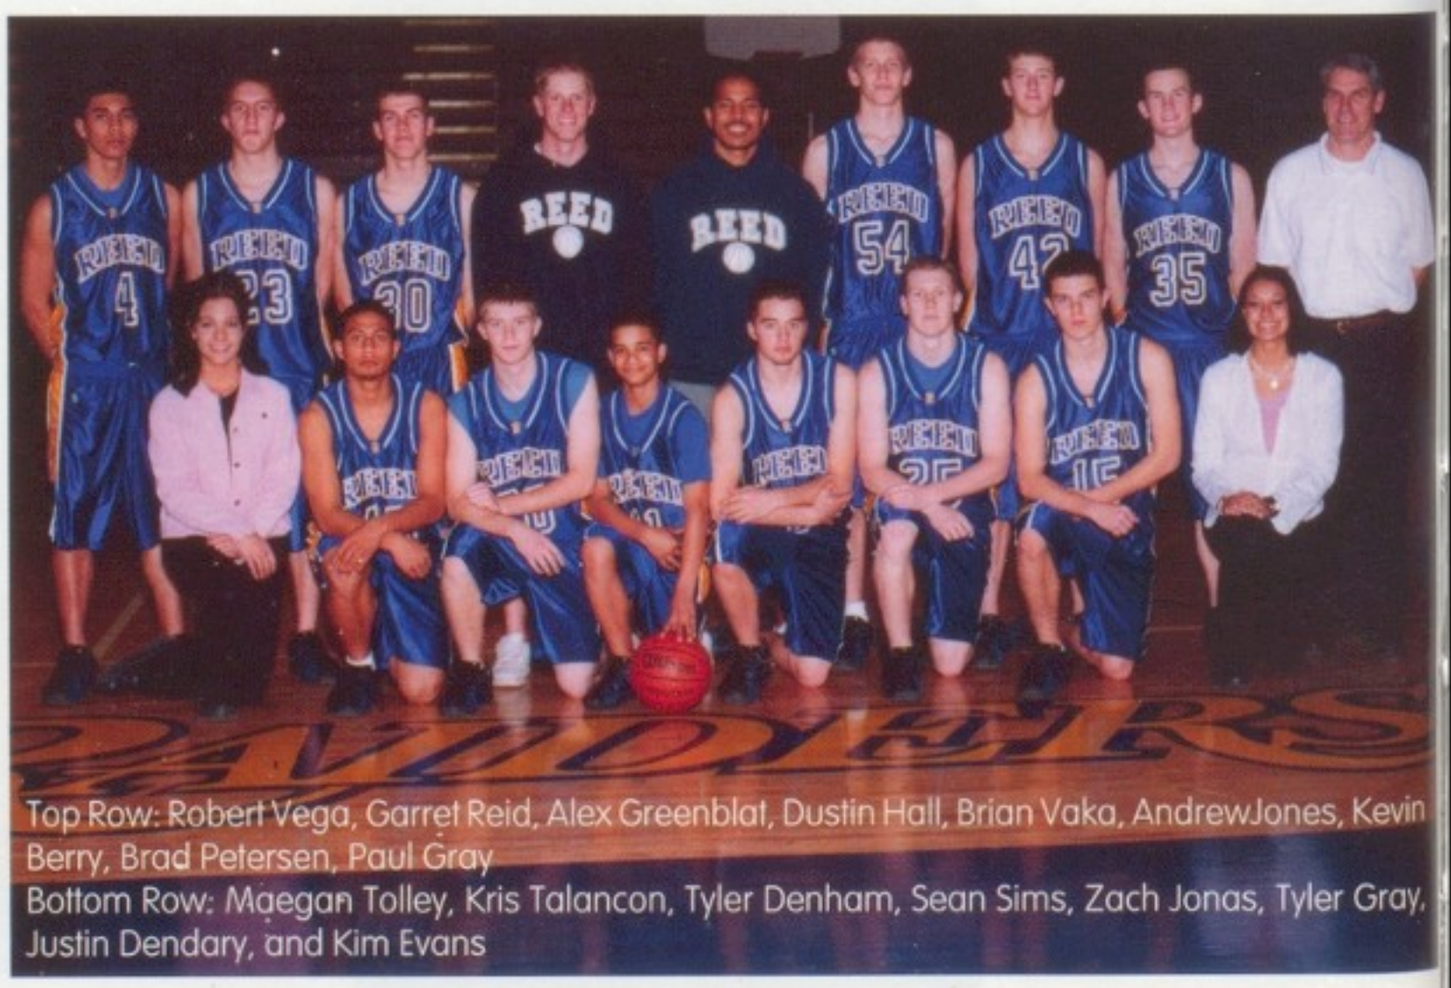
Now: Tyler Gray does a lay-up during practice before the game."My favorite game was Reno when we won by nine points," said Gray.

Then: Since his freshman year, when this picure was taken, Gray has successfully finished four seasons of playing basketball.



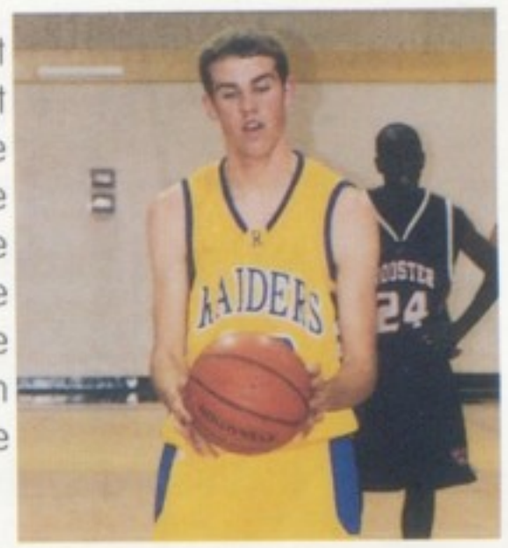
Top Row: Robert Vega, Garret Reid, Alex Greenblat, Dustin Hall, Brian Vaka, AndrewJones, Kevin Berry, Brad Petersen, Paul Gray

Bottom Row: Maegan Tolley, Kris Talancon, Tyler Denham, Sean Sims, Zach Jonas, Tyler Gray, Justin Dendary, and Kim Evans

Andrew Jones, #54, makes a jump shot during an intense game.

Paul Gray takes a time out in order to get the team ready for the next play.

Way to take one for the team, Alex Greenblat and Robert Vega! Getting fouled may hurt but the points you can gain, off the clock, are worth it. One point made from the Free-throw line can make the differnce durring a close game where neither team can seem to get ahead of the other.



Breaking threw the opposing team, Tyler Denham shoots a two pointer right before they can stop him. The team plays more comfortably close together and can always seem to wiggle their way out of tight spots. The team had practiced every day after school, and had gotten to the point where they could trust everybody to be in the right place at the right time.

Four Years Of Memories

Kris Talancon

Grade: Senior

Kris Talancon has dominated the court since the first time he stepped onto it when he was a child. The passion he plays with is apparent during each game. From the years of high school he has compiled a long list of memories. His best memory throughout the years is, "beating McQueen for division Championship my sophomore year."

Robert Vega

Grade: Senior

Future varsity players will have large shoes to fill when they go out for Robert Vegas position next year. He is one of the best players on the team and will miss playing with Silent Brad, Baby bird, Bobble-head, and Garrettop. "We can all joke around and no one takes it personally," Robert said when asked what was different about this year's team.

Zach Jonas

Grade: Senior

Whether its playing in front of his house with his friends or on the court with the varsity team, Zach Jonas puts his heart into every game he plays. Next year's team will have to work hard to replace Zach's hard work and dedication. Zach has played for the school since his freshman year and has grown as a person and a player.

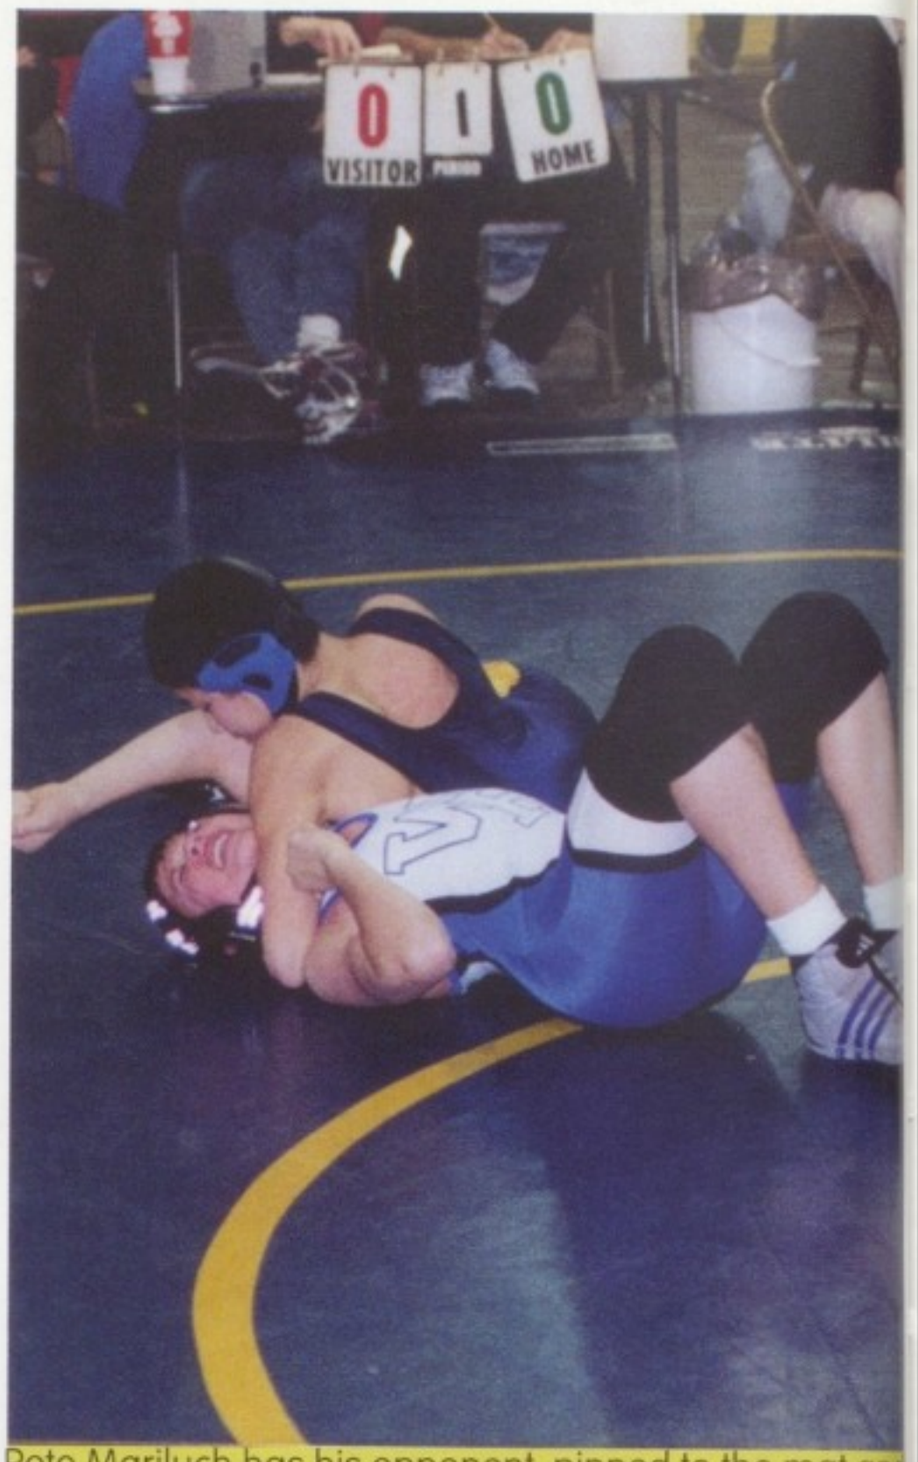
Reach for the stars. On the left, Andrew Jones reaches for a two pointer into the net hanging above him. Durring warm-up, Alex Greenblat and Sean Sims practice lay-ups before the game begins. Practice shooting gets the players pumped up and ready for the game. Each player gets a certain amount of shots before the game.

To the right, Zach Jonas shoots a two-pointer durring the game against Wooster. Zach will be missed by his coach and his fellow teammates next season. On the bottom, the team awaits the in-bounding by the opposing team. After the ball is passed Raider players try to get it and return it to their side of the court.

Down for the Count

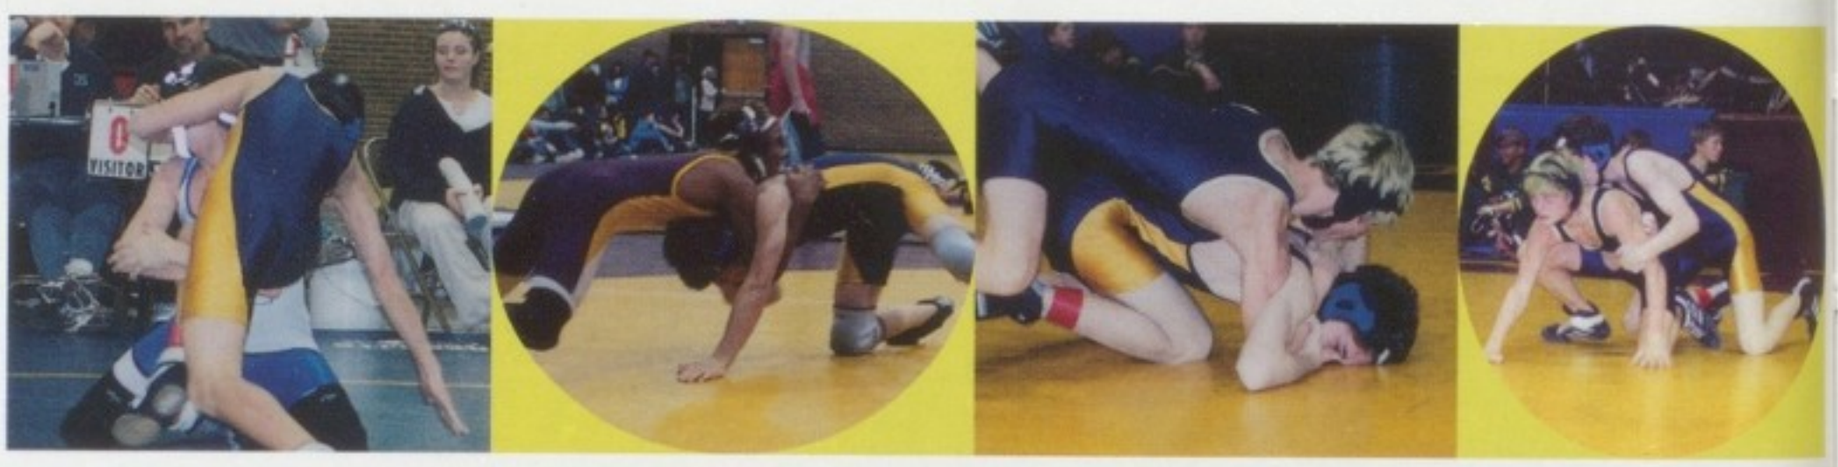
On the Move and on the mat.

Wrestling is a full contact sport that requires you to use upper and lower body strength. Wrestlers must always be in peak condition, so that they are able to take down their opponents. Wrestlers practice many hours a week to train themselves and learn new moves that will help them to be better prepared for their matches. Practices can be long and vigorous for the wrestlers, because they are constantly on the move. Some of the toughest practice comes when they are off the mat and at home. Wrestlers have to be careful with the foods that they eat. They need to make sure that they stay at the weight in their division. They must remain cautious because if they are not careful they will not be able to compete.



Pete Mariluch has his opponent pinned to the mat and has him down for the count.

Wrestling is one of the most physically challenging sport. a wrestler needs to be very strong. All of them need to be at the peek of their weight group to have any kind of chance at pinning their opponent.



Reed Wrestling 2004

Ryan Lytitle walks up confidently towards his next opponent. With nothing but support behind him he has the best chances to do a good job and destroy any of his opponents. The key to being a good wrestler is to keep the opposition moving. The more movement the more of a chance that the opponent will make a mistake and loose their balance.

One

One is considered to be one of the worst things to have a reff say, because it means that your opponent has you pinned to the mat and you arew down for the count. In this picture a reff has begun the count for the wrestler that is pinned to the mat.

There is always a crowd at the matches. Fans give the players the energy and enthusiasam that they need to do well in their matches.Fans often rally the palyers up and give them the boost that they need. Fans are a huge part of wrestling and without them the sport would be non existant.

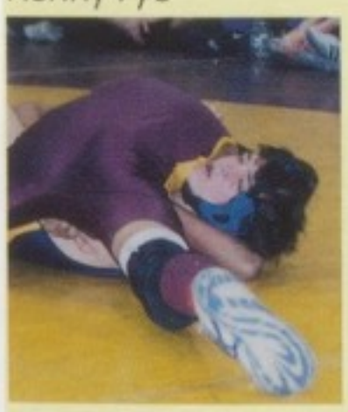
Three people, three stories Take Them Down.

Drew Nixon

Grade: Sophomore

Teammates would describe Drew Nixon a a great team player with lots of determination. Often they say that drew never gives up and is an ascet to the team. In this picture Drew pins his opponent and goes for a pinning combination. Drew is an excellent wrestler with a lot of heart. He enjoys wrestling and will continue to wrestlet for many years to come.

Kenny Fye



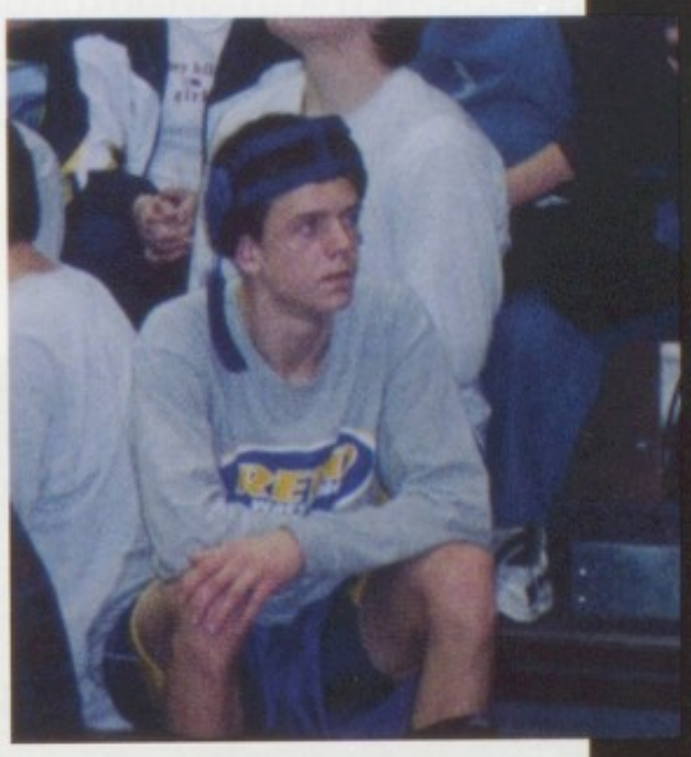
Grade:Sophomore

Taking a hard hit is just part of the game, Kenny Fye knows what this is like. Fye is an important element to the team, and has gained great knowledge in the past year on the team. One thing is for sure: Kenny Fye sure has a couple years of success on the RHS team ahead of him.

Ryan Lytle

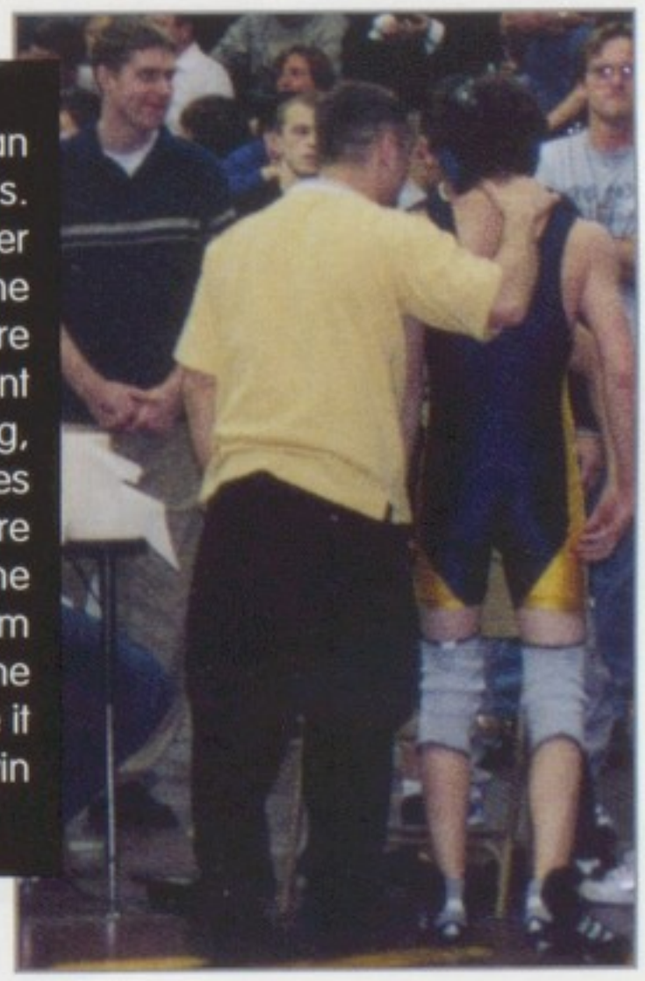
Grade: Sophomore

Keeping the momentum going... Ryan Lytle has been a part of the wrestling team for one year, but he knows how to keep the momentum going and keep on winning. "It feels good to win." said Lytle, after a great match.



Team involvement is not just on the mat, but off the mat as well. Even the support of fellow team mates is an important part of wrestling. Players who watch others matches may help to point out mistakes and all together help the others with their performance. They may also be able to improve their own skills by watching thier teamates wrestle. Teamates often watch other matches to observe the moves that other teams know and use. In this picture kevin Carter watches one of his teamates.

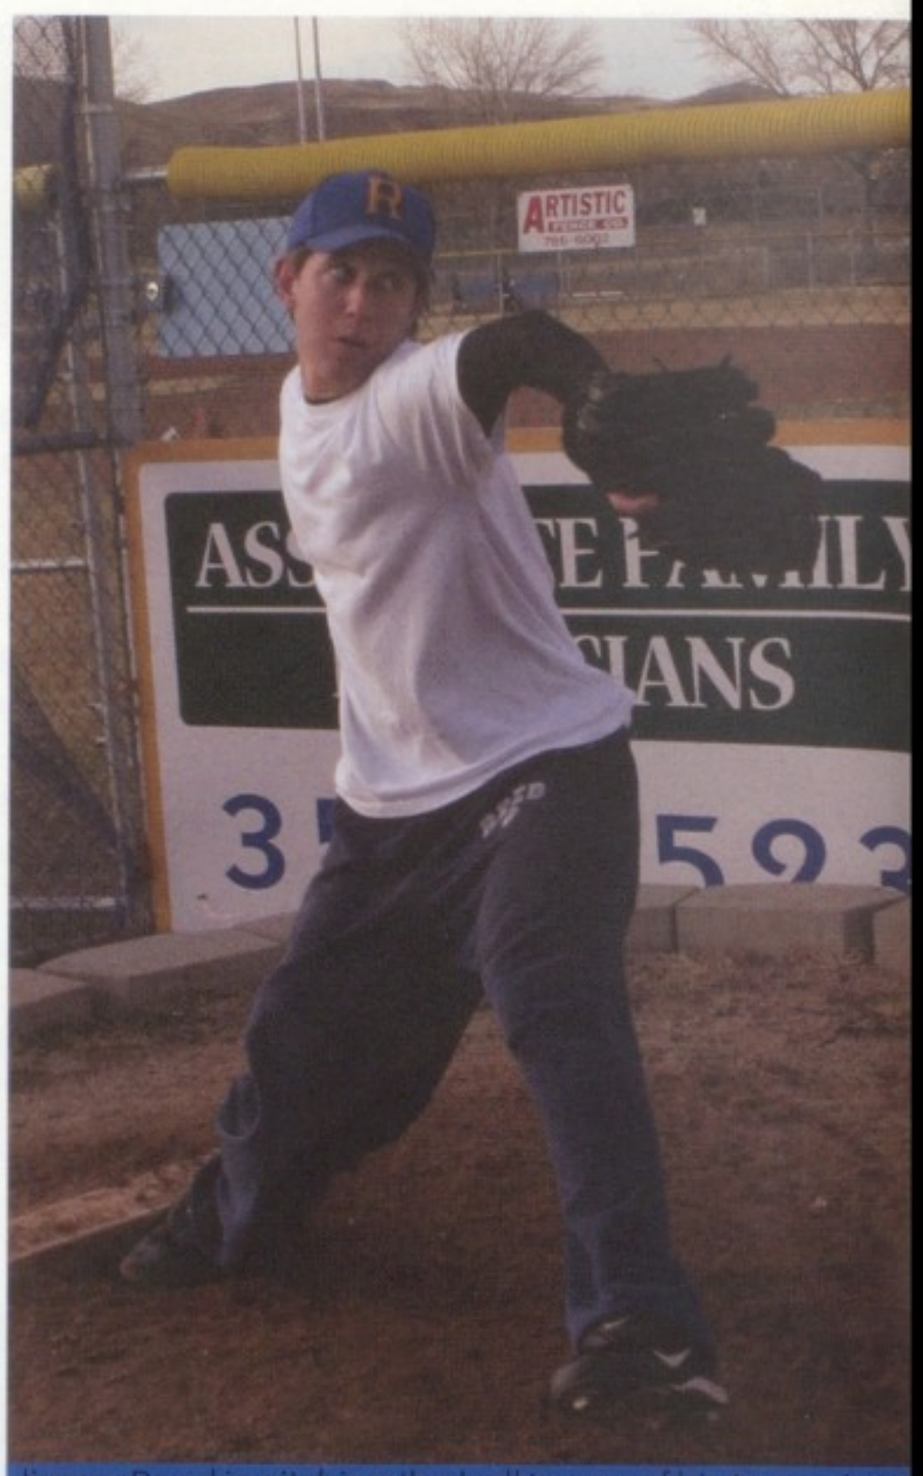
The support of a coach is also an importan aspect to the players. Coaches are the people that offer advice and iron out the wrinkles in the players perfromances. Coaches are among some of the most important people in high school wrestling, because the players performances often reflect the things that they were taught. Coaches help to keep the players focused and prepaere them for their matches. Coaches show the playes all that they knowand hope it will be enough for the players to win theirt matches.



It's all part of the game

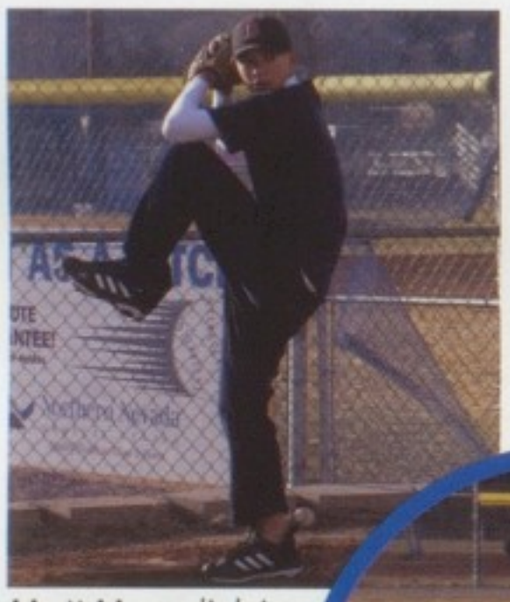
Baseball is for boys, Softball is for girls

Bats, balls, mitts, everywhere. These are just a couple of things used in this sport. Many may think baseball and softball are alike but they still have there differences. One of them is the ball size, or the length between bases, and the main one is that guys play baseball and girls play softball. But these sports also have there similarities. They have to practice hitting, throwing, running, and sliding to the bases. Hitting helps you score to win, and throwing helps get the opponent. Just as in all other sports running is a key skill, and sliding helps get to the bases faster. The basic formation of the field is a diamond shape in which you have to run all four bases to get points for your team. All of these regulations keep these sports different and fun at the same time.



Jimmy Reed is pitching the ball to one of his teamates during practice.

The baseball players practice to show there coaches what they are made of. Here they are showing techniques by catching the ball in different positions of the game. The players do this drill everytime they have practices.



Feilding is an essential part of the baseball formula. Without it...there wouldn't be...well...baseball.

Matt Moerdick is practicing his pitching skills in the perfect pitching poisition.

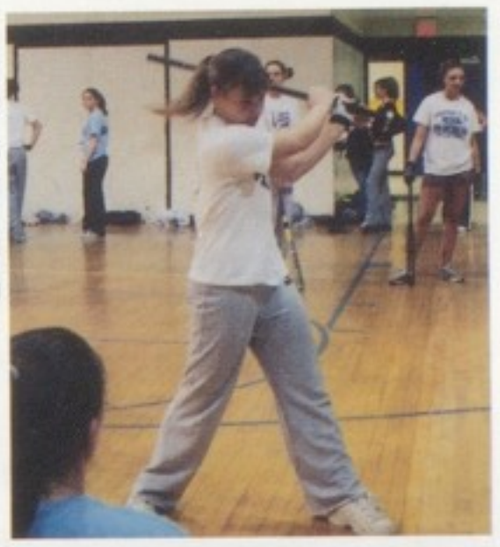
Angelina Cordona left is concentrating on hitting the ball at practice in the small gym. Hitting is very fun but can be hard to people that don't have good hand eye coordination. It looks like Angelina has good hand eye coordination because she is an awesome softball player. Breanna Tavener is practicing her hitting. You can notice that she is wearing a helmet, which is smart in the batting cages.

Natalie Ceccarelli right is practicing hitting wiffle balls with a stick bat to practie the hitting element of softball. The stick bat helps get your strength and percision up so that when you have a real bat you can be great.

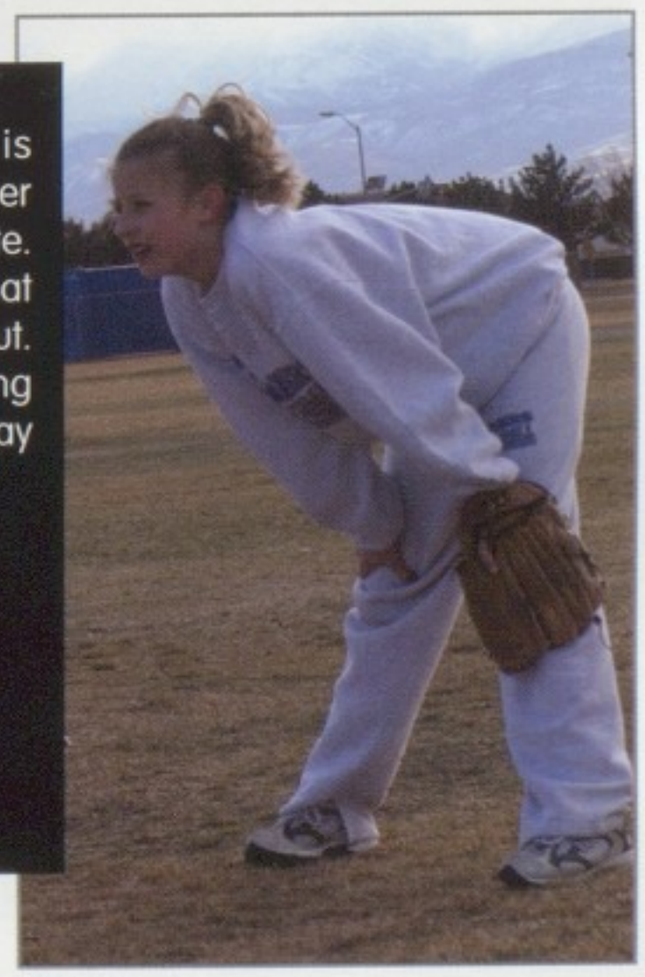


Reach for the skies... Brittney Foster goes for the catch during a training session before the season. "I really hope that I make the team," said Foster. This is her first year trying out for the team and she would really like to make some friends through softball, too. "I've been told it's a great experience," she later added.

This is Ashley Henderson practicing bunting in the small gym. Bunting is an important skill to softball because it causes the batter to be able to hit the ball a short length. When this happens the batter can start running before the ball hits the ground so that she can get to the base faster and score. When you are bunting you have brace yourself when the ball comes, and then bring the bat in front of you and lightly tap the ball.

Here is Sierra Owens hitting the punching bag with her bat. Some may think that this is a new kind of anger managment,and could be,but I highly doubt that. She is hitting the bag to learn how to control her strength and momentum. Heather Higgins is in the perfect batters stance. She just can't wait for that ball to come so that she can hit it with all she's got. This is Cassie Pasley pitching the wiffle balls to another teammate.

Rachel Morris pictured right is watching for the ball as one of her team mates hits the ball at the plate. She has to be fast to get the ball so that she can throw it home to get her out. Waiting in the outfield is a very boring job, it can sometimes be hard to pay attention to what is going on.



A Fresh Start

A New Coach Brings New Hopes

This year the baseball team says good bye to a Reed High legend, and hello to a new fresh coach from North Valleys JV baseball. Coach Phoenix took his leave as the head baseball coach and let a new man take the reins. Coach Foss is relatively fresh and hopes to take the team to new heights. Coach Foss' first order of business was to make the team more conditioned and that is just what he did, they started the year off extremely heavy and made many adjustments in order to make the team better. The team has taken a liking to coach Foss and his new coaching staff. Coach Riely is one of his new coaches that hope to change the teams outcome. Riely is one of the best hitting and pitching coaches in the region.

Above: Ryan hill waits anxiously in the infield to field another ball that coach Foss is rocketing at him.
Left: Jeremy Merleno hustles to the ball in order to field it and make the play at first.

Coach Jon Foss is this years new coach and he hopes to lead the team to a new level of play. "As a team commitment dedication and desire will be the rise or fall of our team." said coach Jon Foss.

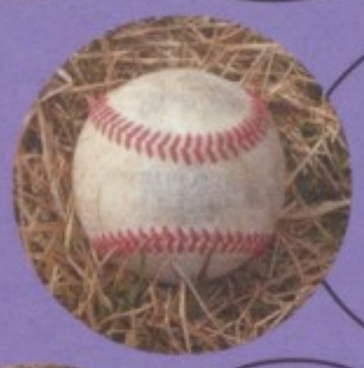
The Tools of the Game

The bat~ One of the most important tools of the game.



The ball~ Because You certianly can't play with a cube

The Mit~ Without it your hand would hurt real bad.

"Put me in coach I'm ready to play."
-Robert Woodruff

"Pitching is 75% mental and 25% physical, sometimes you have good days."
-Larry Benson

"Pitchers aren't athelets, they're heavy thinkers.."
-Jake McGee

3 Strikes You're out

There's a lot of components to being a great softball player. There's hitting, catching, throwing, running, and the positions. Most of these skills are out on the feild, not behind the plate. Hand-eye coordination plays a big part in playing this sport. You must have a strong arm and not be afraid to catch the ball for your team. There is nine positions including the pitcher, catcher, first, second, and third bases, left center, right center, and center outfeild. These positions all help out the team to another victiory. Their plays need to be accurate, succesful, and orginal They're out there to have fun with old friends and new, whether older, younger, or the same age. All these players are out there to play the game they love and have a ball!

In softball it's imperitive to have good eye contact in order to catch the ball. They need to watch the ball and follow it into your glove.

In softball there is times when you have to stand around and patiently wait for someone to hit the ball toward you. This may not always be fun, but it's part of the game.

The main part in every sport is to score. In softball hitting is the way to score so they must perfect that skill. For some it may be hard but for others like Kim Maldonado it comes naturally.

Paying attention. Every athlete needs to know what is going on in the game. You can't daze off in space or daydream. You're out for the friends and fun of softball. Throwing plays a big part in softball. Whether your'e a pitcher or on the feild you need accuracy.

Sports helps with your social skills and you end up walking away with a couple of good friends. It maks it easier coming back the next year to try out with people you feel comfortable with. It makes the game more enjoyable and the time goes by faster.

Katie Thomas loves to play softball for the fun of all everything. Thomas has been playing for Reed for four years,and also plays league over the summer.

Even though Tia Bartek has been through a lot during her time playing for the team, she kept going because of her amazing persistance. Most people don't have that type of will to keep going even when something bad has happened. Her will to be around makes her enjoyable to play softball with.

Kim Maldonado is practicing bunting in the small gym which doubles as batting cages during the spring. Bunting is a tool that helps you hit the ballnot as far so that the player can start running quicker.

Hittting at the batting cages is one of the ways to practice for the games. It helps the girls hit the balls at the right speed and distance for their league. When you can do this then you have become a player that is going to go far in her softball career. Bunting, slammers or the regular in field hit are all types of hitting stratgies. These girls all know how to do these and when it will be most efficient.

Tia Bartek is dedicated to softball, last year she was hit in the eye, which caused severe bruising. Despite her injury, she still attended junior prom with sunglasses on. When asked about it, Bartek said, "It's just part of the game."

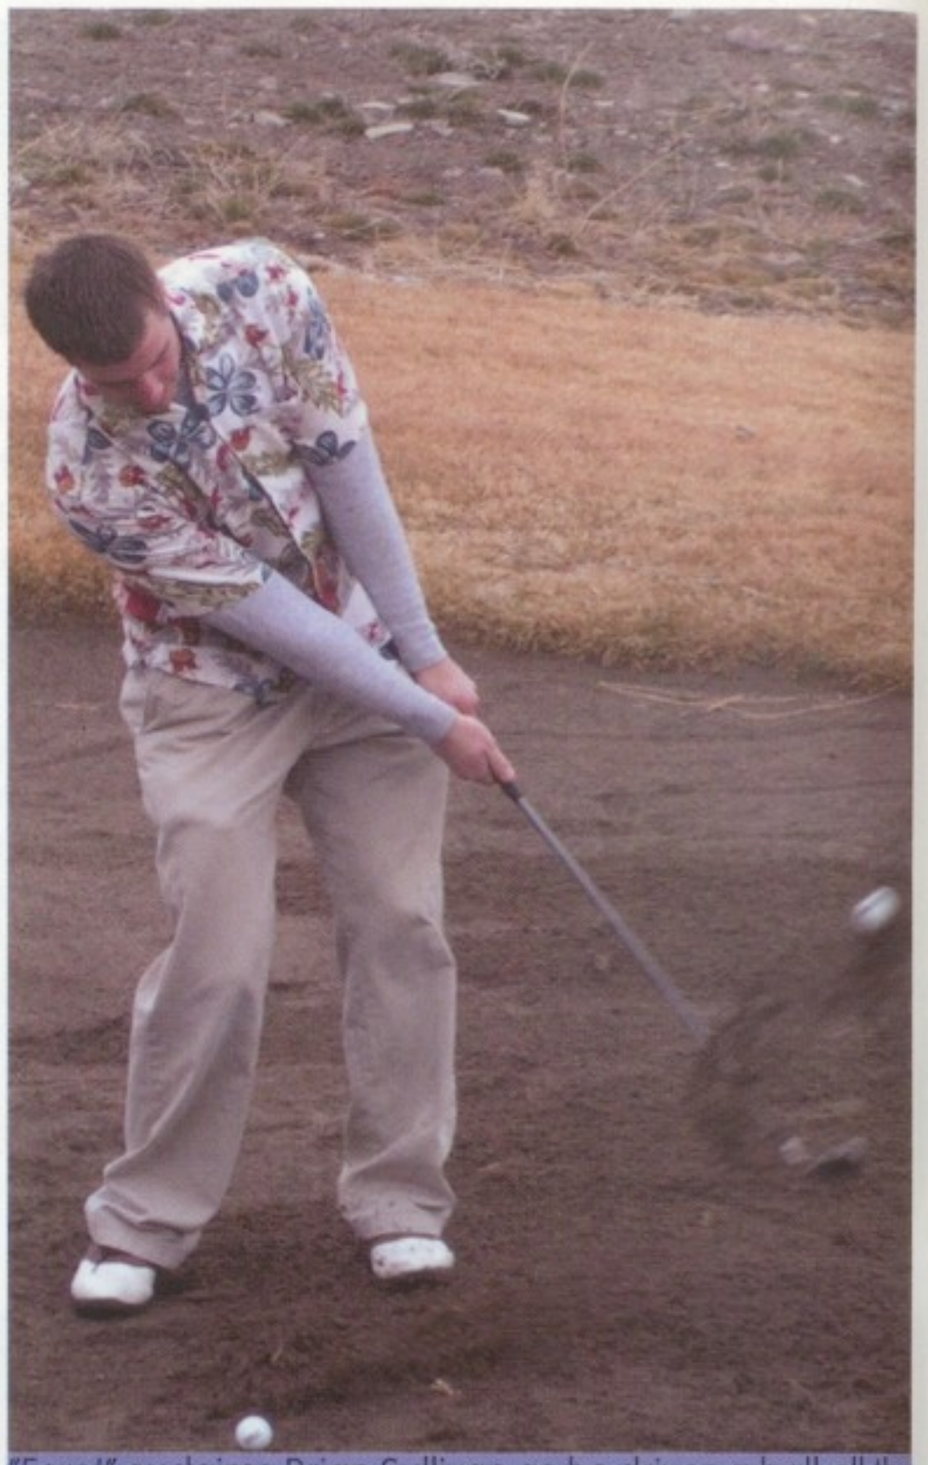
Boys Golf Has Another Great Year

Boys Golf is an incredibly hard season to go through, especially when you consider the dedication it takes to become a great golfer. Golf is a sport that incorporates skill, strength, accuracy, patience and a lot of time. You will constantly find members of the team at the driving range, working on their drive, on the courses sharpening their skills, on the greens working on their putting abilities, and even occasionally just practicing swinging their clubs in a general area. The team applies a lot of factors and precision into their swing to make the most accurate shot possible. Some of the things they do is consider are wind resistance, angles, what club to use, and how hard to swing their club. This years golf team is one of the best in recent memory.



"Fore!" exclaims Brian Sullivan as he drives a ball all the way to the other side of the course. YAY!

Three year letterman, Kenny Treadway, has been on the golf team for three consecutive years. "I enjoy golf because it is a fun sport and it relaxes you after a hard day of school," Treadway said. He expects great things from the 2004 Reed High Boys Golf team, and will undoubtedly be one of the core team members during this season.

Taylor Anderson is a returning member of the team, he is working on his short game.3- Zach Jonas, who is returning for his forth consecutive season said, "I play golf because it's fun and doesnt require running'. 4-Dave Worley excalimed "I'm professional, Tiger Woods style." All of these golf team members are very important to one another, to create a family atmosphere.

Two; is for the two year letterman, shown at left, Kyle Weeden. He is a great golfer and hopes to achieve victory and low strokes throughout the duration of the season tournaments.
He is a very strong golfer and is a large attribute to the team. Kyle is a Senior this year and is hoping to make his last year, his most memorable.

Slater Yohey is a three year letterman. He is extraordinarily talented and has an impressive drive. He can hit the ball very far, but can also gently putt the ball in the hole in under even the most adverse conditions. He is a key part to the team and will be one of the year's star players.

Swimming is just all about the

What's there not to like about swimming? It's just like any other sport, practice is the only way to get better,and it takes a lot of heart.. This is why reed swimmers have devoted many hard hours and lots of endurance to making sure 110% is given. Reed swimmers gather at Alf Sorsens to work on the skills they need to compete. Despite the fact that there are only four strokes (butterfly, backstroke, freestyle, and breast-stroke), this sport puts all of your bodies physical and mental abilities to the test. Your mental abilities are a huge part in the task of swimming... It's all mind over matter. A swimmer must have self confidence and endurance to enable them-selves to achieve their set goals. Swimming may not be easy, but they sure are willling to go all of the way!

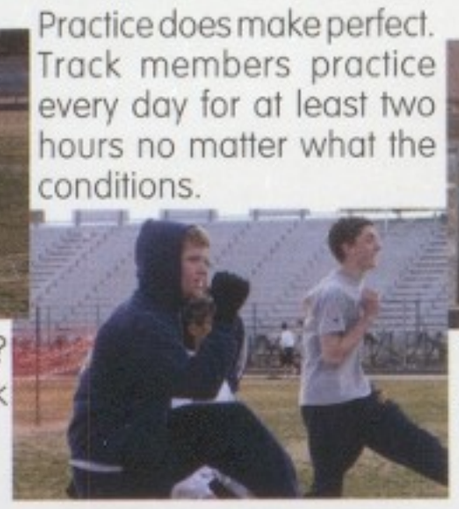
Getting Ready to Run

subheadline leads in here, fill this

Running is one of the most intense forms of excerise that is known to man. You have to not only be physically trained, but you have to be mentally trained as well. There is no slowing down if you want to win. Each runner is different though. Each has their own way of getting their mind to committ to running the distance. "I love running. There is no better feeling than winning." said Jason McGhee. "I try not to get too tesnse and try not to think about it too much" said Charlie Moses. Kassy Taylor says, "I try not to worry about any one else. Just myself." Running, jumping, throwing, sprinting, hurlding. No matter the event, track members all have one thing in common. The dedication it takes to win a race, and the feeling of pride when they succeed in their goal.

"My motivation for going to practice is the urge I have to be the best." said Mitch Whalen. Mitch runs the 300 hurldes, the 110 hurdles, 4X400 and the 4X200.

"My advice to new runners? Stay focused, have fun, work hard, and win."
- Mitch Whalen



Practice does make perfect. Track members practice every day for at least two hours no matter what the conditions.

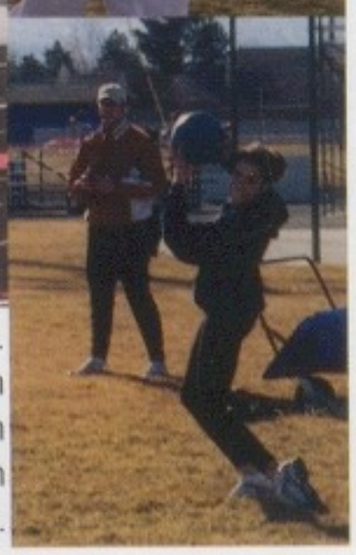
"I want to get better, and practice is the only way to do that."
-Dom DiPrinzio

From rain to snow to sun to wind, no matter the conditions the meet must go on.

Track isnt only about running. There are jumping, vaulting, and throwing events too.

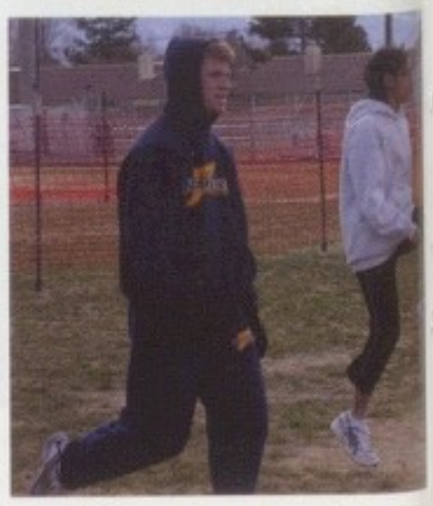
"My motivation in track is to go out and perform my best."-Michael Smith

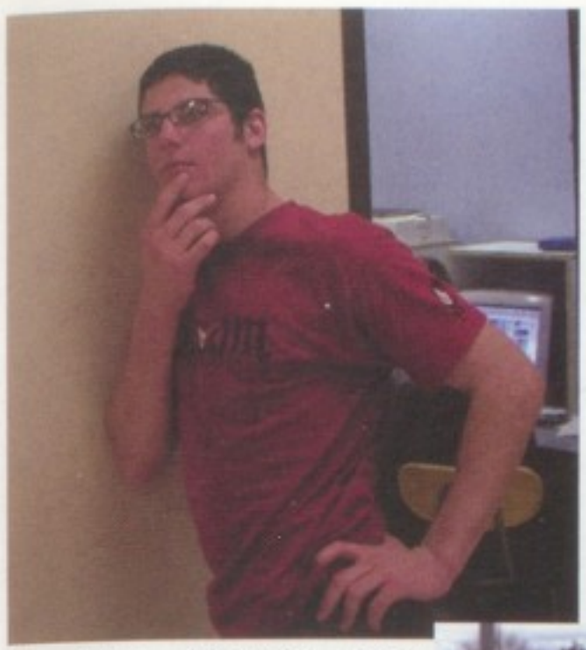
Both Kellie Brown and her sister Kaitlyn have been on the team for four years.



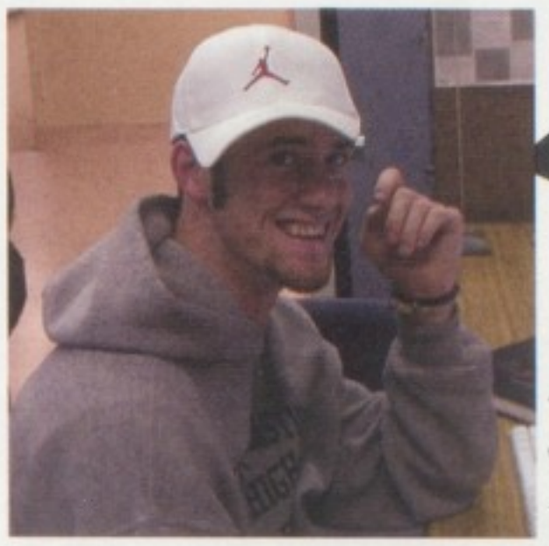
Ready, runners on your mark. Jason McGhee and Mitch Whalen have been running on the same 4 X 4 relay team since their sophomore year. They placed at state sophomore and junior year.

There is a first time for everything. This year, it is joining the track team for Zach Jones. "I joined the team for fun. I needed something to do and wanted something fun for my senior year." said Jones of joining the team. "I like being on the team because I get to be around my friends and I get to excersise while doing it."



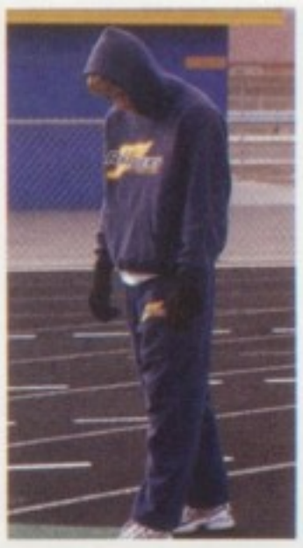


Pole vaulting is a tough event. Vaulters have to be able to pull themselves over a bar that is placed at least nine feet above the air. Vaulters have to have not only leg strength but upper body strength as well. "Pole vaulting istechnical because your body has to be doing more than one thing at the same time."-Kevin Picollo



"If I could be any animal I would be a cheetah."
-Jason McGhee

"We pass out so we can pass you"
- Reed Track.



Hurdles. Seems easy enough right? Hurdlers have a hard job. Hurdles are set some distance apart and runners take their mark, then run to each hurdle trying to jump over it with out knocking one over. "It takes a lot of practice and hard work to get ypur steps on and stay smooth. "
-Mitch Whalen

Reed track. We're fast.

Three people, three stories three reasons

Mitch Whalen

Grade: Senior
Mitch Whalen has been on the varsity track team for the last four years. "I joined track because I played soccer, and I was faster than everyone I ran next to. So I ended up trying to run track to see what would happen. I am hoping that it will get me into college. It would be fun to come back after college and coach with Freitag, Moss, and Snearly."

Jason Stewart

Grade: Senior
"I joined track because it is a lot of fun and I get to spend time with friends. I have a lot of fun. I want to go to state this year. I want to be able to play it in college-I will go wherever will take me. I pole vault. Pole Vaulting is really hard because you have to be able to have your mind and body doing two different things at the same time."

Jessica Burk

Grade: Senior
"I joined the track team because of multiple reasons, one to stay in shape, to meet new friends, and be involved in school. I have done track all four years. I would like to go to college with track. Especially high jump with UNR. "

Kassy Taylor jumps the high jump and the long jump. "I jump because I like to feel the wind on my face while I am floating threw the air."

"Sprinting is technique based. It takes a long time to get it right. Sprinting is a lot of fun, yet it can be stressful at the same time, same as any other sport. I got into sprinting because I was fast and I already knew that I was good at it-plus Coach Freitag forced me."-Jason McGhee."

"Track is the same as every other sport. You have to go out there. You have to work hard. You have to be dedicated-other wise you won't succeed. It isn't as easy as people think."-Jason McGhee. "Track is mental. You have to have a lot of heart if you don't have heart and you don't have the mind set, you aren't anything"-Mitch Whalen

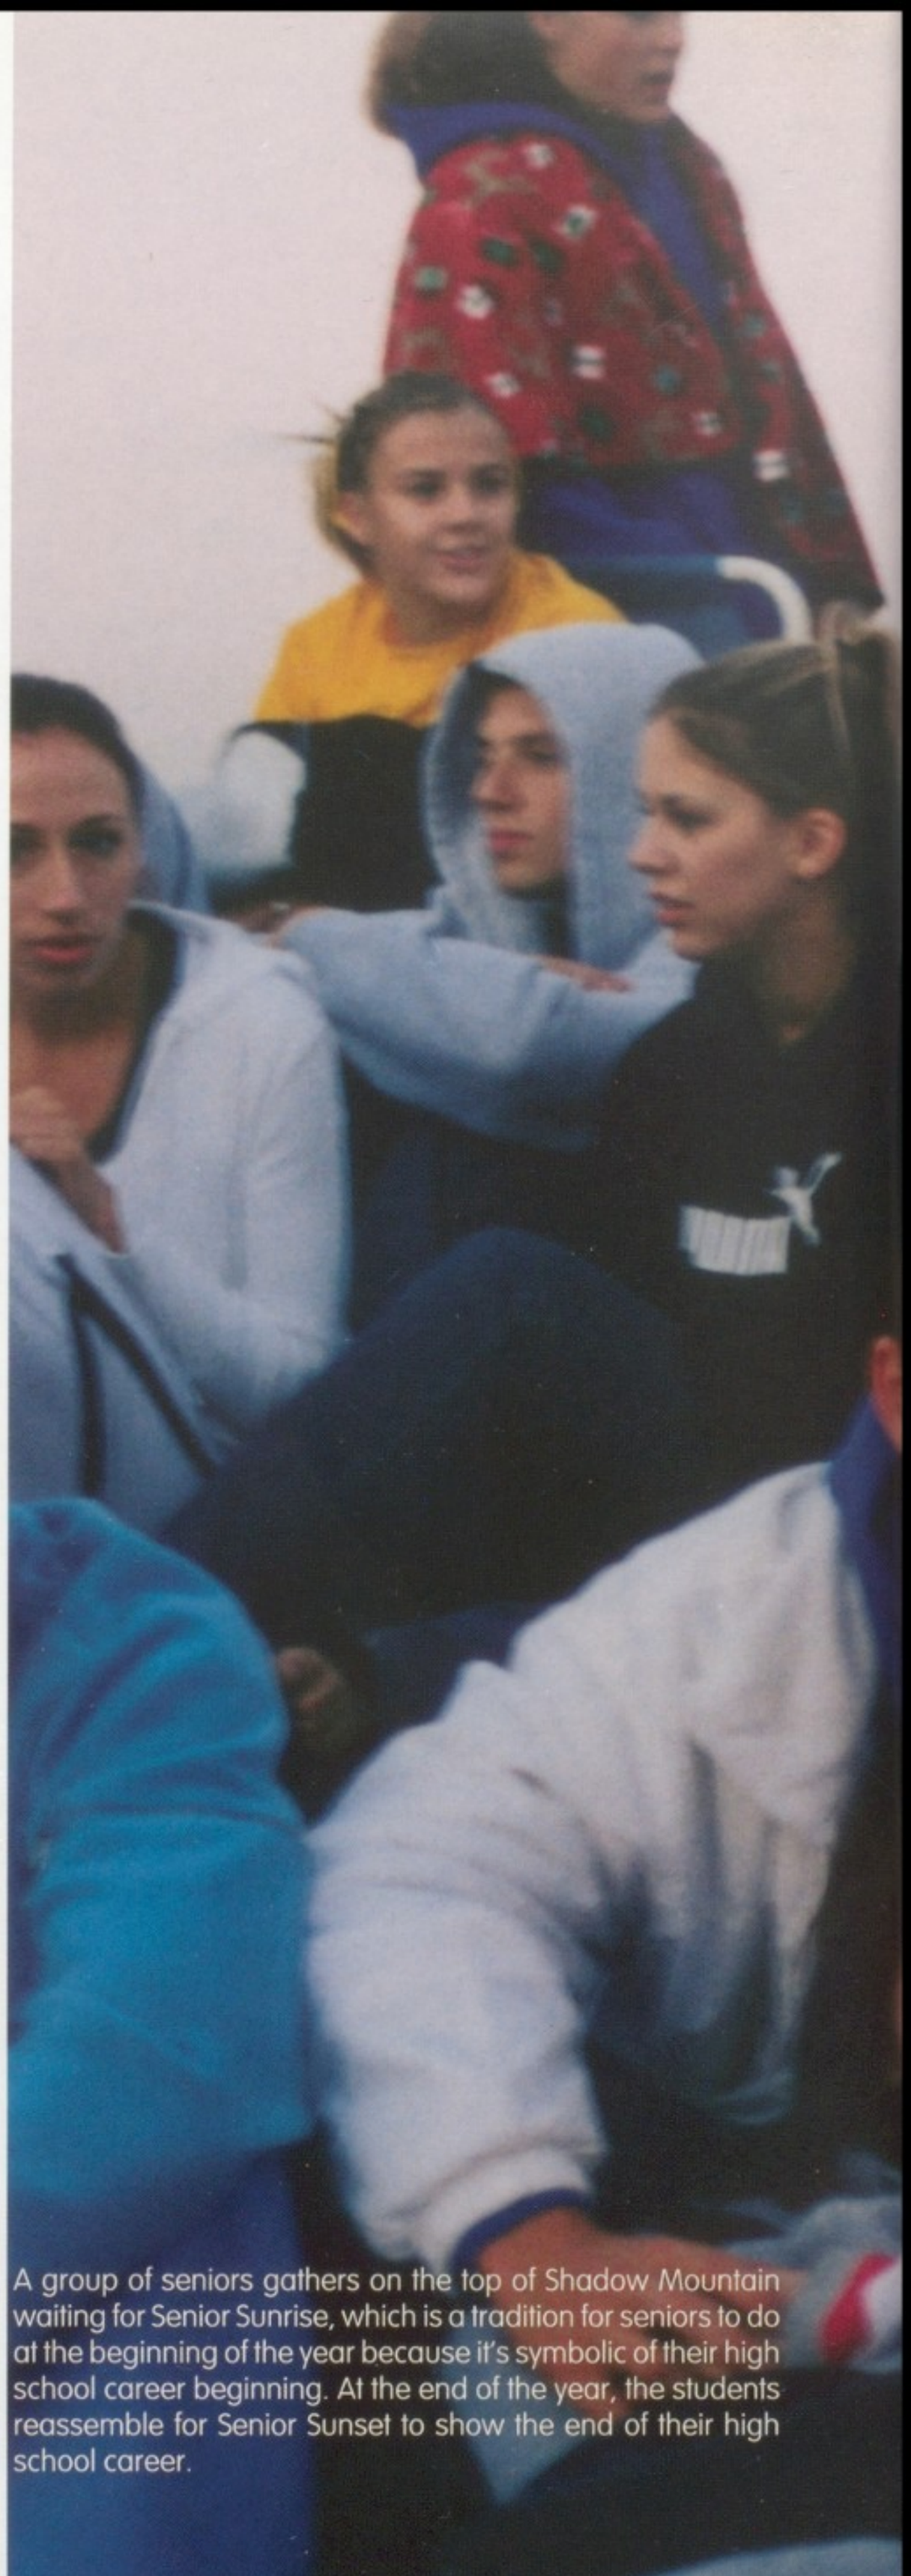
It's just Change

Our individualty and variety of backgrounds is what gives our school a different twist than most schools in the area. We change our attitudes daily, our goals weekly and our emotions constantly, and the end result is a student body that's as diverse as the stars. Throughout these next 100 pages, the book will take a journey through current and past fashions in hair, clothes, TV Shows and everything else that is our generation. This section is dedicated to the changing student body and faculty, whose adversity makes us who we are all together. As you turn the pages, remember the differences that we all have and...

It's just change.



A group of seniors gathers on the top of Shadow Mountain waiting for Senior Sunrise, which is a tradition for seniors to do at the beginning of the year because it's symbolic of their high school career beginning. At the end of the year, the students reassemble for Senior Sunset to show the end of their high school career.

From bell bottoms to flared bottoms, fashion has taken on a life all its own. With major malls in every city and mini mall in just about every other city how could fahsion not?

Fashion has become something of an art. The wearer the true artist. Teenagers are now taking fashions from ten, twenty even thirty years ago and intergrating them into their everday wear, giving the clothes a second chance at life.

"Fashion is an unspoken statement that reresents your personality."

In the last thirty years fashion has become something that people look toward to guide them in expressing theselves. From runways to hallways, teenagers are looking toward fashion to guide them.

Teenagers choose their clothes according to their personal style and tastes. Between T-shirts and jeans and high heeled shoes with a short skirt, style is something to enjoy. The true question, however, is not whether we enjoy fashion or not, it is whether we are willing to sacrifice for it. With teenagers having a job that pays no more than minimum wage, the majority of teens shop with a tight budget. Though most teens shop on a budget, some do have the luxury of getting to spend amounts of money on their style. "My favorite store to shop at is Charollete Russe, i also like Wet Seal." -Lindseyi Clewell.

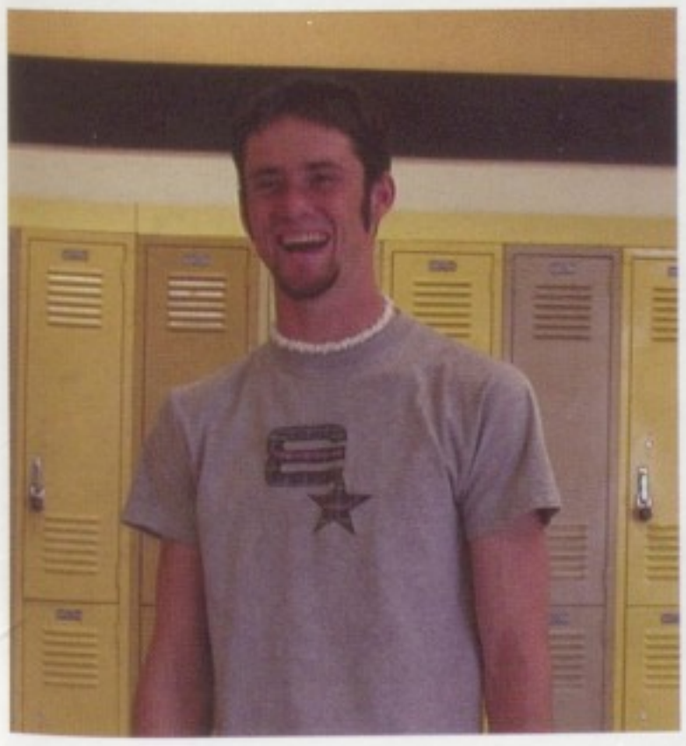
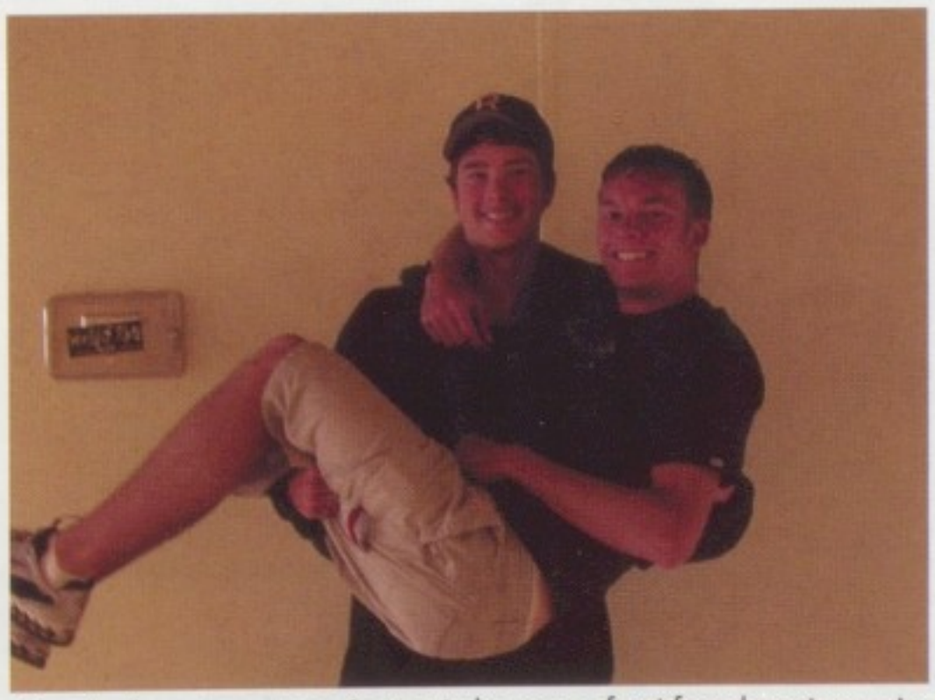
2. "I spend about $25 on entertainment."
3. "I spend $25 on clothes."
4. "I spend about $40 on art supplies"





Movie theatres, movie rentals, cars, fast food restraunts, mini golf bowling, and malls. What do these things have in common? These are all the places where teens chose to spend their money. "I spend most of my money on taking girls to the movies," said Mitch Whalen. " I spend my money on food," said Kyle Walters. " I spend my money on clothes, pants and shoes especially," said Meagan Tolley. "I spend my money on my car all the money I earn goes into that thing," said Brittany Spangler. "I spend most of my money on food," laughed Jason McGhee. "I spend my money taking my girlfriend out," said Justin Platon.

The last thirty years have done wonderns in the line of girl's hair fashion. There is no longer a need for Farrah Faucet feathered hair frames, nor a set of bangs that reaches the sky as a limit.

Hair fashion has now become something of an art. From proms to homecoming, to sporting events, girls are now doing their hair in french braids, french twists, twisties, twisty twists and other things to express themselves.

"My hair fits my personality"
-Morgen Tiner

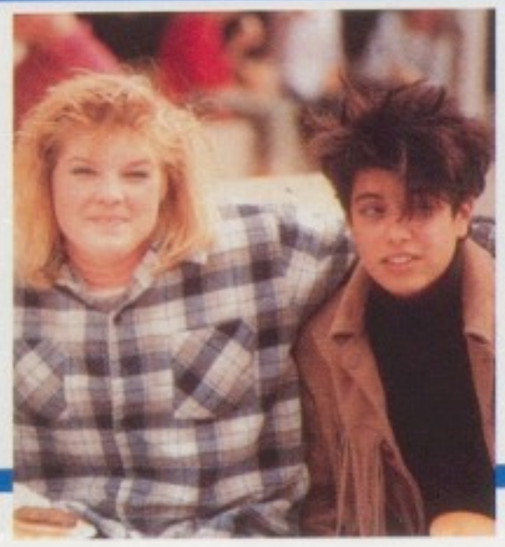
Hair has become something more subtle over the last thirty years. Instead of girls trying to out do one another with larger than life hair styles, girls now try to play up their outfits with sleek hairstyles.



Ponytails, braids, twists and flipped out hair, girls spend hours doing their hair every morning. Hair is something that allows girls to show off their personalitlies and even emotions.

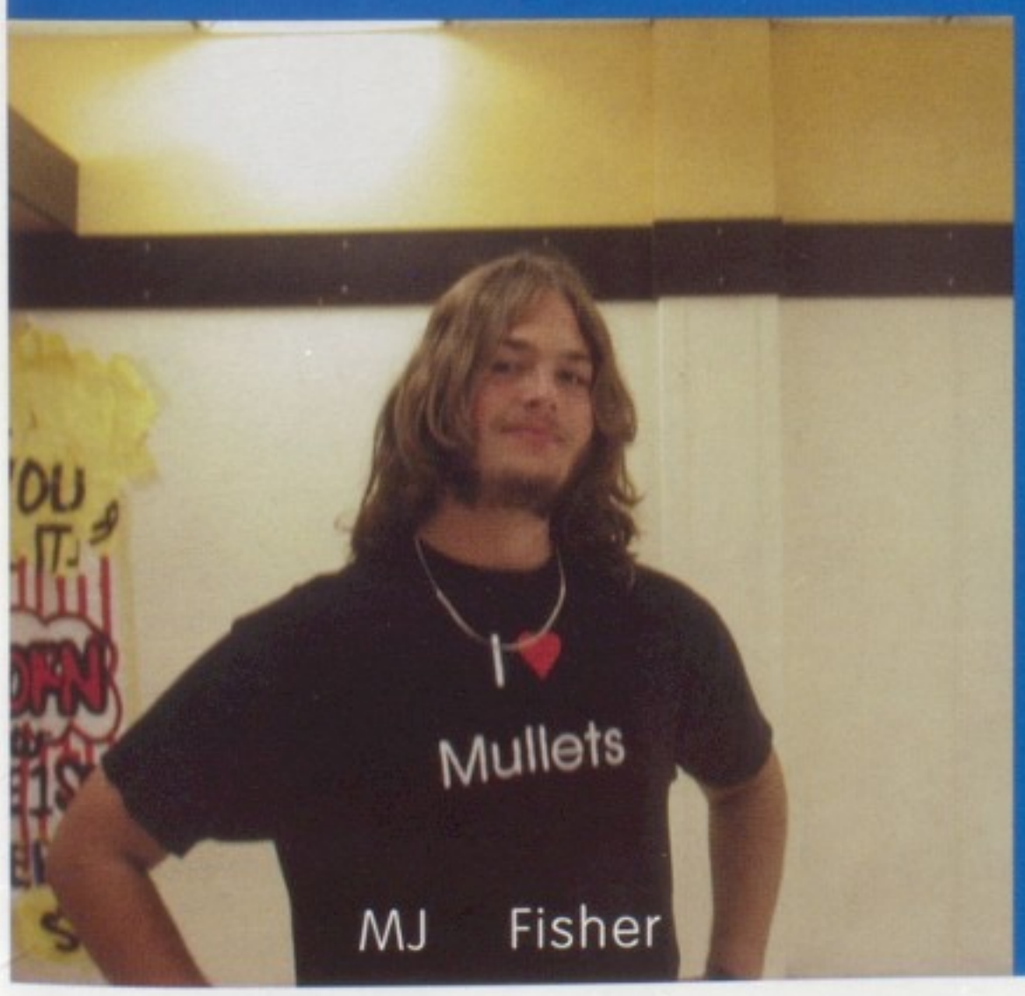
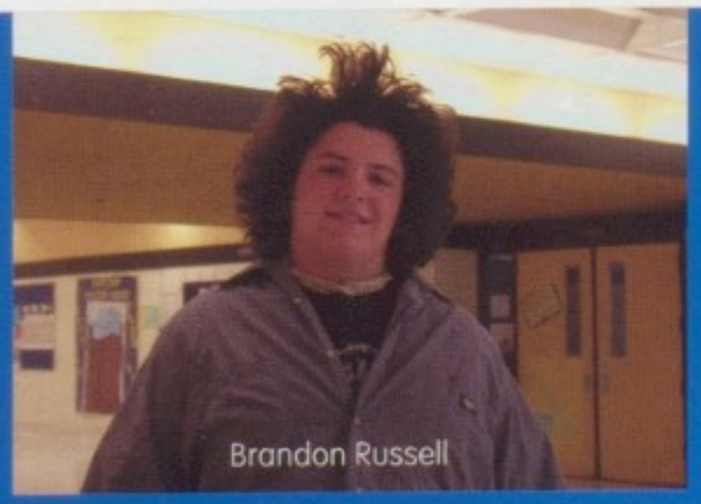
A trip to the barber shop





Brandon Russell

Anthony Barryhill

Over the last thirty years boy's hair fashion has changed inmensley. The fashion of wearing your hair in a huge afro is no longer considered cool ...well it has almost become uncool. The fashion of wearing a "party in the front and business in the back" mullet is no longer the all together rage. Only the select few and brave soles have decided to brave against the trends and try to breath the breathe of life back into those fashions that have long since dyed. Most teenage boys today have gone to the easier, shorter look. This allows for most teenage boys to do what they love most, sleep a little longer.

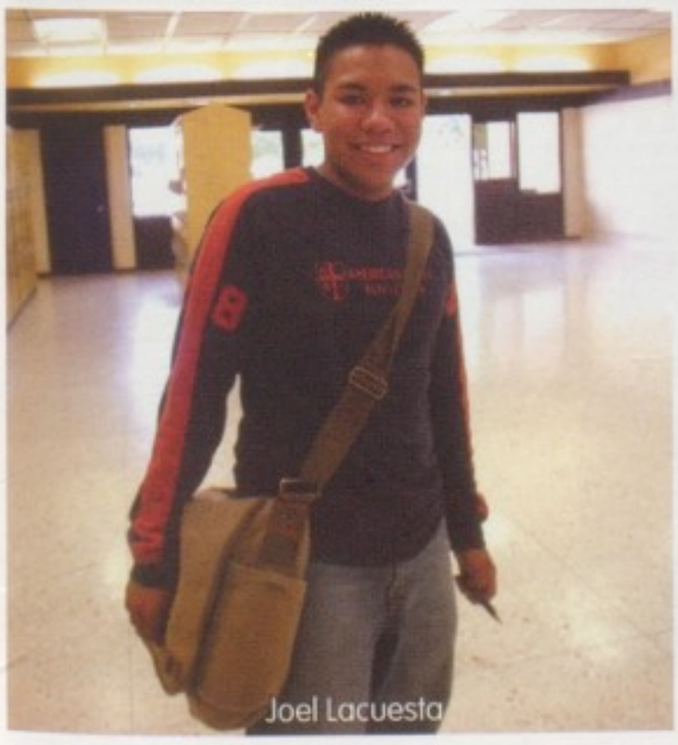
Talking Locker



Joel Lacuesta

Backpacks and lockers are something everyone associates with high school. Most often with the notion that one would be stuffed into their locker holding their backpack. This is not the case anymore. Backpacks and lockers have become something of an oddity. Most of the students use their cars as their lockers and purses or hands as their backpacks. In a school that is over crowded not having a locker is often sometimes a good thing, it allows for students to get out of the school for a moment or to socialize with thier friends for a few more minutes.

There are many different ways you can achieve the smell you like. Lotions, soaps, body sprays, and the traditional perfume bottles. People wear their purfumes or colognes for different reasons. Jamie McGregor wears lucky because "it smells good." Johnny Johnson wears Eternity, "It's the herbal essence of which I describe the morality of myself." Alfonso Zamora wears Aqua D'Gio because "it smells clean." Geoff Grill wears Chrome, "When you first put it on it is strong, through out the day it goes away."

Whether it be a piercing or a tattoo, it is still cool to go through pain in order to look cool. Piercings and tattoos have become a fashon statement of their own, from arm bands to belly rings. Since the 80's piercings have gone from one stud in the ear to 5 studs and balls in the ear, or even wholes in the ear like Kenny Fye(right). Piercing technology has become much more clean also, we came from using an dirty needle and an ice cube, to going under a gun in nearly any mall. Tattoos have also come a long way, since they used to be exclusive to indian war paint. Now tattoos are looked at as body art on a canvas of human flesh.

Within the last few years preppy has become a more popular fashion style. Preppy can be classified as many different styles combined into one, but all together they form a very definite look. Many students find that it's hard not to dress "preppy" because most stores only sell preppy clothes.

Margaret O'Brien wears a skirt , and short sleeve shirt to show her preppy side.

"I wouldn't characterize myself as a preppy person, but I like the way some of the clothes look."- Sarah Kress

"I am more into the casual preppy look."- Jessica Burk

"I like preppy clothes because the come in different colors and styles."- Kim Maldonado

Sleeping in? I don't think so! For some students, sleeping in on Saturday morning isn't an option. Various extra-curricular activities get these students to roll out of bed on a Saturday morning and be around the school. For instance, most seniors, and some junior find themselves here for the SAT's or ACT's. Others find themselves here for dedication to their clubs.

A style that is always the rage... Trendy has been the evolving fashion of every generation's today. These days, trendy for boys often means baggy pants, a simple T-shirt and limited accessories. Girls trends usually are more influence by what TV stars, musicians and their celebrities are wearing. Trends for girls change almost on a daily basis.

Punk is a style that has become more and more popular as each year goes by. There are many different ways to wear the punk look.

Kristin Harsh is wearing a green Original shirt and star braclet to show her inner punk.

Kevin Eckes shows off his skater punk look with a navy blue zip up sweat shirt and baggy jeans.

Jocks

"We're the Raiders, were the best yet. Raiders are number one by far." What else can you say about the jocks? They are proud to walk the halls, representing their athletic standards. Many jocks show their leadership roles, and self discipline for their athletic teams by dressing up on game days. Sports vary from Football, Basketball, Tennis, Volleyball, Golf, Swimming, Hockey, Soccer, Track,Cross Country, and Baseball. Each athlete's uniform expresses their participation in their chosen sport. Team's uniforms vary from polos, to skirts, or to sweat outfits.

Many types of styles and fashion are explained as self expression. "Underground," being one of those, is a true statement of self-expression, and individual personality. "Don't get mad, get naked!" says Cory Phillips. He feels his choice of dress is part of his own personality and style.

SENIORS

Four years of classes, laughs, tears and everything else have finally accumulated to senior year. The class of 2004 has seen a lot in their days at Reed and finally we're outta here!

"[My funniest memory] Junior year, Jen Pearson, Amanda Stockton and I bought 8 rolls of saran wrap and drove to Jen's exboyfriend's work to saran wrap his car. We had it almost completely covered when someone he worked with came out... It turned out her ex had been watching us the whole time and was laughing from inside the building."

-Caitlin Filer

(seen with Jen Pearson and Shaylie Bernier)

"The funniest moment was the second day of this (senior) year. I was walking in the parking lot before school was about to start. I lifted up my leg to fix my pants. My heel got stuck in my purse strap & I fell flat over in the middle of the isle. Luckily no one saw."

"One of my favorite memories in high school would have to be everyday of my four years that I attended Reed. Whether it was a good day or a bad day, full of laughs or full of tears, I took every experience with me and will remember it forever. Some of the most memorable days would have to be... meeting new people, finding my first love, getting my first broken heart and last but not least- learning more about the person I want to be."

Class Motto

We are as great as the dreams we dream
As great as the love we bear
As great as the values we redeem
And the happiness we share.
We are as great as the truth we speak
As great as the help we give
As great as the destiny we seek
As great as the life we live.

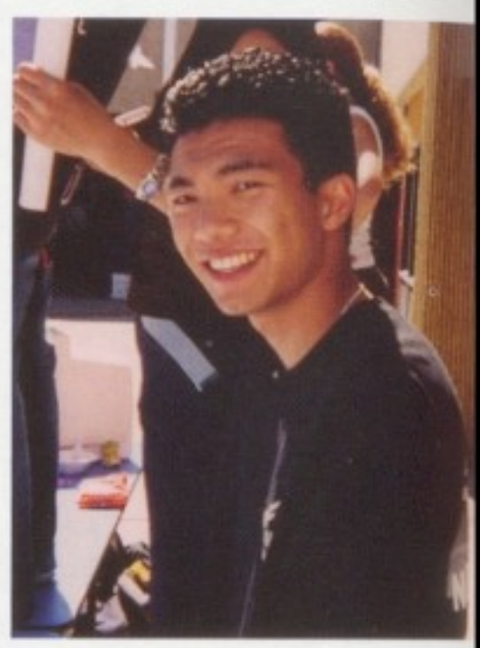
The shape we force ourselves into today may not be the shape we mold into later- its simply just a rough outline of what we want to become and a prediction of where the bumps and bruises will hit.

From Diapers to Diplomas and Graduation Gowns! We made it!

Congratulations Senior Raiders!

It's time to conquer our worlds, fight our battles, cry our tears, shout and write our words. Many of us while walking across the stage will think "What will be done?" I encourage you to think "How will this be done?" It's not necessarily the focus of where you're going or what you're planning to do- but how you will approach future obstacles, endeavors, bosses, friends, and strangers... It's how YOU will travel to YOUR horizon. How will this be done? The best way it can possibly be. Because every day is an adventure, and every drop creates waves.



The time of our lives! Sometimes there are no other words than those that have already been said:

"Another turning point, a fork stuck in the road. Time grabs you by the wrist, directs you where to go. So make the best of this test and don't ask why. It's not a question but a lesson I learned in time-

It's something unpredictable but in the end it's right.

I hope you have the time of your life..." ~Green Day

Sarah DiPrinzio

You are today where your thoughts have brought you; you will be tomorrow where your thoughts take you.

-James Allen

Sarah,
Yesterday we took you to kindergarten and watched you walk in as a young child. Today you walk out of high school as a beautiful young woman full of hope, love, and enthusiasm. We are so proud of the person you have become; you are what every parent dreams and hopes for in a child. We know that you will continue to embrace life to the fullest and fulfill your dreams and wishes. We love you very much.
Mom and Dad

Yeh what is up,
You finally made it- you're out of high school and are going to college. You're living the dreams you had as a child right now. You have been a great sister. Thanks for all you have given me and all the great things we have shared. You're everything you should be and I am going to miss you.
Love, your Bro (Dominic Allen DiPrinzio)

What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters to what lies within us.

-Ralph Waldo Emerson

Through thick and thin, through crazy as in football games and movies, there has never been a dull moment. With all of you in my life, there are few memories that come to mind without a smile. Friends are often there for you when you need them most, yet they often show up when you least expect them.

You have been there for me when I needed you- you have been my advice-givers, chauffers, problem solvers, and the best of friends. I feel so blessed to have all of you in my life. There is no doubt in my mind of how far all of you will go. Each of you has your own unique ability, and each of you has the ability to succeed in what ever you put your mind to.

Memories are tiny moments that stand out in one's mind. No matter where you go or what you do, you will always have the memories! Good luck to all of you!

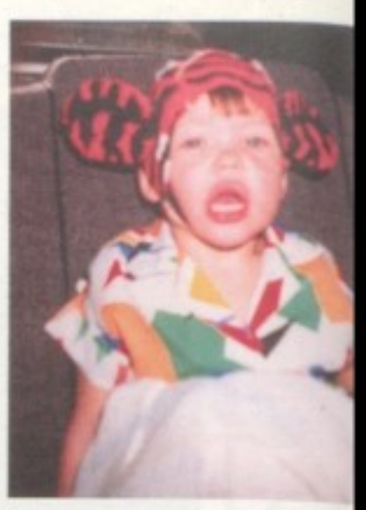
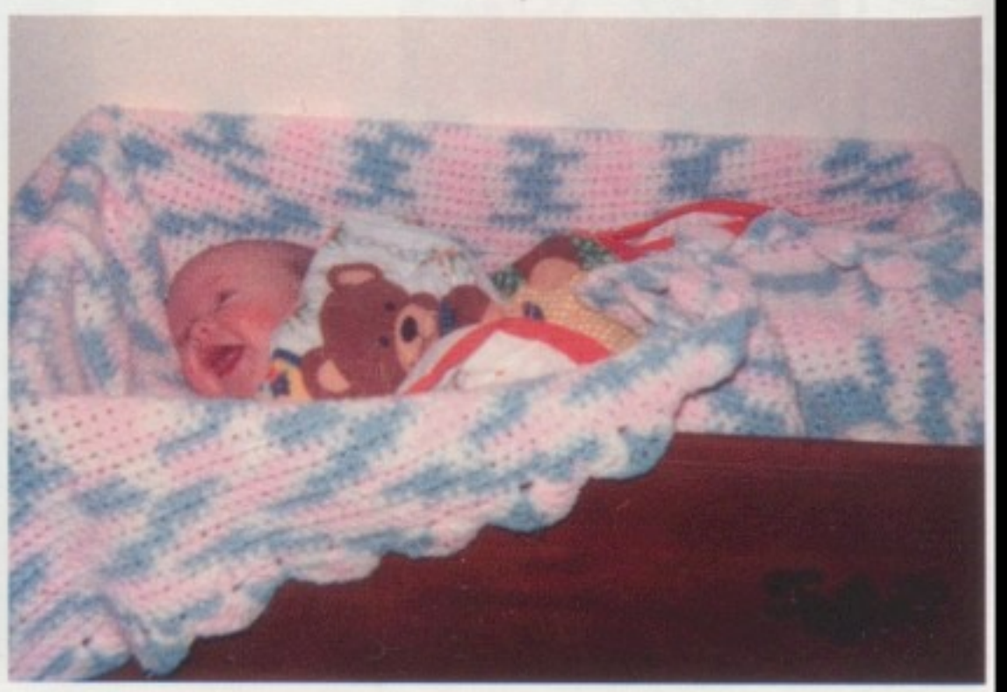
From the time you were wee slept in a drawer
You had the uncanny ability to make me roar
From your goofy antics with bowls on your head
Through your naked little bum in rain-boots sooo red
You continued to grow and become a comical young lad
Maintaining the knack to change a happy face from a sad
'Tis obvious by now that your are an uninhibited clown
So maintain your magical ability to make a smile from a frown.
Jarod, in life your sense of humor will carry you through the many obstacles you will face. I am so GLAD that you are graduating and I can't wait for ARUBA (oohh I wanna take ya)!! ALL MY LOVE, YOUR PROUD MOMMY





RJ Hoffke

R.J. Our lives have certainly been blessed since you have been born. The last 18 years have flown by; you have kept us busy having fun. As parents we couldn't have requested or dreamed of a more loving child such as you! Your smile, sense of humor, abounding energy, and above all your faith in God will carry you through the valley's and up the mountains in life's journey. Always remember to follow your heart.

We love you more,

Jeff,

We knew from the time you were a day old that we had an actor on our hands. It just took us a little longer to find out that you were an artist too. You've kept us all amazed with your many talents for the past 18 years.

You're a fine young man and we're proud of whom you've become. You have friends of all ages because you are kind, considerate, and have a positive outlook. Life for you should continue to be quite an adventure.

We hope that all of your dreams come true, and that you are successful in any endeavor that you may choose in the future.

Mitch,
Ever since you were a little boy we knew you were special. You have always been our pride and joy. We couldn't be more proud of the caring, compassionate young man that you have become. With your strong will and drive you can accomplish anything you desire. Always remember we will be there for you every step of the way!

We love you,
Mom and Dad

My Big Brother,
It seems like only yesterday we were walking home from school with our art work and lunch pails. It really was only yesterday we were driving home in your pickup truck. I hope that wherever you are headed life will take you far. I wish you the best of luck in academics and sports. Thanks for everything!

-Car (Little Sister)

P.S. Run like the wind boy!

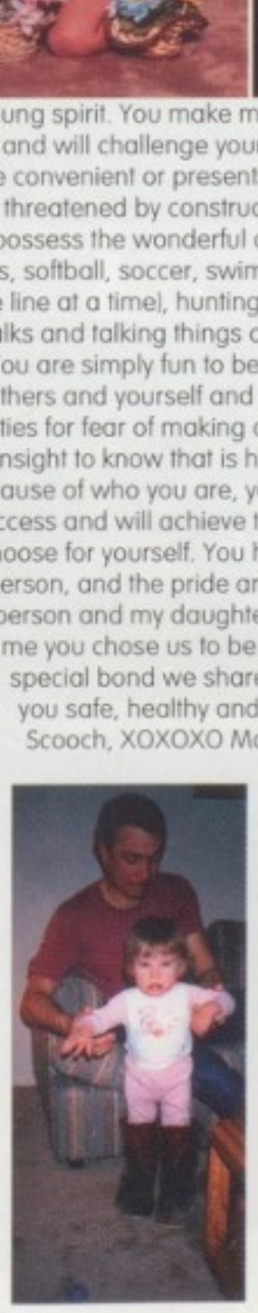
Summer Holloway

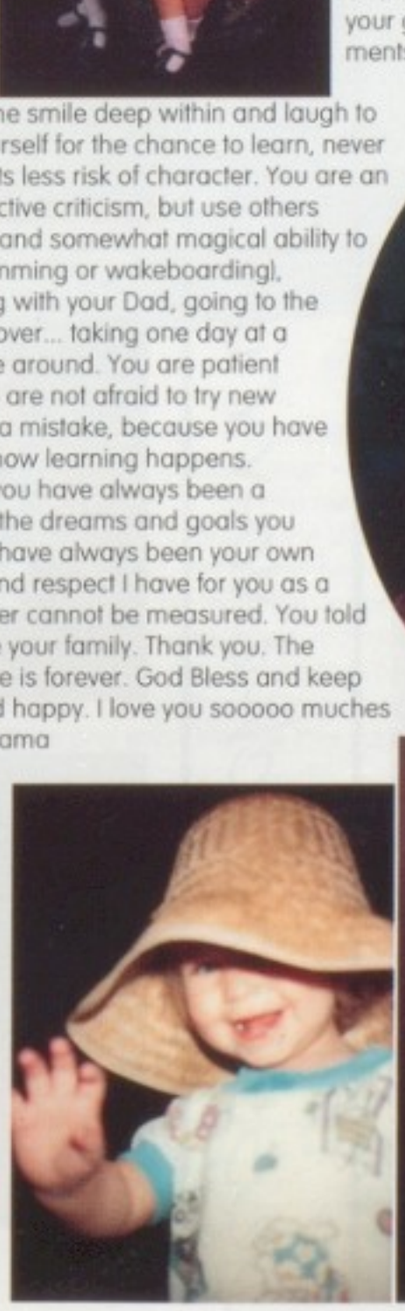
Summer, You are my old soul with a young spirit. You make me smile deep within and laugh to tears. You have a quest for knowledge and will challenge yourself for the chance to learn, never taking the easy road because it is more convenient or presents less risk of character. You are an excellent listener and have never been threatened by constructive criticism, but use others knowledge to increase your own. You possess the wonderful and somewhat magical ability to enjoy life, whether in sports (gymnastics, softball, soccer, swimming or wakeboarding), music (playing your flute or singing one line at a time), hunting with your Dad, going to the prom (you clean up nicely) or taking walks and talking things over... taking one day at a time. You are simply fun to be around. You are patient with others and yourself and are not afraid to try new activities for fear of making a mistake, because you have the insight to know that is how learning happens. Because of who you are, you have always been a success and will achieve the dreams and goals you choose for yourself. You have always been your own person, and the pride and respect I have for you as a person and my daughter cannot be measured. You told me you chose us to be your family. Thank you. The special bond we share is forever. God Bless and keep you safe, healthy and happy. I love you sooooo muches

Scooch, XOXOXO Mama

Daughter,
My admiration and respect for you has grown every day while watching you grow. Continue to keep your sights set true and you will achieve all you aim for in life. I love you.

Your hunting partner,
Paps





Smalls, From your tiny inventions that I would make you try to the endless play days and long trips in the back seat you have been my first and lifelong best friend. I am so proud of all that you have done: your accomplishments in swimming, the way you have excelled in school and the beautiful young woman you have become. I treasure all my memories of you (even the fighting ones) because you have helped me grow and become the person I am today. I love thinking about all the inside jokes we have because they only mean something to us, sort of like a secret language (stop staring at me shwan! It's all about the Tonomonikiss.) You're a wonderful little sister and an amazing person; congratulations on your graduation and all your accomplishments, I love you very much. Talls

Mrs. McDonald's Fourth Grade
Indian Paintbrush Elementary
Laramie, Wyoming 1995-96
She has good things to talk about and always has time to talk to me.
Renee is my most caring friend.
I really like Renee because she is always in such a good mood.
Renee makes me laugh, she has a good since of humor.
Renee is really a good listener.
Renee always has time to help.
She is always there to talk to and she always has something nice to say.
Renee is kind to everyone. She's cool.
Renee is fun to tease because she laughs easily.
I like Renee because she has neat and fun ideas.

Renee, as you can see above you are a cherished part of our class. I agree with the children when they say that you are a kind and caring person. You are always considering people's feelings. You are a blessing and I thank you for working so hard and allowing me to know you. You have added so much to my life by sharing your gift of patience with me. There is so much more to an education than grades. You have shown me how important those other skills are. I will never forget your love for others and your positive attitude. I wish you the best of luck in all you do. Your heart will not be forgotten.
Mrs. McDonald

Renee we are so proud of you, and love you very much!

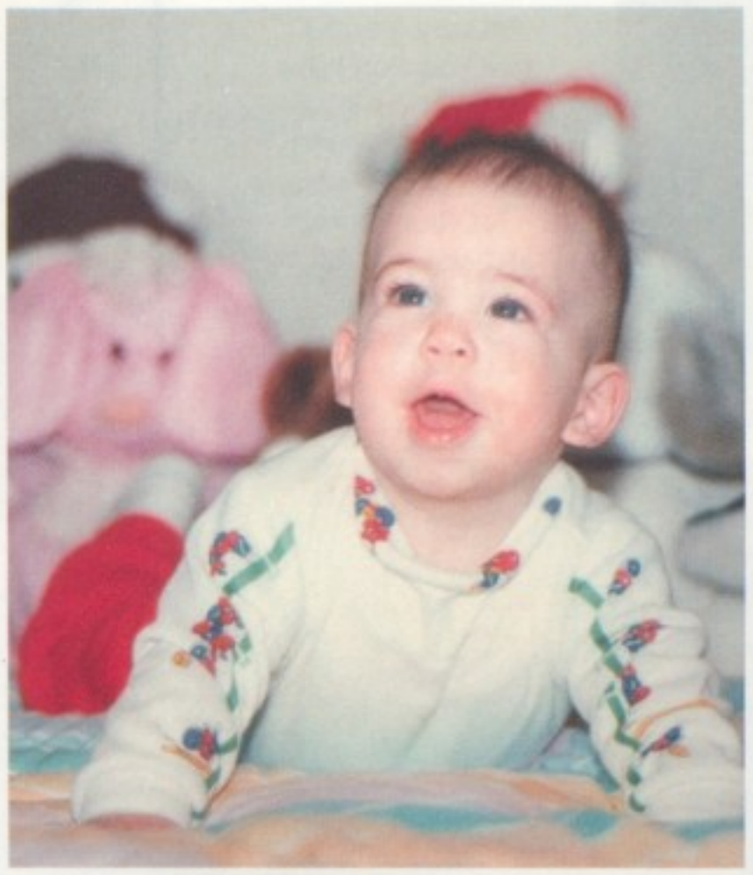
Jessica Echeverria

Jessica,
We are so proud of everything you've accomplished so far in your young life.
We know you will give 100% to every endeavor you undertake. For that effort you make us very proud.
We know your future will be bright, just like your smile!
Congratulations and we love you, Dad, Mom & Brian

Jeff Panko



Jeff,
All parents tell their kids, "I can't believe you're graduating, time flies." Well it does and you'll understand better when you have kids of your own. You came in to this world as our little miracle. You graduated once before while still in the womb going across the UNR stage. Here you are again, this time on your own two feet. We've watched you grow from a shy little boy into a smart, confident young man. We've done our job, the future is now yours and it is only limited by the decisions you make. Continue to stand up for what you believe in, to always be your own person, and make your own decisions. We are so very proud of you. Congratulations on all your accomplishments. Go out there and enjoy life! We love you!
Mom and Dad

Jeffrey,
Wow, I can't believe you're graduating! It seems like yesterday we were playing with GI Joes, or wait, that was yesterday!! :-)! Anyway, thank you for always being there, for teaching me new things, giving me rides, and of course advice! You have showed me what good people are like, because you are one of those people. I love you a lot! Congratulations! You have worked hard and you deserve a successful future that you will receive!
I love you,
Lindsay Lu

Dear Jeffrey,
Time has gone by so fast, it doesn't seem possible you are graduating from high school already. You have always been our special grandson. We are so proud of you for accomplishing so much. Keep up the good work and continue to set and achieve your goals.
We love you,

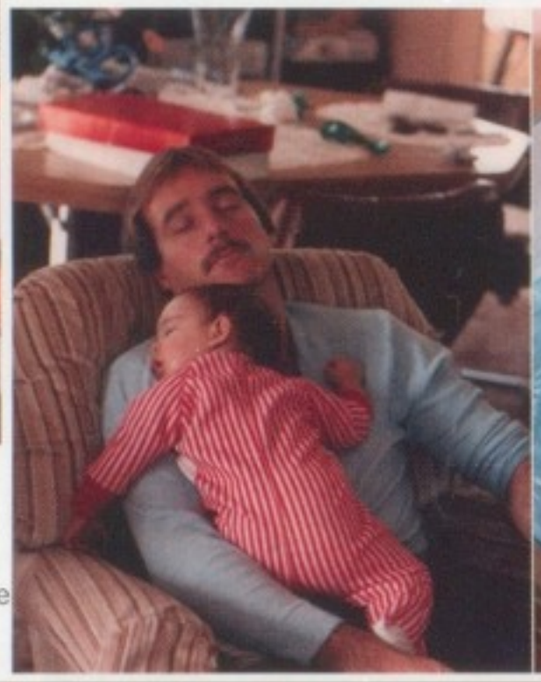
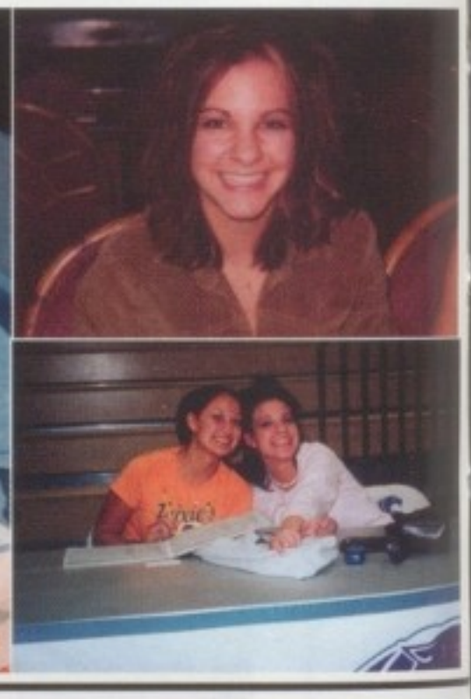
Maegen Talley

To our Maegen (Macie)
WOW!!! This is very hard for me to write, I guess when you were small and then became a teenager I never thought this day would come. That we would be wishing you the best this life has to offer, but we truly do. We'd also like you to know that we're so very proud of you and the accomplishments you have achieved thus far in your young life. Your a beautiful, smart (sometimes too smart!!!) young lady that will be just fine out there in this great big world.
We Love You Very, Very Much and we'll always be there for you. And remember we'll always wish you Love, Happiness and skies of MOONS & STARS.
Forever Mom and Dad





Dear Maegen,
I'm really proud of how good you are doing in school- keep up the hard work. I just wanted to say thank you for all the things you've done for me and I really love you, I will miss you too!! luv you!
Love always, Kristen or byrd

We've been friends for so long...
I know there have been times,
when we've lost touch or drifted
apart for a while, but sooner or later,
Our paths always seem to lead back to each other.
I'm glad we'll always be friends
I'm glad to be there, for you
I'm glad to know you
I'm glad to see you, making your goals.
I'm glad to see you, growing with your own steps.
This way I tell you, that we are going to be friends forever...
Much love, friends from Wooster High School

And the good times roll!!

From blue ribbon roller booties for a blue ribbon baby to beating me at golf!

You have brought us so much joy. Hugs and Kisses.

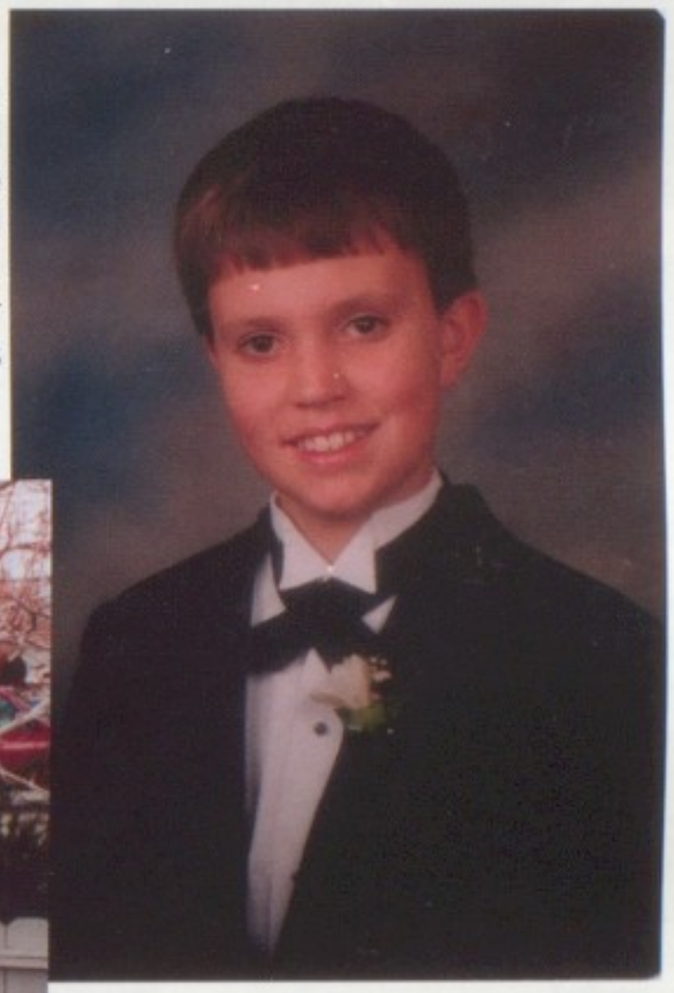
Michael,
You are a fantastic young man. We are confident that you will be very successful in life and bring those special qualities you have to everyone you meet just as you have in our lives. We love you and are as proud as anyone could be of the many achievements you've already reached. Never give up your dreams and always remember your family is here for you. Thanks for the wonderful memories and for the ones yet to come.
Grandma and Grandpa



Michael-
We are so pleased to see what a wonderful person you have become. You are mature, level-headed (most of the time) and bright. I still remember you learning to talk, and now you articulate your feelings and brilliance with poise and grace almost daily. We are so glad to have you in our lives and I don't know what I'll do when you move on but I know we will always be close. Congratulations on all you've achieved and we look forward to seeing you succeed in the future.

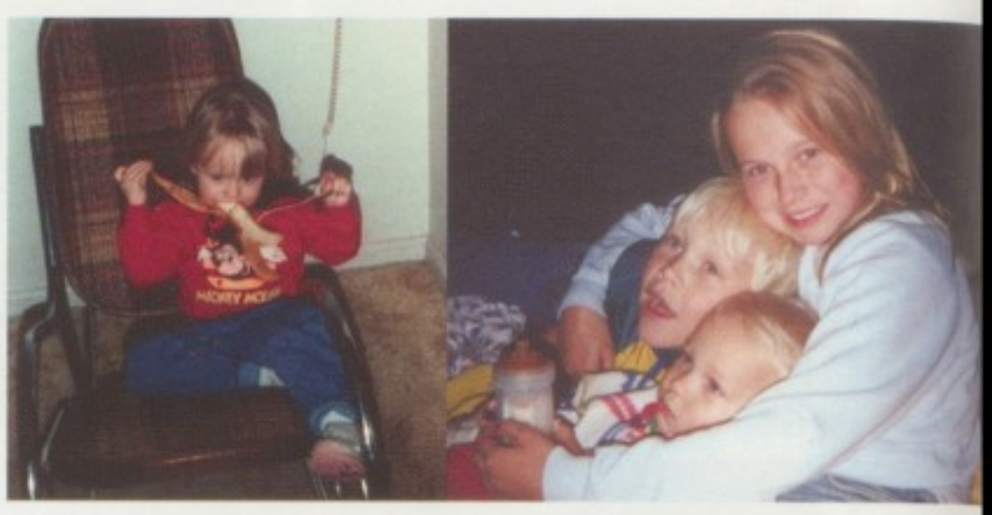
Kim Stanhouse

Kim

You have always been truly a gift. As a child you were what any parent dreamed of: well-behaved, responsible, tenacious, and cautious. As a young adult you have continued with these attributes but gained many more. Honest, trustworthy, self reliant, motivated and caring are just a few. You are now a young woman heading into the great inknown that is called "Adulthood." You have the foundation, now build the future. Congratulations and thank you.
Love, Mom



Kimberly

It has been a pleasure and a privilege to watch you develop in to such a quality young lady. I will always treasure the moments we have shared and look forward to many more. Your self-motivation and determination have inspired me to be a better person. As you move into this next phase of your life, continue to defeat adversity and not let it get you down- your leadership and organizational skills will make you successful at whatever path you choose to take. Thank you, congratulations and best wishes- Love always,

Dad

Congratulations with hugs and kisses- from "Your far away family."

Friends

To my amigas and amigos- Throughout these four years (and longer in some cases) we've watched each other grow, learn and experience a variety of new things. I am so glad I have been able to spend these special times with you all. Not only have you been my friends, you're the reason I get out of bed in the morning, and the reason for my smiles. All of you, mentioned or unmentioned, have the best characteristics as people that anyone could ask for- you will all succeed in anything you put your mind to.

Scott: You're my rock, thank you for being there, always. Wendy: We've had some good laughs and times. You're one of the most intelligent people I have met, and I know you will do whatever necessary to be the Dr. you want to be. Catkun: It seems like just yesterday I was writing you notes in English 1-2. You're such a uniquely positive person, and it's refreshing. Never change. Kelly: It's amazing the things you've endured, and I know you have one of the more honest, strongest personalities I have ever known. You're my favorite drama dump, too. Mitch: I can always count on you for support in times of need... thank you very much. Jeci: We've been through so much crap together! Ever since that 7th grade PE class, we've laughed, cried and everything in between... thank you for those times! Du bist mir sonnig! Bobby: It definitely has been a long time since we had chocolate all over our faces on Valentine's Day. And, it may not mean much, but I am so honored to graduate along side you. Cassie: I'm sure you'll go far in what you want to do- just have confidence, take a chance... you should know you're great. My sons, Jeff, Aaron, Brett and Josh: You all have taught me so much of the value of patience. Thank you so much. You all have a unique gift, a gift that would make any mother proud. Good luck with life, if you ever need me, I'll be there, kids. Yeah, that's true... it's a fact, mhmmm. Shawnicé: It may have been a long journey to understanding one another, but we achieved it before it was too late. You push me to do better, and go further, thank you. Leanna, Shaylie & Briggsy: We will always have those great 5 weeks at yearbook camp... only one nut. CJ: Kiddo! I love you so much! That's all there is to say about that. Matt: You've saved me so many times! Thank you! Brian: Thanks for the fun times. Anyone I forgot, I am sorry, I still love you!

To the yearbook staff:
I may say that I hate yearbook, but I truly do love all of you. You have a zest for life, and no one will ever take that away. You've made this hs experience memorable, and I take all of you for the drive to complete this mountainous task. :-)

To the debate team:
You all have made up my truest family... each and every single one of you have a very special place in my mind and heart. I am so proud of how far all of you have come, and I am sure you will continue your evolution of knowledge. Don't ever give up- you all can achieve anything. You are the future, make it bright! Go R-E-A-D!

WTP:
You all have taught me the importance of diversity, both in opinion, background and everything else. Good luck! Ya'all are a very talented bunch!

Thank you all for the past four years. Good luck, congratulations... watch out real world! Here we come! I love you all with as much of my heart as possible!

And, what kind of Daughter would I be if I didn't thank my Daddy?
I love you so much! You have given everything so I could have something and I thank you so much. I hope I make you proud, you've taught me everything that I find to be a good quality in myself. Thank you for 18 years of dedication!

Love, Kim

Mark Loventzen

Mark~ You have grown into the most remarkable young man. We are awed by your talents, intelligence, wit, and inquisitiveness, but most of all, by your generous and kind spirit. We have learned right along with you in every passion you have explored and our lives have been so enriched by all we have experienced in raising you. The joy you have brought to our lives is immeasurable and we feel privileged and blessed to be your parents.

We know you will enjoy great success in all you strive to achieve. We hope you will continue to love life and learning as you always have. You are exceptional and we love you so much. Congratulations!

Love, Mom and Dad

We love you Mark! Love, Anne, Lisa, and Kathryn

Tori Sims

Tori, Baby girl. It's your world and we're simply cast members participating in your major production. The first act has been a hit as you've led yourself well to this point in the crossroad. Heaven only knows how high you'll jump and how far your wings will take you in the future. You have what it takes to make a difference in our society. Go forth and do great deeds knowing we've always got your back. Much Love. Dad

Tori-

What a revolution you have made from that shy little girl to a most beautiful and social young lady. As your parents we could not feel more proud. You posess all the qualities of a successful, caring individual and just enough drama thrown in to keep us laughing. Take flight my beautiful butterfly, the world awaits you. I love you so. Mom

Kyle Labarry

Kyle, I am so proud of you and am very lucky and honored to call you my brother. I love you more than you know. I know that you'll succeed in anything that you'll do because you put 150% into everything. Keep your head up, your beautiful smile on, and good luck. Never ever turn down the opportunity for fun- it keeps you balanced! Love always, Kellie

Kyle (also known as Krunch)- We can't believe how the time has gone- from merry berry to graduation. You have grown into such a handsome young man right before our very eyes. We know you will have success in what ever the future holds for you, because your great sense of humor and wisdom. Remember we are always here for you and love you forever!! God bless you, Kyle. Charmayne George

Charmayne,
Looking back you have touched my life in so many ways
I have watched you become the person you are today
The look of happiness on my child's face when they see you brings back the memory of you in their place
Through the years we have watched you grow and now we have to let you go
As you go out into the world you will be faced with many choices
Don't let fear stand in your way of your success
Always look ahead and you will reach each goal you set out to achieve
As your life unfolds like the pages of a book
Remember you alone write your own destiny
I am very proud of you and love you- Auntie Tina

Charmayne, Congratulations!! I love you, Dad

I am proud of you, Mayne. I love you. Grandma Lucille

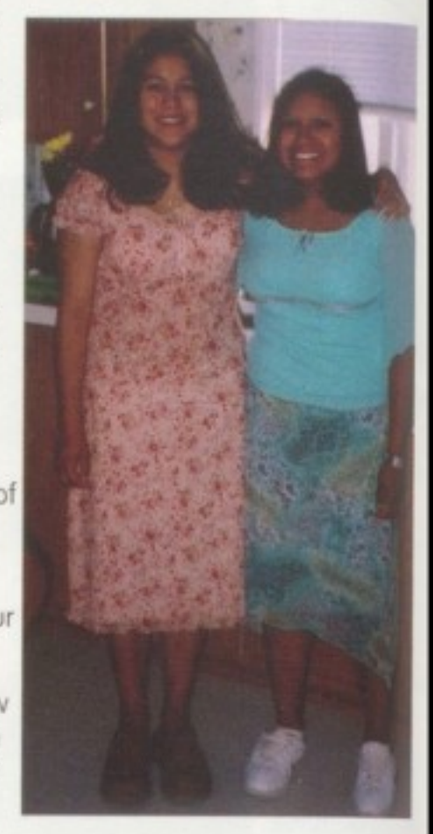
Charmayne, I have watched you grow from a child into a woman with pride. You have attained all the necessary qualities to be a wonderful niece, cousin, daughter and friend. These qualities are most apparent when you are taking care of your mom or talking to your little cousins, who not only look up to you but enjoy being around you. The woman that you have grown into is kind, caring and would stand by her family to lend her support. You have always accomplished all that you set out to do and managed to overcome obstacles to achieve the end result. I know you will accomplish all the goals that you have set for yourself. I am very proud of you. I want you to know that we will always be here for you.
Love, Auntie Jessica, Chris, Tashina, Tori and Jill

Charmayne, My first grandchild, God bless you. We are so proud of you. You have completed your first step, college is the next step. Your nana and I love you dearly, good luck in whatever you choose to do. PA

CharMayne Anne, A beautiful bundle of joy came my way 18 years ago. To watch you grow and mature and to share in your laughter and tears, what a joy. I will always be here for you and I love you with all my heart. I am proud of you. Always and forever, Nana

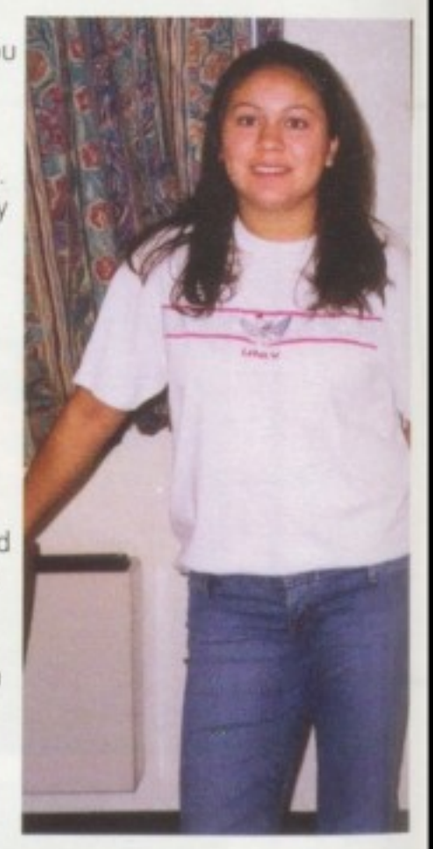
Hey Mayne, Good luck in the future. I wish you the best. I am very happy for you- you made it out of High School. I love you always- k-! Congrats, Love your cuz, Shaylene Kayla George-Mike

To my niece.....Congratulations!! My how you have grown so fast, just a few years ago you were so small. Now it's time to fly! Spread your wings, you can achieve ANYTHING you want!! Grandpa Doug was so proud of you! I know in my heart that he is looking down & smiling, and saying "That's GREAT, I'm proud of you." Now, I am saying the same! I love you always..... Auntie Nette



CharMayne,
It seems just yesterday you were so small. We had some trying times, but you have matured into a very nice young lady. Please continue to spread your wings and follow your dreams. I love you! Mom

Charmayne, Congratulations! I'm proud you made it. I hope you'll keep going.
Love you, Grandpa Harvey



Charmayne, We are so proud of you!!! You have been through a lot, but with your strong will, big heart and knowing when you need to make the right decision for yourself, you come out winning. Remember the greatest gift the Holy ones could give you is the power to choose, and you chose.
Keep going with your head up high and remember we are always there for you.
Love you, Auntie Wanda, Uncle Ron, Rondiann and Valerie Quasula

Congratulations, I love you! Grandma Rena

Charmayne- I want to wish you continued success in your ongoing efforts towards your higher education and other doors that may open for you. There may be doors that may look too comforting and welcoming to you, but my sweet niece, observe before making any kind of decisions. Be prepared for the ups and downs, the straight and winding roads that lie in your path, but I know MeeMee, I have high confidence in you. And of course you may take a trip- you will have to get back up and prepare yourself for the step. I want to wish you the best, and offer you my support anytime you need it- I'll be here for you always and remember that your family is here to continue to support you- it's your dream of the future that will pull you out of bed in the morning and create a current that will draw others towards its realization.
Congratulations Charmayne- Love always your Auntie Shelley (Tanya, Nicole and Sierra).

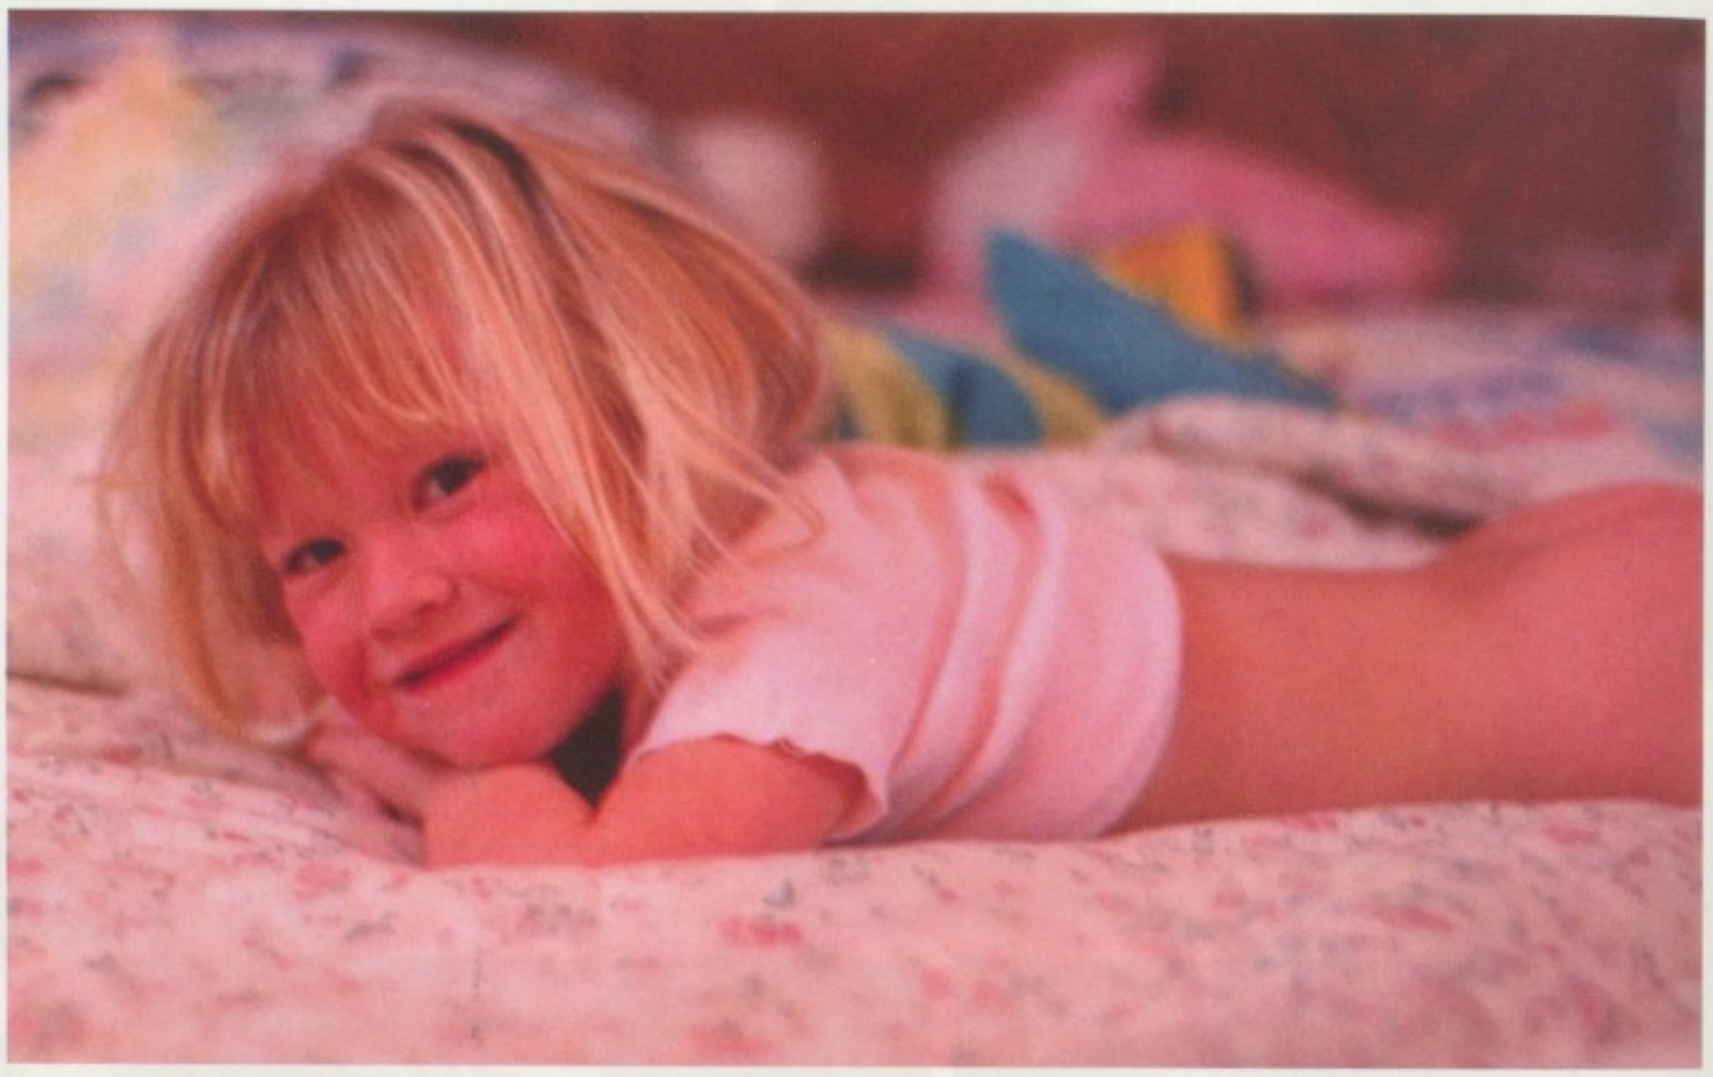
MANCHESTER
Field

Joseph and Janice Field of West River Drive, Manchester, are pleased to announce the birth of their daughter Ashley Megan, on Dec. 21, 1985, at 7:20 a.m. at Elliott Hospital, Manchester. She weighed 4 lbs., 14 ozs. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Landry of Laconia and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Field of Concord, California. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Field Sr. of Concord, Calif., and Mrs. Lucille D'Quain of Concord, Calif.



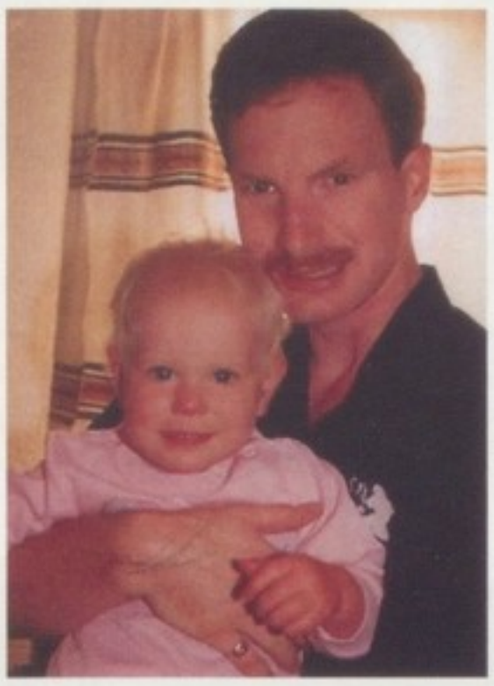
Memories began when Ashley was born... As her grandmother, I was fortunate to have her around for the first 6 months of her life, Her smile always warmed me as I grew to adore her more each day. Even though distance has separated us, I have watched her grow from a playful and charming little girl to the teenager she is today. Wonderful, always finding time to spend with her family and keeping in touch. Caring and loving, she has been an asset to all of us. Memere

"The spirit knows no distance." What can I say about Ashley... She has always remained close to us throughout her childhood. As a young lady, she takes the time to show how much she cares for her family by always remembering special days or just writing or calling to let us know she is thinking about us. Although we would love to have her here, being in Nevada has not impacted the closeness we feel with her. The effort she makes keeps us engaged in her life. We have watched her grow up to be a kind, dependable and thoughtful girl... She has made us very proud! Aunt Donna

Ashley, From when you were younger to now, you have always stayed the sweet person you are. You are not only a cousin to me but also a best friend. I think of you as my other sister and throughout the years we have shared so much, not only our problems and fears but also our happiness and memories. We always have the best time together. You care so much about your family and friends. You are truly a very special person to me. I know we will always be close. Love, Genna

Ashley- I love your sweet smile, your sensitive caring nature and your fun loving ways. Sometimes I find you wise beyond your years. You are beautiful inside and out. You have a bright future, so keep on shining. You are my very special niece Ashley and I love you. Love Aunt Carol

Cassie Shaft



Love, happiness and success... I wish that you continue to know the joy of these things all of your life.
I wish that you have more than the average share of good luck... but not so much that you forget the pleasure of accomplishment that will only come to you from your own hard work.
I wish that you go as far as you want and that you climb as high as your gifts and talents will take you... as long as you promise to come home every now and then.
First, last and always... I wish you love.

Dad

You are wonderful. In the past few years you have become a beautiful young woman and I am happy and lucky to be able to call you my daughter. The only limits to how far you can go are the ones you may put on yourself. We will always be here for you.

Heather

You are an amazing person. When I look at all the things that you have done and gone through, I am truly dumbfounded. You have so many great qualities that there can be nothing but success for you. I have so much respect for you because you have done many things that I couldn't have... and done them well.
Cassie, I am proud of you and I will always be there for you, Sis.

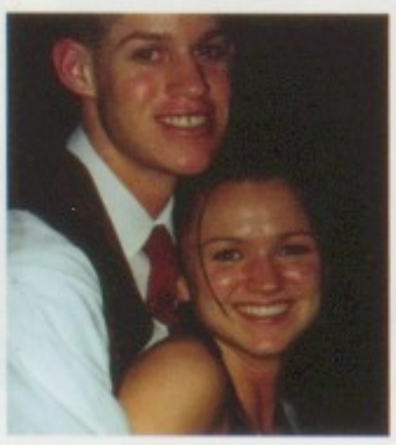
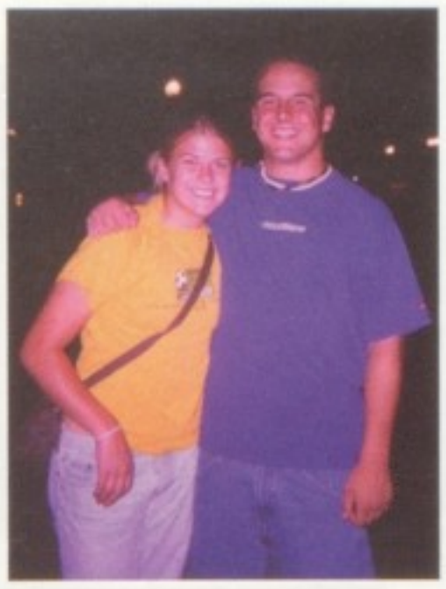
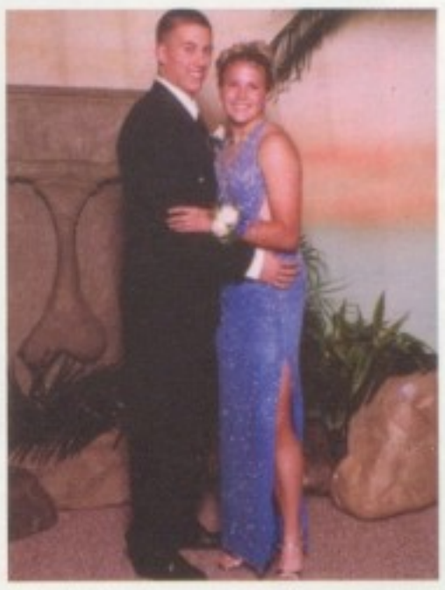
Over the years our relationship has grown to heights that even we hadn't known. All the memories that we share don't seem like enough, but no matter where life leads us I know there will be more. I am so proud of all you have accomplished. Never forget who you are and where you came from and let nothing stand in the way of your dreams. You're an amazing person with so much to offer. Thank you for allowing me to be a part of your life.

Love Always, Forever, and Today!
Your Best Friend for Life,
-Mark-







Trisha,
There are so many things that I would like to say. I have watched you grow into an amazing young woman. You have made me so very proud with your achievements in athletics, academics, and your ability to do what is right and your sense of fairness to all. I admire the respect that you have earned from so many others. As this one chapter comes to a close I know that your future is bright and promising, for you have only just begun the long voyage in life.
Congratulations and good luck.
Love, DAD

My Trisha,
As I was looking through all the pictures taken since your birth, many tears were brought to my eyes as I see my baby girl all grown up. I love you so much. You have made me the proudest of Mom's with your accomplishments both physical and academic. Your beautiful smile and large heart have drawn very special people into your life. As you begin your new life and develop a career, please know that I will always be here for you.
Thank you Trisha for being the daughter that you are.
All my love, Mom

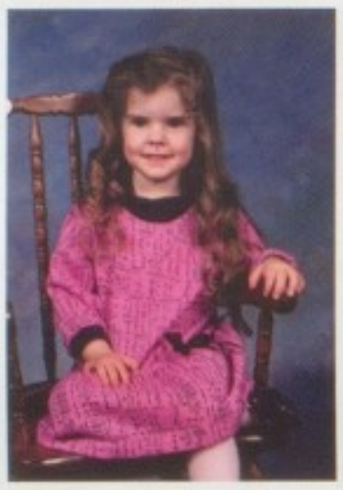
You have grown from a sweet baby into a young woman of purpose and conviction. Your future is bright and beckoning, and we know that you're going to shake up the world. Congratulations on your hard work, the world is waiting. Love from Dad and Mom



Sarah Kress

Sarah Michelle Kress,
Though you were second born and you have always said that we treat you different than your older sister, we have always known that you are special in your own way. You will always be special to us as you are our little "princess" just as your name means. May you always be mindful- you are the daughter of the king of kings. Our prayers for you have always been from the book Ephesians 3:17-4:7. Every time we think of you we shall think of your favorite verse from Romans 8:35-39. May you know nothing can separate you from our love as well. Love always and forever,

Wessca,
When we met back in freshmen year, I was the quiet loser and you were the loud obnoxious cool kid with orange hair! Thanks to you, you totally changed me into the person I am now. I wouldn't know what to do without you, you're the nut in my peanut butter! (you know PB isn't PB without nuts!) We've been through so much, both good and bad- more good though (like my parents gone for a week or "the lights are flashing!" or even our rap video!) Just think our friendship has just begun, we are seniors now ready to take on the world and I have no fears because I know you will always be by my side forever. Never Forget.....

To my best friend SAWA~
I look back on my life before there was you, but I don't like what I see. You have always been there for me and my time with you will affect me forever. You have taught me so much and I would not be the person I am today if it wasn't for you. We have laughed together and cried together, you offer me such comfort and hope. Every time we fight I turn around and see a smile on your face telling me everthing will be okay. You are a brave, courageous, extraordinary person and I admire you. You have multiplied the good in life and divided it's evil. To find a real friend is good fortune, to keep him is a blessing. I love you Sawa!

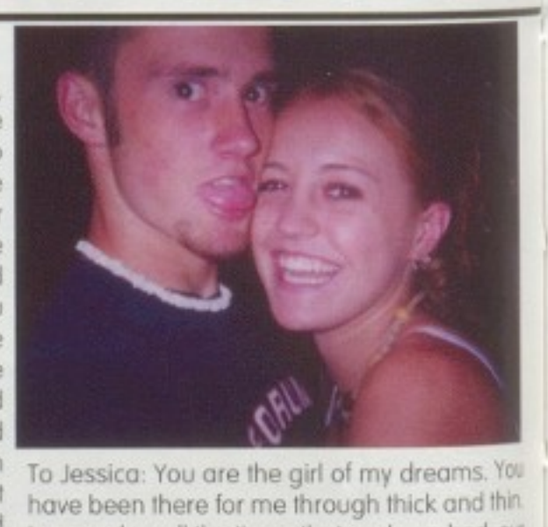
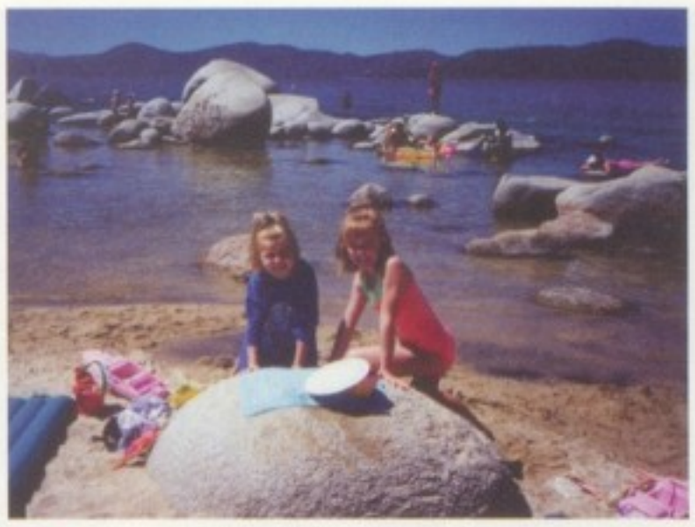
Jessica Burk, Jason McGee

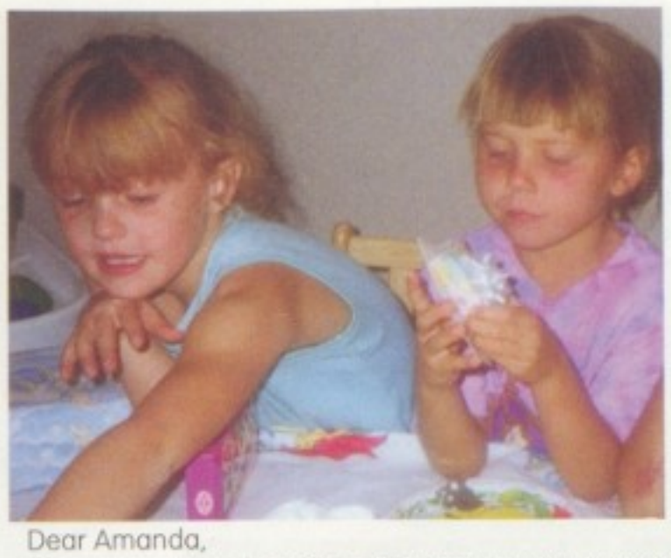
Dear Jason,
I remember the first time I laid eyes on you, you were everything I wanted and more. We have come such a long way in our relationship and I wouldn't trade you for the world. We have seen the worst and the best sides of eachother and I love everything about you. You have given me love and made me feel safe, and shown me how great life can be. I love you more than you'll ever know, because there are no words to express it. There was a time where I was lonely and depressed and I couldn't find happiness. Then you came along and changed my whole world. You always make me laugh and comfort me when I'm sad. I would be lost without you. I yearn for your sweet kisses and great big hugs, just laying in your arms is what I love most. You are my world, my everything. I love you baby! Love always, Jess



To Jessica: You are the girl of my dreams. You have been there for me through thick and thin. I remember all the times that we have had, our ups and downs, good times and our bad. You have made me a better person in more than one way. You have helped me with my attitude and the way I talk to people and I thank you for that. You have made me the person I have always wanted to be and the person I am today. I realize now that you are the only girl I ever want in my life and that you are my whole world. We have been through so much that I am thanking God that you are still here with me. I remember the first time I saw you, I realized that you are the girl for me and I had to have you. Thank you so much for putting up with me for so long. I love you so much baby. Please never leave and trust me- everything will go fine. Love Always & Forever- The love of your life, Jason

Amanda Stockton, Jessica Burk





Dear Amanda,
You have always brought so much life, laughter, and joy to our lives and have remained "Our Girl" throughout. You are a continued source of inspiration to all that know you. Follow your passions and all will fall into place. We love you and are very proud of you.

Dear Jessica,
It's been a joy watching you grow over the years. We are truly blessed to have you in our family. You make our hearts smile when we are with you. Be proud of yourself and follow yours dreams but always remember where you came from. We love you, support you and will be here for you always. Love,

Grandma and Grandpa Teague

Jessica,
I remember the days when you were so small and needed me so much. You spent your days asking me why the sky was blue and how God made the stars. The memories of your curly brown hair and your big brown eyes and most of all your sweetest laughter stays with me. It seems like yesterday when you preferred to ride your bike instead of your car, and you played with your toys for hours instead of talking on the phone. Wasn't it yesterday when you preferred me over your friends? A part of me hates to let you go out into the world to discover your purpose and another part of me is excited on what you have become and all you will accomplish. I am proud of you and I am so grateful God trusted me to be your mother. I love you Jessie. Love, Mom

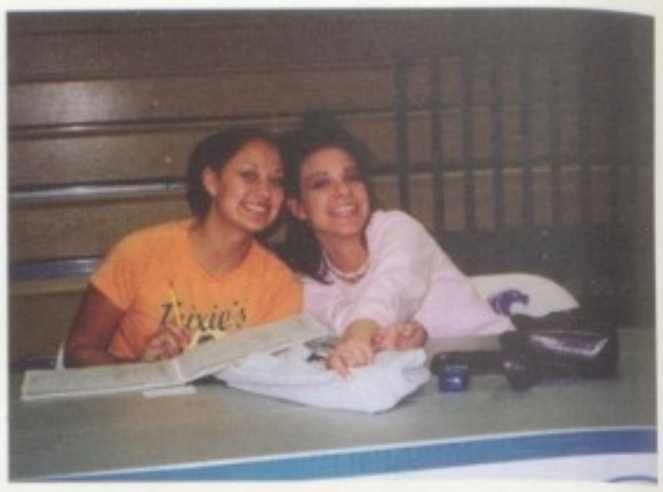
"Sister,"
As I sit here and think of all that we've been through together, it completely blows my mind. Maegan Rae, you are my bestest friend in the whole wide world and there's no doubt in my mind that it's going to stay that way forever. We are one mind in two bodies thinking the same. No matter what happens in both of our lives, regardless of whether we choose to take different paths, please remember that your friendship means more to me than anything I've ever known. You have taught me so much about life and love, I literally could not have survived without your incredible presence in my life. You have changed me and for that I cannot thank you enough. You have brought more joy and happiness to my life than I ever thought possible. I love you beyond what words can say. Whatever the future holds for you, I know it will be promising- you never cease to amaze the world, Maegen. You are a bright star, shine your light!

Your best friend for life,
Kimmi Lynn



Kimmielynn,
As we sit here in my room, ten million thoughts run through our heads wondering what to say and what not to say because of such limited space. I think of every possible thing we've been through and in the process it makes me want to laugh and cry, but in the end smile. There is one thing to say to you and that is THANKS. You've been there for me when I needed someone the most, and in the end showed me what true friendship really is. It was because of you that a broken heart or just a bad day in general seemed so menial. When I needed to cry about "him," this , or that you were there. When I needed to laugh or get a positive reinforcement on a crazy idea you were always there with your "That sounds wonderful!" lines. You are a beautiful sophisticated young lady who will go far in life. I've looked up to you for the past three years and I am definitely grateful that I got to walk along side you in our many great adventures in life and those that are still to come. We will be best friends for life and I know this for sure. My sister, and that shooting star in my sky, I LOVE YOU!!

Love always, Maegen Rae

Zach Jonas

Zachary,
WOW, is the only word that comes to mind when I try to sum up the past four years that we have experienced together. When we first met I would never have imagined that we'd have grown as close as we are. You were there for me through thick and thin and I can't even begin to express how grateful I am for that. Thank you so much for shaping me into who I am. I really can't think of a single person as lucky as I am to have shared such a special relationship like we have. I am truly thankful to have you in my life. You are an incredible person and I am certain that the future will bring amazing things to you. If I know what love is, it is because of you, Zach. I will love you for eternity and more than you'll ever know.

Love Forever,

I know you will be the one to reach all your goals with your determination and positive attitude. Never forget that you run your ship, and you run it straight to a bright future. Love, Mama

Kimberly,

I am so proud of you. Whenever somebody asks me who I look up to I don't even hesitate to say you. I love you so much. You make me feel like I can do anything.

Love, your little sister Ash

Kim, As your older sisters, you've done more for us than be a target for all of our jokes and pranks growing up, as well as serve as our personal hair stylist and outfit coordinator over the years. You add so much joy to our lives, the feeling of love and happiness you've brought us is indescribable. We are so proud of you and love you more than you could ever know. You touch all those you encounter with your beautiful smile and big heart. Always let your light shine and remember that you have the potential to do anything!

Your big sisters,

Becca and Bren

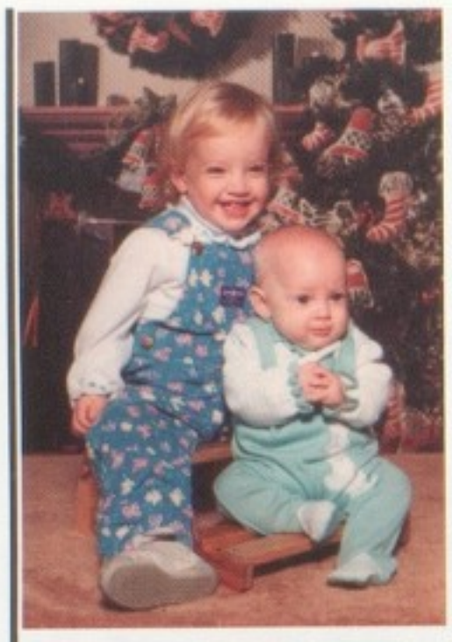
Brittany James



Brittany, You've come a long way on a hard road. I am proud to call you my sister, and proud of all you've accomplished. You are an amazing young woman with high goals, a sense of humor, and a strong personality. You are going to make something wonderful of yourself one day. I wish you the best of luck, but you don't need it. You will do just fine. Thank you for always being there for me, and remember I'm always here for you. I am the luckiest girl in the world to have you as my sister. I can't wait to see all the memories we make in the next few years. I love you, Jen

Dear Boogie,

Wow! It's hard to believe that you're all grown up. It seems like yesterday that you were in Kindergarten. Dad and I couldn't be more proud! From the moment that your were born, we knew that you were always going to be a beautiful, loving, and caring special lady. You have never been short for words, and we have always known where you stand on things.

There have been many times where you have literally been a small ball of fire! Just ask your teachers. Haha!

You shine and touch everyone who knows and loves you! Your compassion cannot be surpassed. Your father and I are always especially moved with your poetic ways. Continue to reach for the stars and be compassionate and loving to others.

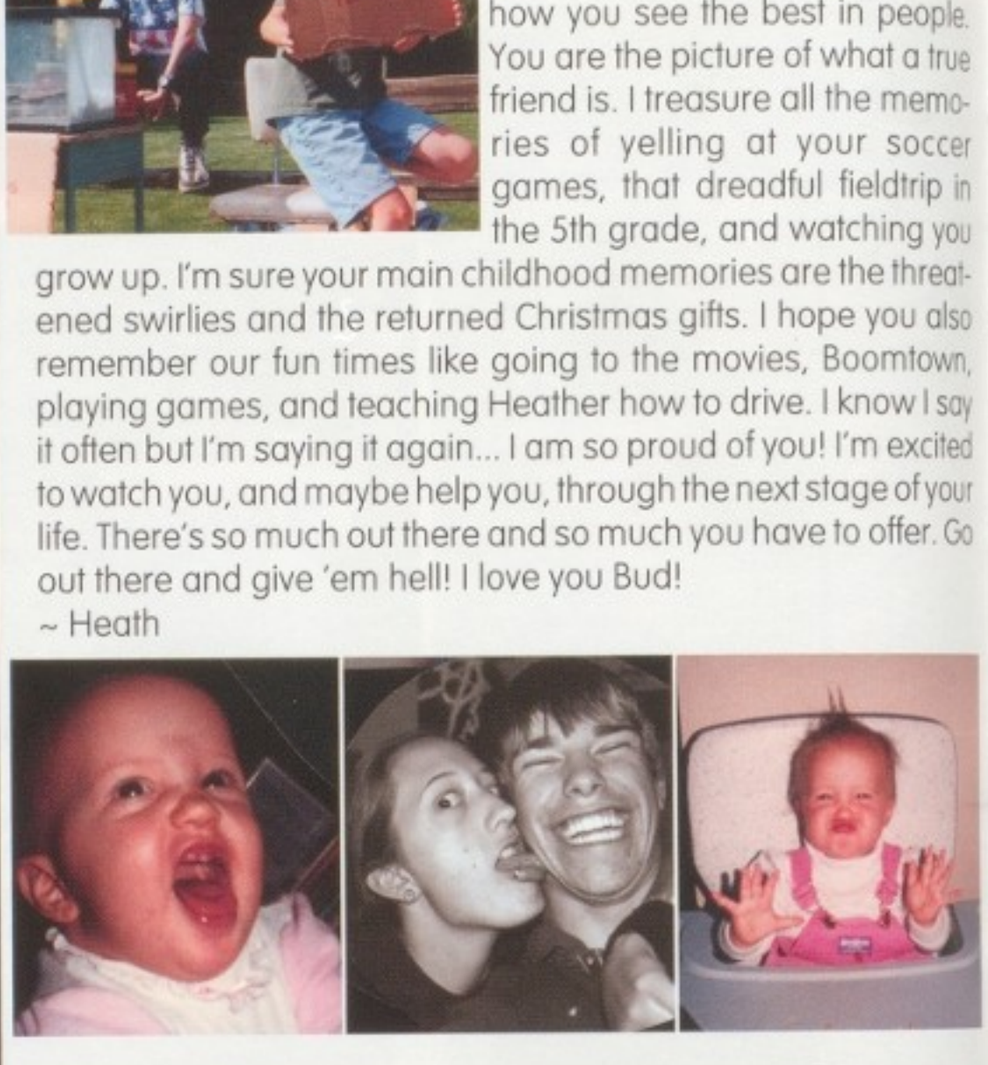
Your special glow, laugh and smile is infectious. Continue to use your special ability to touch the world as this is a special gift! Use this ability and take your life to the fullest extent. Remember... You have a special angel on your shoulder. Always make her proud as we are!

We love you, Mom and Dad

Kimmer Pace

Kimmer, When I was 13 years old and Mom told me that I was going to have a little sister, I didn't know what to think. I had given up on the thought of having a sibling when I was 8. Then you came into our lives and I didn't have to give it thought anymore. (Except when you had colic and when you were a monster four year old.) I always thought that I would be the one teaching you but it was actually you that taught me along the way. I have been so proud of you and even jealous at times. I am amazed at how beautifully you play the guitar, how you make art look so easy, how you can throw a football further than some guys I know, and how you see the best in people. You are the picture of what a true friend is. I treasure all the memories of yelling at your soccer games, that dreadful fieldtrip in the 5th grade, and watching you grow up. I'm sure your main childhood memories are the threatened swirlies and the returned Christmas gifts. I hope you also remember our fun times like going to the movies, Boomtown, playing games, and teaching Heather how to drive. I know I say it often but I'm saying it again... I am so proud of you! I'm excited to watch you, and maybe help you, through the next stage of your life. There's so much out there and so much you have to offer. Go out there and give 'em hell! I love you Bud!

~ Heath



Kimmer, You are a kind and gentle spirit who has challenged convention and championed the rights of others. Always maintain your courage, integrity and great sense of humor.

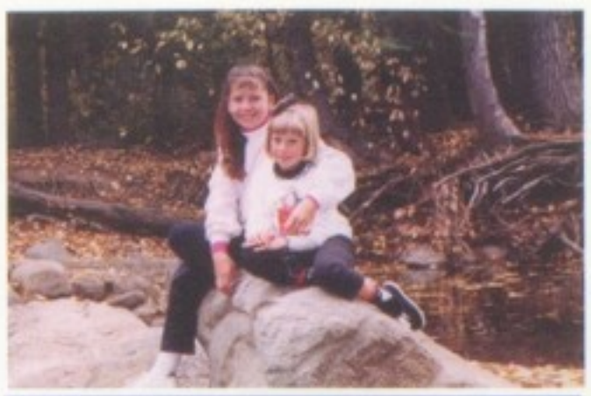
We love you and are very proud of you,

Mom and Dad, Mooch

and I guess, Murphy too!

Collette

When thinking back over the years, we have so many wonderful memories of you. Whatever you seemed to get involved in, you always gave it your all, but most of all, "Your Heart". We know you'll find success but most of all happiness in life. Be the best you can be always! We love you,
Mom & Dad



Nicole, I am so proud of you. You are such a great girl, and I know that you will go very far in life. Stay strong and reach for the stars, my little Hawaiin Unicorn! Love always,

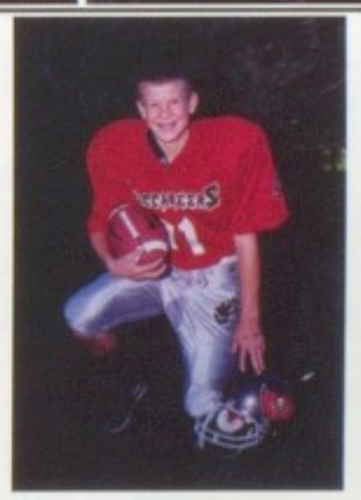
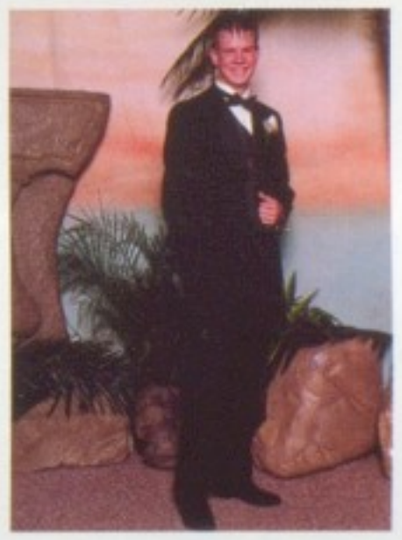
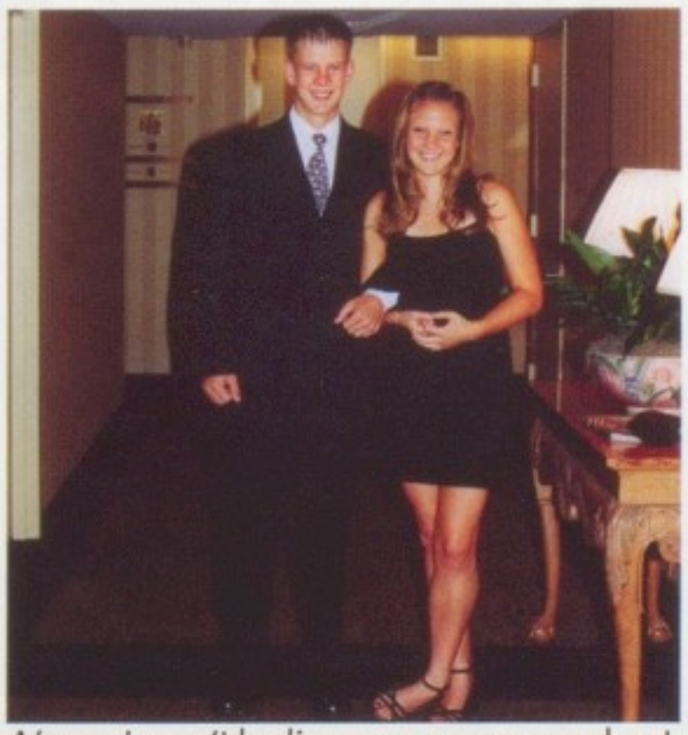
Adam, The time has gone so quickly. It seems only yesterday you were an adorable little baby; today you are a young man. Congratulations on your high school graduation! We are so prooud of you! As you face the upcoming challenges of college and adulthood, remember the following: love God, do everything to the best of your abilities, never compromise on what is most important and fight valiantly for what you believe in. We love you with all our hearts, Mom and Dad







A'am, I can't believe you are graduating this year! We've had some pretty good times in the past and still plenty to come. I'm proud of you and I love you! Allie

Shaylie Bernier

Shaylie, you are my baby. I know you are a big girl and you want to be older- don't rush it, you will be older before you know. I love you so much it hurts. You are my little sweetheart. I love you. Dad

Shaylie- Congratulations.
You are the light of our lives, the twinkle in our eyes and oh, don't forget those dimples!!! You are going to be a "star" someday, but always remember you are and always will be a "star" in our eyes. We are so proud of you, the beautiful woman you have become. Smile that beautiful smile and the world is yours.

All our love,
Mom and Kurtie

Leanna,

From the first second we looked into your tiny face we knew you were special. God has great plans for your life. Whatever you do with your talents is going to be exciting. We can't possibly express in words how much we love you and how proud we are of you.

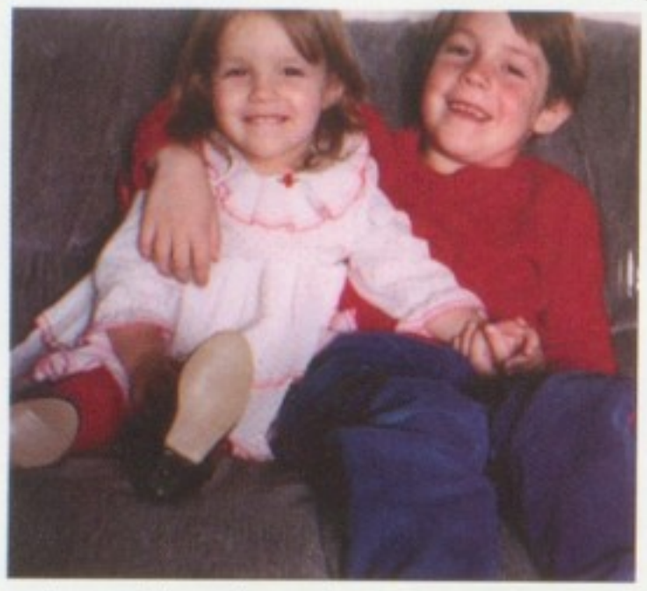
Amanda Kathleen Ager ~ Class of 2003



Amanda has always been extremely opinionated and not shy at all. When she was young, she would call me "Tootie Fruitie Judy with a big fat booty!" Of course I had my names for her but most should not be put on paper. When she was about three years old, I moved in with her parents, her brother and her. Amanda felt that my waterbed was her new bed and that is where she insisted on sleeping. Now, I was single and ocassionally my boyfriend at the time would come into my bedroom to just be alone with me or sometimes stay the night (or, at least try to). Amanda would scream outside my door, "Are you done talking yet?" or "Your minute is up, I want to go to bed!" Amanda always won. If you didn't give in, she would hound you until you did. I grew accustomed to sleeping with "the bed hog." Although, it was extremely tough to get used to her sleeping with her butt pointed at my face.

Overall it was worth it, because Amanda and I have always had a very special relationship. I love her with all my heart. She is a very special person who I wish the best for. She has been through and learned a lot in her life and she deserves the best.

I love you Amanda
Tootie Fruitie Judy

Amanda,

You have finished a long journey and are graduating high school - you did it with style and grace. When your world crumbled you made no excuses and didn't want special treatment; you earned your diploma on your own. We are so proud of you. From the day your were born we knew you were a very special person and you've made us proud and happy every day of your life. You have become a beautiful and strong woman inside and out, you stand up for what you believe in, no matter what other people might think, and you are ending one journey and about to begin another. We know you will accomplish all your goals and you will achieve them even through adversity and you'll do it with the style and grace you've always shown in the past. Your brother would be very proud of the woman you've become.

Amanda, go forward, with confidence and pride you will achieve all your hopes and dreams.

We love you very much. We are blessed and proud to have you as our daughter (our panda bear).

We will love you always!

Mom & Dad

Amanda:

This has been a very difficult letter to write.

Amanda, you were our second grandchild, so "pretty in pink," a precious girl, we were so proud. It was a joy and a blessing that your were so healthy.

When you were one-and-a-half we went to the water slides in Redding. You would jump to the deep end of the pool- that's where Grandpa was. you didn't care that you would go under the water; you knew that Grandpa would "save" you and you made it into a wonderful game.

At Davis Lake, we went camping; we rode bikes to the store and around the park, or took the dune buggy for long rides. You and Grandpa swam in the lake, and of course, you got some kind of skin infection.

Our trips to Lahontan so that you could catch fish, swim and camp were fun too. Especially the night that you showed us all the "special dance" moves. We laugh today at these precious memories.

Of all our Grandchildren, you have been the only one that didn't need a firm swat on your bottom to get your attention. Amanda, you have grown into a very lovely young woman with a family who cares about you if you ever need us. Thanks for making our times together so special. We love you, Grandma and Grandpa Tunnell

Amanda, as a child you were known affectionately as the "Bessy Cow" (probably for your need to be seen or heard). You've had to endure more heartaches than any 18 year old should have to bear at such a young age, yet you've endured it all and gone out with style and grace. You've become a beautiful young woman right before our eyes. We couldn't be more proud.

Congratulations on your graduation! You are truly a treasure to both of us and we thank God every day for bringing you into our lives.

Love Always,
Uncle Jim and Aunt Gina

My Miss Amanda,

When she was in Kindergarten, she stayed with her pop pop until noon (when her class started). They would play games and she would call me at work and tell me her pop pop was cheating and I would love to scold him. It was great.

My favorite memory is when I took her and her brother Shawn to the mall, because they had baby tigers there. Shawn and Amanda wanted to hold them. The baby snow leopard was picked for them to hold. Shawn held the cub and as Amanda went to pet it - it growled and Amanda backed up so fast with a startled expression on her face - it was precious - at that moment they snapped the picture. What a great day we had!

Love,
Grandma Ager

Tyler Elliott

Little Bro- Finally... graduation! It has been so much fun to be there for all of your accomplishments. You truly are the most talented person I know. I am so proud to be your sister and I can't wait to see your success in the future. Love, Erin

Tyler-

We've wittnessed your creativity throughout your life, never realizing where it would lead you. We've seen your musical talent grow and are excited for the direction you've chosen. Our love and best wishes for a successful future are with you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Julie Buffington

Julie,

We are so proud of you. To see you progress from the diaper stage to become the beautiful and confident young woman you are today has been very rewarding for us. You should be proud of yourself too! Have a great senior year and graduation. We wish you all the best in everything you do in the future. Love, Mom & Dad

Dear Julie- You've been a part of our lives a long time and during that time you have given us so much joy, laughter and love. You have never failed to remember us. Julie, you will succeed in your future as you have so much determination. Love you, Papa Tommy and Grandma

Nini,
We've seen you grow from our beautiful baby girl, taking your first steps to your first day of school- you were so excited and we were so scared. When you graduated from Kindergarten you were all smiles and we were so proud. At the time, graduating from High School seemed so far away; now here you are in your cap and gown ready to receive your High School Diploma. We know no matter what you choose to do with your life you will succeed because you have already in so many ways. We love you and we are proud of you, not only for what you've accomplished but also for the young lady you've become and the woman you are yet to be. YOU DID IT!!!

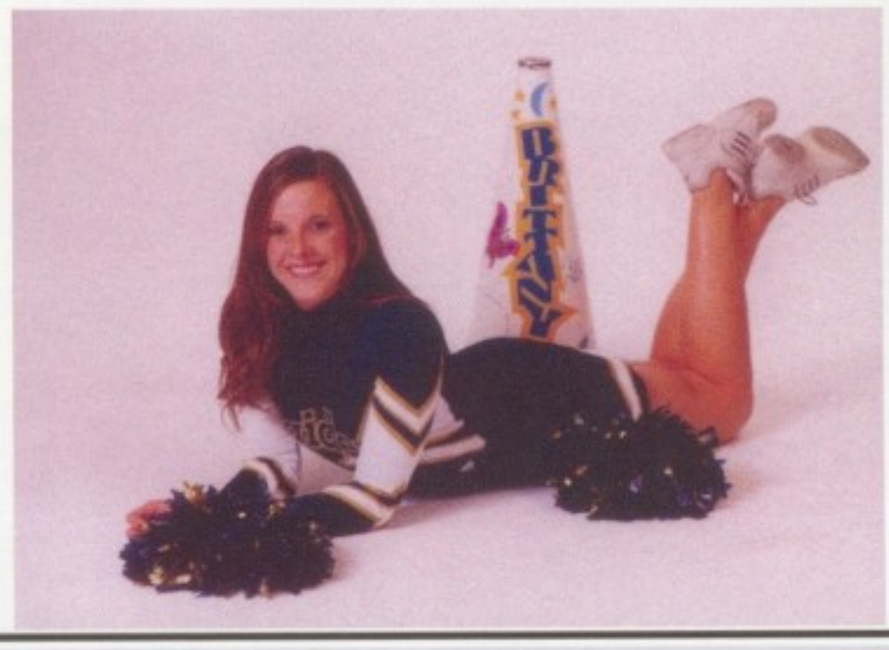
Lil Bit -
You have always been so happy and funny. You keep us laughing and smiling. Don't ever lose your wonderful sense of humor. God blessed us with an angel child. We are so proud of all your accomplishments, and we know you will succeed in whatever you decide to do. You are a beautiful young lady now, but you will always be our Lil Bit.
With all our love, Dad, Mom, and Brian



Dear Britt, It seems like only yesterday that we were having to interpret "scotch-a-baa" in toddler-ese, to mean scratch my back. Now you've grown into a beautiful, intelligent, talented and articulate young woman. We are extremely proud of you and your accomplishments. We look forward to the bright and prosperous future that we know is in store for you.

Hey Buddy,

When God blessed us with you 18 years ago, we already knew in our hearts what joy you would bring to us. You made our lil' family complete and enriched our lives fully. We are so proud of you, what you've achieved, the willingness to do, and give to others in this journey of life. You are a fine young man, intelligent, so loving and caring, and have a great passion for life. We wish you every bit of happiness and success in all life's endeavors.

ALWAYS REMEMBER how much you're loved; give thanks daily and "love" and "live" like there's no tomorrow. Jeremiah 29:11

The years flew by so fast! From this tiny "preemie" who almost didn't survive the flight to Reno to my graduating senior whose strength and determination I will always admire.

I believe whatever path you choose you will succeed with your usual style, grace and dignity.

Love Mom and Dad

Hadley

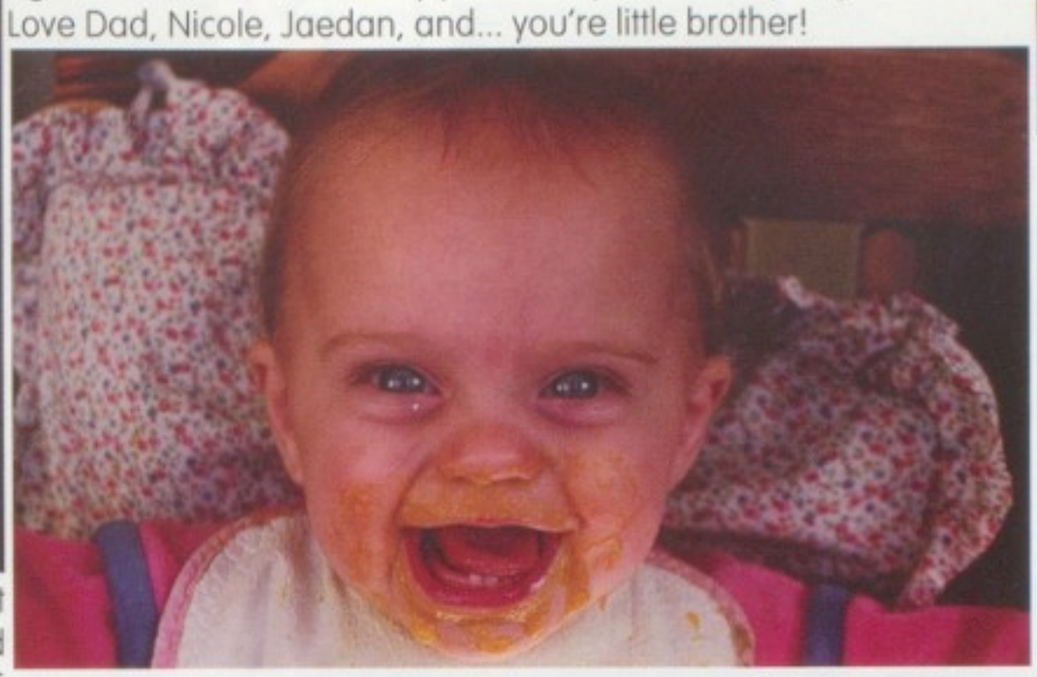
If I had known that I would be teaching that reserved little 9-year-old to drive, I would have fled in horror. But when you turned 15 1/2, not only were you not 'reserved' but you became this boisterous fashion diva who wanted to rule the road with MY fire-engine red Trans Am - blonde hair flying, cell phone stuck to your ear. Really Aubrey, the only reason why I let you drive it is to see you have enough power to outrun all those heart broken boys! Faster, faster!
You are so exceptional,
Emil

It's been wonderful to have you so close by to spend our childhood's together. We have always enjoyed the sense of humor you add to the mix. We're excited to see how far your talents will take you!
We love you - Bailey, Asia, Jentre, Sammy, Aunt Laura, and Uncle Matt

We have enjoyed watching you grow up from a bouncy blue-eyed baby to a beautiful blue-eyed blonde. (You obviously got your good looks from your Granny!) We are so glad we can continue to watch you excel in talent and athletics... and that you get to use our jacuzzi!! Congratulations!!
Love, Granny and Poppa Hanson

Sarah Aubrey

Congratulations Aubrey! You've worked very hard and achieved much in your four years at Reed. We've been so very proud watching you grow from being a shy freshman to a confident and very successful senior. You've lettered in two sports, you're on the brink of breaking a school record or two, you've gone to state finals, made some great friends, and achieved an exceptional grade point average... what more could any parent hope for?! Way to go!
Love Dad, Nicole, Jaedan, and... you're little brother!



My little Aubrey,
I so enjoyed dressing you up and fixing your hair: remember all the cute outfits, costumes, room decor and stuffed animals? You LOVED animals- expecially Tiger, Nibbles, and the hoard of guinea pigs. Then you moved on to computers, jeans and baggy sweatshirts, and (gulp!) The Backstreet Boys!
There were some rough times at home and at school but you have blossomed into a loving and caring individual. You have worked so hard and I am so very proud of your self-motivated dedication to your academics and your sports! I love you, and I hope our relationship can grow deeper with each passing year.
Yours forever... Love Mom

SIS - You were always the "first." You're the one who had to go into everything without really knowing what to expect... that's a tough job! Because of you, we all get to sit back and cruise (well, maybe) through! Thank you for taking all the hits and bruises it takes to blaze a trail through this jungle called "Life." You've accomplished sooo much. Remember, wherever you go, whatever you do, we're behind you all the way!!!
Love, Rachael, Lexy, and Olivia

Britt Hastings

Britt,
All those early mornings, getting up for 0 period have paid off. Playing 3 major sports all of your high school years is something to be proud of. It shows that you have the drive, dedication and desire to achieve success. College choices and career paths are decisions that are in your future. We are very proud of you and look forward to the next four years.
All our love, Mom and Dad

Dear Tanya,
We are very proud of the young lady you have become and the woman you will be. Congratulations on everything and good luck in the future! We'll miss you! With all our love,
Mom, Dad and Alby

Hey lil Sista,
Ever since your were a kid your outgoing personality has made you the center of attention. Now that you are graduating, remember that the world needs more people like you. Your positive attitude and high energy are great qualities to have and will take you far in life.
With much love, Brenda

Ashley Henderson

From the moment Daddy said "It's a GIRL!" you have brought joy into our lives! You were always such a happy baby and to think you're now a senior! We are SO proud of you. Here are some of our many wishes for you...

- Reach for your dreams- you CAN do ANYTHING!
- Be a perpetual learner - KNOWLEDGE is yours for eternity.
- Count your BLESSINGS and help those less fortunate.
- Choose a partner that LOVES you and ENHANCES your life - YOU make your life!
- LAUGH, have fun and LIVE life with positive thoughts and a smile.
- Give 110% in everything you do.
- Most of all remember your roots - your family LOVES you always!

With love for "OUR GIRL,"

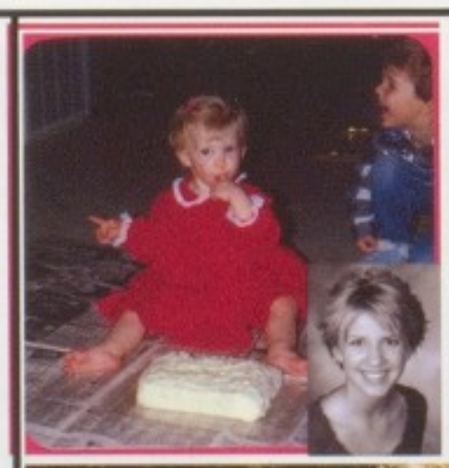
Larissa Fveund



Larissa,
You have blessed our lives in so many ways on your journey to becoming a beautiful young woman. There has never been a dull moment from dance, to singing, to acting! You've always thrived on center stage. God has given you many talents, we hope you find and use them all. We love you and are proud of all that you've become and all you have yet become. Hold your head high, reach for the stars and follow your dreams.
All our love,
Mom, Dad, Brandon and Kyla

Chris Briscoe

Chris,
From Lego's, cartoons, Little League, and playing football to owing and driving a car, working part-time, keeping up good grades, and enjoying NFL Football, your first 17 years have gone by in a blink. We are proud of the fine young man you have turned into and your accomplishments at school. You are a loyal team fan (Go 49ers), a hard worker, a great son and brother, and we look forward to your college years and beyond. Keep smiling and enjoy this time of your life.
Lots of love, Mom, Kurt, and Nick

Ashley Henderson

To my youngest Granddaughter, Ashley,
Congratulations and best wishes on obtaining your High School goal. Looking forward to your college gradutaion as you mature, build and accomplish your dreams for your future.
Love you always,
Grandma B.

Jennifer Edmonds

To our wonderful Jennifer,
We are so proud of you. Thank you so much for being such a wonderful daughter! Over the years we've watched you grow into the beautiful young lady that you are. You have given us so much joy and happiness-thank you for being you!
We love you,
Mom, Dad, Stephanie, Marty, Nevaeh, Chris, Kadie, Michael

Brittany Spangler

Brittany,
We have always been so proud of the person you are, and all of your accomplishments throughout your 17 years. Continue on this journey with your head held up high and remain on your path of excellence.

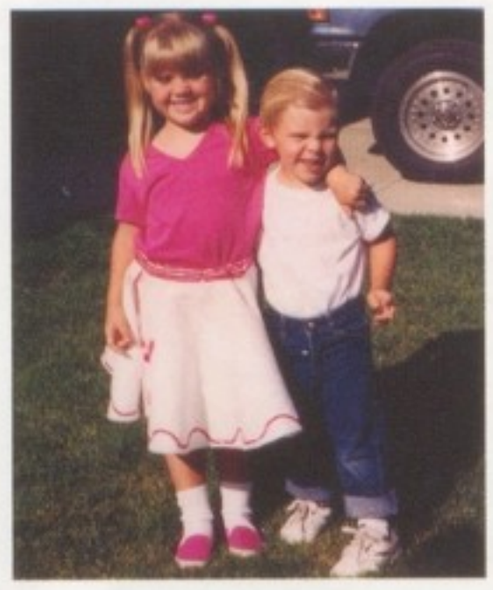
Katie Thomas

Katie: Well, what could I say besides the fact that you're a great sister. You have always been there for me through the good times and even more importantly, the bad times. Having you as a sister has made me a better person. I know you can succeed in anything you want in life, because that's the kind of person that you are. You are a beautiful person inside and out and I don't think anyone can argue that. I am very proud of you, and I will love you always. Love, your little "big" brother, Wade



Ka Ka Ka Katie, my beautiful Katie... I sang that song to you from the first day you were born. You have given me such joy in life. I treasure your bright and happy face each and every day. Oh, you do have your moments, don't you? We all know so well the little roll of those beautiful green eyes. But, we deal with those moments and I think we both grow and learn from them.

Together, with your sisters and brother, I am a very lucky mom. All of my children have given me what life is supposed to be about...success and happiness.

You were born on that spring morning, March 9, 1986, hardly a cry from you. Your sisters and grandmother were there and you were so alert and so intrigued with your new world as they held and talked to you.

Katie, I have always been so proud of you. I have loved to watch you play softball with such enthusiasm and pride. All of those many weekends out of town during the summer were fun and rewarding.

Go into the world with all of the same attributes you have shown since the day you were born and you will be successful. Remember that we are a family and we love you very much. Your sisters and brother will be your best friends as life goes on. I will always be there for you. My mother gave me a little picture with a saying on it that I so believe with all of you, "My daughter by chance, my friend by choice." Remember that as life goes on, I will always be your mother, but I am your friend, too. I love you Ka Ka Ka Katie, my beautiful Katie. Mom

Katie, Congratulations on your big day! I am so proud of you. You have been such a big part of my life. You're not just my baby sister; you're one of my best friends. I love you very much. You are a very special person with the amazing ability to bring joy to everyone around you. I'm very lucky to have a sister like you! Love, Amy

I'm very proud to say that Katie is my granddaughter. She was always a beautiful and happy little girl. Katie was so excited at birthday parties, Christmas, and all family gatherings. She is still a sweet and loving granddaughter and a pride to her family. Good luck honey. I love you.

Chris Sipma

Chris,
From the moment we met you, we knew we would never be the same again. This little person that God gave to us was now our responsibility and we were ready. These years have brought so many special and happy memories that we will treasure forever. Every step you have made has molded you into the man you have become today. Your smile is priceless, your sense of humor mirrors your father's, your choices have been insightful and always we marvel at your abundance of talent. It has been a pure joy being a part of your life. We pray that you always remember that "your choices determine your destiny." Keep stepping forward and remember that you'll never walk alone. We love you with all our hearts. Love,

Mom, Dad, Mallory and Wendi

Katie Thomas

Katie Ellen Thomas
Let's see, what are some of the best words to describe you? Smart, beautiful, full of life, a real "pistol," athletic, energizing, kind, generous, giving, has a heart of gold, out of control, wild child, and last but not least, "Daddy's little girl." For some reason you've always wanted to stay close to your Dad. You were always on my lap. You were always dragging me from one place to another to share your experiences as you grew. You were always asking me questions and always looking at me with those beautiful inquisitive eyes and amazing smile that would stop time. In the short amount of time you've been on this planet, you've always had that amazing ability to make people smile. You've got a wonderful gift and I know you'll share that gift with thousands of people throughout your life. Whatever choices you make after high school will be your choices. I know you've been raised right and you've got an awesome head on your shoulders. So whatever path you choose, just know that Dad will always be right by your side cheering you on and supporting you the same way I always have. You are so full of life, energy and ambition. There is no stopping you Katie. Make the right choices and keep the rewards! You are always in my thoughts and I love you with all of my being. Daddy

Thanks for a fantastic yearbook

Jessica Eve Hemmingsen

All of a sudden you are a 17 year old senior in high school, preparing for college. We are very proud of you, your athletic and your academic achievements. We had a lot of fun along the way - swim meets, soccer games, ice skating, battles between Yoshi and Bowser, as well as horsey back rides, chess, card games, and, your favorite, trips to Hawaii.
The door to your future will open soon... Don't worry about it too much because you already have what it takes to succeed. Although you have many challenges ahead, your natural gifts and hard work will take you as far as you want to go.

WE LOVE YOU!
MOM & DAD

May the road rise to meet you,
May the wind be ever at your back,
May the sun shine warm upon your face, the rain fall soft upon your field, and until we meet again may God hold you in the palm of his hand.

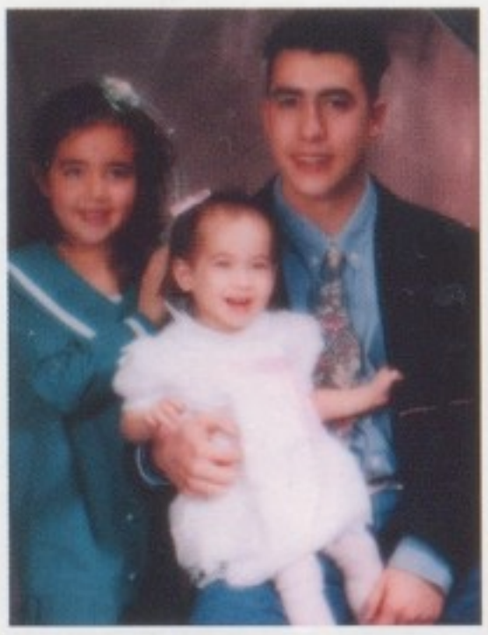
To Shawnicé:
Shawnicé I remember when we used to walk home together a long time ago. Now you might be moving out- so sad. Really- can I have your room? Happy Graduation Big Sis!

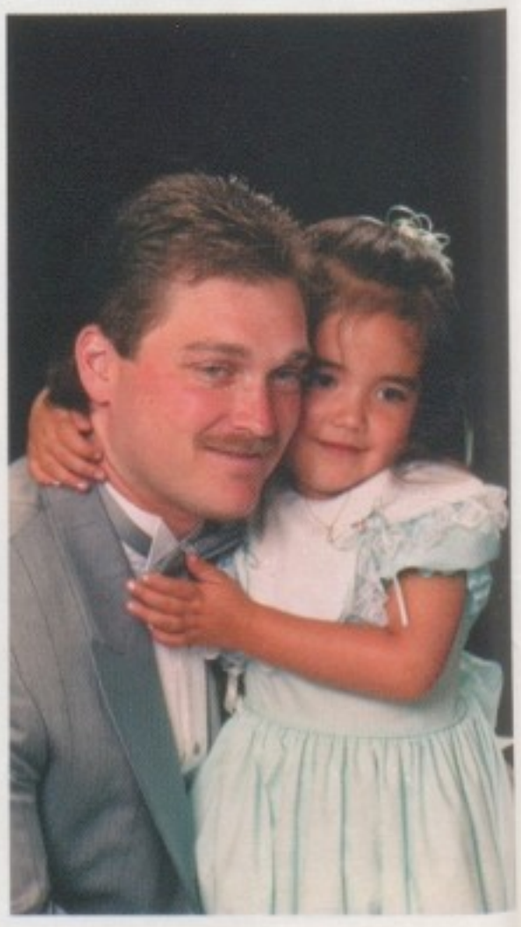
Love, always & forever,
Brieana (little sis)

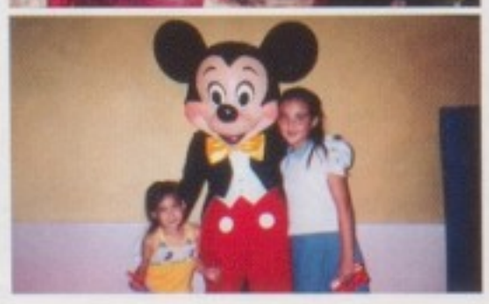
Shawnicé-
-Big brown eyes that make me smile-
Singing, dancing and laughing all the while.
-I read you stories that you memorized when you were 3-
You then would act like you're reading out of the book for me.
-We would sing in the car, songs like "When I'm Feeling Blue"-
We didn't sing well but it was fantastic being with you.
-You've grown up so fast it's hard to believe-
All the fun we had, my best friend you will always be.

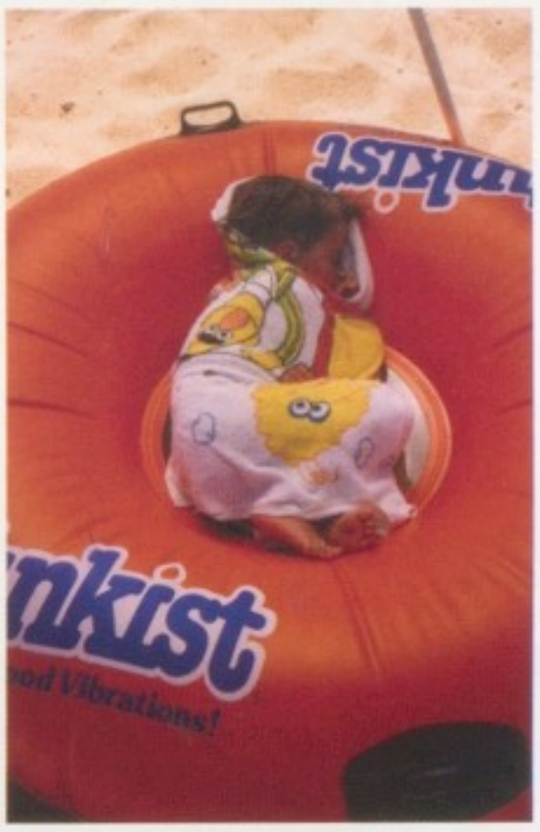
Love You, Mom and Dad

"People let me tell you 'bout my best friend. She's a warm joy- a cuddly toy- I'll love her till the end. Now, people let me tell you that she's so much fun, whether were talking man to man or we're talking one to one- She's my best friend! Shawna! Ba da ba da yah, ba da ba da yah, bump, bump, bump bump, rub a da bump, a bump da bump da bah- rub a dub bumpy."





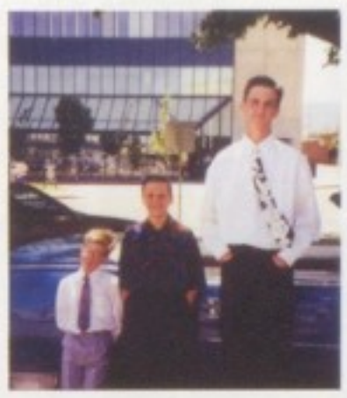


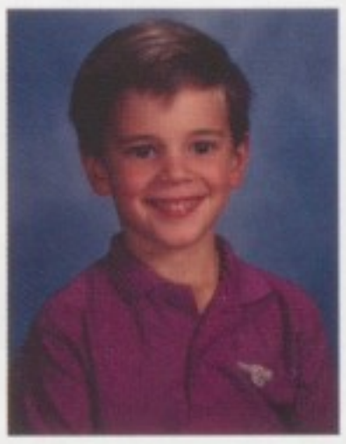


Nick,

You have grown into a very wonderful loving caring son and we are very proud of you. We know that you are looking forward to being your own person and following your dreams. We hope that all of your dreams come true and always remember that you will always have a place in our hearts and our home.

Love, Mom and Dad





Sarah

Nick

Nick,

You are a very special person in my life. You are not only my brother, you are my best friend. I am proud of you and I know you will go far in your life. I am very proud to have you as a brother and I would do anything for you.

Love Your Sis,
Kare

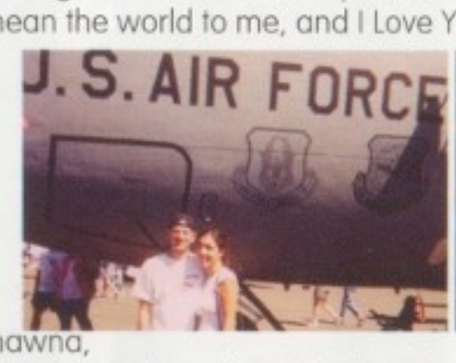
Nick- Where do I even start? It's amazing how we became the duo that we are today! Who would have thought the dorky little Minkus kid with the huge glasses would have grown up into such an ambitious and caring, not to mention beautiful, guy. I have never thought there would be some one so willing to change, to work things out, to put forth the effort to deal with me for so long. I don't think any one else did either... You've been the miracle friend, the strength and the shoulder, the listener. You are one of very few people who tried, and succeeded, in understanding me and showing me that it's ok to be me. I've never been without your support. I can't express exactly what you've given to me because it is so great. I don't know what I could have or would have done without your phone calls, text messages and joking expressions. I don't know where I would be if I wasn't with you and your crazy friends. I can't imagine the person I would be if I didn't know you, because you have helped me to realize who I want to be, and gradually we are working to make that person. With your family as if they were my own, I have never felt more accepted and respected in my life, and that gives me so much determination to be a better person. I am excited to see where our separate roads lead us in the following years, and I am proud to walk along side you in the journey of adulthood. We have accomplished so much, and, with the smiles that are shining upon us, there is no doubt that the future will draw the same plan for success. I hope you know that I will always be there for you, and I will always try my hardest to show you the true companionship that you have shown me. I know that there are many obstacles to overcome in the future, but you have shown me what strength, confidence and courage I have in me, and you've revealed to me that even if I can't make it alone, I won't have to worry about it, because I won't be alone.
Thank you for the fun times at the air races, dances, parties, concerts and road trips. We have so many memories that I can't help but be excited for the many more to come. Thank you for being there in a time of need, for me, and for my family.
Through thick and thin, the promises, feelings, memories and tears will lead us through. You mean the world to me, and I Love You: Shawnicé Kraeber



Shawna,
We have been through a lot in this past year and 4 months and I feel we really have something special. You make me so happy and fill ever moment with joy. I love going on trips with you to anywhere that calls. There is so much to look forward to in the upcoming years including college. Everytime that I am sad you lift me up make everything better. I hope I do the same for you. I am sure we will have some hard times in the future but all I can say for that is I believe that we can do whatever we put our minds to. As we move on in both our lives people will sometimes go and sometimes stay but you should know no matter what happens you will always be with me and in my heart. We have had so many good times with so many different people that we have grown into a life that we didnt even know about. You are the one that makes me happy and supports me with everything I do and I love you for that. I wake every morning hoping to see you today and hold. I love it when you laugh and try to crack jokes. Even though we both know you're not funny. JK. I wouldnt take anything back that we have or do anything different because we have learned so much from each other. As we change there is only room for acceptance and I feel you are very good at that. You are the one that makes me happy and feel like I have butterflies in my tummy. Every time you call me a pet name I love it and come back with one of my own. I hope you are as truly happy as me because we have so much. I love the way that you love me and the way your family supports us and the feelings I have for them. I want to say thank you to them and I love them as if they where my own family. They support us in all aspects of life and I think that is a great part of us. So I love you poopy head and thank you for the incredible life you have made for me.
I Love You. -Nick Sarlo

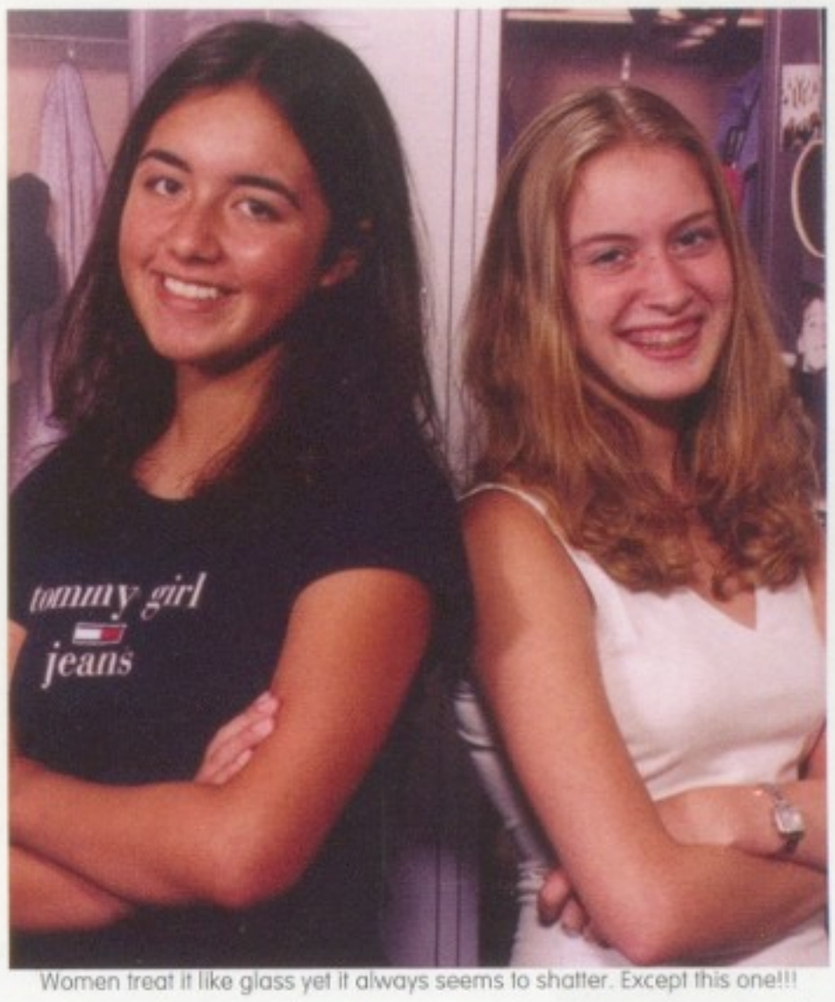
WOW! Where to begin... I have to say I look back on the years with a smile! Geez we are dorks! Thanks for the memories... I wish I could have individual paragraphs for everyone but obviously I had enough trouble squeezing in my pictures. Even with 52 of them (hello!) I still missed a lot of people! I'm sorry! It's impossible to fit all the smiles that have been there for me- whether it be a class full of boredom or a phone call full of gossip. I put in a few tokens of advice, a few sayings, a few giggles, and a few tears to bring out this page. Congratulations to all of you! Not only on graduation (!!!!) but on the fact that you have touched somebody in the world- and that's worth living for!

Let yourself write the pages of your life. After all, you're the author.



Women treat it like glass yet it always seems to shatter. Except this one!!!

"I will remember you... Will you remember me? Don't let your life pass you by. We're known for all the memories..." -Sarah McLaughlin

Remember the good times...

Smiles, laughs, tears... The past four years were filled with memories of he said's, who care's, and no way's. Whether it be a bad day, a broken heart or a lonely song- each of us has experienced a feeling of doubt. Yet we can still look back on an entire book of smiles. Why? Because no matter how grey the sky may be, the sun will always shine through. Cherish the best and overlook the worst in the past; find the best and avoid the worst now; plan for the best but prepare for the worst in the future. Always remember the good times amidst the drama. And always look back with a smile - NO REGRETS! I love you all! WE MADE IT!

People have been looking at our school yearbooks to help them remember for over 50 years. But our innovations have been progressing steadily forward for a century, since we invented the first class rings. In fact, Jostens is part of the whole school experience from start to end, even supplying students with graduation products. And when you're looking back to even your earliest school portraits that represent you at every stage of your life, well, we were there then, too.

Long hours, hard work, accomplishments...

Through their four years of high school, these students have worked hard and put in full effort to maintain their above and beyond grades. When other students slacked off for a test every now and then, these students organized and planned out how they were going to study at that. Many hours of rereading, comprehending, and memorizing their difficult work went into achieving the title as a senior top 20 member of the class of Reed High 2004. Although these students still maintained their high grades, they still somehow fit in time for extra curricular activities and the ever so popular social life. By finishing their AP class homework, passing tests with above average grades, and studying numerous hours allowed these students to not only receive awards and scholarships... But life long success.

The Candidates Are...

Prom, and... Gettin' Ready For Prom

The one event that every high school girl looks forward to is their junior or senior prom. Prepping for a night of dancing and excitement begins months in advance. For some the quest for the perfect dress or tux can begin as early as fall homecoming. Also, on the actual day of the dance, some girls begin attending appointments for their hair, make-up, nails, etc., long before night falls. These candidates were chosen by their classmates to represent them as royalty on the big night. This year's junior prom was held at the Golden Phenix on April 24,2004. This year's senior prom was held at the Peppermill on May 22, 2004. "Being nominated was the best experience of high school and it was the perfect way to go out." said Kim Stanhouse.

Judiciary Board

"Members of the Judicial Board were pleased they were able to finalize prom king and queen nominations for publications in the yearbook."

-Tami Ruff

"The Judicial Board worked hard to formulatecon crete rules for king and queen nominations."

-Patti Roberts

"What I like about junior and senior prom is that the students who purchase tickets and attend the dance can vote at the door. It makes prom a worthwhile event. WORD!"

-Jeana Curtis

Colophon and Thank You

The stuff you need to know...

The Galleon was created on Macintosh computers (5 iMAC DVs, 1 Powerbook laptop and 2 new iMacs), using Adobe Photoshop 6.0, Adobe Pagemaker 6.5, Adobe Illustrator 10.0 and Josten's Yeartech 2004. It was printed on 80 pound paper with sewn, rounded, backed binding. It consisted of 336 full color pages with a 16 page World Book insert. Headlines and subheadlines were typed in AYT Sleepwalker, captions were typed in VAG Rounded Thin. There are over 6,000 photos included. Film was purchased at COSTCO in Reno, and processed at Smith's Food and Drug Center in Baring Village and Long's Drugs in D'Andrea Marketplace. Sierra Nevada Photo was the yearbook photographer. Most pictures were taken by the staff using Pentax cameras, and Olympus Digital Cameras. Josten's Publishing Company in Visalia, CA printed the book. Books originally cost $60 and rose $5.00 per month until book sales ended in January at $80 each. 1,200 books were sold.

School Principal: Mary Vesco; Assistant Principals: Al Babb, Jeana Curtis, George Hardaway, Colleen Hoch.

Dean Of Students: Kris Hackbush; Assistant Dean of Students: Steve Anspach

We send our most sincere thanks to...

- Mary Vesco, Al Babb, Jeana Curtis, George Hardaway, Colleen Hoch and Kris Hackbush (the Reed Administrative team) for their support and understanding.
- The front office staff who routed all phone calls concerning yearbook.
- Cindy McDaniels for providing sports rosters a million times.
- The custodial staff who cleaned up after us during our deadline days, even in the middle of the summer.
- Shawnicé Kraeber who put in countless hours and much dedication to completing the last 100 pages of the book.
- Marriah Barkley, Scott Ramsey and Nick Sarlo for completing spreads, even though you weren't enrolled in the class... and even if they were two months late.
- Mike at Camera Magic Photography for allowing us to use many of his photos in our publication.
- Wallace Athletic Photography for providing many sports team photos.
- Kellie Brown for being our leadership liason and making us huge signs when we needed them.
- Christy Briggs for taking us to camp for five weeks in the summer.
- Liz Walsh for helping out, even if you are a traitor. :-)
- Local businesses for their support.
- The RHS Library Staff for providing valuable resources to our history.
- Jason Pierce, whose neverending encouragement and help throughout the year helped make this book possible. Even though you helped us tremendously, you're still fired.
- Jason Castleton for returning to us to help with YBI, even if you are dead.
- And, of course, the teachers and staff who were so understanding of our deadlines and allowed us to use their valuable class time.

A Final Farewell

30 Years of History, and move to come

Thirty years have passed since our school was built on a dusty lot in Sparks. In these years, we have evolved as a school and as a community. Today, in 2004, we can reflect on the joys and tears that have happened in the Sparks area from our school. As you finish this yearbook, we hope you have enjoyed the history of the school: both the long term and short term. In only four years of high school, we are expected to go from small, naive freshman to daring and intuitive seniors and make our own history in this short span, and do so while having fun.

Once you have completed flipping the pages of this book, we hope you realize that all of this is just a number: whether it be the score of the winning bowling game, or the GPA on the report card on your refridgerator door, it's just a number. The true test of high school is whether we are able to make a success out of our lives with the foundations we have been given through the wisdom of our teachers, classmates and administration. Four years have passed for the seniors, and it's as though they're looking back on a short time span that has been fufilled at Reed; while the freshman look for the next three years as a neverending stream of papers and projects.

At the end of 2004, the school will have officially been open for thirty years, with many esteemed alumni to show for it, and many more to come. We may be thirty, but- It's just a number.
